ARE NOT TO BE WON BACK

STEVENSON NOT ENOUGH FOR GOLD DEMOCRATS.

Nearly All of them in Portland Who Supported McKinley in '06 Will Do So Again.

The nomination of Adlai E. Stevenson to run with Bryan on the Democratic ticket did not win back a great many Portland Gold Democrats, who could not vote for Bryan in 1896. The fact that the Chicago platform was affirmed was enough to disgust most of them, while the declaration against expansion alienated others who might have come back into the fold had free silver alone remained in the way. A number of well-known Democrats were interviewed on the subject yesterday, immediately upon receipt of the news of the nomination of Stevenson. Following is what they had to say:

Cannot Indorse That Platform.

Judge C. B. Bellinger—I am in favor of expansion and opposed to it to 1. I cannot indorse that platform.

Harping on Same Old String.

A. E. Hammond—When I was a citizen of Montana I favored silver, as it was the question of a local question with the people of that state. The Democratic question was settled in 1896, and I don't see any sense in harping on the same old string now. Bryan continues to prate about hard times in the face of the most prosperous times the Nation ever saw. Money never was so abundant or cheap as now, in this country, and there is work for everybody at fair wages. I cannot see how any man can be so stupid as to kick against McKinley on account of his being a "weak" President, but we had a strong man in Cleveland who vetoed nearly every important measure. The kickers of the present want a boss, and if Bryan is elected they will have one sure enough. McKinley does not fly in the face of Congress, but permits that body to have its way, as it should.

Penneyer Counsels Bryan.

Sylvester Penneyer—I am pleased with the nomination of Mr. Stevenson for Vice-President. In fact, he was really my choice for President. The Democrats at Kansas City followed the precedent of the Republicans in the Philadelphia convention, by putting their strongest and ablest man at the tail of the ticket. We will elect the ticket if Bryan will only keep still and let "Teddy" do the talking.

Strange Action for Democrats.

Benton Killin—I am profoundly astonished that men calling themselves Democrats should declare in favor of giving Porto Rico and the Philippines up to the dark races. It was the effort and attempt to turn a part of this country over to the control of the black man that made me a Democrat. There had been nothing more offensive to the platform than the declaration for free coinage of silver I might have been willing to support it. That is but a passing folly, which will right itself in time, and which is not treasonable. But the idea that a party that was once the Democratic party, should desire to give up our possessions to a lot of ignorant and half-savage blacks is too much for me. As far as the ticket goes, it is consistent with the theories set forth in the platform.

No Reason for Changing Back.

C. A. Cogswell—I was opposed to every plank in the Chicago platform. The Democrats have realized that platform, and have added several other objectionable planks, especially that opposing expansion. I see no reason why a man who refused to support Bryan and Stevenson in 1896 should support Bryan and Stevenson in 1900.

Glind a Democrat Was Nominated.

L. B. Cox—I am very much pleased that the convention nominated a man who is a Democrat instead of tying up with a Populist, and allowing the Populist to force a candidate down its throat. As to the result, that is likely to be affected by unforeseen complications which are likely to arise. I should not be surprised if the whole campaign hinges on the situation in China. If we are forced to send large bodies of troops over there, and take part in a wholesale war to protect the lines and property of American men, many people will take the stand that the Administration has been plunged into war without being able to prevent it, and that it should be supported. Others will take the ground that China is likely to prove another Philippines complication, and that we should get out while we can. The ticket is especially gratifying in that a man like Stevenson has been placed upon it. He has been elected, and has served, and is well-known to be a Democrat, and not a Populist.

Supports the Administration.

W. D. Benton—I have not had time to read carefully the platform adopted yesterday at Kansas City, but believe that it is substantially as radical upon most questions as the platform of '96. The only new position taken, as I understand it, is a strong declaration in favor of our withdrawal from the Philippines. I have not changed my position upon public questions. I stand where I stood in 1896, and upon the so-called new issues of abundant money and the Philippines I am with the country and the Administration, and expect to support the Republican candidates. It seems to me that the cry of imperialism and the fear of a standing army is insincere, unwarranted, and in the face of the patriotic sentiment of the country. This Coast, in particular, ought to answer the challenge by an overwhelming majority in favor of McKinley and Roosevelt.

Ticket Good Enough.

Thomas G. Greene—Mr. Bryan's nomination was as inevitable as was the selection of Mr. McKinley by the Philadelphia convention. The holding of the respective conventions for Vice-President were important mainly as indicating the spirit dominating the conventions. I have not changed my views on the coinage question, and still believe in the single gold standard, but at the same time, now, as always, concede sincerity and honesty of purpose to the great mass of free-coinage Democrats. I doubt the sincerity of the leaders of the republican party in their pretended zeal for the gold standard, doubted it four years ago when the money question was practically the sole issue, and voted for Palmer and Buckner accordingly. There are now, however, four great National questions involving vital governmental principles before the people for solution, of which the coinage question is the least important. Upon reading the speeches of the leaders of the respective parties, and study of the platforms adopted by their respective conventions, I find that I agree with the Democratic party wholly and unreservedly upon the three greater issues and disagree with it upon only the one least important. In large matters, about which much diversity of opinion usually prevails, this is almost unanimity.

With the exception of some dozen lines devoted to the coinage question, the Democratic platform is to my mind a crystallization of the Declaration of Independence, the messages and farewell address of George Washington, and the teachings of Thomas Jefferson and Abraham Lincoln ready for application to the problems now confronting the American people.

I am satisfied with the ticket, and shall vote for it, both as representing political principles, which in the main I endorse, and as a protest against the tricky, trucking, shifty, shifting, ring-ridden, monopoly-boss-obedient McKinley Administration.

Whatever else may be said of Mr. Bryan, it cannot truthfully be said that he is either insincere, dishonest, or lacking in courage, energy or force of character. He may be wrong on the money question, but he is right on all others. Many of the leading Republican and Independent papers of the United States, including The Oregonian, have filled columns for four years past partially enumerating the things, and great things that, in which Mr. McKinley, his Cabinet and Administration, have done wrong, including frequent references to the spotted record of the President on the money question. It is time to find out whether or not we are to have a government such as our Revolutionary forefathers founded. When we know that, small matters such as coinage, money issue and other purely business details can and will be settled right.

Disgusted With 16 to 1.

Fred R. Strong—I'm disgusted at the continued howl for 16 to 1, and I'm out of politics. Did not read the platform and don't care who they nominate. Am a Republican because I cannot be otherwise.

Fatal Mistake.

Thomas N. Strong—The Kansas City convention made a fatal mistake in declaring against imperialism, as the American people are fearfully in earnest in regard to holding on to the Philippines and teaching those islanders self-government before we let them go. If the convention had accepted the situation, dropped the 16 to 1 vagary and Bryan, and nominated a good strong Democrat like Olney, the Democrats would have stood a good show of success, as there are various objections to McKinley's weakness in the Porto Rico question and in regard to our unprotected countrymen in China. So long as the party hangs to its vagaries, it makes no difference who it nominates. I shall vote for McKinley and Roosevelt, because I'm obliged to. I think, however, that in 1904, or at furthest, 1908, we can succeed in ousting the McKinley Administration, and dropping the crazy silver question and Bryan in the meantime.

Pop Not Ignored.

Newton McCoy—it looks as though the nomination was good enough to carry Illinois, but it will likely have a bad effect on the Populist and Silver-Republican vote. Considering the whole, I do not believe, however, that the Democratic delegates have ignored the voice of the Silver Republicans and Populists in the choice. I think they have acted together, as they have been in conference for several days. There was no disposition in the convention to ignore the Populists and Silver Republicans. If the Hill crowd had been on top, of course this would have been expected, but as the other side dominated the convention I believe there should be no question that they have acted advisedly.

Those Who Are Satisfied.

Judge Dell Stuart, Silver Republican—I am pleased with the nomination of Stevenson. He is a good man and is well known by the people of the United States in both private and political life. As is well known, he has served one term as Vice-President of the United States, with entire credit to himself and the party that elected him.

Judge Alex Sweek, State Senator-elect, and Democrat—Hill was my favorite for the place. Stevenson is a strong man and will go a long way towards uniting the party. I believe the Silver Republican and the Populists will support the ticket with Stevenson as candidate for

TO REMOVE A ROCK.

Messico to Navigation at Yaquina Will Be Blasted.

Captain Hart, United States Engineers, has received notice from the Chief of Engineers that his project for the removal of a pinnacle rock at the entrance to Yaquina Bay has been approved, and, in accordance with directions to begin work at once, has dispatched Assistant Engineer Folhemus, a diver and a crew of men to commence operations. The rock, which rises to within six feet of the surface at low tide, is about 200 feet out from the end of the south jetty, not directly in the channel, but near enough to it to be a menace to navigation, and makes the captains of craft entering the harbor nervous.

The Government steamer Wright will be brought up from Coos Bay to be used in connection with this work. Dynamite will be used in removing the rock, but just how it will be applied will depend upon the hardness and size of the rock. Surface charges of 500 pounds will first be tried, and if the amount of rock blasted off by them is satisfactory, they will be continued, but if the rock is too hard to be removed in this way, drilling holes and inserting dynamite will be resorted to, and perhaps it may be necessary to tunnel under the rock. If it is not practicable for the diver to drill holes under the water, a platform will be erected over the summit from which operations will be carried on.

As the rock is in an exposed location and operations can be carried on only in fine weather, the work will be pushed with all possible expedition, as one month of Summer has been lost, and only about two months are left in which it will be practicable to carry on operations. If all goes well the job will be completed before the Fall storms set in.

Your completion, as well as your temper, is rendered miserable by a disordered liver. Improve both by taking Carter's Little Liver Pills.
