"SAPHO."

Seats on Sale at the Metropolitan at 10 O'clock This Morning.

The seats for the nine performances of the famous play, "Sapho," which will be staged at the Metropolitan, on Sunday night next, for the first time in Portland, will be on sale this morning at 10 o'clock. The management has received numerous inquiries since the company was announced to set aside the choicest seats, but decided not to do this. They will present a clean sheet at the office this morning. This is a wise course to pursue, and others should follow the example. Too often the best seats are put aside and are never called for, whereas those who come first have to be content with the inferior ones.

"Sapho" should draw crowded houses for the week. It is fortunate that this great play should be presented by such a company; the majority have appeared here, and are great favorites. Miss George Elliot will appear for the first time in Portland in the title role.

Where Riley Got the Fish.
McMinnville Transcript.
Fred Hibbs, accompanied by Captain Riley, of Portland, made a trip to Meadow Lake last Saturday, returning Sunday evening. Mr. Hibbs informs us they succeeded in alluring 70 speckled beauties from their familiar haunts, averaging from 14 to 17 1/2 inches in length. Their mode of fishing was with the fly.

FOLLOWERS OF E. V. DEBS

SOCIAL DEMOCRATS NOMINATE ELECTORS.

Oregon Party is Organized and Proceeds to Arrange to Support Nominations.

Eugene V. Debs has an organized following in Oregon, and last evening a state convention of representatives from many of the state branches formally put into the field four Presidential Electors. The convention was held in the Washington Hotel, corner of Third and Flannery streets. T. C. Wendland was chosen chairman of the convention after it was called to order. Many addresses were delivered on general party principles, as well as the local and immediate work in hand. There are not sufficient branches in the state for a regular grand or superior organization, and to secure proper action among all the branches an executive board was chosen last evening, to whom has been delegated managerial powers.

N. P. Folen, Portland; J. Frank Porter, Baker City; Joseph Miendel, of Clackamas County, and George W. Waters, of Harney County, are the four nominees for Presidential Elector. In their selection an effort was made to have each portion of the state represented as far as possible. The executive board consists of T. C. Wendland, chairman; J. E. Rimbold, vice-chairman; Miss Florence Olsen, secretary; Anton Greib, treasurer, and J. D. Stevens, state organizer. The executive board was empowered to fill vacancies that might occur on the ticket before election, and also inaugurated work to raise funds for conducting the campaign.

About the usual order of business was pursued at the meeting. A credentials committee, consisting of N. P. Folen, John Hinck, Joseph Miendel, R. I. Davis and Anton Greib, was appointed and recommended that, as the number of delegates from each branch had not been designated, a roster be opened, which all members present in good standing should sign, and which should qualify them to participate in the proceedings. Those signing the roster were R. I. Davis, A. Greib, S. Hoek, C. Cling, J. Hinck, Albert Elms, Joseph Miendel, Arnold Gusterholz, Joseph Kerzel, E. Pappe, C. W. Wendland, Henry Weber, John Watkins, J. Heurischel, C. Pfander, August Dibbern, E. Von der Worth, N. P. Folen, J. D. Stevens, C. R. Silver, D. D. Holgate, W. V. Llewelling, J. E. Rimbold and T. C. Wendland. There were several other Socialists present who took part in discussions, but not the voting. It is expected that after the election there will be enough branches in Oregon to form a state organization. Each of the members present last evening was urged to constitute himself or herself a committee on one to secure additional membership to the party and further its principles.

Before the meeting adjourned it was suggested that it might be found desirable to join hands with the Social Labor party, which will hold a convention some time next week to put forward Electors. All idea of fusion was frowned down as contrary to the spirit of the party. The Social Labor party, by its 3 per cent vote for F. M. Thompson in the recent election, has already gained the standing of a party.

has gone to Madison, Wis., to remain during vacation. While there he will acquaint himself with the methods pursued by the Wisconsin Historical Society in gathering historical data, as well as study the workings of the University of Wisconsin.

Clark Hay, a pioneer of 1863, has returned from a visit to Cincinnati, where he was born, in 1853, and from which city he started to Oregon 47 years ago. This was his first visit to the east since he left. While he saw all the big cities of the Atlantic Coast, he returns to Portland better satisfied than ever to spend the remainder of his days here.

Professor Thomas W. McClelland, president of the Pacific University, at Forest Grove, registered at the Perkins last evening, on his return from Chicago.

The Shroeder Case.

The case of Christian Shroeder, the Powell-street barber, who was sent to the asylum for the insane several months ago, is a peculiar one. He is an old soldier and had been a man of more than ordinary intelligence, who gradually became unsettled in mind on various topics. After he had been in the asylum something over a month he was much improved, although not fully restored. His daughter, who lives in Detroit, came to Portland, and had Shroeder returned to his former home on Powell street. He had not been at home long before he became uncontrollable, and was even worse than he had been before. He became violent, and had to be returned to the asylum, where he is much better off. The physician at the asylum advised against his being taken away, but his daughter wanted it done. It is doubted whether he will ever recover.

MILES OF FREIGHT CARS

HEAVY SHIPMENTS THESE DAYS OUT OF PORTLAND.

They Indicate Unwonted Prosperity Throughout the Adjacent and Tributary Territory.

The rush and hustle at the three big railroad warehouses in the terminal grounds suggest a very heavy movement of freight over the O. R. & N., Southern Pacific and Northern Pacific. These three structures, if strung out in line, would extend a distance of half a mile, and lines of freight cars on each side, being loaded and unloaded, by over 100 truckmen, checkers, and receivers, would cover one and one-half miles of single track. Yet the warehousemen handle only broken cartons, the full cars being loaded or unloaded in direct connection with the heavy drays employed by the shippers and consignees.

Of the outgoing shipments at present, agricultural implements and farm machinery form a large proportion. Thrashing machines, with steam power auxiliaries, forming good loads for two flat cars at a time, are being shipped to the farming districts in Eastern Oregon, Washing-

HEAVY SHIPMENTS THESE DAYS OUT OF PORTLAND.

The rush and hustle at the three big railroad warehouses in the terminal grounds suggest a very heavy movement of freight over the O. R. & N., Southern Pacific and Northern Pacific. Yet the warehousemen handle only broken cartons, the full cars being loaded or unloaded in direct connection with the heavy drays employed by the shippers and consignees.

Of the outgoing shipments at present, agricultural implements and farm machinery form a large proportion. Thrashing machines, with steam power auxiliaries, forming good loads for two flat cars at a time, are being shipped to the farming districts in Eastern Oregon, Washington and Idaho, while stacks of hay forks, and groups of fanning mills form other varieties. Expensive buggies and carriages being loaded, in connection with the highly-painted farm wagons, show that the farmer is preparing to take his family out in style, after the harvest is over, while large invoices of stylish furniture keep company with groups of modern heating stoves and suggest that Winter will come after awhile and that up-country merchants are preparing for it. Even poultry and hares are already being sent in carload lots to distant points, although the present crop must be cut and cared for and the stubble fed off before plowing and harrowing begin again.

The list of merchandise being shipped by the railroad to interior points covers the whole catalogue of human wants. There are great boxes of dry goods, immense coils of wire cable; there are sections of cast-iron pipe, three feet in diameter, requiring a heavy crane to lift; there are baby carriages and cots, boxes of books, cases of liquors, and kegs of beer; there are bicycles and other goods, green fruit, shingles and lumber. Even a consignment of dressed lumber to Seattle created no surprise among the handlers of freight, as Seattle is still a heavy customer of Portland business houses.

Men who handle the great bulk of moving freight are paid 20 cents an hour or $1 75 a day of 10 hours. Recently 150 men employed at the O. R. & N. warehouse petitioned the company for a readjustment, asking for 30 cents an hour, $2 a day of 10 hours, and 30 cents an hour for overtime, which refers to

AGAINST INFECTED FRUIT.

State Board of Horticulture Will Enforce the Law.

To those desirous of knowing whether the Oregon State Board of Horticulture will see to the enforcement of the state law for the protection of the fruit industry, a circular now being issued by the society will be of interest. President E. L. Smith and Secretary Henry E. Doach both signed this circular, which briefly says: "We beg to hand to you appended a copy of the law governing the sale or shipment of diseased
