For a considerable time during the past year he was employed at Granite Point, in the quarry from which stone used in the construction of the new Custom-House was taken. After that contract expired he came to Portland, but two carry off the storm water to the big ditch on Tibbetts street. Fo construct the path over this ditch would have been impracticable and very expensive, to say the least. There is a clear way along the west side, and Commissioner Steele mays that it will be an easy path to build. It will be an easy path to build. It will be built outside the curb and constructed in such a way that a future improvement of the street will not disturb it in any way, and it will be permanent. From Brush street south into and through the shops grounds Master Mechanic T. W. Younger says that he will build a suitable path connection. No path in the city can be built which will accommodate a larger number of men. Already nearly every one at these shops using wheels has paid his cycle tax.

When the old man doing chamberwork entered Landorff's room yesterday morning the matter was explained. The vic-tim was lying on the low bed, cold and stiff, an ugly wound in the left temple and a revolver grasped in the left hand, the index finger still gripping the trigger. On the dead man was found a letter addressed to him, at Eureka P. O., Eagle Point, Hume's Cannery, Washington, and a small photograph of a rather good-looking young woman, with full face and merry countenance. ST. PAUL RAILROAD MAN.

General Passenger Agent of the Omaha Visits Portland.

Thomas W. Teasdale, general passenger agent of the Chicago. St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha. Railroad, with headquarters at St. Paul, is in the city paying a brief visit to W. H. Mead, the Portland agent of his line. It is 13 years since Mr. Teasdale was in Portland, and he was much surprised to see how the city has grown, even in that unlucky number of years. He says railroad business is growing all over the country, and looks for a large increase in the and looks for a large increase in the next few years, especially in the West. The crop failures in Dakota he does not think will have a tendency to check immigration, as crops fail there so seldom that a single off year will not be able to hurt the reputation of the country. When Mr. Teasdale left Minnesota, there was not a great deal of political excitement, but he opined that the presence of Roosevelt had without doubt set the pot to boiling. Every one is interas he did not make many friends. His relatives are absolutely unknown by his the pot to boiling. Every one is interested in the news from China, and there is a general tendency among the peo-ple of the Middle West to look upon the situation as one of extreme gravity.

Mr. Teasdale will leave today for San Francisco. He is making a tour of the Western passenger offices of his com-

A date has finally been fixed upon for the ball game to be played between the railroad and commercial traveling men, for the benefit of the Baby Home. The date is Saturday, July 28, and the place Multnomah Field. Prior to the game there will be a parade through the prin-cipal streets of the city, by the contend-ing teams in fantastic uniforms, and others who will assist in making the game the success it should be.
Governor Geer has been invited to exhort the contesting players to do their utmost; Mayor Rows to pitch the first ball, and General Summers to act as umpire. These gentlemen have also been asked to take part in the parade, as also has a committee of women who look after the affairs of the Home. In addition to these, Drs. Smith, Mackenzie, Rand and Panton will ride in a carriage and render professional service upon the field of battle. The price of admission has been fixed at 25 cents, which includes admission to the grandstand for women and their escorts.

Body in the Willamette. Patrolmen Sloans and Patton discovered in the Willamette, just above Burnside-street bridge the body of a dead man floating in the water yesterday afternoon. While they were endeavoring to secure some means of getting out to where the body was, a launch passed, which caused the corpse to become loosened from a bush to which it was attached and sink. The officers tried to find where the body came to the surface again, but without success. From where they stood on the bridge they could not ascertain the color of the dead man, nor obtain any information by which he might be

Death of a Colored Teamster. At the County Hospital early yesterday morning Andrew Ragsdale, a well-known colored teamster of Portland, died of acute mania. County Physician H. F.

McKay's attention was first attracted to Ragsdale when he was brought to the county jail and committed for insanity, pending a medical examination. He was then quite violent. It appeared that he had been alling, and was being treated by Paul Cromwell. Dr. McKay saw the man's condition was critical, and tried to have him taken to one of the hospitals. Admission there was refused him, been York, representing her club at the International League of Press Clubs. Through her influence the meeting will be held next year in Portland, Or. THROUGH TO CHICAGO WITH OUT CHANGE.

It's a pleasure to travel in first-class cars. The newly equipped Chicago-Portland Special, leaving Portland every morning at 9:15, carries the latest improved parior, dining, sleeping and chair cars. The train is wide-vestibuled throughout, thus making a suite of rooms of the various cars, rivaling the best to be obtained in the first-class hotels.

The observation portion of the parlog car is particularly worthy of mention, with its large plate-glass windows and comfortable lounging chairs.

This train runs through to Chicago without change, and passengers may make themselves at home, feeling satisfied that there will be no change of cars before their destination is reached. For rates and further information, call at City Ticket Office, 89 Third street, corneg Oak.
