There is not much of interest in the wheat situation, and prices remain to a large extent atominal. Some sales were reported yesterday at prices ranging from 54 to 56 cents for Walla Walla, and Valley was quoted at about 55 cents, which is probably not far from the export value, hased on current freight raiss. The demand is moderate, and farmers have not yet developed any anxious selling mood. The milling demand is very light on account of the trouble in the Orient.

Buyers and Sellers Scarce and Business Stagnant,

YORK, July 26 .- The waiting attitude of the stock market was emphasized today. Both buyers and sellers were scarce, and the market was nearly stagnant, as shown by the ong intervals during which the ticker motionless. C, W. Knowies, Manager. PORTLAND, July 23, 1900 .- (To the Editor.)—In Saturday's Oregonian, in your article, "Inalienable Bights of Man," you speak as though Mr. Bryan was a Socialist, or of that mind. Mr. Bryan believes, like Mr. McKinley, in private ownership of all public utilities, and to my mind he would serve the capital class, just as Mr. McKinley is doing today. The Socialists' candidate for President is Eugene V. Debs, whose name and platform are kept in the background alike by the Democratic and Republican press. You speak of the state having to support the trifling, shiftless class who do not want work as being a Socialistic idea. Do not our wealthy today live on the workingman's labor, on his want, his self-denial, on his weakness and his ignorance? Under Socialism the workingman would not give the best of his earnings to the idle drones. He would not sup-port millions of soldlers to kill his brother workers' sons. He would not build a mansion for a Huntington or a Clark and live in a hovel himself. He would not dress his wife and daughter in rags, that a Mss Crocker could wear a $50,000 wedding gown. He would not have to beg for a chance to toll, that his fam-
