

A SUDDEN ENDING

Collapse of the Revolution in Colombia.

SURRENDER OF THE INSURGENTS

Government Troops Inflicted Heavy Loss Upon the Rebels in the Fighting at Panama.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The State Department has received a dispatch from Consul-General Guider, at Panama, announcing the collapse of the revolutionary movement there.

PANAMA, July 25.—The insurgents in the Department of Panama have surrendered.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Consul-General Espinosa, of the Republic of Colombia, said today of the revolution in Panama: "I think it is all over. Eight hundred government troops met 1200 insurgents yesterday morning and wounded 400 of them. Reinforcements for the government came just then, General Campos bringing 1000 additional troops. There was nothing else to do, and the insurgents just laid down their arms and surrendered."

TWELVE HOURS' ARMISTICE

Agreed Upon Between Federals and Rebels.

NEW YORK, July 25.—A dispatch to the Herald from Panama, July 25, says: Fighting between the government troops and the revolutionists, which began early yesterday morning, was suspended at 12 o'clock. The fighting was suspended at 12 o'clock. The fighting was suspended at 12 o'clock.

After firing had ceased under this agreement, Hisekiah A. Guider, the American Consul-General, and the British Consul, acting in behalf of the entire consular corps, had a long and important conference with the revolutionary leaders. Through their intervention, both sides consented to extend the armistice until noon tomorrow.

The Consul is using every effort to prevent a bombardment of the city by the insurgents. Consul Guider is especially active in this work, because of his obligations which require the United States to insure the neutrality of the Isthmus of Panama, and preserve freedom of transit over the Panama Canal.

The armistice has brought great relief to the panic-stricken citizens of Panama. It has enabled them to appear in the streets with their families, and to do so while the fighting continues in the city. Several persons were wounded by these bullets. The ambulance corps from the British Legation, which was asked by the government to help in attending upon the wounded, landed this morning and rendered valuable assistance.

Fighting became desperate private citizens during the night and both regulars and insurgents lost heavily in officers. Among the revolutionists were General Temistocles Diaz and Joaquin. On the government side Colonel Barona, Majors Holguin and Rolando Linarez and Captain Pedro Pacheco were killed.

Disorder at Panama.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, July 25.—Advices from Colon announce that after a desperate battle Tuesday, July 24, the government troops were defeated in Panama, throwing away their rifles and Governor-General, Louzada, has sought refuge on board the British cruiser Leander.

So much disorder prevails at Panama that 30 marines have been landed from the Leander for the protection of the Consulate. American residents complain that there is no United States warship either at Colon or at Panama. The statement is again repeated that 1500 well-armed rebels are at Coronel, two miles from Panama, and 1500 more are reported near by. Barranquilla, the key to the republic, is now besieged by rebels. The rebels have taken Tortuga Island, at the mouth of the Barro Colorado River, with the custom-house. The town of Barro Colorado is also held by the rebels. This is an important point bordering Ecuador, whence the rebels get their supplies.

CLAIM AGAINST COLOMBIA.

Republic Will Have to Answer for the Death of a British Subject.

NEW YORK, July 25.—The Herald tomorrow will say: The United States of Colombia will have shortly to answer to Great Britain and the United States for the death, May 31, at Tumaco, Colombia, of Reginald Paris, a British subject. Mr. Paris died a victim of the treatment he suffered at the hands of the Colombian Government forces near Tumaco. Great Britain will be sure to press a claim for £10,000 in behalf of Mr. Paris' estate, and the United States will ask compensation for the loss of a steam yacht, the property of the Manhattan Rubber Manufacturing Company, taken from him by General Miceli.

Mr. Paris undertook to deliver mail to the British ship Quilo, lying off Morro, for the Vice-Consul at Tumaco. He set out in the launch belonging to the Manhattan Company, with Thomas Clark, a British subject, March 17. They were held at Morro by General Miceli and not allowed to continue. Paris was taken prisoner and so abused that his death resulted in nine weeks.

A San Domingo Plot.

SAN DOMINGO, July 25.—A plot to assassinate the Governor of Santiago, Razon Caceres, has been discovered, and 25 of the conspirators have been imprisoned. Several military officers are involved. The accused will be tried by court-martial.

President Jiminis is visiting the interior. The country generally is quiet.

The Cut Worm and the Army Worm.

M'INNIVILLE, July 25.—John R. Booth, a prominent farmer here, says the predatory worm devouring the vegetation of the country is the ordinary cut worm that has appeared in great numbers because the summer has been favorable to them; that there will be no second crop of cover this year as they are eating it as fast as it grows; that the army worm moves in vast armies, eating up all vegetation like a prairie fire.

The Late George W. Gray, of Salem.

PORTLAND, July 25.—(To the Editor.)—As I am probably the only person in Oregon who was associated with this good man during the first three sessions of the Iowa Legislature at Des Moines, I will ask to say a farewell word to his memory. Out of 150 members, he was universally respected and loved. He was

LIBERAL LEADERSHIP

ROSEBERRY MAY SUCCEED CAMPBELL-BANNERMAN.

Sir Henry Increased at the Attempt to Reduce the Salary of the Colonial Secretary.

LONDON, July 25.—Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, Liberal leader in the House of Commons, was so incensed at the action of the Radicals in forcing a vote yesterday on the motion to reduce the salary of the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Joseph Chamberlain, that he threatened to resign the leadership of the party.

Friends succeeded, however, in persuading him to reconsider his decision, and he called a meeting of the party leaders, which was held privately this evening, to discuss the situation. The result was that Sir Henry will remain leader.

BAD FIRE AT BUCKLEY.

BUCKLEY, WASH., July 27, 2 A. M.—A fire which broke out about half an hour ago promises to destroy the greater portion of the town. It has gained such headway that the fire department is powerless to check it. There was a panic in the hotels and dwelling-houses when the fire was discovered.

The lively stable of A. T. Banks was the first to go up in flames. Young Banks, a boy of 15, who was asleep in the building, had a narrow escape from being burned to death. The entire building, 10 horses and all the buggies, wagons and harness were destroyed. The flames quickly spread to the Standard saloon and the Buckley Hotel. The latter building was crowded with guests, and there was a panic for a few moments, and a number of the guests rushed out into the streets scantily attired.

In a short time after the fire started the whole town had been aroused, and everybody did what they could to aid the fire department. Their efforts were of no avail. A strong wind was blowing, and the dry wooden buildings were licked up very rapidly. The Lavoye saloon was threatened, and a determined effort was made to save it.

At 3:30 A. M.—At this hour two hotels and three saloons and 27 buildings are on fire. All the burned structures are situated near the depot in the heart of the city. When it was discovered that the fire department could not cope with the flames, aid was asked of the neighboring towns. An engine was sent from South Prairie, and helped by throwing a single stream on the blaze. Loss about $10,000.

THE STATE FAIR.

Timely Words by Vice-Director of Oregon Agricultural College.

CORVALLIS, Or., July 25.—(To the Editor.)—Kindly grant me space for a few words in advocacy of agricultural fairs, more particularly the coming State Fair. Our State Board of Agriculture, in its laudable effort to rehabilitate our State Fair, is doing a noble work.

The fair is of more than ordinary significance to the agricultural interests of a community. It is not only tangible evidence of substantial progress in the various lines of husbandry, but is one of the very best mediums for attracting and causing desirable emigrants to settle among us. It impresses a visitor in a community so forcibly as an attractive display of the products of the farm, garden and orchard. It is suggestive of possible wealth and the comforts of life. No state board of agriculture can afford to neglect the fair without her state fair.

The fair is educational in the highest degree, and imparts to the farmer an impetus to excel. With our flag planted in the soil, the farmer can see the new markets and increased opportunities for our farmers. Hence any effort put forth to improve our agricultural conditions, which are paramount to all other industries, is of little value unless it is supported by every one. A fair can only be made successful by the contributions of our farmers and stockmen. It should be the aim of every farmer to excel in the production of his farm, and take pride in placing the fruits of his skill in friendly competition with that of his neighbors.

Our State Board of Agriculture is doing a noble work in its effort to rehabilitate the fair of 1900. The best of our efforts to improve our agricultural conditions, which are paramount to all other industries, is of little value unless it is supported by every one. A fair can only be made successful by the contributions of our farmers and stockmen. It should be the aim of every farmer to excel in the production of his farm, and take pride in placing the fruits of his skill in friendly competition with that of his neighbors.

RELIEF WORK IN INDIA.

Lord George Hamilton's Statement in the House of Commons.

LONDON, July 25.—In introducing the Indian budget in the House of Commons today, the Secretary of State for India, Lord George Hamilton, commended the patience, resignation, courtesy and abstention from crime with which the 52,000,000 people in the stricken area have faced famine. The latest reports from India, His Lordship said, were anything but satisfactory. On the other hand, there were certain compensating advantages in the shape in which the revenue year closed. There was, he said, a substantial credit balance of £2,570,000, but the famine expenditure and remission of taxation would turn this into a deficit of $28,000. The Government proposed to apply the unexpended balance of £1,000,000 of the former loan towards relief.

If the resources of India did not suffice to save the lives of the famine-stricken, then an appeal would be made to the Imperial Exchequer. In the last two years Lord Hamilton said $13,000,000 had been expended in famine relief.

Max Regis Acquitted.

GRACIGNAN, France, July 25.—The trial of Max Regis and 11 of his friends ended today with the acquittal of the accused. Max Regis is the notorious Jewhater and ex-Mayor of Algiers. During his term of office anti-Semitic outbreaks were constantly occurring. Shortly after the affair in the Rue de Chahor during the Dreyfus trial, when the anti-Semitic Koksufs Union harried his house and held it against their police for several weeks, M. Regis was threatened with arrest. He fled during the night to Spain, where he remained several months, but on stepping ashore at Marseilles he was arrested and arraigned on the charge of taking arms against the government.

Defeat of Ashantees.

BEKWA, Ashante, July 25.—Colonel Moreland, under instructions from Colonel Willcock, with a force of infantry and five guns, attacked a large war camp at Bekwa. With a brilliant charge the Ashantees were routed before the enemy had time to organize them, and therefore, they were forced to evacuate the town. A large amount of ammunition and arms were captured. The town was then razed, thus removing an important obstacle on Colonel Willcock's flank.

Corea's Protest.

YOKOHAMA, July 25.—According to Seoul reports the Korean Government has protested against the presence of Russian and Chinese troops at Wiju, but, after an audience, the Russian representatives agreed to remove them to Port Arthur without delay.

More Indian Native Regiments.

SIMLA, July 25.—The Imperial Government has sanctioned the raising of three new regiments of native infantry to garrison Colonial stations, such as Mauritius and Singapore.

Conducting a Campaign.

YOUTH'S COMPANION. From the day that any party convention nominates a candidate for President until the ballots are counted in November the chairman of that party's National Committee is an exceedingly busy man. The task of "running" a Presidential campaign has become very large.

Ex-Governor Bladell.

OAKLAND, Cal., July 25.—Ex-Governor Bladell, of Nevada, died today at his home on Orange avenue in this city. The cause of death was an aggravated attack of the grip, complicated with brain fever.

Germany has 35 fewer bicycle factories than it had last year.

LIBERAL LEADERSHIP

ROSEBERRY MAY SUCCEED CAMPBELL-BANNERMAN.

Sir Henry Increased at the Attempt to Reduce the Salary of the Colonial Secretary.

LONDON, July 25.—Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, Liberal leader in the House of Commons, was so incensed at the action of the Radicals in forcing a vote yesterday on the motion to reduce the salary of the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Joseph Chamberlain, that he threatened to resign the leadership of the party.

Friends succeeded, however, in persuading him to reconsider his decision, and he called a meeting of the party leaders, which was held privately this evening, to discuss the situation. The result was that Sir Henry will remain leader.

BAD FIRE AT BUCKLEY.

BUCKLEY, WASH., July 27, 2 A. M.—A fire which broke out about half an hour ago promises to destroy the greater portion of the town. It has gained such headway that the fire department is powerless to check it. There was a panic in the hotels and dwelling-houses when the fire was discovered.

The lively stable of A. T. Banks was the first to go up in flames. Young Banks, a boy of 15, who was asleep in the building, had a narrow escape from being burned to death. The entire building, 10 horses and all the buggies, wagons and harness were destroyed. The flames quickly spread to the Standard saloon and the Buckley Hotel. The latter building was crowded with guests, and there was a panic for a few moments, and a number of the guests rushed out into the streets scantily attired.

In a short time after the fire started the whole town had been aroused, and everybody did what they could to aid the fire department. Their efforts were of no avail. A strong wind was blowing, and the dry wooden buildings were licked up very rapidly. The Lavoye saloon was threatened, and a determined effort was made to save it.

At 3:30 A. M.—At this hour two hotels and three saloons and 27 buildings are on fire. All the burned structures are situated near the depot in the heart of the city. When it was discovered that the fire department could not cope with the flames, aid was asked of the neighboring towns. An engine was sent from South Prairie, and helped by throwing a single stream on the blaze. Loss about $10,000.

THE STATE FAIR.

Timely Words by Vice-Director of Oregon Agricultural College.

CORVALLIS, Or., July 25.—(To the Editor.)—Kindly grant me space for a few words in advocacy of agricultural fairs, more particularly the coming State Fair. Our State Board of Agriculture, in its laudable effort to rehabilitate our State Fair, is doing a noble work.

The fair is of more than ordinary significance to the agricultural interests of a community. It is not only tangible evidence of substantial progress in the various lines of husbandry, but is one of the very best mediums for attracting and causing desirable emigrants to settle among us. It impresses a visitor in a community so forcibly as an attractive display of the products of the farm, garden and orchard. It is suggestive of possible wealth and the comforts of life. No state board of agriculture can afford to neglect the fair without her state fair.

The fair is educational in the highest degree, and imparts to the farmer an impetus to excel. With our flag planted in the soil, the farmer can see the new markets and increased opportunities for our farmers. Hence any effort put forth to improve our agricultural conditions, which are paramount to all other industries, is of little value unless it is supported by every one. A fair can only be made successful by the contributions of our farmers and stockmen. It should be the aim of every farmer to excel in the production of his farm, and take pride in placing the fruits of his skill in friendly competition with that of his neighbors.

RELIEF WORK IN INDIA.

Lord George Hamilton's Statement in the House of Commons.

LONDON, July 25.—In introducing the Indian budget in the House of Commons today, the Secretary of State for India, Lord George Hamilton, commended the patience, resignation, courtesy and abstention from crime with which the 52,000,000 people in the stricken area have faced famine. The latest reports from India, His Lordship said, were anything but satisfactory. On the other hand, there were certain compensating advantages in the shape in which the revenue year closed. There was, he said, a substantial credit balance of £2,570,000, but the famine expenditure and remission of taxation would turn this into a deficit of $28,000. The Government proposed to apply the unexpended balance of £1,000,000 of the former loan towards relief.

If the resources of India did not suffice to save the lives of the famine-stricken, then an appeal would be made to the Imperial Exchequer. In the last two years Lord Hamilton said $13,000,000 had been expended in famine relief.

Max Regis Acquitted.

GRACIGNAN, France, July 25.—The trial of Max Regis and 11 of his friends ended today with the acquittal of the accused. Max Regis is the notorious Jewhater and ex-Mayor of Algiers. During his term of office anti-Semitic outbreaks were constantly occurring. Shortly after the affair in the Rue de Chahor during the Dreyfus trial, when the anti-Semitic Koksufs Union harried his house and held it against their police for several weeks, M. Regis was threatened with arrest. He fled during the night to Spain, where he remained several months, but on stepping ashore at Marseilles he was arrested and arraigned on the charge of taking arms against the government.

Defeat of Ashantees.

BEKWA, Ashante, July 25.—Colonel Moreland, under instructions from Colonel Willcock, with a force of infantry and five guns, attacked a large war camp at Bekwa. With a brilliant charge the Ashantees were routed before the enemy had time to organize them, and therefore, they were forced to evacuate the town. A large amount of ammunition and arms were captured. The town was then razed, thus removing an important obstacle on Colonel Willcock's flank.

Corea's Protest.

YOKOHAMA, July 25.—According to Seoul reports the Korean Government has protested against the presence of Russian and Chinese troops at Wiju, but, after an audience, the Russian representatives agreed to remove them to Port Arthur without delay.

More Indian Native Regiments.

SIMLA, July 25.—The Imperial Government has sanctioned the raising of three new regiments of native infantry to garrison Colonial stations, such as Mauritius and Singapore.

Conducting a Campaign.

YOUTH'S COMPANION. From the day that any party convention nominates a candidate for President until the ballots are counted in November the chairman of that party's National Committee is an exceedingly busy man. The task of "running" a Presidential campaign has become very large.

Ex-Governor Bladell.

OAKLAND, Cal., July 25.—Ex-Governor Bladell, of Nevada, died today at his home on Orange avenue in this city. The cause of death was an aggravated attack of the grip, complicated with brain fever.

Germany has 35 fewer bicycle factories than it had last year.

THWARTED BY ACCIDENT

BOLD PLAN FOR THE RELIEF OF PITTSBURG PRISONERS.

Long Tunnel With Electric Light Plant and Air Pump Discovered—Done by Boyd's Friends.

PITTSBURG, July 25.—One of the boldest and most systematic plans for the release of a large number of prisoners from the Riverside Penitentiary was thwarted by accident. The first theory advanced when the matter was discovered, seemed to point to the release of Alexander Berkman, the anarchist who is serving a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the real estate swindler, J. C. Boyd, who is serving a seven-year sentence in the penitentiary. This opinion is shared by the Pittsburgh police officials also, and many reasons are brought forward to confirm the theory. Among these are the fact that Boyd is wanted nearly every state in the Union on charges of real estate swindling, has confederates all over the country, and is accounted one of the wealthiest prisoners in Riverside. It is argued that Berkman's friends would not have undertaken a 23-year sentence for the shooting of H. C. Frick, during the big Homestead strike of 1892, but the conclusion reached tonight by Director Muth, of the Allegheny police department, is that the real object of the rescuers was to secure the freedom of the