Anarchist Assassin Bored His Heart

AT MONZA HEALTH RESORT

King Had Been Attending Gymnastic Exhibition.

ASSASSIN IMMEDIATELY ARRESTED

He Cynically Avowed His Guilt and But Narrowly Escaped the Fury of the Populace.

MONZA, Italy, July 29.—King Humbert was shot here last evening at 10:45 by a man named Angelo Bressi, and died at 11:30. The King had been attending a distribution of prizes in connection with a gymnastic competition about 10 o'clock. He had just entered his carriage with his aid-de-camp, amid the cheers of the crowd, when he was struck by three revolver shots fired in quick succession. One pierced the heart of His Majesty, who fell back and expired in a few minutes. The assassin was immediately arrested and was with some difficulty saved from the fury of the populace. He gave his name as Angelo Bressi, describing himself as of Prato, in Tuscany. He cynically avowed his guilt of the crime.

THE NEWS IN ROME.

Premier Called Cabinet Meeting and Started for Monza.

ROME, July 30, 3 A. M.—The news of the terrible event did not arrive here until after midnight. Signor Saracco, the Premier, immediately summoned a meeting of the cabinet and the Ministers will start at the earliest possible moment for Monza. The Prince and Princess of Naples are on board the Yela, yachting in the Levant. The city presents a normal aspect this morning, the news of the murder not yet being generally known. Signor Saracco, the Premier, will leave for Monza at 7 o'clock this morning with the President of the Senate, to draw up the certificate of death of the King, whose body will be brought to Rome. The Prince of Naples is at Piraeus on his return voyage. The Council of Ministers is in session.

The Assassin an Anarchist.

LONDON, July 29.—Angelo Bressi, the assassin of King Humbert, according to a special dispatch from Rome, dated today, is an anarchist. Too Late for Official Comment. NEW YORK, July 29.—Owing to the lateness of the hour at which the news of the assassination of King Humbert was received in this city, it was impossible to see either Consul-General Branchi or Vice-Consul Alberti and Burdeau. Baron de Fava, the Italian Ambassador, was at Seabright, N. J. He was much distressed at receiving the news, but said to the Associated Press that he could not give out any statement until he had been officially notified by his government.

Prince of Naples to Succeed.

KANSAS CITY, July 29.—Jerome Fedeli, Italian Vice-Consul in Kansas City, was greatly shocked when he learned of the assassination of King Humbert of Italy. "King Humbert was greatly beloved by his people," said Mr. Fedeli, "and I cannot conceive why any one but a crank or an anarchist should wish to take his life. He was good and kind and charitable. I knew him well. He will be succeeded in all probability by his oldest son, the Prince of Naples, who is a young man, not yet 30 years old."

Why He Did Not Kill the King.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Ten days ago an Italian in Paterson, N. J., Carlo Speranza, laid down his life and so absolved himself from his charge of the assassination of King Humbert of Italy. He killed Giuseppe Pessano and then took his own life. It was said that he held high place in the Mafia. The two men quarreled and Speranza shot Pessano and blew out his own brains. A very strange letter was found in his pocket. In the letter which Speranza had prepared, he set forth that he was chosen by his anarchist comrades to kill the King of Italy, but that, owing to the fact that he was in this country on the date set for the attempt at assassination, he could not fulfill his obligation. "This is not my bidding," wrote Speranza, "but the good and brave society will sit. On February 2, in Italy, it was my lot and my order to kill the King. My number came out in America and I could not do it. They gave me liberty, but ordered that the will of the society must be obeyed. They have said that because I was in America that I could do nothing, but I will show them that I do not talk only. Comrades, I either renounce the society or in alliance obey the oath of blood."

The Dead King.

Jean Marie Ferdinand Eugene Humbert I, King of Italy, was born March 14, 1844. He attended his father, Victor Emmanuel, during the War of Italian Independence in 1860. In 1868, when Italy fought with Austria, the Prince took the field as commander of a division in General Cialdini's army, and was present at the disastrous battle of Custoza, June 24, 1866. After Rome was occupied in 1870 by the Italian troops, he took up his residence there, and upon the death of his father, January 9, 1878, succeeded to the throne of Italy. In November of the same year an attempt was made to assassinate him, but it failed. When the would-be assassin was condemned to death, Humbert commuted his sentence to imprisonment at hard labor. During the cholera epidemic at Naples, he exposed himself frequently in his endeavors to alleviate the suffering of the sick and dying. By these and other acts of kindness the King won

LIKE THE AMERICAN RULE.

Autonomists of Cuba Afraid of Independence Yet Await.

HAVANA, July 29.—The decree calling the constitutional convention and providing for the election of delegates meets with almost universal approval at the hands of the Cuban press. The element which has always clamored for independence sees in the convention the consummation of the plans of a lifetime. The autonomists, Cuban capitalists generally and Cuban merchants alike look with concern upon the prospective devolution of large responsibilities upon inexperienced hands, and the word has gone around among them to try to elect the very best class of delegates possible. Probably they will rally to the banner of the Unionist Democratic party. From this time on those who share these apprehensions will use their funds and influence to secure the full registration of the better class of voters and to educate the people up to the idea that it would be advantageous to continue the American intervention several years longer.

Rathbone Has No Bondsman.

HAVANA, July 29.—The court before which Estes G. Rathbone, formerly Director of Posts of Cuba, was arraigned yesterday, after his arrest on charges of fraud, issued an order directing that the prisoner be removed this morning to the Carcel, but Lieutenant-Colonel Scott, acting Governor-General, advised that he was allowed to remain in the Viajero until it was known whether he would be secured. His attorneys are confident of getting a satisfactory bondsman tomorrow. Many persons called upon Mr. Rathbone today to express their sympathy with him in his predicament. Among them was General Lee.

CANTON, O., July 29.—President McKinley attended services at the First Methodist Church this morning, where the boys' vested choir of Wheeling rendered special music. Senator Fairbanks of Indiana, is expected in the city Monday. He will confer with the President, but probably be a guest at the home of Judge Day.

LONDON, July 30, 4:15 A. M.—The Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says he is still firmly convinced that the Ministers are safe, but, with the exception of an alleged message from the Japanese Legation in Peking, dated July 17, brought by a runner, saying that the ranks of the Triads, serious disturbances are expected between August 15 and August 18, during the festival to be held to appease the shades of the dead. LONDON, July 30.—The Canton correspondent of the Daily Telegraph in a dispatch dated Saturday says: "The Triads have become numerous and threatening in Hal Nan. The Triads and the local mandarins are terror-stricken and decline to protect foreigners. All the missionaries except three have left with their wives and families. The natives of the Nodda district of the island were so frightened that they joined the ranks of the Triads. Serious disturbances are expected between August 15 and August 18, during the festival to be held to appease the shades of the dead. kin unless Viceroy Tak Su will furnish him 20,000 soldiers. "The Chinese authorities have just disclosed a Boxer plot devised by Song Mun to blow up the mansard temple and to destroy the Cantonese officials while performing ceremonies in honor of the Emperor's birthday. If the plot had succeeded, the Boxers would have attacked Canton, looting the city and murdering foreigners and all persons friendly to foreigners. "Chinese newspapers assert that Prince Tuan offered rewards for all heads of foreigners brought to his yamen in Peking. The Boxers are finding it difficult to get enough of these, decapitated all Chinese having high noses and deep eyes, and in this way they presented so many pretended heads that Prince Tuan's exchequer suffered a painful strain."

Conditions Early in June.

NEW YORK, July 29.—The American Bible Society has received a letter from Charles F. Gammon, its agent in Tien Tsin, dated June 24. Mr. Gammon, after detailing the events up to the date of the letter, including the killing of the English missionaries Robinson and Norman says: "The case was provided with the usual two-light circuits, but the crew are of the opinion that during the storm, lightning struck the short circuit and cut it out. This left but one circuit unprotected with the connecting wires, subject to a cutout or any overcharge of electricity. Just how the explosion occurred is not known, but the circuit fuse blew out with a crash, the car was instantly filled with the lurid flashes of the subtle electric fluid, and cries of pain and astonishment were uttered by men and women, falling over each other out of the car."

NEW KIND OF FOOL

Threw Cigarette Into Powder at Cannon's Mouth.

10 INJURED, TWO OR MORE FATALLY

Caused Premature Discharge of Evening Gun at Illinois National Guard Encampment.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 29.—Ten persons were injured, two fatally, by the premature discharge of the evening gun at the National Guard encampment, Camp Lincoln, this evening. The explosion was caused by some one throwing a lighted cigarette into powder which had fallen to the ground. The accident occurred in the presence of a large crowd of visitors to the camp. The injured are: Private Jesse Ruppert, Battery A, head, chest, arms and leg terribly burned; arm broken and hand partially shot away; will die. Corporal Charles Baisley, Battery A, face, breast and arms badly burned; left arm broken and chest torn and entire body man of bruises; will die. Private Edward Smart, Battery A, face badly burned. Private Charles Sharp, signal corps, face and hands filled with powder; injuries serious. Harry Kebeber, civilian, face, hands and body badly burned; may recover. Chester Hunt, face painfully burned. Private Albert Stevens, Battery A, face and hands burned. Private Getton, Battery A, hands and face scorched. Sergeant Schroder, Battery A, face burned. Several others, whose names were not learned, were slightly injured. Corporal Baisley and Jesse Ruppert, acting Quartermaster, were loading the evening gun, assisted by several men of Battery A. A sack of powder was placed in the mouth of the cannon, and Ruppert was about to drive the charge home. The powder sack was too long for the gun, and in forcing it into the cannon the canvas was torn, some of the powder falling to the ground just below the nozzle of the cannon. Private Ruppert stood facing the gun, ramrod in hand. Baisley also faced the gun, while a number of soldiers and civilians gathered around. Despite the commands of the officers in command to keep back. Suddenly some one uttered the words: "Watch them scatter!"

There was a flash of powder on the ground, the flames were communicated to the powder which was to be fired in the cannon and the gun discharged. The ramrod was broken and shot from the cannon and Baisley and Ruppert had their clothes blown from their bodies, which were blackened with powder. The others staggered back, burned and blinded. The wounded were taken to the hospitals.

Some say there was a man in uniform who threw the cigarette, but an eye witness declares it was a small boy.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Streetcar Accident in Which Ten Persons Were Injured.

TOLEDO, O., July 29.—Ten people were injured, one fatally, and two seriously, in a streetcar accident here tonight. The injured are: Mrs. Ott, face and hand terribly hurt, may be fatal. Miss Ott, feet, hands, hair and face burned; very serious. Miss Lida Hartzel, face burned, neck and arms bruised; very serious. Miss Lizale Kuhlman, badly bruised on arms from falling from car. Miss Sophia Kuhlman, chin badly burned and arms bruised. Miss Abbie Ruess, face scratched, arms slightly burned and limbs bruised. Miss Mary Gushin, head, face and arms bruised and burned. James Myers, burned about face and hands. The injured were taken into adjacent drug stores and physician offices and their injuries cared for until they could be taken home.

The accident was a peculiar one. It resulted from an explosion that happened, but no one seems to know exactly how. It had just reached Twenty-second street when a blinding flash of electricity, followed by a cloud of smoke, and cries of injured persons, as they were tumbled to the street, attracted the attention of belated passers-by. The injuries were of such a character that they are in every instance extremely painful.

The car was provided with the usual two-light circuits, but the crew are of the opinion that during the storm, lightning struck the short circuit and cut it out. This left but one circuit unprotected with the connecting wires, subject to a cutout or any overcharge of electricity. Just how the explosion occurred is not known, but the circuit fuse blew out with a crash, the car was instantly filled with the lurid flashes of the subtle electric fluid, and cries of pain and astonishment were uttered by men and women, falling over each other out of the car."

DETROIT, July 29.—Section one of the Buffalo Bill Wild West Show train suffered a severe collision near Milwaukee Junction just before daylight today, resulting in the smashing of a show employees' sleeping-car, containing 40 sleeping inmates. One of the employees is dead and nine others are in Detroit hospitals suffering from more or less serious injuries. The dead man is Edward Sullivan. The injured are: Henry Eastman, Rochester, N. At the time of the collision, the train, consisting of 30 wagon and stockcars, four of the show's sleeping-cars and Grand Trunk coaches, were being transferred from the Michigan Central to the Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee tracks. The train was being pushed backward from the "Y" at the Milwaukee Junction when it was struck by an outgoing Grand Trunk freight train. The coaches were forced on top of one of the "box" employees' sleepers, filled with sleeping men. When the injured men had recovered from the shock the wrecked sleeper was chopped off and the injured gradually gotten out.
