high officials in this country, when the young woman shouted: "They have run us out of Italy, where we have lived for years, and we have starved. We have no home here. Things are no better here. We are treated like dogs in the mills. We are not considered human by Americans. We do not starve, but there is no work for us here. It is a curse of civilization. It is the curse of this government! We will try to better it by fair means, and if we cannot succeed, then we will resort to other methods."

THREAT FOR NOTORIETY PROMPTS THE ASSASSIN'S WEAPON.

Structure of Society Threatened by the Depth of Villainy Beneath Its Calm Surface. LONDON, July 31.—Moving an address to the Queen, with reference to the assassination of King Humbert of Italy, the Premier, Lord Salisbury, said in the House of Lords today that anarchists are not confined to any one political opinion. He said the last half century had seen the assassination of three Presidents of republics and two monarchs. It was "a fearful thing," Lord Salisbury said, "to contemplate this depth of human villainy beneath the smiling surface of society, threatening the destinies of society in the early years of the century."

The Earl of Kimberley, Liberal, seconded the motion for the adoption of the address, which was adopted both in the House of Lords and in the House of Commons. A. J. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury and government leader, spoke in a similar strain to the speech of Lord Salisbury, and Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal leader in the House of Commons, seconded the motion.

A PLOT EXISTED.

Italian Police Learn That the Killing Was Planned in Paris.

ROME, July 31.—The Tribuna says the assassination of King Humbert is believed to be the result of a plot. A notable anarchist recently confessed to the Tribuna, asserting that a meeting had been held in Paris at which plots were drawn and several persons were selected to kill the king. Bressi Bressi five persons have been taken into custody at Monza. In the absence of the young King, the Ministry has issued in his name a manifesto to the nation, as follows: "King Victor Emmanuel III, ascending the throne, has to perform the painful duty of announcing to the country the awful calamity which has violently cut short the valuable life of King Humbert."

The nation, wounded in its sincere affection for the august dead, and in a sincere feeling of devotion and adhesion to the dynasty, which has been so cruelly and so unjustly plucked from the earth, will be plunged into profound grief for the venerated memory of a good, brave and magnanimous King, the pride of his people, and the worthy perpetuator of the traditions of the House of Savoy, by rallying with unshakable loyalty around his august successor. Italians will prove by their deeds that their institutions do not die.

The King is expected to arrive at Reggi di Calabria tomorrow. He received the first news of the assassination of his father by semaphore. The police are pushing inquiries in all directions, but no information has been obtained as to the assassin Bressi as yet. It appears that when he was searching for lodgings on Friday at Monza, he was accompanied by a young man, whom the police are now hunting. The pistol the assassin used was a new superior weapon marked "Manassuchetta."

The police of Milan searched the house of a man named Bressi, who is now reported, found important papers showing that Bressi had relations with persons in the United States and that communications had passed between him and them in connection with the assassination. Another man frequented the cafes in Milan, where they were overheard discussing a big scheme that would astonish the world. Everything goes to show that the crime was long planned, and that the police are now being charged with want of foresight.

It appears that the cordons formed upon the arrival of the King at the fete were withdrawn today, and that as the King was leaving a sort of scuffle occurred, probably prearranged, to distract the attention of the carabinieri. The King was so pleased with his welcome at Monza and felt so safe that he turned to his aide and said: "I'd like to return soon," but he was dissuaded.

All the Italian troops took the oath of allegiance to the King today, and with the applause of the people. Perfect tranquility reigns throughout the country.

A deputation of Senators and Deputies had arranged to meet King Victor Emmanuel, but an order from the King, in the etiquette of the journey of His Majesty to Monza was strictly prohibitive, the idea was abandoned. For a similar reason the Ministers decided not to go to Naples.

Late this evening it is reported that the body of King Humbert will be brought here on Sunday Queen Margherita decided to accompany the King. Emperor William has notified the government of his intention to attend the funeral.

A dispatch of condolence has been received from King Manuella of the Queen Mother, who has declined to compose a requiem mass. If he declines, Massagni will be commissioned.

As the facts develop it is seen that the crime was long planned, and that the people to take greater precautions. A magistrate examined Bressi, who was silent and replied: "I did not kill Humbert; I killed the King. He admitted he was in Monza Park the previous day with a lady, and angrily protested that what he had done was not an act, but an act of justice."

Among the persons arrested at Prato is a woman named Teresa Brugnoli, said to have been the mistress of the assassin.

ASSASSINATION APPROVED.

Pateron Anarchists Celebrate the Killing of King Humbert.

NEW YORK, July 31.—There was a meeting of anarchists in Paterson, N. J., last night, at which the killing of King Humbert was indorsed. A report was sought admittance was welcomed, as it was said that these anarchists wanted the world to know their sentiments. The principal speaker at the meeting was E. Costa Crevelin, 21 years of age. In the course of an impassioned address, she said: "We are members of the group of anarchists to which Bressi belonged. He is a martyr. He has done what we would have him do. Ask me if we approve the killing of Humbert? I will answer the question before you go to sleep. It is a curse of civilization. It is a curse of this government. We will try to better it by fair means, and if we cannot succeed, then we will resort to other methods."

It is in the name of the Italian Republican Confederation of the United States that we affirm most emphatically that there has been no plot in the country to kill King Humbert. We deplore the killing, but to question very much the goodness of King Humbert, whose record in Italian labor has been a bad one. Many Italian laborers of liberty were killed by his soldiers in the bread riots not long ago with but the slightest provocation. It may be that the man who killed King Humbert lost the blood of the unfortunates who lost their lives on that occasion. The Italians in this city do not believe that the murder was concocted or was the

EUROPE WAS FORWARDED.

It Was Known That Humbert's Life Had Been Threatened. LONDON, July 31.—The entire European press utters a cry of indignation and horror at the Monza crime, and expresses sympathy for Italy and Queen Margherita. The difficulty of dealing with such insensate anarchist outrages is emphasized in many quarters. The Daily Chronicle observes: "The dagger that killed Carnot was no protest against 'monarchical institutions,' and Bressi, who had been in America, might have had the same idea. He is a native of Tuscany, Italy, and came to the United States. He was a naturalized American citizen, though his wife is of American birth. Bressi left Paterson, N. J., on May 21, sailing for Genoa. He told his wife that he was going to visit his birthplace in Italy to look after a little property that belonged to him. But he sailed under an assumed name. His wife says she received a letter from him since he arrived in Milan, but he said nothing about killing the King. She refused to believe that her husband was associated with when the newspaper reports were shown to her. It was only when the assassin in Milan confessed his name and gloried in his crime that his wife believed."

BRESSI'S FAMILY.

Assassin's Wife Did Not Know He Was an Anarchist.

NEW YORK, July 31.—Gradually a number of facts concerning Gaetano Bressi, who assassinated Humbert, of Italy, are being brought to light. He was a native of Tuscany, Italy, and came to the United States. He was a naturalized American citizen, though his wife is of American birth. Bressi left Paterson, N. J., on May 21, sailing for Genoa. He told his wife that he was going to visit his birthplace in Italy to look after a little property that belonged to him. But he sailed under an assumed name. OVERSHADOWS CHINESE TROUBLE.

Germany in Mourning for Humbert and the Duke of Sax-Coburg.

BERLIN, July 31.—The Chinese situation has fallen into the background in consequence of the death of King Humbert and the Duke of Sax-Coburg and Gotha, and the papers are filled with reports of the funeral. The absence of Emperor William retards the making of prompt arrangements for participation in the funeral.

The representative of the Lokal Anzeiger interviewed Count von Bulow, Minister of Foreign Affairs, on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern today and was assured by the Minister that a private letter would be sent to King Humbert's death, but did not anticipate any change in Italian-German relations. Emperor William's dispatch of condolence was answered by the Duke of Sax-Coburg and Gotha, and the Hohenzollern flew an Italian flag at half-mast. The Berlin court has been ordered to go into mourning for three weeks, a delegation of the Bockenheim House Senators, of which King Humbert was chief, will go to Rome, and the entire regiment will wear crepe.

The press still comments on the situation, and the Germania (ultramontane) expresses the hope that the Italian dynasty will now make peace with the papacy, "unless an anarchism is being fought by religion."

The police have ascertained that King Humbert's assassin stayed for several years at Monza, and a delegation of the Bockenheim House Senators, of which King Humbert was chief, will go to Rome, and the entire regiment will wear crepe.

GEORGE DIXON WHIPPED.

NEW YORK, July 31.—The one-time invincible George Dixon succumbed to Tommy Sullivan in their battle at 123 pounds. The end came as the men shaped for the seventh round, when Tommy Sullivan, who had been leading by a margin of 100-100, was defeated by his man, and, claiming that his left arm was disabled, refused to permit him to continue. This left no getting off the ropes for Dixon, and he was the victor. Dixon was getting all the worst of the body punching each was administering, and just before the close of the sixth round, Dixon, apparently toward his corner. It looked simply a case of youth being served. As a matter of fact, Dixon looked particularly big about the body. Sullivan was willing to mix it up to the slightest provocation, and it was the consensus of opinion that Dixon was beaten, and well beaten. It was a popular victory, and was greeted with cheers.

COBBETT AND MCCOY MATCHED.

They Will Fight 25 Rounds in New York.

NEW YORK, July 31.—J. J. Corbett and Kid McCoy were matched this afternoon to fight before the Twentieth Century Club on the night of August 30. Two nights will go rounds under the name of Queensbury rule. It was expected that trouble would occur when they met at 1230 Broadway, but aside from some rather sarcastic remarks passed by each, the fight proceeded without incident. The men agreed to meet to sign articles at 1:30. Corbett was on time, but McCoy failed to appear until almost 2 o'clock. As soon as McCoy appeared, he was taken to the opposite side of the room from where Corbett was sitting. For more than five minutes neither man said a word to the other. Senator Ziegler, who was present and acted like an amateur making his first match. After about 10 minutes he regained his composure, and the men settled down to business. Corbett drew the check for the telegram received from McCoy and, holding it before the latter, said: "Now, there ought not to be any trouble in signing articles; you say here that you will fight me on my own terms. I am going to take your word for it, but will make no unreasonable demands." McCoy said: "Well, what are your terms?" Corbett answered: "I will fight you before the Twentieth Century Club; the bout will be for 25 rounds and the loser $10,000."

McCoy said he was satisfied with these terms. Charlie White was named by McCoy as referee and was satisfactory to Corbett. The men then signed articles and were boundages. Corbett at first insisted that no bandages be allowed. McCoy refused to consider that, but after several minutes he finally agreed that McCoy would furnish material for bandages and Corbett would decide how much of the roll was to be worn by each. During this time of negotiation, Corbett said to McCoy: "I know nothing of bandages; you are an expert on that sort of thing. My specialty is boxing." McCoy answered: "You have not shown much cleverness at that, either, I imagine."

John Considine and George W. Grant, the fight for Corbett and the latter for McCoy, drew up articles of agreement, and they were signed by both men.

Corbett will start in training in a few days at the Zeigler gymnasium, on Beach. He has secured Charlie Goff as his sparring partner, and will also engage some wrestler to help get him in shape. McCoy will go to Saginaw, Mich., to put himself in shape. He has not decided who will be his trainer.

DEATH OF SAXE-COBURG'S DEATH CAUSED BY CANCER.

Germany Object to a German State Being Held as an English Retriever.

COBURG, July 31.—The Duke of Saxe-Coburg, who died at 10 o'clock last evening in Rossau, Co. Castle, by his sudden death escaped a painful, lingering end. Recently, at a consultation of specialists in Vienna, it was discovered that there was a cancerous growth at the root of his lungs. His Royal Highness was unaware of the real state of his health, and hoped he would recover until Friday last, when his condition became such as to preclude hope. During the minority of the Duke, who on July 18 was appointed government of the Duchy will be conducted by the Prince of Hohenzollern-Langenberg, the guardian of the young Duke.

Will Be Buried in England.

LONDON, July 31.—The news of the death of the Duke of Saxe-Coburg, second son of Queen Victoria, has created a sensation in London as it was totally unexpected. The Queen was deeply affected and the Prince of Wales cancelled the arrangements for attending Goodwood today, where his horse, Lucknow, was the favorite in the race for the Stewards cup. At Windsor there were many signs of mourning, the bells in the Curfew tower of St. George's Chapel being tolled. It is expected that the body of the late Duke will be embalmed and brought to England for interment and that it will lie in state at Windsor.

The Duke's successor, the Duke of Albany, arrived in London this morning. The Lord Mayor of London sent a message of condolence to the Queen on behalf of the citizens of London, expressing the hope that the sympathy of the nation would prove a solace and comfort to her bereavement. Numerous public and semi-public functions have been abandoned and the court and society will immediately be ordered into mourning.

BUCKET SHOPS RAIDED.

Over 400 Persons Captured by the Chicago Police.

CHICAGO, July 31.—Nearly 400 persons, many of whom had never seen the inside of a police station before, were captured today in a wholesale raid on alleged bucket shops located in the downtown district, and carried off to the police station. A dozen firms, one of them John Dickinson & Co., prominently connected with the Board of Trade, were visited by the police during the raid, which was so perfectly planned that hardly a person in all the rooms raided succeeded in escaping. The raid, conducted at the busiest hour of the day on "change," created considerable excitement, and resulted in the floor of the Board of Trade being practically abandoned for the time being, while the traders watched with interest the police as they gathered in their prisoners from the adjacent buildings. One of the prisoners, whose name was not learned, captured in the rooms occupied by A. E. Wirsching & Co., entered a lavatory, where he tried to strangle a time-writer, but was caught before he had successfully injured himself, and bundled into the patrol wagon. A panic ensued in Wirsching's rooms when the police appeared, and several persons were trampled on in the mad rush to escape. Chief of Police Kiple said that today's action by the "police" which would continue until every alleged bucket shop in Chicago was driven out of existence.

The places closed by the police included the following: John Dickinson & Co., E. A. Wirsching & Co., Chicago Commerce Company, N. M. Nusley, Hotchkiss & Co., Brown & Co., Wallace Co., F. C. Noid & Co.

In nearly every instance the telephone and ticker wires were cut, and the service rendered useless. The books and paraphernalia were also taken possession of by the police.

FOUR GIRLS DROWNED.

COCOA CITY, N. J., July 31.—Four girls, none over 20 years old, were drowned in the surf here today. They were: Virginia and Elsie Lowe, of Germantown, Pa.; Jennie and Bertie Lonsdale, of Windmere, Pa. They were in a launch when the boat was overturned and carried out by a heavy undertow. Their screams for help attracted the attention of a lifeguard, who succeeded in bringing the young women ashore. The Lowe girls took several turns around the beach, but showed signs of life, and doctors were speedily summoned and did all they could to save their lives, but to no purpose. They both died when the doctors were trying to restore them.

TROWN FROM A HORSE AND KILLED.
