WHITE MAN'S RULE

North Carolina Disfranchises Negro Electorate.

DEMOCRATS MADE A CLEAN SWEEP

Colored Voters, as a Rule, Remained Away Prom the Polls-Senator Butler's Defeat Assured.

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 2-After one of the most bitterly contested campaign ever known in North Carolina, the Demoever known in North Carolina, the Demo-crats and white supremany triumphed to-day by a mujority of about 30,000. To-day's election disfranchizes the negro and changes the State Legislature from its common majority of Republicans and Populists to straight Democratic, insur-ing the defeat of Markon Butier for re-election as United States Senator. The negroes as a general thing remained away from the polis. The election, un-expectedly, passed off without any trou-ble, except at a little town named Pani-son. A fire there, which started in a drug store wherein was kept the regis-tration books, destroyed the apothecary shop, the work being attributed by the shop, the work being attributed by the Democrats to those opposed to white rule. Bloodhounds were called out but they failed to find any traces of the alleged

The election was for state-officers, members of the Legislature, and county offi-cers, and for an amendment to the state constitution looking to a practical elimination of the negro from politics, and its adoption disfranchises the bulk of the negro vote. By far the greatest interest centered in the fight over the amendment. Many negroes voted for the amendment. The facility of Listancia. faculty of Livingston College, at Salisbury, one of the most prominent negro educational institutions in the South, voted for it. The amendment was apposed by the fusion of Populists and Republicans, headed by Senators Butler and Pritchard. There was a full poll of the Democratic strength, which, combined with a small negro and some Populist and Republican ballots, rolled up a large ma-

ANARCHIST MEETING.

Italy Bad to the Core, But Anarchy Will Save It.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2—Several hundred anarchists held a meeting in Bartholdi Hall, at Paterson, N. J., tonight, for the purpose of discussing the situation in Italy. There were many Frenchmen, a number of Spanlards and a few Austrians, in the assemblage, which consisted for the most part of Italians. Pasqualls Frank presided. At the opening he denounced the newspaners in general and denounced the newspapers in general and averred that they were misrepresenting the anarchists. He said the papers made anarchists out as bad men, and pictured them as revolting in actions. He said this was untrue, and that anarchists were the same as other people.

Pedro Estev, the Spanish leader and editor of a Paterson anarchist publication, was the principal speaker of the evening. He discussed the cituation in evening. He discussed the situation in Italy from his standpoint, claiming that the country was bad to the core. He said that the poor people of the nation were oppressed and overburdened by taxes, and because of the latter the poor people could not stay in the country. He reviewed the work of the socialists in Italy, and claimed that their propaganda had done no good: their intentions might be good, but their methods were not productive of results. He said Italy's only hope was in the anarchists. They had no secrets, he said, and took no part in plots. He said they did not select part in plots. He said they did not select by lot or otherwise any person to kill. Bressi, he said, had not been sent to kill the King; he did the act of his own free will. An anarchist was free to do as he pleased. An anarchist, he said, might decide to kill a King, and know when he had done it that he would have to give his life for it, but he would give his life giadly. Bressi, he said, had killed the King, and he was giad, although he the King, and he was glad, although he knew he would have to suffer for his act. Estev said that he was not sorry. He asked if any one present was sorry. This was greeted with laughter and ap-

Resolutions were adopted as follows:

"We, here assembled, intend to state that Bress's deed was the result of a present serious state of affairs, and therefore we are trying to establish one where violence would not be possible.

"We deplore as foolish the idea that there could have been or existed a plot in this city (Paterson), and protest against those who attributed it to and are trying so make the Italian colony of Paterson responsible for Bress's deed." Resolutions were adopted as follows:

SOME CHINESE ANECDOTES.

Stories Illustrating and Explaining Chinese Character and Habits,

London Globe.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—From inside sources it was learned that the action of the Nicaraguan Government in taking possession of the property of the Maritime Canal Company will have not the slightest effect upon the construction of the canal by the United States that the Nicaraguan Government. It is fully understood that when the canal is actually authorized by the United States that the Nicaraguan Government will have to make terms with the United States that the Nicaraguan Government will have to make terms with the United States, notwithstanding any concessions it may have granted to other parties. There is a possibility that provision will be made for concessions that have been granted, in order to avoid any possible difficulties. It is not believed here that the Cragin-Byre Company has any purpose in this concession other than to secure money from the United States when the canal is built, Authorities on the canal have never believed that the concessions obtained by this syndicate were of any value.

This sionary even before you told me." This was British acuteness. A little while before Dr. Morrison, who is as little like a missionary as may be, traveled from Shanghai to Tien Tsie, also in Chinese dress. "The conversation was short, sharp, and emphatic. The Chinese compradore on the boat looked at me searchingly. What pidgin belong you? he asked, meaning, What is your business? To try him, humbly I snawered. My beasked, meaning, what is your business? To try him, humbly I snswered, "My belong Jesus Christ pidgin'—that is, 'I am a missionary,' to which he instantly and with some scorn replied, 'No dam fear!"
This was Chinese acuteness. So conscious is the Celestial of his own commercial ability that 30 years ago a Pekin official said to an American traveler: "Englishmen and Melleau man come here waken men and Melican man come here makee men and Melican man come here makee big pidgin; bimeby long come German man; some time you makee see Chinese eatee everything up"—a prediction which is being fulfilled everywhere in the Far East and the Archipelago. The Chinese are not so much law-abid-ing as law-evading. They never know anything they do not wish to know, and none can be denser than they when they choose. Not so long ago a Chinese was summoned to a Melbourne Police Court for being in possession of a tenement un-fit for human habitation. The case was clearly proved and he was fined il. But in no way could he be made to under-stand that a fine had been inflicted. expected to show by these resolutions that the assembling of the petitioners was not for an unlawful purpose.

Rev. John Stamper; brother-in-law of Wharton Golden, resumed the witness stand this morning. Colonel Hendricka, of the prosecution, questioned him as to the part he took in getting Republicans from Scott County to go to the state as synonymous with very good.

The passive resistance of the Chinese is as remarkable in the government as in the individual. During the reign of one of the greatest of their rulers, who died in 1723, the patriotic pirate Koxinga rav-aged the coasts of Kwang Tung and Fu Kein, and proved so strong that the im-perial junks were unable to cope with him. In these circumstances, the Emperor hib upon the happy expedient of ordering all the people inhabiting the south ern seaboard to retire inland nine miles. This extraordinary command was not only obeyed, but it answered its purpose. Koxinga, baffled in his plans, Rosings, camed in his plans, contented himself with driving the Dutch out of Formosa, and was eventually ennobled under the title of the "Sea-quelling Duke," by which means he was transformed into a peaceable and law-abiding subject. The author of the "Middle King-dom," commenting on this incident, says that a power strong enough to compel an enormous population to leave their lages and towns ought to have i strong enough to equip a fleet and crush the pirates. Only that the results of just such topsy-turvy methods of gov-ernment are the latest news from the East, the whole story might be regarded as a myth.

Most of the policemen in Australia are Irishmen, whose gentus for humorous blundering loses nothing of its quality under the Southern Cross. Here is an in-stances Many Chinese names are remi-niscent of a burlesque, and are probably merely barbarian caricatures of the orig-tials of those Four Far Ab Sa and Ab Of these, Foug Fat, Ah Su and Ah inais.
