CAN MR. FRINK WIN?

King County's Candidate Has Serious Opposition.

SCOBEY IN THE LEAD AGAINST HIM

Humes' Pight Against the Power of the Corporations and the Local Political Machine.

SEATTLE, Aug. 5.-What influence will a solid 62 votes have over 475? is the question now bothering the politicians who succeeded in securing an indersement from King County for J. M. Frink for It is certain that Spokane County, with its 25 delegates - may be relied on to join with the victorious Seattle machine, making 102 for a starter. Skught is expected to help out, and Steveng and Whatcom and Snohomish and other counties that are usually in the Wilson column. The Frink managers make the rather surprising claim that they are also sure of Pierce County. which will, they say, find it the part of good policy to concede the Governorship to Scattle, on the ground that it will thus better maintain its strong hold on the Congressional delegation. They declare, too, that they will be able to make inroads into the famous southwest com-Scober of Thurston. Thus they figure up that they have 200 votes in sight, and that one ballot will be sufficient to settle the controversy. These claims may be taken for what they are worth, and so may the claims of the opposition, which is already busy in its purpose to defeat Mr. Frink. These latter declare that Frink is at best the candidate of only one faction of the Republican party, and that Mis inforsement was procured by means schilam in the party is to be widened, they say, it can be done no better than y the nomination of the man who has pone so much to rehabilitate a political ring odleus and tyrannical-a selfish clique whose habit it has always been to do much for itself and little for the cople. In other words, the success of Mr. Frink, achieved after the hardest and bitterest fight in the history of King County, has brought to the fore once ex-Senator Wilson and ex-Governor McGraw, two men who, so their enemies claim, and deservedly, won the title of "has beens."

The state convention will have 475 delegates, and it will meet at Tacoma, August .The candidates for Governor are: M. Frink, of King; J. O'B. bey, of Thurston; Major J. J. Welsenburger, of Whatcom, and S. C. Cosgrove, of Garfield. Wallace Mount, of delegation of that county for Attorney-General, has likewise been suggested for Governor, but it is now likely that he will stick to the minor ambition. If Humes or Gule had won in King County it might have been different. Wilson would doubtless have persuaded Judge Mount to stand for the chief place on the ticket. The leading candidate of the Frink op-position will be Mr. Scobey, and that his pretensions are worthy of perious consideration will be seen by a glance at the figures coared by his followers. He expects the support of the solid mouthwest combination, and if he gets it as now seems not unlikely-he will be a most dangerous competitor. Here is the line-up, as seen from the Scobey standpoint:

outhwest ... B Carfield 44 Kititas Diklickitat 10 Walla Walla 4 Chelan 5 Okanogan241

the northwest. Whatcom County will doubtless give its inforsement to Major Welsenburger, should be desire it. Skagit will probably go with Frink, because of Judge McBride's ambition to be Lieutenant-Governor, and Snohomish the same because Sam H. Nichols is after the Secretaryship of State. The two latter have already entered into combination with King County. The natural inclination of Whatcom would be on the other side, on account of Weisenburger, but as a matter of fact Whatcom has a reputation for division and dissension in its political counsels and purposes, and there is no telling where it will finally land. Last Spring at Ellensburg it trained with the anti-Wilson people; but it had theretofore leaned toward the now resurrected Spekans statesman, Island County is anti-Wilson, and so is San Juan and Clallam. In Jefferson County the Federal brigade has devoted itself with extraordinary energy to the task of capturing the county convention. Here is the Custom-House with Collector Reustis, a Wilson appointee, and a small army of employes Two years ago Houstis and the Custom-House ring were defeated, after a very flerce struggle, but the opposition is now more or less divided, and the Wilson people stand a very good chance of capturing the local county convention.

In Eastern Washington there is reported to be the strongest kind of opposition to Mr. Fink, on account of his record against railroad-rate legislation. Frink, while a State Senator in 1825, voted and worked against the Helm bill. It is represented that no candidate who stands for railroad interests can be acceptable to Eastern Washington, which has for years fought for lower grain rates. Lincoin County, which usually goes with Spokene, may oppose Mr. Frink on that account, and so may Douglas. Other countles will, it is supposed, be found to be against him at Tacoma, for that reason and because they are in the control of the Ankeny men, who want anybody opposition is sure to get some votes ou of the northwest, whatever happens, be ause the counties in that part of the state have never been able to get together on any important proposition. The weakness of Mr. Frink before the people because of his labor and railroad record is really a very effective argument.

It will thus be seen that while the Kins County cardidate goes to Incoma with the prestige of a victory at home, the indorsement of a solid delegation, an alliance with Spokane and with the benefit of a strong disposition on the part of the state to concede the Governorship to Se attle, he will have powerful opposition The keystone to the arch of the opposition is the southwest combination. This combination of countles has shaped the course of every Republican State Convention since 1894. It has survived the most formidable efforts to break it up. Just now the Wilson faction is working very hard to persuade Lewis County and Chemais County to refuse to work in harmony with the others. If they succood, the nomination of Mr. Frink may be regarded as practically certain. If they ed, the chances are very good indeed that he may be beaten. The bert, bad wound in back of head.

The late King County convention has left the political situation in King County sadly disturbed. The fight over the Governorship demonstrated that the political factions were very nearly equal in numbers, and the Humes-Guie people do not accept their defeat gracefully or with any feeling that it was won on its merita. The attitude of the one Republican newspaper, controlled by John L. Wilson and speaking for him, has stirred up among them an angry and bitter feeling. It has assaulted the Humes-Gule leaders in the most venomous and malignant fashion, and has plainly said, for example, that "the penitentiary is too good" for them. For days before the primaries and convention this paper gave such an exhibition of journalistic littleness and nastinem as the city had not before seen It is probable that the cause of Frink was thus more damaged than benefited; but, however that may be, it was made impossible for many republicans here ever to be reconciled to the aspirations of John L. Wilson. The causes behind the defeat of Humes were a feeling that he has been too often a candidate for office, and that, having been elected Mayor, he ought to fill out his term. His elevation to the Governorship would have necessitated a special election, not by the Council, but by the public. The people who have benefited by the Mayor's "liberal policy" were indifferent and did not work as hard as they might. Frink is a very respectable man, with a large personal following, and with the favor of the corporations. These were instrumental, for example, in swinging the Franklin, Newcastle and Gilman mines to his support. With all this great op-position, Humes would have carried the city and the convention if he had had just one more city precinct. As several not wholly regular or creditable. If the precincts were lost by the narrowest possible margin, ranging from one to five votes, the remarkable closeness of the contest is obvious,

The Humes-Guie people feel that they have been grossly and outrageously misrepresented by the local press as to their attitude in the organization of the con vention last Thursday. Frank P. Lewis, the temporary chairman, has been especially victimized by colored newspaper reports, which charge a conspiracy to steal the convention by fraud, of which Lewis is declared to be accessory. The truth is-so the Humes-Gule men saythat the count as announced was entire ly accurate so far as they know. When the clerk passed up the returns to the chairman of the County Central Committee, Knickerbocker, showing that Lewis had a majority, there was nothing for him to do but to accept the situation. There was some protest then on the part of the Spokane, who has been indersed by the Frink people, but Lewis took the gavel and the work of going ahead with the temporary organization was not interrupted. Afterward a demand was made for the convention to retrace its steps and reopen the matter of Lewis' election. The Humes propie contended that to do this would amount to self-stultification and be an admission that they had perpetrated a fraud; and they declared that the only business of a temporary organ ization was to proceed to a permanent organization. No one seriously contended on the convention floor that any fraud or theft had been intended by the Humes-Gnie people; but it was insisted by the Frink people that a mistake had been made, and that it ought to be corrected. The answer of the opposition was that no wrong had been done, the title of Lewis to the temporary chairmanship was perfect that the convendemonstrate it by proceeding to perma-nent organization. This was the view final-This is three more than a majority of ity accepted by the Frink people, except the convention. It will be observed that appointed and no delegates be unseated. > All things considered. Mayor Humes influential corporations in the county cause they were against him. The Pacific Goast to pursue, Company, which is allied to the Great Northern, appears to have been especialdiligent in Mr. Frink's behalf. The Humes managers point out as the reason for this great corporation's attitude the known relationship, commercial and political, between it, the Great Northern, ex-Senator Wilson and his newspaper organ. The municipal machine, which the Mayor was accused of building up in his own behalf, appears to have amounted to little. All the policemen and firemen and practically all the city employes are under an efficient civil service, and the patronage club could not be used with much effect. Indeed, the nominal manager of Mr. Frink's campaign was Frank Paul, City Controller. On the contrary, the whole power of the Federal machine was used against Humes and Guie. United States Assayer Wing, who has 20 or more employes, discharged a melter, John Vanhorn, because he would not agree to work at the primaries for Frink. This incident, by the way, made a small sensation, and was used to some advantage by the Humes-Gule forces; but it was carefully suppressed from publication by the Wilson organs. It is not likely that Humes will consent to have his name brought before the Tacoma convention. Some of his friends urge that he would be justified in so doing, and point out that E. P. Ferry was nominated in 1989 while his own delegation was against him. But the Mayor is disinclined to continue the fight for himself. This does not mean that he will not continue it against Mr. Frink.

HON. J. T. MORRISON

NOMINATED FOR CONGRESS BY REPUBLICANS OF IDAHO.

CALDWELL, Idaho, Aug. 5.—John Tracy Morrison, Republican nominee for Representa tive in Congress from Idaho, was born December 25, 1860, in Jefferson County, Pennsylvania Farm boy, student, teacher, lawyer, designate his life's story to date. He was educated in the public schools of his native state, and at the Daiversity of Wooster, O., and Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., of each of which universities he is a graduate.

In August, 1890, Mr. Morrison located at Caldwell, Idaho, his present home, and began the active practice of law. He enjoys a wide reputation in his state as a lawyer of ability and integrity. He has been a member of the Republican State Central Committee since 1894. In 1896, when the party split over silver in Idaho, he stood firmly for party loy-alty, and took an active part in holding the party organization in his state, and was made secretary of the committee. Later in that year, as Republican nominee for Representative in Congress from Idaho, he made a vigorous campaign of the state, gaining for himself an enviable reputation as a platform orator. In 1805 he was made chairman of the committee, and conducted the campaign of that year, in which the party vote was in-creased 18 per cent over that of 1896, and 21 members of the State Legislature gained.

In 1886 Mr. Morrison was married to Miss Grage D. Mackey, of Cleveland, O. The father and mother, with their two children, Mary Louise and John Mackey, form an interesting fam-the following statement concerning it:

"Consul-General Goodnow, in a cable-gram dated Shanghai, August 5, which was received at the Department of State at 4 o'clock this (Sunday) marning, re-t leaded only for the guidance of the offiports the receipt by Consul Ragsdale, at Tien Tsin, of messages from Minister Conger and the Secretary of the Legation, Mr. Squeirs, dated July 21, to the folports the receipt by Constit Rigsdate, at Tien Tsin, of messages from Minister Con-ger and the Secretary of the Legation, Mr. Squeirs, dated July 21, to the fol-lowing effect: 'All well; no fighting since the 16th, by agreement. Enough provis-

"Mr. Goodnow adds that Director of The edict says the Ministers can receive messages not in cipher, but, notwithstanding this, plain messages were returned to some Consuls August 4."

While the messages from Minister are yet safe from immediate harm. At present there is no means of knowing whether the Ministers will accept the offer of the Chinese Imperial Govern-ment to provide an escort for them to Tien Tsin, but it is surmised that they will prefer to remain within the British legation at Pekin until the arrival of the All things considered. Government Urges Ministers to Go. It is thought to be not unlikely that the Chinese Government may be very insistent upon the departure of the Ministers, In the hope that if they can be gotten to Tien Tsin in safety the storming of Pekin may be averted.

The inhibition of cipher dispatches to the Ministers, while a serious breach of dip-lomatic usage, is not regarded here with apprehension. The Chinese Government, it is pointed out, is suspicious of the actions and intents of the powers, and probably has adopted this precaution to prevent communication to the Ministers of the details of military movements. It is evident from the adoption of this measure that the Imperial Government regards it-self as antagonistic to if not actually at war with, the powers. Thus far no inhibition has been placed upon cipher dispatches passing between the various governments and their consular representatives in China outside of Pekin. The State Department has taken the ground that the dispatch from the Tsung ii Yamun, delivered at the department yesterday by Minister Wu, is not an answer to the dispatch of Secretary Hay sent on August 1. In that dispatch Sec-retary Hay finally and decisively insisted that free communication with the Ministers must be established before any steps would be taken by this Government toward a peaceful solution of the present trouble. That dispatch was sent to Consul-General Goodnow, to be by him transhibition of the cipher dispatches: was sent by the Tsung il Yamun on July 36. As of that date, it had already been communicated to the department of Consul Four-ler. Obviously, therefore, it could not be a reply to the dispatch sent to Mr. Goodnow by Secretary Hay on August 1. A definite reply to the Secretary's dispatch of the 1st inst. is awaited with some con-cern, not to say anxiety. It is the final word of the United States Government in the pending negotiations. The demand must be acceded to if trouble of serious haracter is to be averted. Minister Wu is not in the city today, baving gone to Cape May to pass Sunday with his family. It is said at the Cultures legation that he probably will return to Washington tomorrow. No dispatches of consequence were received at the legation today, and it is said by the legation attaches that no messages will be made public from the legation in the absence of the Minister, unless messages of the allies. Whie no reasons for the reticence of the department are given, it is well understood that General Chaffee's dispaten at this time cannot be given to the public, as it contains information incles here, and no information has been received regarding it tonight either by the Government or the Chinese Legation. There is good reason to believe the im-perial edict referred to in Consul-General Goodnow's cable to the State Department has reached Minister Wu, who is spend-ing Sunday with his family at Cape May. If so it will probably be delivered to the Acting Secretary of State when the Minister returns to Washington tomor-row. At the Chinese legation here, how-ever, there is no information as to its
