I see a force of 15,000 Chinese sol-diers are reported to be within a day's march of Tien Tsin. It is possible they may strike in behind the relief column and threaten its line of communication. It would be a serious matter were the column cut off, as there is no supporting force to rush to its aid."

General Miles said the United States should be able to get 5000 troops into China within a month. Continuing, he said: "I am not surprised at the fight the China was machine It is mail income the Chinese are making. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 8.-William Bryan and Adlal E. Stevenson were to-ay officially and formally notified of day officially and formally notified of their nomination by the Democrats at the Kansas City convention for President and Vice-President of the United States. The ceremony was an occasion of popu-lar demonstration and with it the Demo-crats may be said to have begun their National campaign. The notification took place in Military Park, a beautifully shaded tract of ground in the center of the city. The park contains probably 20 acres of ground, and it was well covered with people. In the vicinity of the speakwith people. In the vicinity of the speak-er's stand the crowd was very dense. It would be a delicate undertaking to esti-mate the number of people contained in this vast throng, but there were certainly many thousands. Probably a ma-jority of them were residents of Indian-apolis, but many were from other por-tion of Indiana, while many also came from distant states. There was also guite a general gathering of the members of the National Democratic Committee, while, of course, the members of the two committees appointed to make the official notifications were also present. The ceremony was preceded by a parade through the principal streets, which was participated in by visiting and local Demparticipated in by visiting and local Dem-ocratic clubs. These acted as an escort to the notification party and the caval-cade was an imposing one. The meeting began a few minutes after 3 o'clock and concluded at 5:40. In this period of time, five speeches were made, Mayor Taggart, of Indianapolis, adding a welcoming match the the cavillation meeting of the second speech to the two notification speeches by Representative Richardson and Govern-or Thomas, and the responses made by Mr. Bryan and Mr. Stevenson,

The weather was hot but toward the close of the ceremonies a slight breeze alleviated, to some extent, the suffering occasioned by the high temperature. At occasioned by the high temperature. At one time it appeared as if actual suffo-cation might be the result of the terri-ble crowding in front of the stand where the ceremonies occurred, but beyond a few fainting attacks and nuch personal disconfort, no evil resulted. The plat-form on which the speeches were made was elevated about six feet above the lawn and on it sat the candidates and their families and the members of the National committee and the two notifica-tion committees, as well as a few invited guests. Mr. Bryan sat near the corner of the stage, just to the left of Chairman Taxes when we did in the set of Chairman Jones, who presided: Mrs. Bryan and their son, William, Jr., edcupying ad-joining chairs. The meeting was called to order in a brief speech of welcome by Mayor Tag-gart, of Indianapolis, who was cordially greeted by the vast audience. The Mayor introduced Senator Jones, of Arkanas, as permanent chairman, the National chairman being greeted by loud cheers. Senator Jones made no speech, but con-fined his remarks to the simple introduc-tion of the speakers to the audience. Mr. Richardson, to whose lot as per-manent chairman of the National con-vention fell the duty of notifying Mr.

There was also general cheering over the promise of Bryan that, if elected, he would imme-diately convense Congress to remedy the Philippine situation, but no part of the ad-Philippine attuntion, but no part of the au-dress received the earnest commendialian that was bestowed uon the peroration. This called out an outburst that was tumultuous and prolonged. Mr. Bryan spoke a few words extemporaneously in introducing his speech, all of which, ex-cept the peroration, was read from manu-script. The closing sentences were re-peated from memory in a most effective nanner. The extemporaneous introduc tion was as follows: "I feel that I owe an apology or ex-planation to the people who are to lis-ten, for the fact that I must read what Important From a Strategic Standpoint, as It is Wholly Within the Duited States.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.-Although the report of the special board appointed to cate a site for a drydock on the Colum bia is adverse in its immediate effect, on the whole it is very favorable, and practically insures the construction of a dock when the river channel has been deepened according to approved projects. The report is as follows:

"The mouth of the Columbia is one of ous applause. Governor Thomas did not ure poles. Mr. Stevenson was apparently slightly nervous as the time approached for him to take the stand, but he soon gained confidations as he proceeded. Mr. Bryan led the liberal applause which greeted the appearance of his fellow-candidate as he advanced to the front, and many points of the speech were liberally punctuated by a repetition of applause as he pro-ceeded. He read from manuscript. Mr. Stevenson closed at 5:49, and Senator Jones immediately declared the meeting adjourned sine die. Mr. Stevenson was liberally applauded when he closed. The mouth of the Columbia, with the modern defenses established and appropriated for, is amply defended against possible hostile forces. The Columbia, from a point 15 miles above its mouth, is always fresh. Numerous mountain streams afford an abundant supply of today. Governor, Robert M. La Follette, Madi-in a railroad on the south bank of the Ample railroad communication is found Columbia clear to its mouth near Astoria. By this railroad supplies can be received from all the great railroads leading into Portland. Portland is the largest city to all points on the Columbia, and is an excellent labor-supply center. The cli-mate of the Columbia River is mild, with but little snow, and work at a shipyard could proceed without interruption throughout the year. In considering the advisability of establishing a drydeck on the Columbia, the depth of water at the mouth of that river must be the leading consideration. The work on the jetty and the depth of the channel from 1885 to the present time is reviewed, and the report continues:

"A plan has been prepared and approved by the War Department for a continuation of the jetty to obtain and maintain a 40-foot channel, and another project will cure a 25-foot channel to Portland."

The department announces that it wants to construct a dock large enough to acommodate the largest vessels of the Navy. It is assumed from this report that the establishment of a completely equipped naval station will necessarily company the construction of the dack.
