FOUR HOURS' BATTLE

Chinese Driven From Yang Tsun After Hard Fighting.

LOSS OF THE ALLIES WAS 200

Present Rapid Progress Toward Peking, It is Feared, Cannot Be Maintained.

LONDON, Aug. 10, 4 A. M.—In the capture of Yang Tsun, the loss of the allies, according to a dispatch to the Daily Express from Chefoo, August 8, purporting to give an account of that engagement, which took place on the morning of the 8th, the majority of these being killed.

"The allies marched on Yang Tsun," says this report, "at dawn Monday. The position held by the Chinese was well entrenched to the east of the river. After four hours of heavy fighting, the Chinese were driven from their defense works."

Another dispatch to the same paper, covering the day of the 9th, reports a reconnaissance that morning by the Japanese beyond Hsiku, the result being that the enemy was developed in strong force, well fortified, and that the Chinese were superior in numbers, and, after facing the fire of seven guns, the Japanese retired on Hsiku, with three killed and 27 wounded, but having captured 200 horses.

With the exception of these messages, General Chaffee's report is the only report published by the London morning papers telling of the capture of Yang Tsun.

The editorials generally incline to view the progress toward Peking as splendid thus far, but one which cannot be maintained at the present rapid rate, as the concentration of supplies and the establishment of bases will cause inevitable delays.

The Collector of Customs at Shanghai has received a routine message from Sir Robert Hart, Director-General of Imperial Customs, showing that the latter is still conducting the business of imperial customs—a rather curious state of affairs when taken in conjunction with the words, "Happily still alive," which he included in the dispatch, which was dated Peking, July 27.

Commenting on Washington's latest communication to the Chinese Government, the Daily Chronicle describes it as "a diplomatic masterpiece," and it is Chinese attempts to get the Ministers to leave Peking, as described by M. Pinchon, the Austrian Legation, who sought refuge there after the complete destruction of their own building. The French Legation building is surrounded by boxes.

BERLIN, Aug. 9.—The government has another telegram from Herr Bulow, First Secretary of the German Legation in Peking, which is not dated, but says: "The French Legation, also destroyed by the boxes, not only sought refuge to the members of the French Legation, who are all in good health, but also to the members of the Austrian Legation, who sought refuge there after the complete destruction of their own building. The French Legation building is surrounded by boxes."

Herr Bulow does not mention the Belgians, but it is supposed that, as they took refuge in the Austrian Legation, they are now in the French.

The number of members from the army reserves who have signified their willingness to go to China is said to be 120,000. From this number it is understood that a corps not exceeding 50,000 men will be formed. The rest of the corps will leave within a fortnight or as soon as the Cabinet meeting called for tomorrow shall have given consent to the project.

Lieutenant-General Becher, in the Lokai Anzeiger, declares that the allied forces thus far in China are not sufficient to capture and hold Peking in the present circumstances, taking into account the climate, the conditions of the roads and the inundation.

The Chinese Minister in Berlin, Lu Hai Hsuan, has received a dispatch, substantially identical with the Chinese Imperial edict ordering the safe conduct of the members of the foreign legations to Tien Tsin. This has been forwarded to the Foreign Office, and is regarded, however, as another Chinese ruse.

FROM THE AUSTRIAN LEGATION.

Message Received From Secretary Von Rostkorn.

VIENNA, Aug. 9.—The Foreign Office has received the following from Dr. A. von Rostkorn, Secretary of the Austrian Legation at Peking, dated August 4:

"The Austro-Hungarian legation, with the archives, was burned June 11. Since that time the legation has been in a state of complete defense. The French Legation, which has been bombarded by cannon and rifle fire. Part of the building was destroyed by the mines. We deplore the loss of our archives, which include, among other things, the names of the Chinese killed, and two sailors wounded. Since July 16, the Chinese attacks have not been severe. The Chinese Government wishes to induce us to leave for Tien Tsin under safe conduct, but until now we have not fallen in with this offer."

French Legation Building is Surrounded by Boxes.

BERLIN, Aug. 9.—The government has another telegram from Herr Bulow, First Secretary of the German Legation in Peking, which is not dated, but says: "The French Legation, also destroyed by the boxes, not only sought refuge to the members of the French Legation, who are all in good health, but also to the members of the Austrian Legation, who sought refuge there after the complete destruction of their own building. The French Legation building is surrounded by boxes."

British Forces for China.

SIMLA, Aug. 9.—Including the fourth brigade, the strength of the force proceeding to China is 446 British officers, 1054 non-commissioned and native soldiers, 33,800 men, 11,850 followers, 1150 drivers, 2000 pack animals, 12 guns, 12 Maxim and 1800 Imperial service troops. It is expected that the entire force will have sailed before the middle of next month.

Sale of the Harper Plant.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—The Harper Bros.' building in Pearl and Cliff streets, together with all printing presses and other apparatus, and with all rights to publish the Harper periodicals, were sold at the New York Real Estate Exchange today for $1,100,000. The sale was made by the reorganization committee for the publishing house.

Mr. Mantle says in effect that the silver question is dead and that it has been practically abandoned by the Democrats and even by the delegates from Montana to the National convention, where the delegates from this state and

THE SCENE OF THE CHINESE WAR.

The town of Yang Tsun, which was captured by the allies Monday, is 13 miles beyond Tien Tsin, and about one-fourth of the way to Peking. It is used as a base for the operations of the international column, which, 50,000 strong, will take up the march to the rescue of the ministers and other foreigners, August 13. Yang Tsun was looked upon as a stronghold which would give the allies much trouble, but it was taken with the loss of but 200 men.

State Convention Organized and Adopts a Platform.

WACO, Tex., Aug. 9.—The Democratic State Convention today effected permanent organization. The platform adopted. It favors the selection of United States Senators by direct vote of the people; favors the construction and maintenance of the Nicaragua Canal by the United States Government; indorses the present state administration; favors the law prohibiting double-headed coins; favors passing a law prohibiting the issuance of free passes; recommends the establishment of state industrial schools for girls; favors a law creating a state board of arbitration to settle disputes between corporations and employees, and recommends the enactment of a liberal libel law. The platform also indorses the state administration for an issuance of a charter to the Waters-Pierce Ice Company. This is an acknowledged victory for Congressman Bailey and his following.

THINKS CHINA WILL SUBMIT

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—A special dispatch from Boston to the Commercial-Advertiser says: Secretary Long has left Hingham for his vacation at Buckport, Me. Before leaving he expressed his opinion that "We are not looking for territorial aggrandizement in China, and would be content with proper indemnity. I think China will see the necessity of submitting to our demands, thus obviating war. Our powers may fight despite the safe deliverance of foreigners. I can only speak for the part American will play. I do not believe that the statement of a Minister that he cannot leave the capital of a country without danger to his life is equivalent to a declaration of war from the country which threatens him. I think the affair will work itself out amicably. In view of the facts as I believe them to be, an extra session of Congress is unnecessary."

BIGGEST OF FAKES

Investigation of Cape Nome Proves Its Poverty.

HEALTHIEST CITY ON EARTH THOUGH

Localities From Which Gold Finds Are Reported—What Portland People Are Doing There.

NOME, Alaska, July 24.—Nome, Alaska, continues to develop as the biggest of big fakes and the results are fast proving disastrous to hundreds of honest, but ambitious men and women, who came to Nome from all over the world. Scarcely two months ago it was anything to get to Nome; today it is anything to get home again and eat pie like that you would use to make.

Destitution is increasing daily and it is, with many, a serious problem as to the means of securing passage for home on almost any old tub. The Senator has just taken out 400 returning arguments, but there is no money to pay for the passage. The Valenta takes out a full complement of passengers and lists are rapidly filling for other steamers. About 15,000 still remain in Nome, and it is estimated that 25,000 while fully 500 more are scattered up and down the beach for 25 miles each way.

I have just returned from a trip to the summit of Rodney Mountain, a high peak, or headland jutting into Behring Sea, 13 miles west of Nome, whither I went to observe the beach mining industry of West Nome. Miners along the beach are making from 10 to 25 cents a day to the man with rockers, the former figure being the prevailing per diem. It seems to be this or nothing and with the majority it is simply the question of earning a home stake. In many places the beach sands have been worked over three times and are now being worked the fourth.

Nome has been visited by no copious rains this season as it was last. We have had no rain at all and there is little prospect of any rain soon. As a result the creeks are rapidly drying up and work has ceased altogether on many. With the exception of a few claims on Anvil, Dexter, Oregon, Buster, Snow and Glacier, very little good pay ground has been developed this season. Add to this the additional handicap upon the camp of a general tie-up by the court all along the line of the claims originally located by the Laps and subsequently transferred to Lindholm, Lindberg & Lane, and the camp has had a very hard time which it cannot recover this year. The present legal difficulties of these owners of the best paying ground here has arisen through the alleged violation of mining laws, and the present action seems to have some foundation.

The people of Nome are trading with one another simply on the money brought here. That is, the money has been exhausted, trade will continue, although, it is falling away steadily, in consequence of which prices continue to go down. Eggs are 30 cents a dozen, beef 30 cents a pound, bread four leaves for a quarter, potatoes, 15 pounds for $1; meat, 30 cents and 25 cents; milk, 30 cents a quart; a four-pound salmon for 25 cents; flour, $1 a sack; coal, 10¢.

I think that Nome is at present the healthiest city in the world in proportion to its population. Perhaps this is due to the good weather, as water has had the most effect in the past. The air is pure, and the ground remains dormant from inability to percolate through the soil from lack of precipitation. What may happen when the rains begin it is hard to forecast. The ground of typhoid have unquestionably lain dormant in the tundra since last season and when they shall have been forced into the water supply of the town by percolation, the result will be dangerous.

Sneak thieves and thugs find in Nome a veritable paradise and nothing in the shape of personal property whether on or off the beach is safe from their hands and sneak thieves. This state of affairs is growing worse and as the military power is not in the defective business, and about the worst name of a name and thugs are early in the year of the year, conditions cannot be expected to improve until the population thins out considerably, or until the citizens organize for self-protection. Even the latter cannot be very effectual in view of the careful and adroit work performed by the light-armed gang.

It was confidently expected that by this time reliable reports of strikes would have been obtained in Nome from localities tributary to the town, but so far nothing of a definite character has been reported. The reports now being obtained there are on the beach south of the town, this stream empties into Granty Harbor in Port Clarence Bay. Council City then drew hundreds of men away from Nome, who are returning in a body, but wiser men, Council City is situated on Neukulik River, a branch of Fish River, which empties its waters into Golovin Bay, 80 miles east of Nome. Council City is 50 miles north of the mouth of Fish. The reported Koogarak strike is about 200 miles around by Port Clarence, while both the localities named are about 80 miles from the town, north of Nome. Bristol Bay is now engaging the attention of the Nome argonauts and a few straggling parties have started thither while others are preparing to go.

The Bristol Bay Diggings.

Bristol Bay is 500 or 600 miles south of Nome and at the base of the peninsula that forms the land end of the Aleutian archipelago and is on the north side of the peninsula. The reports disclose that there are on the beach south of the bay and in the interior at two different points wide apart. There seems to be considerable color of truth in the reports coming from there, judgment from the sources whence they emanated.

The possibilities of Alaska are immense. It only requires a robust constitution, moderate caution and persistence—otherwise termed "guts"—to accomplish a measurable degree of success in this country. With absolutely nothing to commend Nome to the consideration of the gold hunter, except the seductive yellow metal, one can readily imagine how physical impairment can come about through careless habits, but in a country having abundant resources that gold, such as Bristol Bay, with its softened climate, it would be difficult to imagine that one's health should not be perfect. Thermometric variations are not wide there as they are in this bleak and treeless shore. Timber abounds, wild game, such as caribou, moose, elk, deer, bear—many varieties of fur-bearing animals and wild fowl inhabit its forests and frequent its rivers and lakes and make it a veritable sportsman's paradise, we are told, while trout and salmon literally swarm in its waters.

One of the chief advantages to be derived from the exploration and development of the Bristol Bay territory is the proximity of the new district to a port, by which one may reach or command
