

THE KING'S FUNERAL

Humbert's Remains Rest in the Pantheon.

IMPOSING CEREMONY AT ROME

Followed by King Victor, the Body Was Taken Amid the Grief of the People to Its Last Resting Place.

ROME, Aug. 9.—The train bearing the remains of the late King of Italy, which left Monza at 4:30 P. M. yesterday, arrived here at 6:30 A. M. today. Immediately after that hour, 100 non-commissioned officers of Cuirassiers carried the casket containing the body of the late King to the large hall of the railroad station, which had been transformed into a chapel hung with sable draperies, with music and organ accompaniment.

The first chaplain of the court, assisted by a number of priests, pronounced absolution and the cortege started for the Pantheon, where rest the remains of Humbert's father, King Victor Emmanuel I. The sun was showing through a haze, but the weather was not hot.

The immense space surrounding the railroad station was entirely filled with people, and as the casket was borne into the open air all those present uncovered and remained bareheaded while the procession was in view. After the casket had been placed on a gun-carriage, King Victor Emmanuel II took his place at the head of the Princes, who followed the remains in the hands of music and the Duke of Aosta, the Count of Turin, the Duke of Genoa, the Duke of Oporto, Prince Ferdinand of Genoa, and other royal visitors. Following them were the members of the diplomatic corps and the special envoys.

Proceeding the cortege, which was most imposing in its magnificence, was a battery of artillery, a band of music and a battalion from each division of the Italian Army and Marine corps, many Army and Navy officers and representatives of the scientific and educational institutions, the Mayor, with municipal officers of Rome and Turin, deputations from all the Governmental bureaus of the Government and behind these were the more important military branches of the Cabinet Ministers, Senators and Deputies whose appearance made a striking group.

Just ahead of the casket were about 100 persons and 100 friars, including the court chaplains. The gun-carriage bearing the casket was drawn by six horses and was surrounded by officers and functionaries of the civil and military branches of the Princes and of the late King's army. The cortege was preceded by the late King's General Aid-de-Camp, Avogadro de Contes di Quinto, on horseback, bearing the sword of the late King.

As the body of the dead monarch was borne along toward the Pantheon, many of those present in the streets wept freely. On the right side of the casket walked the President of the Council of Ministers, Signor Saraceno; the First Vice-President of the Council, Signor Chevalier Annunzio. On the left of the casket were the Minister of Foreign Affairs, the Marquis Visconti Venosta; the President of the Chamber of Deputies, Signor Villa, and an extraordinary Deputato, Signor Biondi, who carried the sword of the late King.

When the head of the procession reached the Pantheon, an enormous crowd occupied every available foot of space. All the adjacent streets and the windows, balconies and terraces in the vicinity were also crowded with spectators. Not a whisper of conversation interrupted the solemnity of the scene, the multitude remaining in respectful silence with uncovered heads and hands clasped in the square before the railroad station, the streets through which the procession passed were draped with black and along the route poles were erected covered with black streamers and strings of palms entwined with black bunting stretching across the streets. Innumerable flags were displayed at half-mast and the windows were hung with black throughout the city that it can be literally said that the entire City of Rome was in mourning.

During the march of the procession several crashes occurred. Among those present in the crowd on Via del Serpente, 30 persons received slight wounds and 30 others were killed. The crash was caused by the shying of an Alpine officer's horse, frightened by the fall of a chair from a balcony. The crowd fled in all directions, but as soon as the cause of the accident was known, calm was restored and the cortege proceeded. A categorical denial is given to the report that the crash was caused by a protest against the funeral of the late King. The crashes elsewhere were also caused by unimportant incidents.

An imposing procession. The procession marched in perfect order and at a slow pace. King Victor Emmanuel, who was on foot, bore himself with dignity and carried his head high. The groups of officers, in full uniform, gave a grand and imposing appearance. Not less than 60 Senators and Deputies took part in the procession, many Radicals and Republicans being among the number. During the march, flowers were thrown from the windows of the passing casket. The whole portion of the Pantheon, where the procession arrived at 9:30 A. M., formed a veritable flower-bed and wreaths were thrown from the balconies.

At some points attempts were made to acclaim the new King, but such loud exclamations and applause were repressed. In the solemn silence which prevailed along nearly the whole route more clearly expressed the profound grief of the people. The exterior decoration of the Pantheon was very simple. Under the immense portico had been erected a large altar, upon which burned alpine lamps. On the steps of the altar were placed wreaths. When the casket reached the Pantheon, the non-commissioned officers of the Cuirassiers lifted it from the gun-carriage and carried it into the church, where it was received by Monsignor of the Regio, Archbishop of Genoa, who was in the front of the cortege, surrounded by the cathedral functionaries. The casket was then raised to the top of a catafalque, surmounted by a wreath of iron, and on it was placed the helmet and sword of King Humbert.

The catafalque, seven meters high, was placed on a pedestal one meter high. On the top of the catafalque were placed a number of wreaths were deposited. The upper part was covered with black velvet, trimmed with gold and ornamented with palms. There were placed the wreaths of the Princes and other high personages. Over the catafalque was erected a gorgeous canopy, with an iron cupola supported by 16 artistic columns. In the cupola were 100 lighted lamps, and around the catafalque were 45 wax tapers suspended by artistic chains.

AN APPEAL TO ORGANIZE

ADDRESS TO THE DEMOCRATS OF THE UNITED STATES.

The Result of a Conference Between Bryan, Stevenson and Chairman Jones.

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—William J. Bryan, his wife and son, the Stevenson party, Governor and Mrs. Thomas, of Colorado, and John J. Marin, sergeant-at-arms of the National committee, arrived in this city at 5:30 P. M. today. Mr. Bryan and party were driven to the Auditorium, where Mr. Bryan will remain for several days for the purpose of consulting with Chairman Jones and members of the National committee regarding the conducting of the campaign. When Mr. Bryan leaves here he will go to his home in Lincoln, to remain there during the rest of the month. Tomorrow, Mr. Stevenson will proceed to Lake Minnetonka, with his family, where he will remain for some weeks.

The following address was issued tonight: To the Democrats of the United States: The Democratic party and its friends must meet the forces of corruption and intimidation in politics this year by thorough organization. A Democratic Club or Society should be organized in every city, town, village and precinct in the United States. Democrats of all who are in sympathy with the principles set forth in the Kansas City platform are invited to join the Democratic Club, or when no club has been organized there, to work for the organization of one. This work of untiring the forces of law and liberty into one great systematic civic army should be carried on simultaneously in every part of the country and without delay. Our friends of government, according to the hitherto unchallenged American theory of political equality everywhere under our flag, cannot afford to be less zealous or less active than the advocates of an American colonial empire supported by a non-patriotic citizen can ignore the attacks which are being made upon the very foundation of our government. This year every citizen should be a politician. Clubs and societies should be organized simultaneously in every city, town, village and precinct. The National Association of Democratic Clubs, 120 Broadway, New York City, so that the united membership may work systematically in defense of the Republic.

Services in San Francisco. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—The Italian colony of San Francisco gathered in Metropolitan Temple this afternoon to pay a tribute to the memory of the late King of Italy. The service consisted of appropriate music and addresses by prominent orators. While the majority of local Italian residents deeply sympathize with the King, they hold a large minority who believe that the death of King Humbert will tend toward the establishment of a republican form of government in Italy.

Memorial Services in France. PARIS, Aug. 9.—In almost every city of France special services were held today in memory of the late King Humbert of Italy. The memorial ceremonies in Paris were especially imposing. The place at the Church of St. Clotilde and were attended by the members of the diplomatic corps, many of the high French officials and the United States National representatives to the exposition. The church was beautifully draped and a catafalque was erected, around which were torches and a hundred tapers.

MINER'S NARROW ESCAPE. Four Men Rescued From the Big Copper Mine at Burkemont. Baker City Democrat. The evening of August 5, a round of holes in the north drift of the Big Copper mine, which had been struck, and fired, when the day shift was working. Next morning four of the boys stepped upon the cage and signalled the engineer to lower them into the shaft. At the moment the cage was being lowered, the explosion had occurred the evening before. Almost immediately a deadly gas generated by the confined fumes of the powder, which had been used, began to stagger backward toward the shaft. In the meantime the cage had gone up, and Charlie Buzzard, who was the only one that retained consciousness, struggled to the top of the cage, where he signalled "down cage." The engineer was at his post and dropped the cage through 100 feet of space just in time to allow Buzzard to drag the foreman, Jack Kochenauer, and the other two men, who were hanging from the platform and to give a faint signal to ascend, when he, too, fell unconscious among the others.

When the cage shot upward to the surface, it carried with it the limp forms of the three men up upon the floor of the shaft-house, and Buzzard, who had partly recovered consciousness, with superhuman energy, rolled back to the rescue, and was returning for his partner, who was still lying below, in the drift. It required the strength of four men to keep him back. At the same time, the other two men, who were hanging from the platform, were rescued by the crowd with laughter and cheer. The candidates as the train moved off.

CUBAN JUDICIARY. Havana Press Accuses It of Corruption. HAVANA, Aug. 9.—The press unanimously criticizes and condemns in terms the corrupt condition of the Cuban judiciary system. Bold charges have been made by the newspapers that judges and other members of the court have been receiving bribes for coming to trial in the courts and which they themselves have to decide. The Post charges the Cuban judiciary with having a compact organization, extending over the entire system, to perfect that corruption is conducted with absolute safety, and adds: "There are members of the courts who retain their law offices and leave the affairs of the offices to those who work their clerks before they were on the bench. These clerks arrange the details of representing the old clients of those Judges and arrange the fees etc. "In this way a Judge upon a bench decides a case at issue while really representing one of the parties to the suit, and the result may be imagined in each instance in which this is the case."

SITUATION IN SHANGHAI.

Trouble Over the Landing of Foreign Troops.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—The flooded country beyond Peit Sane adds immeasurably to the distress of the progress of the allies toward Peking. The Shanghai correspondents from Tien Tsin, with statements to the effect that the situation at Tien Tsin is again perilous, owing to the brigading of Chinese troops within striking distance.

The losses of the allies in the recent operations are now said to be 110,000 men, which number the Russians lost 600, the British 400 and any British military. International suspicion has broken out among the Consuls at Shanghai on account of the determination of the British to land there a brigading of Indian troops. It is reported that the French will also land troops at Shanghai to the number of 120,000 men. While the Ministers at London remain undecided, it is not understood why Great Britain should divert forces destined for the relief expedition to garrison a place where peace thus far has been undisturbed.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Everything is in readiness for the big fight between Bob Fitzsimmons and Gus Ruhlin tomorrow night at Madison-Square Garden, and both men are tonight in the pink of condition. Fitzsimmons weighs 165 pounds, and Ruhlin 155. From the present outlook there probably will be 15,000 persons to witness this bout, and the fighters are to make a match for the championship of the world, winner taking 75 per cent. Charlie White will be the referee. The betting tonight is in Fitzsimmons' favor, small sums being placed at the rate of 100 to 30. So far an even bet has been learned, no large bets have been made.

Champion James J. Jeffries tonight issued a statement in which he says: "I have been in active training for the past two weeks, preparing myself for the emergency that may make it necessary for me to find my title before September. I find that my arm is improving steadily, and although I have been advised by my physicians not to take a chance until they declare the arm has completely recovered its former strength, statement that they have refused to make as yet, I have decided for myself that I will take the risk that the doctors advise against, and now stand ready to make a match for the championship of the world, winner taking 75 per cent. Charlie White will be the referee. The betting tonight is in Fitzsimmons' favor, small sums being placed at the rate of 100 to 30. So far an even bet has been learned, no large bets have been made."

THE TRIAL NEAR AN END

DEFENSE IN THE POWERS CASE MAY CONCLUDE TODAY.

Prosecution Will Attempt to Have the Youtsey Trial Begun Immediately After.

GEORGETOWN, Ky., Aug. 9.—The defense did not conclude its testimony in the Powers trial today, but will probably do so tomorrow. The chief counsel of the prosecution, stated today that that side will consume only one day in hearing rebuttal proof. There will be four recesses today, when the evidence is finished. It is not settled whether the Youtsey case will be taken up following the Powers trial, or will be postponed until after the Powers trial. The prosecution will ask that the case be taken up at once, but what view the court will take of it cannot be anticipated. Colonel Campbell thinks it will not take exceeding two weeks to try Youtsey.

Survevor Coolman, who testified yesterday, was allowed to make an explanation regarding some of the statements made by him, and also to make corrections of some answers which he explained were made on a misunderstanding of the questions put to him. Professor Buckner, of Georgetown, was on the witness-stand when court adjourned at noon. He also gave expert testimony regarding the shooting, and the bullet which was fired from the Coolman's mather's gun. During the afternoon session the proceedings were again interrupted by a spat between Mr. Owens, of the defense, and the court. Owens insisted on using an objection after it had been passed on, and the court imposed a $10 fine.

COST OF MOLINEUX TRIAL. The County's Expense Bill is Over $100,000. NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—The conviction of Roland White for the murder of Mrs. Kate Adams, it has been obtained from an authentic source, was obtained at an expense to New York County of $100,000, says the Herald. One of the chief causes of the enormous expense was the large amount of money demanded by handwriting experts. Among the other large expenses are the cost of the trial, the cost of the witness, performing autopsies and making the contents of the stomach of Mrs. Adams and Henry C. Barnett, to whom Molineux, it is charged, had admitted the post-mortem examination. The charge was $15,000. Professor Withaus' claim and those of several other who were connected with the case have not yet been paid, because Controller Coler believes they are excessive, and the matter of settlement has given rise to a protracted controversy between the Controller and District Attorney Gardner. Mr. Coler has notified the Controller, saying he will pay Professor Withaus' claim unless an ample reduction is made from it, or unless he is required by the courts to do so.

This invitation to sue, it was learned, will probably be accepted, and ultimately the Controller expects to have to pay the claim in full. The Controller has a certificate of the District Attorney, accepted by the courts as authority for payment of such claims. TWO YEARS' CHASE. Kansas City Embassers Arrested at Last. CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—After a two years' flight, in which they almost droided the globe and outwitted the police of European and American cities, Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Weinberg were arrested last night in their apartments on State street, Chicago. The Kansas City City with embezzlement, and Detective Richard Wilson, from that city, who has pursued them since their disappearance, conducted them back for trial. Mrs. Ida L. Preston, widow of Colonel Preston, of Kansas City, is the complainant. She accuses Weinberg and his wife of obtaining $500 worth of diamonds which she had purchased from her husband's family and was all the property left her. Weinberg kept a loan bank in Kansas City, and Mrs. Preston obtained a loan of $500 from him. When she was ready to redeem her property, the diamonds were not forthcoming. Weinberg, the Kansas City police say, was well known to them by reason of other complaints and arrests. The loss of the Preston jewels, the Chief of Police ordered the man's arrest. A hearing for Weinberg and his wife was held in the morning of the hearing there were no Weinbergs in the courtroom. From that the chase began.
