The Firemen's Contest.

PARIS, Aug. 17.—The preliminary contests in the exhibition of fire apparatus came off this afternoon at Vincennes, some 5000 firemen, representing all the nations, participating. The American representatives, Chief George C. Hale, of Kansas City, and the men of the Kansas City fire brigade, caused great wonderment by their quick harnessing and running, together with their method of life-saving. They received an ovation and by common consent were assigned the first place. The contests will be continued tomorrow.

A Sweeping Kansas Platform.

The Kansas Populists are really state socialists. The state already has a plant for the manufacture of bindery twine. In their platform the Kansas Populists "especially favor the development of our oil resources by the state, and the relief of our people from the exactions of the Standard Oil monopoly by the erection of a state refinery to refine the products of the oil fields of our state and supply oil to our people for their own use, at the cost of production without paying tribute to that overgrown monopoly."

They want the state constitution amended "so as to permit the establishment of state stockyards and markets, to provide for state insurance and to permit the people as a whole to carry on any business or industry by which they can promote their own welfare."

They believe in Government ownership of railroads and in "the application of the principles of Government ownership as a remedy for monopolies of every kind." They want "municipal ownership and operation of plants for the supply of water, light, heat and power, and also of all streetcar lines and telephone systems."

Letter From Taft.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—At the Cabinet meeting today Secretary Root read a long letter from Judge Taft, the head of the United States Philippine Commission, in which he gives his views of the situation in the archipelago. On the whole the letter is said to show a satisfactory condition of things.

Passing of the Horse.

So soon as Nature sees an improvement there is a change. The candle gave way to electricity. The spinning wheel to machinery, the horse to the automobile. The fact that Hostetters Stomach Bitters has been sold for over half a century, proves its value. There is nothing to equal it for stomach or liver trouble. It is Nature's own remedy, and the only one to cure dyspepsia or weak stomach.

FUNERAL OF HUNTINGTON

REMAINS REST IN FAMILY MAUSOLEUM AT WOODLAWN.

Services at the House Were Simple, at the Grave Private—San Francisco's Memorial.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—The services at the funeral of the late Collis P. Huntington, at the Fifth-Avenue residence today, were marked with simplicity. They were conducted by Rev. A. Woodruff Halsey, of the Presbyterian Board of Missions, in the drawing-room. The pallbearers were D. O. Mills, Edward King, Frederick H. Olcott, Edwin Hawley, Charles H. Tweed, Martin Erdmann, R. P. Schwerin and C. Adolph Low. After the exercises were concluded the casket was carried to the hearse and interment later was made in the Huntington mausoleum in Woodlawn cemetery.

MISS DEMOCRACY—"Gracious me! How I have changed since I've been keeping company with this man Bryan."

Piers 25, 37 and 38, North River, which are used by the Morgan Line and the Southern Pacific Company, were draped in memory of Mr. Huntington.

A few persons gathered in front of the house on the opposite side of Fifty-seventh street and in Fifth avenue early this afternoon. Their numbers were gradually added to, but at no time did they constitute a large crowd. Only half a dozen carriages followed the remains down Fifth avenue towards the Grand Central station, thence to be taken to Woodlawn for burial in the family mausoleum. A special train consisting of two cars left the Grand Central station a few minutes after noon in charge of Assistant Superintendent Van Tassell. The burial was strictly private, only the immediate family and its most intimate friends being present.

Among the friends at the funeral were Russell Sage, Senator T. C. Platt, Henry Clews, John H. Smith, president of the Virginia Manual Training School at Broadnex Farm, Va., which was heavily endowed by Mr. Huntington; Horace See, chief engineer of the Newport News ship yards; John T. Van Sickle, of the Morgan steamship line; Frank Lathrop, the artist; John Boyd, of Washington; President Dimock, of the Metropolitan steamship line; President Allen, of the Cromwell steamship line; George Howes, of the Union Pacific Company; D. A. Chambers, of Washington; Dr. and Mrs. Clinton Catherwood; William Hood, chief engineer of the Southern Pacific Company; James Stillman, president of the National City bank; William H. Baldwin, Jr., president of the Long Island Railroad; Senator J. P. Jones, of Nevada; Dr. H. B. Frizzell, president of Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va.; Booker T. Washington, of the Tuskegee Institute, of Alabama; A. F. Walker, chairman of the board of directors of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad; W. W. Durant, General Samuel Thomas, W. E. Wiedenfeld, S. P. Kneeland, William E. Dodge, G. C. Ward, E. H. Harriman, Rev. Dr. Alexander McMillan, Maxwell Everts, John H. Searles, W. M. Salamon, of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad; Philip Thompson, of Washington; F. L. Canda, J. Edward Simmons, president of the Fourth National bank, and Mrs. William E. Wilmerding.

SERVICES IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Memorial Services in Honor of Huntington.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—Memorial services in honor of the late Collis P. Huntington were held at the First Presbyterian Church in this city today, Rev. Dr. Mackenzie delivering the address. Dr. Mackenzie was assisted by Dr. Voorsanger, Dr. Guthrie, Dr. Miller, Rev. Dr. Woods, Rev. Dr. Kelly, Bishop Nichols and Bishop Morland. The edifice was not large enough to accommodate the immense crowds who wished to attend the services. Pews were reserved for the principal friends and associates of Mr. Huntington and the church was handsomely decorated with flowers from Golden Gate Park as an especial honor, Mr. Huntington in his life having been very liberal in his gifts to the park improvement fund. The musical programme was beautiful, including organ selections, singing by a double quartet and by the congregation.

Out of respect to the memory of Mr. Huntington, orders were issued from the general office in this city for the closing of all general offices and shops on the system today.

Services in Sacramento.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 17.—Memorial services in honor of President C. P. Huntington were held in the yard of the Central Pacific shops here today, and were attended by 1500 people, principally employes. Sherman, appropriate addresses and the adoption of resolutions, also singing by a male quartet.

SALT LAKE, Aug. 17.—Today's session of the Woodmen of the World was taken up in the discussion and reading of the report of the board of management. The report showed that one assessment per month was ample to keep up the benefit fund.

TWO SISTERS DROWNED.

One Dragged the Other to Death With Her.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—A dispatch to the Journal and Advertiser from London says:

Misses Eugenia and Virginia Brandreth, the two accomplished daughters of Harry Brandreth, who is the European representative and manager of the Allcock Manufacturing Company, were drowned in the River Lledr, in Wales, before the eyes of their two younger sisters and a brother.

The family were at their beautiful Welsh home, Lledr Hall, Pontypanta, near Bettws-y-Coed, through which flows the beautiful river from which it is named. The five went swimming together. Miss Virginia, who was 23, got into difficulties in a deep pool, and her older sister, who was an accomplished athlete and a strong swimmer, went to her assistance. For several minutes they struggled together in silence. Then suddenly the dying Virginia got a grip on her sister's throat. Eugenia had just time to call for assistance when they went down for the first time.

The younger sisters, horrified by the unexpected turn of affairs, screamed lustily for help. A gardener heard them, and came running to the river. Other help soon arrived, and the unconscious young women were got to shore. Miss Virginia died almost immediately. The eldest lived fully two hours, but never regained consciousness.

The bodies will probably be taken back to Hoylake, in Cheshire, for burial.

SEEKING HIS POSSESSIONS.

Armenian Trying to Recover Confiscated Property.

PARIS, Aug. 17.—Dr. Petros F. Nishkian, an Armenian on his way to Turkey, read a paper before the congress of chemists here today. He is going to try and recover valuable property of his family, confiscated during the Armenian trouble in Turkey in 1896, when his father, mother and brothers were thrown into prison at Smyrna on the belief that he was a plotter against the Sultan. Dr. Nishkian is a prominent chemist of Kansas City. He is a member of the American Masonic Order of the Mystic Shrine. His photograph, with the symbolic word "Ararat" on the red fez, fell into the hands of the Turks, who confounded it with Mount Ararat in Armenia. They professed to believe that he was an agent of the Armenian revolutionary plot started in the United States.

The mistake was explained by the State Department, and the innocent people were released after 39 days' imprisonment. The danger to all Americans was so great, however, that the Nishkians abandoned their large tobacco business and fled to America on a man-of-war. Recently the Sultan issued an edict that property confiscated would be restored. Fortified with his naturalization papers, the doctor will essay the recovery of his family possessions.

THE COOKING OF A HAM.

Things Not Found in the Cookbooks That Everybody Doesn't Know.

New York Evening Sun.

The inexperienced housekeeper says that she finds it almost impossible to learn from cookbooks how to cook a ham. One book will begin with the sweeping statement that the ham must be put in a deep kettle, covered with water, and cooked slowly. Hot or cold water? It doesn't say; that one detail seems too commonplace for mention. Then she opens another book to read, "Put a ham weighing 10 pounds in a large pot with water to cover it." Evidently the 10 pounds is the important item. In reality it is not so easy a matter to cook a ham as it might seem.

For the first step much depends upon the ham. The ordinary ham that comes from the West will not endure the soaking that an old-fashioned ham must have. The Western ham is usually full of water to add to its weight. At any rate, scrub the ham thoroughly. An eight-pound ham is large enough for most families. Some housekeepers insist that borax and water applied with a small scrubbing brush must be used to properly prepare the meat for cooking. It should usually be soaked over night. Trim it and cover it with a cloth. Now put it in a kettle, with one bay leaf, six cloves, six pepper corns, one carrot and one onion; cover with cold water and cook very slowly for four hours. At the end of that time add one pint of either white wine or acidulated water and continue cooking until the meat is tender. The ham is ready to be served after the skin has been removed. The liquor in which it has been cooked should be boiled down till it measures about one pint, the fat carefully skimmed off and a little butter and browned flower added.

Or the ham may be prepared in a slightly different way. Put about six cubes of sugar, two bay leaves, a bunch of parsley, two whole onions and some white cloves and whole allspice into the kettle. Add the ham and a quart of sour wine. Cover the kettle tightly. A good idea is to put a cloth over the top and then place over it the cover. Boil rapidly for one hour. Then let the ham cool slightly before pouring in a quart of boiling water. Cover again and let the meat simmer gently for three hours. The skin of the ham should be removed when it is warm, and with a quick jerk. After it has been taken off cover the ham with a mixture of a teaspoonful of browned flour, a cup of brown sugar and one-half cup of wine. Finish by browning the ham in a hot oven.

Wearers of the V. C.
