Little Machinery or Other Articles Indicating Investment of Capital -Report of British Consul.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—The com-British Consul at Havana in a report which has just reached the T.casury Bu-reau of Statistics. It specially calls at-tention to the fact that the imports of 289 largely exceed the value of the exports, and that more than 50 per cent of those imports were food products, much of which might have been produced in the island, and produced with a proportionapely less investment of capital than that required for the chief producing in-dustry—sugar. The following is an extract from the report:

"Judging from the more detailed re-turns which are available as to the nature of the imports at Havana, which constitute 25 per cent of the total merchandise imported into the whole island, it does not appear that any large amount of totals, industrial machinity, or material for public works were introduced, which might represent the investment of foreign capital to be employed in opening up new enterprises, the great bulk of the imports being rather for food, clething, liquors and other articles of habitual consumption which call for periodical replenish-

ing. The greater part of this excess imwas covered by the amount realized by the sale last year of certain guilways and cigar factories to foreign (principally British) companies, but, of course, the permanent allenation of properiles to meet current no saitles cannot be indefinitely repeated, and unless there is a large increase in the exports in the

Further on, in the same report, the

msul-General writes; The Island of Cuba presents the anomaly of a purely agricultural and excep-tionally fertile country dependent very interly on fureign countries for its fool supply. The limits of this report do not permit of examining at length the causes which have led to this state of things; it is sufficient to point out its existence and the important bearing it has on its for-

The value of the food products (includ-"The value of the food products (including liquids, and two-thirds of the live-stock, which must be reckoned as food) imported into Havana in 1899 amounts to over £5,000,000, or 51 per cent of the total imports into that port, without taking into account the undervaluation to which I have called attention in the paragraph on imports and exports. If the same proportion be applied to the total imports into the whole island, we find that £6,740,000 represented imports of food alone (in other words, absolute necessities) in which it is hard to see how any economies could be effected except perhaps in quality, and that only to a limited extent. If we de-duct this amount from the value of the exports we find a surplus of only £25.2.

The deduction to be drawn is sufficleatly obvious. The Island must either produce more articles for export, or it must raise more food products at home and import less from abroad. The most practical solution is undoubtedly the latter, as far less capital is required for cul-tivating maine, brans, rice and vegetables then for producing sugar, which has hitherto been considered as the staple export

Whatever solution may be ultimately found, there can be no doubt that the island will, in the immediate ruture, have to pass through a period of poverty, durwhich the importations will fall coning which the importance with its diderally below last year's figures, and will be restricted to absolute necessities of life, and to the cheaper grades of oth-

CUBAN TEACHERS CHEERED.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—With cheers for Cubs, the United States, President McKinley and their hosts, the people of the District of Columbia, the 1400 Cuban school teachers left the city at 1 o'clock this afternoon for New York. After spending the greater portion of the week there and in Philadolphia, the entire party will embark on transports for Ha-vana. The visitors were lived out thor-oughly by their experiences of Saturday, and enjoyed a good rest last night. Today their programme was a short one. After an early breakfast, most of them attended a solemn requiem mass at St. Patrick's Church. After church they re-turned to the hotels, where they were grouped in squads, and taken to the captol, arriving there about 10 o'clock. The building was thrown open to the vis-flors, and a detachment of guards was on hand to escort them. They were shown through the Senate and House chambers, the statuary hall, the rotunda and the Supreme Court chamber, and then ushered to the west front and af-forded a view of the city and the Washington monument. Coming back to their hotels, they remained for a short while and then, boarding the electric cars, went and then, coarding the electric cars, went to the railroad station, where their spe-cial trains awaited them to carry the party to New York. A large crowd of Washington people were at the depot to see the visitors off.

BROKE WORLD'S RECORD.

Trotting Team Went Mile at Pittsburg in 2:10 1-2.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 19 .- P. C. Knox. 1 PITTSBURG, Aug. 18.—P. C. Knox, a member of the Allegheny County Bar, to-day broke the world's record by personally driving his trotting team, Wert and Dr. Leek, a mile in $1895. The world's professional record was made in 1886 by Geers, driving Justina and Lady Mac, a mile in $1375. The trial today, while not a technical test, was made for the purpose of breaking the record, and was in the presence of 40 spectators on the Brunot Island Gentlemen's Driving Park not Island Gentlemen's Driving Park mile track. Twenty watches were held on the horses, and a large majority of them recorded 3:10%.

The race was in heats. For the final heat six great sprinters lined up—New-kirk, Waithour, Krebs, Kramer, Kimble and Newhouse. For the first quarter they loafed and jockeyed for position. When the riders finally passed the grandstand for the last lap Kramer shot out in front of the bunch. Kimble hung to his wheel, with the others struggling to keep within striking distance. Kimble pulled up on even terms with the leader, and they rode as one man for 200 yards. Kimble quit. as one man for 200 yards. Kimble quit, and Kramer was alone in front. New-house suddenly left those behind and went high up on the bank at the last turn. Owing to the request of the family for privacy, a request made in accordance with the expressed wish of Mrs. Ingalis, there was no great throng at the services. The little church was filled with friends of the family, and a few persons were obliged to stand. The exercises were very simple. Chopin's funeral march was played as the coffin was borne into the church, the Episcopal service was read and a vested choir of 20 men and boys sang "From Every Stormy Wind That Blows" and "Nearer, My God, to Thee," The officiating clergy-man announced that the interment would be strictly private, and only members of the family and the pallbearers, young men, soms of old friends of the dead ex-Senator, went to the cemetery.

A special train came in from Topeka at noon, bringing ex-Senator W. A. Peffer, who succeeded Senator Ingalis; Judge W. A. Johnston, of the Supreme Court; A. A. Goddard, Attorney-General, and others, who attended the services in the church. The officiating clergyman was Rev. John E. Sulger, of Terre Haute, Ind., who also preached the funeral services.

The Italian societies and citizens were given seats at the side of the church near the altar. The rear of the church was opened to the general public and was filled to overflowing at an early hour.

Just at II o'clock President McKinley and the members of his Cabinet arrived at the church. Baron Fava stepped forward and received the President, escort-ing him to a seat immediately in front of the catafalque, walking down the mid-dle alsie. With the President were Secretary Hitchcock, Postmaster-General Smith, Acting Secretary of State Adee and the President's secretary, Mr. Cortei-you. As the party took their seats strains of the organ floated through the edifice and the black and white-robed acolytes led the procession of the priests to the sitar. It had been expected that Cardinal Gibbons would officiate, but he was absent in the South. The celebrant of the mass was Rev. Father Bart, assisted by Father Lee as deacon, and Father Kervick as ab-deacon. Father Chattel, of Georgetown University, was also in the sanctuary. The ser-vice consisted of high mass, the usual sermon being omitted. At the close of the mass the priests put aside their white vestments for those of black and, descending from the sanctuary, moved about the casket, sprinkling it with holy water, praying for the repose of the soul of the dead King and chanting the "Requies-cat in Pace" cat in Pace."

At the close of the service the Prest dential party withdrew, followed by the deputies and military officers. Many of the people remained in the church to view the catafalque and flowers, and to carry away a leaf or bud as a memento of the Judge A. G. Otis, a close business and personal associate of Mr. Ingalis, estimates the ex-Senator's fortune at $250,000.

Palmer, of Springfield, Ill., relative to the St. Paul speech made by the Governor in which he had been quoted as making derogatory remarks concerning Democrats. The letter says in part:

main entrance of the church and received where its meaning was deliberately inverted.

"In my speech I began by saving: 'We appeal not only to Republicans, but to all good citizens who are Americans in fact as well as in name to help us in reelecting President McKinley.' I ended by saying: 'Study the Kansas City plat-form and you cannot help realizing that their policy (the policy of its makers and sponsors) is a policy of infamy; that their triumgh would mean misery so widespread that it is almost untilinkable and a disgrace so lasting that more than a generation would have to pass before it could be wiped out. They stand for lawlessness and disorder, for dishonesty and dishonor, for license and disaster at home and cowardly shrinking from duty abroad. We ask support of all Americans who have the welfare of the country at heart, no matter what their political affiliation may have been in the past."
"You will see that here I most explicitly draw the line between the men who sup-

STATEMENT OF POWERS, lays His Trial Was Political and a Judicial Farce.

GEORGETOWN, Ky., Aug. 19.—Caleb Powers issued a statement to the public tonight, in which he says: "That one of the greatest judicial farces known to history has been enacted here in my trial, under the forms of law, no well-informed man can doubt. Innocence is no shield with $100,000 and the methods of Campbellism against you. The rectitude of one's past life counts for naught. They say Taylor is guilty, because he was at his office, and that I am guilty because I was away from mine. This has been a political trial throughout, for political a political trial throughout, for political purposes, and no greater mistake has been made by the Democratic party since they robbed us of the offices to which we were fairly elected by the people. From the beginning of the campaign until now I have stood with what little of merit I have had for the rights and liberties of the people. That is my crime. That is the only offense I have committed. That is the only thing they have proved That is the only thing they have proved against me. I swore to that myself in testimony. I have never had, and I now have, no apology to make for being true to the trust imposed upon me by a ma-jority of the voters of this state. History will draw its dark lines around those who have outraged me and disgraced the judiciary and blackened the history of the state."

and that he has done, is doing and will do everything in his power to secure the latter's renomination is equally well known, There is a pretty strong sentiment among many Democrats in favor of Charles S. Voorhees, of Spokane, and he has been regarded as a most likely dark house. But Turner's control of the Spokane delegation greatly minimizes Voorhees' chances, if, indeed, it does not make him an utter impossibility. In the first Commercial National Bank of this city place, Senator Turner is for Rogers; in sent the package to the Burlington agent the second place, he does not want a Spokane man for Governor, for the obvious reason that his own chances for re-elecreason that his own chances for re-ciection would thus be injured, on geographical grounds. An indirect reason why Voorhees may not wish to run is found in the fact that he is a quasi-relative by the fact from the Chicago bank it was sent by the Adams Express Company. When the money was sent by the Adams Express Company. When the money was sent by the Adams Express Company. When the money was sent by the Adams Express Company. When the money was sent by the Adams Express Company. When the money was sent by the Adams Express Company was sent by the Adams Express Company. When the money was sent from the Chicago bank it was present from the chicago ry Wilson having married sisters. It is known that Voorhees and Wilson are on very intimate personal terms, and Voorhees, it is believed by some, would wish not to oppose a Republican candidate for not to oppose a Republican candidate for Governor whose success would tend to assist in making John L. Wilson again a United States Senator. United States Senator.

The King County Populist convention has declared for Fawcett, of Tacoms. It may be assumed that there is in King County no very strong sentiment for a Pierce County man, but Eugene Ware, Bob Bridges, John P. Fay, Clarke Davis and other leading Populist luminaries hate Rogers, and are willing to proceed to any length-short, perhaps, of supporting a Republican-to defeat him. The Democratic convention here took no setion on the Governorship, but it was in Fawcett, and the Populists will have contesting delegations at the state convention. The dimensions of the Fawcett movement are something of a surprise. He has not been anything other than a local factor in Tacoma politics, and to respect the surprise of the persons are far as appearance when the other persons are the other persons of the other persons walked about the pen, but had very little to say to their companions.

Whether the authorities will hold a special court of injulity remains to be seen. It was suggested by an official today that there may be a special board of investigation. He has not been anything other than a local factor in Tacoma politics, and it was not suspected that he possessed element officials at Washington are waiting for evidence from the Consul at Naples ments either of personal strength or general popularity that justified an ambi- police. tion to be Governor. The Fawcett boom has been largely accelerated by the anti-Rogers feeling. He has been the most convenient club west of the mountains to beat Rogers out of a renomination. There is method, too, in the effort on the part of the Seattle Democrats and Populists to place the Gubernatorial nomination in Tacoma, and to secure a Congressional nomination for themselves. In the present situation, it is sound strategy, for it is an exact reversal of the Republican policy. J. T. Ronald, of Seattle, will be nominated for Congress against Francis W. Cushman, of Tacoma, The local fusionists expect that there will be a slaughter of Cushman by Scattle voters in favor of the local candidate, and they hope to check any counter movement on the part of Tacoma for Cushman by giving, or trying to give, them Fawcett. They will probably not succeed in the latter, and it is not likely that they expect to succeed; but the Seattle politicians will have shown their good intentious, anyway; and that may count for something. In the demoralized state of the Republican party in this county, the fusionists do not calculate that the Frink nomination will do anything at all to hold the Seattle Republicans in line for Cushman; and it is not really vital that Fawcett he placed on the ticket from Tacoma as an offset to Frink. Tacoma's vote will be much smaller than Seattle's. Tacoma has a United States Senator, as well as a Congressman. Seattle has neither. Tacoma has neither the motive nor the power to counterbalance any great Seattle landslide in favor of Ronald, if it occurs. This, it must be remembered, is the fusion view of it. That it has some au thority is not to be doubted; the Republican managers are fearful of its effect is already evident from the appeals already being made by them to the public to subordinate local prejudice and elect Republicans to Congress on the broad ground that they are Republicans. The union convention will number 1100 delegates. It will take 734 to nominate. It would seem at this time that it will be impossible for Rogers or Fawcett to get them. The solution of the problem will then be a dark horse, like Voorhees, or Jere Neterer, of Whatcom, or any of the multitude of other Populist and Democratic statesmen who are ever ready and anxious for something to happen to them. There is just now a strong subterranean movement for Neterer, which is not, it is said, at all encouraged by him. James Hamilton Lewis, too, is always a danger ous factor. If the convention is unable to decide on Rogers, or Fawcett, or Voorhees, or Neterer, what more likely than a common movement to Lewis? His momination would be bad from the standpoint of those who rely much on the Seattle Tacoma Congressional fight; but there are those who will argue that Lewis be longs not to Seattle, but to the state, and if the party is to be saved, it must be at the sacrifice of petty local feelings.

A NEGRO ON RACE RIOT.

He Suggests That Courts Be Appenle to for Redress.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.-Rev. P. L. Cuyher, pastor of Zion A. M. E. Church, in his sermon today spoke about last week's race riots in this city. He said in part: "The trouble that our people have just gone through presents a disgusting am-brutal spectacle. In the troubles that we have in the South even, there is nothing to equal it. There, at least, the men who are in authority and whose duty it is to protect the citizens of the state do not participate in the riots, but rather seek to shield from the fury of the mob the mnocent victims. Instead of suppressing the rioting, the guardians of the peace appear to have participated in the cruelry here. The police clubbed the colored men, and the greatest damage done upon the ersons of our people was the work of their clubs.

"Of course, we know that the element that made so much trouble is not repre-sentative of New York. The mobs were mposed of hoodlums, roughs and toughs of every kind."
