FAVORABLE TO BUYERS.

General Satisfaction With Opening Prices for Alaska Salmon.

NEW YORK, Aug II.—With very few exceptions, buyers in this market regard the opening prices named on the 1900 pook of Alaska salmon by the Alaska Packers' Association as being extremely satisfactory. As a result of this view it is stated that all orders piaced subject to opening prices were confirmed, and in many instances buyers are said. many instances buyers are said to have increased their purchases very largely.

The consensus of opinion is, that, in view of the exceedingly strong position of salmon by reason of the estimated shortage of between 500,000 and 700,000. cases for the entire pack from the Coast, the prices named, $1.30 and $1.27\text{\text{$N$}}, are very favorable to buyers, and will enable them to sell at a profit, figuring the cost leid flown on the basis of all-rail rate, leid down on the basis of all-rail rate, at $1.256. The figures given refer to all-water rate, the cheapest freight obtainable from the Coast.

In an interview a leading operator said:
There can be no doubt that the prices passes, are low, considering the strong gituistion selmen is in, and all reports at band indicate that buyers have confirmed what orders were placed. I understand also that considerable business has been done among country buyers, particularly done among country buyers, particularly in the East. It is impossible to form any estimate as to the quantity that has been sold, but if reports are any-

Testerday was a quiet day on the street, thing like correct, the association must have placed a very large share of its till heavy, but there is no accomulation a sarge majority of the buyers is that the prices are low. As a matter of fact, the values are only 10 cents per dozen higher than last year, whereas on other descriptions outside of Alaska, the dif-ference between this ference between this year and last is considerably greater. It is intimated that considerably greater. It is intimated that the association will advance the price on all stock unsold within a few days, but whether this is merely an inducement for buyers to get in early or not remains to be seen. If it does, this will be prac-tically a guarantee against cutting prices and will insure the buyers a rea-sonable profit.

What effect the additional cost of red Alaska salmon will have upon the consumption is something entirely problematical. The middle and poorer classes are the great consumers of canned salmon, and to them each additional charge is a burden and results in a decreased use of the article."

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET. General List Neglected, and the Day

Closed With an Easy Tone. NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—The stock mar-ket was narrow today, the only incidents of note being the movements in certain cereais. The opening was easy on Lon-don's weakness. Sugar was depressed on the strength of a reduction in coffee prices, which was taken to indicate a possible resumption of the trade war in sugar, despite the recent maintenance of similar prices with consumers. The stock went off 1% per cent on the offerings of some large amounts. A continuance of the recent bear campaign against Peo-ple's Gas accounted for its point decline. Small declines in railroad stocks were in sympathy with London and reports of unfavorable conditions in crop districts. Business was only moderate during the selling, and as liquidation was not forced, the shorts commenced to cover. Before the forenoon had passed, prices were on the mend, and there were indications of confident buying in spots. Railies were most pronounced in the stocks which had suffered earlier, and the general level was lifted above last night. Conspicuous strength was shown by Brooklyn Tran-sit, Menhattan and Consolidated Gas, the latter rising 24 points from the lowest. New Jersey Central then assumed a commanding position in the market rising 34 per cent to 1374, which is a record price in its recent upward movement. An unfavorable statement of earnings for July caused realizing, and the stock sold off to 136 at the close. The general list was largely neglected, and showed no inclination to rise above the level recorded about noon. The market closed easy in tone, with net changes generally a small fraction either way. Business in bonds expanded today, and there was an active demand for St. Louis Southwestern second preferred, which ad-vanced them %. The market was irregular, but variations slight. Total sales, par value, $1,015,000. United States refunded 2s when issued declined %, and new as advanced % in the bid price.

The stock exchange here was half empty today, and there was a notable ab-sence of business, except in the mining department, in which there were signs of reviving interest. In the American vision the deniers occupied their time in playing football. The French market was strong. A combination is being arranged by the Ayrshire-Nottingham lace manu-facturers, with a capital of £1,000,006.

Chicago Grain and Produce. CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Wheat advanced in the face of considerations undeniably bearish. Receipts were heavy, Liverpool was depressed, there were rains in India and the world's visible increased 2,877,000 bushels. September opened unchanged at 72673%c. Trade for a time was almost entirely local, and decidedly limited. September touched 1724672%c, and then dropped on a very dull market to 71%c. At this juncture the traders learned that the foreigners were buying, and from then to the end of the session this proved the governing factor. September advanced to 72%c, but the announcement of the big increase in the world's visible supply caused a drop back to 724,6724c. Shorts seized upon the dip as a good time to cover, and September recovered sharply to 73c, closing strong, %c over, at 72%

Corn was quiet but strong. Hot weather in Kansas, higher cables, small stocks and the wheat strength kept shorts uneasy. September closed %6%c up at Onts were stendy on a limited trade. September closed unchanged at 22c. In the provisions pit lard alone held steady. The market opened higher on small hog receipts, but on local selling pork and ribs eased off, lard holding on the steady foreign buying. LABOUCHERE ON AMERICANS At the Exposition With Their Free and, Easy Democracy.

Labouchere in London Truth.
We had a great field for the study of American characteristics at the inaugu-ration of the United States payillon—a ceremony that was combined with the handing over of the building to the French Government. The visible sign of transfer was a golden key, with the spread eagle serving for the handle. This symbol of ownership was given to the French president of the exhibition commission, M. Picard.

He was asked by Mr. Peck, the head of the United States Commission, to wear it with his own decorations. The ladies were endless. There was not a plain face among the younger ones. All were pleasing who were not strikingly pretty Each seemed in the habit of governing her own life and of finding admiring companions in the unmarried of the other sex. The married people did not mix much with the unmarried. Mr. Simms, however, as secretary to a branch (the press branch) of the American Commisalon, was attentive to the possible wants and wishes of the lady journalists. He is at the opposite pole of the how-not-todo-it circumlocution official. Mr. Simms always knows how to do it, and never seems tired of rendering good offices. Mrs. Simms is an American lady of whom Uncle Sam may be proud. How the old man's heart must often swell with pride and pleasure at the endless nieces!

The crowd was stilling, All Americans in Paris were invited through the papers. Of course, there was a "free lunch." That is an essential part of an American afternoon celebration. Sousa's band played. It reminded me of the bands one hears at the Tivoli in Hanover and in front of the Casino at Baden-Baden. French police could not appreciate, like our Ambasador, American ways. They looked with almost angry eyes at the free and easy cheerfulness of their brethren of the "American Guard." Two of the latter stood laughingly back to back in the middle of the company to see who was the taller. Another pair shook hands across the shoulder of a United States Senator, who, I am told, was a billionaire. He did not seem to resent the freedom of the American guards, but the French policemen did. The inauguration was through and through on democratic lines, and everyone seemed to enjoy it. Though guards were so free and hearty, I did not see one that was in the least rough, and all stood back to make way for the ladies. How the latter were for the ladies. How the latter were lighted, but in a companionable way: The female infant born in the United States draws a good ticket in the lottery of life.

I thought of what Mrs. Beecher Stowe calves $365 50; bulls and store $2 5004 25 | said about the melancholy undertone of said about the melancholy undertone of George Ellot's novels—"She needs to go and pass a few years in our hearty, laughing, happy country," Of course, General Horace Porter, United States Ambassador, attended the inaugural and transfer ceremôny. He is robust of mind hand body and most hearty and affable. The General modestly attributed his rapid rise in the United States Army to "mor-tality, not merit." He was on General tality, not merit." He was on General Grant's staff during the Civil War. The polytechnic school here turns out prigs. But West Point, where General Porter graduated, does not. I could imagine him achieving splendid successes as a political achieving spiendid successes as a political orator during the canvass for the Presidency. He has the off-hand manner, the far-reaching voice, the original forms of speech and the fine spirits that carry all before them at a convention out West. And yet no professional diplomat could beat General Porter in a close game in which American as against other interests were the stakes. He is intensely shrewd and could not be indiscreet. General Noves, who served also under General Noyes, who served also under Grant and was United States Minister Grant and was United States Minister here, was a man of kindred mind, spirit, physique and disposition. I believe he was a lawper before he went into the Army. His robust, off-handed, some-what florid and original speeches were racy of Ohio soil and delightful,

All England Lives on Her Money.

Youth's Companion. The most notable transgressor of the sound warning not to keep money in one's house is the "Old Lady of Threadneedie Street," who has just celebrated her 20th birthday, Her official name is the Bank of England. To her capacious pockets the Kings and Queens of Europe confide their private fortunes. Fifteen hundred men care for her treasure by day and a troop of soldiers watch over it by night. The "Old Lady," however, neither folds her falents in a napkin nor ties them in a stocking nor buries them in a teapot. All England lives on her money. most notable transgressor of the

The natives of Gomera, one of the Canary Isles, converse with one another by winstling on their fingers. It is possible to understand a message a mile off. Each willship of a week had been seen to be supported by the condensation of the seen to be supported by the syllable of a word has its own peculiar sound. Gomera is cut up by a number of deep glens, which are not bridged over, and as it would otherwise be impossible for the inhabitants on separate sides. of a glen to talk to one another without going a long way round to meet, they have hit upon the whistling device as the best means of communication.
