

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

STANFORD STUDENTS LEAVE—A merry party of students left on the Columbia last evening for California, where they go to resume studies at Stanford University. A dozen Stanford graduates and former students of the University were at the wharf to see them off, and the usual rounds of college yells were sounded at the departure. Those who went down last evening were: W. C. Morrow, '01, of Portland; A. M. Stuart, '01, of Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania; Roy Keith, '01, of Chicago; R. C. Crawford, '01, of Union, Or.; and Gordon Edwards and Paul Rockey, of Portland, and R. Carlo, of Pendleton, who will enter the freshman class of 1901. Stuart, who spent the day yesterday in Portland, is a prominent athlete, a hundred yards sprinter, and captain of the Stanford track team.

GRAND REOPENING. Of the Banquet Music Hall—Thoroughly Refitted, Decorated and Beautified—Everybody Invited. The Banquet Music Hall, northwest corner of First and Madison streets, The De Martin Company, proprietors, with A. De Martin, manager, has been overhauled throughout, painted in gold, and bright colors, and decorated in the latest style of the art, so that it now presents the most brilliantly illuminated place of amusement in the city. The music hall was opened four years ago, and has been running continuously since that time. The best singers and other stage talent are always secured, and the performances are on a par with those given at the large theaters. The refitting and decorating has been done at great expense. The ceiling, especially, is a wonder of art, executed by Mr. Ernest Miller, the well-known designer of the Morrison Street arch on the Elks' Fair and Carnival grounds, assisted by Theodore Schultz, John W. Walker, J. D. Good and O. W. Sater. On the walls are many marine and landscape scenes, displaying the handwork of a master. The front of the hall, on First street, is of French plate glass, and the side, on Madison street, is of ornamental cut stained glass, from the well-known studio of the house of Povey Bros., on North Sixth street, who are leaders in their line. The windows are embellished with American flags and the Elk and Eagle designs, especially effective. Manager De Martin, to be thoroughly up-to-date, sent East for the pattern of linoleum with which the floor is covered, something new, which could not be procured here. The carpeting work was done by Mr. John A. Melton, who is a master at his trade, and whose work gives satisfaction in every part. Nick Burebach is assistant manager, a position he has held since the hall opened. Charlie Franks, the comedian, is stage manager, and Lew Winter musical director. The club rooms upstairs have been enlarged and refitted in tasteful and convenient style, with private entrance at 23 First street. Private entrance to music hall, 27 Madison street. The excellent free lunch for which Mr. De Martin is noted, is a feature of the house, and will be kept up to a standard which cannot be surpassed elsewhere. There will be a grand opening Saturday night, at which time there will be a special programme put on. All visitors are invited to attend.

"Sixty-seven two-eighty-one" Sixty-seven thousand, two hundred and eighty-one—that is the number of a piano in our store, one of the finest upright pianos that has ever been offered for sale. It is a Kimball, in fanciest selected, beautifully dappled English oak case—its tone is superb, its action delightful—we would like to have you see it and test it, and find fault with it, if you can. Right here in town is an old-fashioned looking Kimball that has been used for a great many years and is in daily use today. It is number 87. More than sixty-seven thousand Kimball pianos have been made and sold since this little old Kimball was made, and still number 87 is a fine piano, in point of tone and action. One of the most essential features of a Kimball piano is its great durability. We sell Kimball pianos—vast numbers of them—prices are right.

EXAMINED OTHER BALLOTS.—In the Schmeier-Holbrook election contest, O. F. Paxton, attorney for Holbrook, and three experts on writing, examined the ballots in precinct 42. The experts were City Auditor Devlin, and Professors Henderson and Pugh, of Holmes' Business College, J. A. Wesco, expert on handwriting, Schmeier, and Mr. Easton, counsel for Schmeier, were also present. Holbrook's experts put aside a number of ballots cast for Schmeier for the purpose of showing that it is common for a voter to make various styles of crosses on his ballot. They also looked over certain ballots cast for Holbrook, which Mr. Wesco, expert for Schmeier, has questioned. The ballots will be submitted to Judge Frasier Wednesday, and the case will then be finally disposed of.

MOTIVE NO DOUBT MISSTATED.—A citizen, who is the possessor of a fine Angora cat, says it acts as a member of the Humane Society. As there are several canary birds about his house the cat has learned that birds are not to be molested, and accordingly a day or two ago, when it saw a little dog chasing sparrows on the dog tooth and toe-nail, and drove it away. This sounds well, but it is probable that there may be a mistake as to the motives which animated the cat when it attacked the dog. The chances are that it would not be healthy for the canary birds, if they were placed where the cat could conveniently catch them.

RACED WITH A WHALE.—The steamer Potter, on her way from Ilwaco to Astoria Wednesday afternoon, found a whale ahead of her in the narrow channel abreast of Sand Island. The big fish had run for it to keep out of the way of the steamer, and at one time was only about 40 feet ahead of her, giving the excited passengers a fine view of the marine monster, whose back was well out of the water. When the wide channel opened the whale was seen to be out to one side, glad to give up the race. A whale has never been seen so far up the river before.

MORE ATTACHMENTS.—Three additional attachments suits were filed yesterday against the Central Navigation & Construction Company, which means that there are now five plasters on the steamboat of the company under course of condemnation at the foot of Mill street. The total amount of the claims is over $500. Charles Guild has sued to recover $113 for goods sold. A Neppach has sued as assignee for the Nicola Bros. Company, which has a claim of $607, and for Brox Glass Company, which has a claim for $10. E. B. Treman has begun suit to recover $70.

PAINTERS' UNION GROWING.—All the men employed by Henry Berger, the contractor, painter and wall-paper dealer, decided to join the local Painters' Union in a body. Since the organization of the union about two years ago, this shop represents the largest number of men of whom have worked for Mr. Berger for 12 years, finally decided to affiliate with the union, and hope to maintain the good reputation of the shop.

REPAIRING CITY HALL ROOF.—The work of repairing several leaks in the roof of the City Hall has been commenced. The tar and gravel will be removed, and the tin underneath repaired wherever necessary. The roof of the port cochere on the west side is being repaired first, but the worst leak is in the roof of the apse, over the Council chamber.

REMOVED TO SIXTH STREET.—Chemical Engine Company, No. 1, will remove, bag and baggage, to the quarters provided for them in the Street Fair, on Monday. They will be able to extinguish any fire likely to break out in the fair, and when they have nothing else to do, they can appear as a part of the show.

TO BE FINISHED TODAY.—The connection between the water mains and the Thompson fountain will be completed today, and the water will be running into the drinking troughs the first of next week. The troughs, however, cannot be utilized until the street around the fountain is paved.

WARRANT.—R. C. B. Schwartz, arrested for acting as pilot on Ilwaco bar without a license, yesterday filed bonds in the sum of $200 for his appearance in the United States Court, and was released. The penalty for his offense, if proven, is only $100.

CHARGED WITH SEDUCTION.—E. P. McCroskey, of the Canadian Employment Office, was given a preliminary hearing yesterday in Justice Erasmus' court, on the charge of seduction. After hearing the evidence and arguments, the Justice took the case under advisement until Saturday. The complaining witness, Ethel Hendricks, was corroborated by two witnesses in her statements. Against the defendant produced a number of women, who swore that her character was bad.
