DESPERATE EFFORTS Chinese Sparing Nothing to Get the Allies Out of Peking. WHY THE TELEGRAPHS WERE CUT Fear the Ministers Would Reveal the Full Extent of the Duplicity of the Government.

LONDON, Sept. 5. (AP) A. M.—Today's dispatches from Shanghai and Tien Tsin refer to the hopeless confusion and mismanagement of the Chinese telegraph system, which may probably account in part for the delay in getting news from Peking.

It is asserted that Earl Li has promised Russia three Manchurian provinces if she secures the withdrawal of the allied forces from Peking and favorable peace terms from the powers.

The Moscow correspondent of the Standard, referring to the horrible accounts of Russian brutality at Blagoveshchensk after the bombardment, says: "It is rumored that the Cossacks mercilessly butchered men, women and children in the villages on the Amur River and flung their corpses into the stream."

"This order reads like a free warrant for the massacre of any Chinese whom the Cossacks may provoke into a quarrel or prove to be in possession of arms."

"An Imperial edict, dated August 13, while en route for Tientsin, addressed to Li Hung Chang in the Emperor's name, explains that in view of the dangers of a foreign assault on Peking, the Emperor felt it his duty to comply with the wishes of the Empress and to accompany her westward, after instructing Yung Lu, Hsu Tung and Tsung Shi to remain in the capital and to carry on the government."

"The Russian forces in Manchuria are now moving on Kiran, an important strategic position, where there is a large arsenal, which has been captured and will occupy Moukden."

"Six months' rations for the British force," says the Tien Tsin correspondent of the Standard, writing August 27, "are being forwarded to Peking. Newspaper correspondents are seriously handicapped by the bad arrangements of the Chinese telegraph. Messages have been tampered with, and nothing in any way unusual is being sent to Shanghai. A good deal of curiosity is felt here regarding the fate of the mail bag containing official and press dispatches describing the entry into Peking, which was sent by an Admiral's steamer in a Russian gunboat, and is reported not to have been received there."

"The proceedings of the Russians in and around Peking are watched with some anxiety. The situation threatens to develop many complications. It is said that the Russians intend to take Shan Hai Kwan. They have assumed complete possession of the Hai Kwan arsenal at Tien Tsin, allowing admission to no one but Russians. The arsenal still contains thousands of pounds' worth of guns and ammunition. The Russians are charged with cutting the wire between this point and Peking and with committing other petty annoyances."

"Regarding the evacuation of Peking, says the correspondent of the Times at Tokio, the Japanese Government will pursue the course approved by a majority of the powers. The Empress Dowager's anti-foreign frenzy is gone, according to a special dispatch from Shanghai, was due to the presentation to her by Prince Tuan of an ultimatum, which is now known to have been forged, in which the powers demanded her abdication for the Emperor Kwang Hui, the removal of the seat of government from Peking, the placing of Chinese finances under European control, and other sweeping concessions."

"ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 4.—The following dispatch has been received at the War Office from General Linvitch: 'Peking, Aug. 21.—The railroad and Yang Tsin to Peking is totally wrecked. Material has been ordered from Shanghai to reconstruct it. A bridge is being built at Yang Tsin. Roadbed gangs are working at both ends of the wreck of the road.'

"The continued prosperity of the country and of the individual citizen is the paramount issue before the people. Why vote for a change which, tested by experience, is bound to be for the worst? The country was never so prosperous as it has been since the inauguration of William McKinley; capital has never been so actively occupied; the volume of money in circulation was never so great; labor
