CHANGED BY THE LIBRARY—There has been a host of visitors at the Portland Library since the Carnival commenced. Some were brought in by friends, many were attracted by the art exhibits, admission to which is free during the fair, and not a few were lovers of books who called just because they wanted to see the library. One of the disadvantages of life in the country is the lack of a city is the difficulty and expense of procuring reading matter. Many who love reading cannot afford to buy books, and so go hungry and thirsty for information. Such people visiting the library were lost in wonder and amazement as they viewed the well-filled bookshelves and cast wistful, longing looks at books they had long desired to read, but never been able to secure. It is hardly practicable for people in the country to subscribe to a library here and have the books sent and return them by mail, on account of the expense. There have at different times, however, been a number of persons at Vancouver, Astoria and the forts at the mouth of the river who have subscribed to the library and have been able to secure books in some countries this sort of thing is done extensively by parcels post.

OREGON HISTORICAL SOCIETY—Nearly 20 visitors called at the rooms of the Oregon Historical Society in the City Hall, yesterday. Among these, 20 towns in Oregon outside of Portland were represented, besides the States of Washington, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, California, Florida, Michigan, British Columbia, New York and Massachusetts. Many articles of rare historic value have been gathered together in the society's rooms, and Eastern visitors speak with the collection, which has been gathered in a year and a half. Taken in connection with the City Museum and the Oregon Forestry exhibit, one may easily and profitably spend half a day on the third and fourth floors of the City Hall. The Historical Society's rooms, top floor, City Hall, northwest corner, will be open to-day and the rest of the week from 9 to 12 A. M., 1 to 5 P. M. and 7 to 9 P. M. Admission free. All visitors cordially invited to visit these rooms and are kindly requested to register their names and pay attention to the notices on the wall.

BULLETIN PUBLICATION RESUMED—The Portland Library Association has resumed publication of the Library Bulletin, which was discontinued in May, 1898. Its place has been in some degree filled by a partial list of the books added to the library, which has been published monthly or semi-monthly. The object of the Bulletin is to furnish the reading public with all necessary information in regard to the library. The Bulletin will be published monthly, and a complete list of the books received each month will be given. Reading lists on popular topics of the day will be given. For instance, the reading list for September is made up of books on China, and the titles of over 50 volumes on the history, religion, literature of China and accounts of travel in that country are given. Members are invited to suggest books to be purchased for the library, and a reference to a favorable review of the work will increase the chance of its approval by the library committee.

DIED FROM HIS INJURIES—John Long, a resident of Bonner's Ferry, Idaho, died at St. Vincent's Hospital yesterday, following from injuries caused by a falling tree while he was working in the timber at his home in Idaho. Both legs were crushed, causing paralysis of the body from the waist down. The accident occurred in January, and in June of this year he was brought to Portland and placed in the Good Samaritan Hospital. At the time of the accident, he was a laborer in the employ of the Portland & Astoria Electric Co. He was attended by his mother, Mrs. D. Long, of Bonner's Ferry, who is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Mary Hall, at South Portland. The funeral will be held at Holman's undertaking parlors at 3 P. M. today, after which the remains will be shipped to Idaho for burial.

CANON IN TIME—On O. R. & N. On Wednesday, September 11, O. R. & N. will make a few changes in the arrival and departure of the trains. No. 2, the "Chicago-Portland Special," will leave Portland at 9 A. M. and arrive at Chicago at 4:30 P. M. The arrival and departure of the trains will be as follows: No. 2, "Chicago-Portland Special," for Omaha, Chicago and all points East via Huntington, will leave at 9 A. M. No. 4, "St. Paul Fast Mail," for Lewiston, Spokane, St. Paul and Chicago via Spokane and the Great Northern, will leave Portland at 6 P. M. and arrive at St. Paul at 6 P. M. and Chicago at 7 A. M. No. 6, the "Atlantic Express," for all points East via Huntington, will leave at 9 P. M. and arrive at 8:40 A. M.

DOG LICENSES—The City Treasurer has already taken in $200 in licenses for 30 female dogs, and licenses have been issued for 68 male dogs. There are thousands of canines in the city, but how many of them will be supplied with the tag necessary to give them a right to remain on the earth remains to be seen. The only licenses being collected now are the dog licenses, and the vehicle license, which become due on September 1. Most people pay for the remaining four months of the year, and are given tags for their vehicles. Those who prefer to pay for the month of September alone are given tags for the next quarter's license they will receive tags.

HOW ADVERTISING PAYS—On Thursday last a lady who visits the city on an extensive tour of opera glasses. She advertised the loss in a modest way in the "want" columns of The Oregonian on Monday of this week. Yesterday a letter reached this office from a business man in Oregon City, who found the glasses, and who was anxious to return them to the rightful owner. There is no paper in the United States which covers as wide a field and covers it so well as The Oregonian. The paper covers the most prosperous parts of the Pacific Northwest States.

WHISKY GALLOP—Yesterday a car rolled into the depot that attracted unusual attention. It was covered with banners that informed inquisitive people that the contents consisted of 70 cases of Shaw's Pure Malt, consigned to Blumauer & Hoch, of this city. A straight carload of whisky consigned to one firm is rather unusual, and attracted the people in every town between Louisville, Ky., and Portland. The growing popularity of Shaw's Pure Malt is best attested by such large shipments.

PRIZE CHAMPIONSHIP—The Oregonian is in receipt of a basket of cranberries grown on the ranch of C. E. Getty, at South Slough, Coos Bay. They are nearly as large as Royal Anne cherries, and of rich, dark-red color. They took first prize at the fair of the Oregon Agricultural Society, recently held at Marshfield, Coos County, and no one who saw the beauties would question that they merited the distinction.

SALVATION ARMY—Colonel C. S. S. of New York City, who has the oversight of the Scandinavian, German, Italian and Chinese branches of the Salvation Army in the United States, will speak at Columbia Hall, 128 First street, tonight. Colonel speaks several languages fluently.

BOHEMIAN PROPERTY SOLD—Goldsmith & Co. have negotiated the sale of the Bohemian Hotel property, on Third street, to George Myers. The purchase price was $25,000.

DENTAL WORK FREE at the Dental College, corner Fifteenth and Couch streets, except a small fee to cover cost of material.

CAN WHISTLE NOW—Sportsmen are impatiently waiting the opening of the season for shooting upland birds, and in the meantime waiting all sorts of epithets on those who fixed the date so late as October 1. Said a hard shooter yesterday: "There is no excuse for fixing the opening at such a late date. The young birds are now about as big as the old ones, and while sportsmen cannot go out to shoot them, pot-hunters all over the country are getting away with many birds and making the others wild." There will be no more duck shooting worth mentioning till Wintery weather brings down the great flock from the north. There were a lot of young wood ducks, but the boys went out in force on the first day of the season and practically annihilated them, and now they can whistle "Ballyhooley" till October 1.

ALFRED BORDEN STARTS A PAPER—The Oregonian is in receipt of a copy of the Examiner, lately launched upon the journalistic sea of Omaha by Alfred Borden, a well-known newspaper man, formerly of Portland. It is a neat 2-page, four-column publication, which will be issued every Saturday morning. According to the announcement on the first page, its mission is to reflect in fact and fiction, song and story, the lights and shadows of Omaha and the great Middle West. It bears the stamp of the energy and individuality characteristic of its promoter, and touches upon the topics of the day, upon literature and the drama, and the municipal and social affairs of Omaha in a snappy and vigorous manner.

HIGH-SCHOOL TEACHER RESIGNS—Edward M. Hulme has resigned his position as teacher of English and history in the Portland High School, and will leave for Harvard University next week. There he expects to study for the Ph.D. degree, specializing in industrial history and economics. During the past year Mr. Hulme has been very successful in his classes in argumentation, his students having twice defeated the freshmen debating team of the State University, and once the representatives of the Portland University. Interest in debate has been aroused among the High-School alumni, and this year they will offer a prize medal for excellence in public debate.

BACK FROM NEW YORK—H. B. Litt is back from a six weeks' trip to New York. He has brought back with him one of the largest and best-assorted stocks of closed and ready-made goods ever shown in Portland. Mr. Litt reports a lot of hot weather in the East, weather so hot that it is impossible for the denizens of that section to wear anything but discomfort during the sweltering season. Mr. Litt predicts a walk-over for McKinley in the Fall election, and he says that he is prepared to back up his prediction with the success of his business in the present campaign.

REFORM NEEDED AT CREMATORY—Messrs. W. A. Brown, of the Board of Public Works, yesterday made an inspection of the garbage crematory. They found it working quite satisfactorily, but some improvements will be made there. For instance, some arrangement will be provided for draining the moisture out of the garbage after it is dumped at the crematory. Some of the gas is used for heating water, and there is great waste of fuel in burning it in this condition. Several other improvements will be made also.

RUBBING CUSTOMS BUSINESS—Customs officials and brokers have been kept busy all day on account of the import of various kinds and from various places arriving here by ships and steamers and trans-shipped by rail. No less than 60 entries were made during the past week, on which the duties ran all the way from $25.00, on a lot of grain sacks, down to a few dollars. The Appraiser of Customs place has been crowded with all sorts of goods, and his inspectors have been kept busy.

LEFT FOR KANSAS CITY—A. Beaton, the elderly Scotchman who wandered away from his home at 500 Market-street drive Saturday, causing considerable consternation among his relatives by his sudden and inexplicable disappearance, has been heard from. Chief of Police McLaughlin has learned that Beaton left Portland Saturday night en route for Kansas City, where he formerly lived, and where he is said to have large property interests. No reason is assigned for his departure.

MORE THAN $1200—The amount credited to the Good Samaritan Hospital account from the proceeds of the Fair Monday evening is $1200.50. The peanut stand, which turned in over $1000, was operated by Miss Carrie Long, the daughter of the Carnival King, and the success of the "bear show," which netted $1, is due to the clever performance of the bear, Clarence Keen, and the "spelling" of Dr. Harry McKay, Dr. E. D. Johnson, Dave Lewis and Fred M. Gilmore.

WAS PROMOTED 10 YEARS AGO—Has any reader of The Oregonian a copy of the Arena for October, 1890, or thereabouts? A correspondent is certain that about that time the Arena contained an article from an eminent German scientist, in which he predicted the tidal wave which nearly destroyed the City of Galveston, giving the date upon which it would occur. In the light of subsequent events, it would make very interesting reading.

RECEPTION—Last evening there was a large reception at the residence of Dr. Alexander Blackburn, pastor of the First Baptist Church, to the members of the church and friends. At the reception were Dr. Blackburn's son, at the Annapolis Naval Academy; John H. Blackburn, and Dr. Blackburn's nephew, C. B. Andrew, of La Porte, Ind. A large number of people were present, and the evening was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

FUNERAL OF MRS. MACKENZIE—W. R. Mackenzie returned from Omaha yesterday morning with the remains of his wife, accompanied by E. S. Cochran, of Omaha, and A. E. Hutchinson, of Salt Lake City, relatives of Mrs. Mackenzie. The funeral will take place from the First Presbyterian Church today at 2 o'clock P. M. Friends desiring to be present at the cemetery can take the 3:25 train from Jefferson street.

FUNERAL OF OTTO GREENHOOD—Arrangements were made yesterday morning for the funeral of Otto Greenwood by C. M. Idlesman and N. W. Rountree. The services will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the chapel of J. P. Finley & Son. The pall-bearers will be N. W. Rountree, Bert Rising, Fred Bay, Captain R. S. Greenleaf, H. W. McKenney and C. M. Idlesman.

RAY AWAY TO CALIFORNIA—A press dispatch from Oakland, Cal., last night says: "Ten years' old Leo Frederick Murphy beat his way from Portland, Or., to witness the Admission day celebration. He left home three weeks ago, and arrived in time to see everything, including the parade. He then came to Oakland, fell into the hands of the police and is now held as a runaway."

EXHIBIT INVITED—Invitations to the Rex Carnival ball mask in the Armory Saturday evening are now ready for delivery, and can be had by the members of the B. P. O. E. for themselves and friends, by sending to the committee at Carnival headquarters, 111 Sixth street.

Mrs. JOHNSON, of Seattle, who is now teaching in Mrs. Sue Parrott's studio in the G. A. R. building, has on exhibition in Alex. Bernstein's art store a rare collection of china that undoubtedly surpasses artistically any previous display ever made in our city.

NO FIRE—A still alarm, turned in from the Northern Pacific mill at 8:30 last evening, called out the fire department, but no fire was found.

SECOND-HAND LUMBER for sale. See advertisement for bids on lumber in Street & Fence under "Special Notices," page 8.

THE RENOWNED MOET & CHANDEN Champagne White Seal and Brut Imperial. Blumauer & Hoch, distributors.

STAMEN FOOTBALL GAZETTE—Astoria daily excursion boat Alder street, 7 A. M., except Sunday.

DR. DARRIN RETURNS—Dr. S. I. Darrin and wife are at the Portland, after an eight months' visit to the principal centers of interest in the Old World. Dr. Darrin with his wife left Portland early in January last. From here he went to New York, where he took the steamer for Holland. While abroad, he visited Holland, Germany, Austria, Italy and the Swiss alps. He saw the Passion play at Oberammergau, and he returned to his mother country with the feeling that he had seen enough of the spectacular offerings of the Old World to last him a lifetime. Dr. Darrin has traveled extensively, and he has been a man of large affairs in a business way. He at one time owned a seat in New York's stock exchange, and he was known in the metropolis as one of the most daring operators in Wall street. He says that he is now done with the East for good, and that he has come to Oregon with the view of making this state his permanent home. It is his intention to locate permanently here in the immediate future.

MOER OF IR REMOVED—Reports received by Captain Harris, United States Engineer, in regard to the progress made in blasting the pinnacle rock near the entrance to Yaquina Bay are very satisfactory. Seven feet over the whole area the rock has been removed, and this gives a depth of 13 feet at mean low water. It is intended to remove another foot of the rock, in order to secure a depth of 14 feet over it at low water. The rock is down to this now in many places, and when the debris is removed it is not likely that there will be very much more blasting to be done. About four tons of nitro-gelatin has been used in the work. Charges of 50 pounds are used, the explosive being placed in sacks and weighted down with sand. The explosions have killed large numbers of fish, and have formed an interesting spectacle for late-stayers at the coast.

CITY FUEL UNDER CONTRACT—The purchasing committee of the Board of Public Works has recommended that the city's winter supply of fuel be purchased in advance under contract, and that proposals for furnishing the same be advertised for at once. The amount of fuel required will be about as follows: For the garbage crematory 555 tons of saw-wood, 40 cords for the City Park, 16 cords for the city barn and 280 loads of saw-dust for the City Hall. The plan of buying the fuel in advance and taking orders for supplying it in line with the general policy of the board, its idea being to do business for the city as they would for themselves. Formerly the job of furnishing such supplies was given to some friend of somebody, who often made a good thing out of it.

INCORPORATION—Articles of incorporation of the Royal Group Mining & Milling Co. were filed in the County Clerk's office yesterday. The incorporators are W. A. Alcorn, S. Chase and Valentine Brown; capital stock, $10,000.

LAST LUNCH TODAY.

Red Cross Women Will Close Their Tent.

Today will be the last chance for a lunch at the Red Cross tent. After serving their noon lunch the work will be suspended. Charges of 50 pounds are used, the explosive being placed in sacks and weighted down with sand. The women of the Corps will be glad to see their friends today, and will serve them lunch, and have a good time. The specialty, delicious home-made hash, will be on the bill of fare. The stock of home-made candies will also be closed out.

A SNAPPY PERFORMANCE.

The bill presented at the Fredericksburg this week is one of the best that has ever been presented by the energetic managers, Messrs. Brown & Grant. The caterpillar of the management has been largely by far, and enthusiastic audiences, who are not slow in showing appreciation of the many clever specialties. Aro, Bell and Aro are prime favorites, and the turn has been equaled in the West. Trixida, a fascinating singer and graceful dancer, is already a great favorite, and the audience is loath to let her leave the stage. Martin and Riggs, a comedy duo from Australia, present a clever sketch, and while these people are on the stage there is not a dull moment. Cammetta, a very graceful serpentine dancer, assisted by an excellent arrangement of lights, presents some of the most effective, while Miss Mae Leonado always delights the audience with her clever performance. The same bill every evening this week.

A. J. Knott Seriously Ill.

A. J. Knott, a well-known pioneer resident of this city, is very seriously ill at his home on East Washington and East Eighth streets with influenza and the bowels. He was taken ill Sunday. Monday a consultation was held over the matter of performing a surgical operation. Yesterday there was some improvement in his condition.

A PIANO EXHIBITION

Inaugurated by Eilers Piano House, at 351 Washington Street.

Don't Fail to Attend This Display, Which Represents a Small Fortune in Fine Pianos—Some Special Features—The Wonderful Angelus Piano-Player.

Recent heavy shipments of specially fancy-cased Kimball and Weber and Chickering pianos enable us to exhibit today a full line of strictly high-grade artistic instruments in specially selected cases of exclusive design. This collection includes the very choicest creations of the three leading American piano-makers, and you will find here tomorrow morning the very finest and costliest Weber and Chickering and Kimball pianos ever offered for sale in the West. We wish to call the special attention of connoisseurs and piano critics to the new styles made by Weber. The elder Weber was a genius in the realm of tone production, and it has often been said that the tone quality which Stradivarius bestowed upon the violin Weber imparted to his piano-forte. The high standard of excellence established in the early days has been strictly maintained by his successors, and they have perpetuated the wonderful tone qualities and the marvelous wearing qualities for which the Weber piano has so long been distinguished. New and small Chickering uprights, varieties of beautiful and expensive woods are now shown in our waterroom—not simply one or two pianos, but dozens of them—each with its own individuality of tone and style. And a few words about the Chickering—the grand noble and survived Chickering, that has stood the supreme test of more than three-quarters of a century, during which time it has been the most unequalled and unqualified honors for superior excellence from all parts of the civilized world. Incidents that proclaim the marvelous value of the Chickering piano—the oldest in America, the best in the world of its kind.

We have here now the most exquisite productions of this time-honored factory—the grand noble and survived Chickering, that has stood the supreme test of more than three-quarters of a century, during which time it has been the most unequalled and unqualified honors for superior excellence from all parts of the civilized world. Incidents that proclaim the marvelous value of the Chickering piano—the oldest in America, the best in the world of its kind.

In Kimball pianos we can show a complete assortment, having yesterday received a consignment of the most superior instruments. The Kimball factories are very much behind their orders. They will not get their pianos to be unduly hurried—everything must be carefully tested and tried before shipment, and we have dealers of the country who handle the Kimball pianos, but we have been assured that they will be coming regularly hereafter. But the several styles of the Kimball now here are beauties in case, design and finish. Another style is an exact reproduction of the Kimball as exhibited at the Omaha exposition, where it carried off the gold medal in competition with many leading makes. We have this design in beautifully dappled English walnut, or in the famous San Domingo mahogany—any—they are beautiful.

In addition to these, we have the wonderful grand piano of two or three leading makers, which imitates a dozen different instruments perfectly, and the Angelus Orchestra, a beautiful little instrument, that can be rolled in front of any piano and which automatically plays the choicest music with the most perfect expression, and correctly as to tempo, playing as well—yes, even better—than the most accomplished pianist could.

Don't fail to see and hear it. Eilers Piano House, Portland's high-grade piano store, entrance at 351 Washington, near Eighth street.

A Direct Talk About Boys' School Suits

With Mothers

THE TALK

We have studied the boys' school suit question from your point of view. We have taken a great many mothers into our confidence (perhaps you were one), and have asked them what were the features most desirable in a boy's school suit.

The gist of their opinions is, good wearing material, in colors that won't soil quickly, seams that can't rip, buttons that can't come off, buttonholes that won't tear out, double-seated trousers, double knees and elbows.

THE SUITS

We have a boy's school suit containing every one of the above features. We offer you a perfect suit. The material used is an all-wool cheviot that we guarantee for its good wearing qualities. Brown and gray mixtures are the colorings, in sizes up to 16 years.

We Can Fit the Stout Boy and the Slim One

We invite EVERY MOTHER to come and see these suits they will more than fulfill your expectations, and once you have one it will never trouble you, and we offer so much boy's school suit goodness for
