

General Movement Under Way in Portland.

ALL WILL JOIN HANDS IN CHARITY. Every Bank Will Be Asked to Receive Subscriptions—There Will Be No Soliciting.

Mayor Rowe, His Grace Archbishop Christie, and President Taylor, of the Chamber of Commerce, have joined hands to make a relief fund for the Texas sufferers. That Portland should do something is conceded by all, and the very timely announcement by Archbishop Christie that he would receive subscriptions...

To facilitate contributions, the archbishop and President Taylor will visit all the banks this morning and arrange to have them receive money intended for the fund. This will be turned over to a treasurer indicated by the archbishop, the Mayor and President Taylor yesterday.

On every hand is heard the expression that Portland should act. Now that the movement has been organized, the people are expected to come forward quickly. As usual, some have been disposed to complain that the officials are slow in starting. Be that as it may, the only source of complaint that will remain now is in the promptness and generosity of responses to the call.

To facilitate contributions, the archbishop and President Taylor will visit all the banks this morning and arrange to have them receive money intended for the fund. This will be turned over to a treasurer indicated by the archbishop, the Mayor and President Taylor yesterday.

Meeting at Y. M. C. A. Rooms. A meeting of all the ministers of Portland and vicinity is called for 10 o'clock this morning at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, to take action with regard to relieving the distress at Galveston and neighboring cities.

ROLLINS' ART EXHIBIT.

Last Time His Pictures May Be Seen for Some Years.

W. E. Rollins opened his exhibit of pictures in the Y. M. C. A. parlors yesterday afternoon, and although it has been opened but one day it has already attracted considerable comment among art lovers. There are three rooms covered from floor to ceiling with studies and finished pictures in oil, watercolor and black and white (charcoal, crayon and pencil). Most of the subjects are marine and landscape sketches, glimpses of forest coverts, to Mr. Rollins is an ardent enthusiast over Oregon and Washington scenery.

His black and white studies are really very remarkable for the brush-like effect that he obtains. This recently attracted much attention in Boston, whither he sent some specimens of his pencil work not long ago, and flattering comparisons were made by connoisseurs between his work and that of leading American artists. His pictures were shown there by side with the work of the artist. This will be the last opportunity the public will have to enjoy his work, since he intends leaving for the East immediately after the closing of this exhibit, to spend two or three years in the art studios of New York City.

LAI'D TO REST.

Otto Greenwood's Body Rests in Greenwood Cemetery.

In the cemetery which he gloriously described as a fit resting place for the dead, Otto Greenwood was buried yesterday afternoon. He was employed on the Evening Telegram when Greenwood Cemetery was laid out. In his capacity of reporter, he visited the new grounds and wrote an interesting article on the significance of the spot and beauty of the environment. It is to be regretted that Mr. Finley, who had been deputed to the letter to perform this work, thought Greenwood was the proper place, as the deceased had introduced it to the public.

The funeral services were held in the chapel of J. P. Finley & Son, Dr. A. A. Morrison officiating. A large number of friends had gathered there, among the number being several of his companions in newspaper work. Floral contributions were numerous. A large piece from the employees of The Evening Telegram was especially beautiful. Greenwood had requested a young woman friend of his to see that on the lapel of his coat was pinned the usual red and white carnations which he always wore in life. This ceremony was completed at the chapel. Only a few of the more intimate friends accompanied the body to the cemetery, where it was buried without additional rites.

RICH MINE BONDED.

Option on the Mountain Lion Given to Canadian Capitalists.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Mountain Lion mine, in this city yesterday, it was announced that the property had been bonded to E. A. Palmer, of Spokane, for a period of 90 days.

The Mountain Lion mine is located at Republic, Wash., and has come to the front lately as one of the most valuable properties in that region. It was bought three years ago by Jonathan Bourne, of this city, "for a song," as mining men say, and the extensive developments since that time disclose ore enough to last a 25-stamp mill for 10 years. From $100 to $200 worth of bullion a day has been shipped to Portland from the mine for several months, and this output will be further increased by the addition of five stamps now being put in position. Present operations are being conducted on the 48-foot level, a drift being run in both directions from the bottom of the main shaft, where a body of milling ore from 18 to 30 feet in thickness is being stopped.

Since Mr. Bourne became interested, stock has been purchased by Portland men, and he now owns merely a controlling interest, but as the value of his 1,500 shares is $1,500,000, a controlling interest is considerable. There are four quartz claims included with the property, and six timber claims, while the buildings, forming quite a settlement, are of a substantial character, an electric hoist and cyanide plant being two of the appliances of the mill.

The bonding of this large property to Mr. Palmer marks an era in the transition of the Republic mine from American to Canadian hands, as the McLaren brothers, wealthy mining men of Ottawa, are behind Mr. Palmer in the deal. Canadian capital has already bought the Republic, the Jim Blaine, the Black Tail and San Poll. American prospectors have discovered these properties and American enterprise has afterwards developed them, and placed them on a paying basis, and then Canadian capitalists, too conservative to risk money in development, have purchased the mines at big figures.

Should this deal go through, the bullion of the Mountain Lion mine, instead of being shipped to Portland, will find its way thereafter to Ottawa.

EARLY MORNING TENNIS.

First Match Yesterday Played at Sunrise—Women Play Today.

At 6 o'clock in the morning, as the sun was rising in all its glory over the Cascade Mountains, L. B. Wickersham and Lester went down in defeat before Brandt Wickersham and Jordan Zan, 6-3, 7-5, at tennis, on Multnomah field. The winning team is a newly formed one, and every one expected Lester and Wickersham, who have been playing together all season, to win out easily, despite the handicap of 2-6 of 15 against them. The unusual hour and the dew-soaked balls, combined with an unexpected display of strength on the part of their opponents, were too much for the losers, and they played as though tennis was a new and strange game, which they were attempting for the first time. Brandt Wickersham, with regular practice, would make one of the best players in the city.

In the afternoon, B. Wickersham and Zan, receiving 5-6 of 15, met Goss and Lewis and played them very close, but the latter, notwithstanding the heavy handicap against them of one 15-4, won out in straight sets, 6-4, 6-4.

Several interesting single matches were also played. In the seventh class, Dr. Mackay beat Foster, 6-3. Leonard, by defeating Miles, 5-7, 6-4, became the winner of the sixth class. Lumpkin defeated Oliphant in straight sets, 6-1, 6-1. This places him in the semi-finals of the fifth class when he meets Thielson. Oliphant has been compelled to default to Lewis, in the second class.

This morning the women play again. At 8:30, Mrs. Baldwin (scratch) meets Miss Sanders, receiving 15-4, and at 10:30, Miss Goss, receiving 15-4, plays Miss Joseph, receiving 3-6.

IT WAS SHRINERS' NIGHT

THEY AND THEIR FRIENDS FILLED THE STREET FAIR.

Baby Show in the Afternoon Attracted an Immense Crowd—Elks' Masked Carnival Tonight.

When the colossal caravan of Shriners arrived last night, direct from their tented homes on the glittering sands of the desert, and laid siege boldly and defiantly to the main citadel of the Carnival grounds, the hearts of its defenders weakened at the sight of the gleaming scimitars and they hastily drew up the portcullis, lowered the drawbridge and allowed the besiegers to march in triumph through the length of the grounds without the loss of a single man.

Long before their approach, the press into the Women's Building until it was a solid mass of humanity. There were babies of all descriptions, lean and fat, big and little, but they were all pretty, and very few lost their sense of decorum and cried. The contestants were all under 2 years of age, and a finer, lovelier collection of babies would be difficult to find.

Mrs. D. Sells Cohen, Mrs. G. L. Hutchins, Mrs. Blackhall, W. T. Gardner and Sam Scott acted as judges, and did the best they could to arrive at a correct and impartial decision in each case. The crowd and confusion increased the difficulty of their labor; and by the time they finished the awards they were nearly exhausted. The prizes provided by the management were exceptionally valuable, and were well worth the keen competition.

Mrs. H. W. Little's 7-months-old baby received first prize for the handsome silver, a silver perfume bottle valued at $4, upon which the name of the winner is to be engraved, and also a shell bracelet, which is to be made to order at the shell booth in the Women's Building. No. 58 in the contest was awarded the go-cart given as second prize, but the name

ELKS' CARNIVAL TONIGHT.

They Will Parade Tonight, Clad in Fantastic Costumes.

The Elks will hold high carnival on the grounds of the Fair tonight, when hundreds of spectators are expected to be present in fantastic costumes. A great amount of money has been expended in their preparations for this feature, and it is certain to be one of the most enjoyable events of the Carnival. A spirit of fun and jollification will pervade, and every one attending is invited to come en masse and participate in the revel between the hours of 8 and 11 P. M.

In the evening the Portland Lodge of Elks, No. 142, will give an illuminated parade on the streets of Portland, finishing at the Hotel-Portland Friday night, in which will be seen some of the best talent of the Pacific Coast. A luncheon and public reception will be given in honor of the Queen of the Carnival at the Hotel-Portland Friday afternoon, from 2 to 3.

The Fair will close with a grand mask ball at the Armory Saturday night, which will be in honor of the Queen of the Carnival at the Hotel-Portland Friday afternoon, from 2 to 3.

Following close upon their heels were the grand bearers of the emblem of the order and numerous noted athletes and trusted standard-bearers. The remainder of the caravan consisted of a long column of nobles of Al Kader Temple, clad in black suits and bright red faces. Each carried a lantern, which they tinkled beat time to the music of the band, and upon the breast of each was a bit of red ribbon suspending a knot of hemp, symbolic of the short rope which a Shriner holds tight in his hand when he attempts to pass the tax to their customers. The only corporation in the United States that in the beginning exacted the war stamp from the people was Wells-Fargo, and its president, John Valentine, is out there and tommor for Bryan.

Plutocrat Democrats. Corvalla Gazette. Mr. Bryan says the present campaign is a contest between Democracy on the one hand and plutocracy on the other. With such plutocrats as Jones, Croker, Clark of Montana, and a hundred of others of like ilk supporting Mr. Bryan, it looks like that gentleman's party was at war with itself.

IN THE SEVERAL COURTS

BOY SUES FOR $10,000 DAMAGES FOR LOSS OF AN EYE.

Non suit in Mining Case Against G. M. Cartwright, From Whom $85,000 Was Demanded.

William Spreitzer, aged 12 years, by his father, A. Spreitzer, as guardian ad litem, has sued Emmett Neilson, 19 years of age, for $10,000 damages, in the State Circuit Court. Spreitzer's eye was shot out by Neilson on August 12, near the residence of the former, at Savier and Twenty-third streets. Neilson alighted from a horse and wagon, which he was driving on the sidewalk, and, as he was loading with BB buckshot, from a boy standing by, pointed it at Spreitzer and fired. The complaint filed recites that the defendant maliciously and with wanton recklessness and without any just cause discharged the gun at plaintiff, and shot him in the left eye, the sight of which was forever and completely destroyed.

Neilson's father, Thomas J. Neilson, keeps a grocery store at 83 North Sixteenth street, and it will doubtless be contended by plaintiff's legal adviser that the father is liable for any judgment secured against his son.

NO WRITTEN AGREEMENT. Suit for $35,000 Against Charles M. Cartwright, Dismissed. The trial of the $35,000 damage suit of C. W. Kelman against C. M. Cartwright, the well-known stock raiser of Crook County, and ex-State Senator, came to a sudden termination in Judge Frazer's court yesterday afternoon, after a long and being granted an order of voluntary nonsuit.

The controversy concerns a mining transaction. Kelman in his complaint set out that Cartwright had entered into an agreement with Cartwright, whereby it was understood that in consideration of the services rendered by the plaintiff, the defendant agreed to share equally with plaintiff what he should receive from the following mining properties in the Trout Creek section of Crook County: Silver King, Ruby, Bird, Deuce, Dandy, Dude, and Ella mining claims. Kelman says Cartwright obtained an interest in these claims valued at at least $70,000, and that he demanded his share of the same and was refused.

The defense, as outlined by the attorney for the defendant, was that Kelman represented that two men, Brown and Maddox, had an interest in these mines, and Cartwright was to furnish necessary funds to establish his title, and Kelman, as his share, was to receive from Brown and Maddox half of their share. Cartwright employed Frank V. Drake as an attorney to investigate the matter, and Mr. Drake reported that Brown and Maddox had no interest whatever. Subsequently J. G. Edwards and P. J. Queray, mining men of Wyoming, discovered that the real owners were Messrs. Kirby, Hubbard and Knight, and that the mines were acquired, Cartwright furnishing $8,000 as his share, and a company was organized, known as the Oregon King Mining Company, with 200,000 shares, at $1 per share. Cartwright took stock, and Cartwright got 50,000 shares, and afterwards more. It was contended that Kelman had nothing to do with this deal which took place, it being altogether different and independent from the one which he proposed.

Kelman took the witness-stand and proceeded to tell how he met Cartwright and informed him of the properties and the rights of the one, and a silver puff-box, went to the 7-months-old baby of Mrs. Dorothy Dick.

Mrs. Matilda Harris was thought to have the handsomest pair of twins, and each received a white dress pattern. A number of entries were made in the creeping contest, the distance being about 14 feet. The fastest crawler was Mrs. Schumann's baby, aged 18 months, and it received the beautiful Parisian doll direct from the Paris Exposition. Babies remarkable for many qualities were there, but as no prizes had been offered for their particular class, they were compelled to rest satisfied with the praises of the spectators.

The winners can secure the prizes at the headquarters of the Women's Building this afternoon after 1 o'clock.

Summons to Answer. Joseph Delsmar, who has a judgment against I. W. Baird, S. H. Friedlander and J. D. Wilcox, for $500 on a note, yesterday caused Friedlander to be summoned to appear before Judge Sears, to answer regarding his property subject to execution. Bernsten & Cohen, attorneys for Mr. Friedlander, filed objections to the affidavit on which the order requiring their client to appear is based, alleging that the court has no jurisdiction over it, because it is not stated that Mr. Friedlander has any particular property liable to execution. The case has been pending for several years, and Delsmar has been unable to collect any part of his claim. Mr. Friedlander has before been made to testify in a proceeding supplemental to execution concerning his property, and he explained that he was only a surety. The argument on the objection was set for this morning, R. C. Wright appears as attorney on the other side.

Crucial Court. Fay Severa, indicted for the murder of Emma Gaden, was arraigned in the Criminal Court yesterday, and at the request of her attorney, George C. Stout, was allowed until Monday to plead. James Warren, charged with the murder of William Kirk, was arraigned and was also granted until Monday to plead. He was represented by A. B. Clark as attorney.

Divorce Suit. Minerva Isom has sued John Isom, Jr., in the State Circuit Court, for a divorce, and she also asks to be restored to her maiden name, Meredith. The complaint states that they were married at Albany, Or., January 11, 1884, and that the defendant deserted the plaintiff March 30, 1889, and further, that he failed to provide for her. Isom is now in Alaska.

IN THE SEVERAL COURTS

BOY SUES FOR $10,000 DAMAGES FOR LOSS OF AN EYE.

Non suit in Mining Case Against G. M. Cartwright, From Whom $85,000 Was Demanded.

William Spreitzer, aged 12 years, by his father, A. Spreitzer, as guardian ad litem, has sued Emmett Neilson, 19 years of age, for $10,000 damages, in the State Circuit Court. Spreitzer's eye was shot out by Neilson on August 12, near the residence of the former, at Savier and Twenty-third streets. Neilson alighted from a horse and wagon, which he was driving on the sidewalk, and, as he was loading with BB buckshot, from a boy standing by, pointed it at Spreitzer and fired. The complaint filed recites that the defendant maliciously and with wanton recklessness and without any just cause discharged the gun at plaintiff, and shot him in the left eye, the sight of which was forever and completely destroyed.

Neilson's father, Thomas J. Neilson, keeps a grocery store at 83 North Sixteenth street, and it will doubtless be contended by plaintiff's legal adviser that the father is liable for any judgment secured against his son.

NO WRITTEN AGREEMENT. Suit for $35,000 Against Charles M. Cartwright, Dismissed. The trial of the $35,000 damage suit of C. W. Kelman against C. M. Cartwright, the well-known stock raiser of Crook County, and ex-State Senator, came to a sudden termination in Judge Frazer's court yesterday afternoon, after a long and being granted an order of voluntary nonsuit.

The controversy concerns a mining transaction. Kelman in his complaint set out that Cartwright had entered into an agreement with Cartwright, whereby it was understood that in consideration of the services rendered by the plaintiff, the defendant agreed to share equally with plaintiff what he should receive from the following mining properties in the Trout Creek section of Crook County: Silver King, Ruby, Bird, Deuce, Dandy, Dude, and Ella mining claims. Kelman says Cartwright obtained an interest in these claims valued at at least $70,000, and that he demanded his share of the same and was refused.

The defense, as outlined by the attorney for the defendant, was that Kelman represented that two men, Brown and Maddox, had an interest in these mines, and Cartwright was to furnish necessary funds to establish his title, and Kelman, as his share, was to receive from Brown and Maddox half of their share. Cartwright employed Frank V. Drake as an attorney to investigate the matter, and Mr. Drake reported that Brown and Maddox had no interest whatever. Subsequently J. G. Edwards and P. J. Queray, mining men of Wyoming, discovered that the real owners were Messrs. Kirby, Hubbard and Knight, and that the mines were acquired, Cartwright furnishing $8,000 as his share, and a company was organized, known as the Oregon King Mining Company, with 200,000 shares, at $1 per share. Cartwright took stock, and Cartwright got 50,000 shares, and afterwards more. It was contended that Kelman had nothing to do with this deal which took place, it being altogether different and independent from the one which he proposed.

Kelman took the witness-stand and proceeded to tell how he met Cartwright and informed him of the properties and the rights of the one, and a silver puff-box, went to the 7-months-old baby of Mrs. Dorothy Dick.

Mrs. Matilda Harris was thought to have the handsomest pair of twins, and each received a white dress pattern. A number of entries were made in the creeping contest, the distance being about 14 feet. The fastest crawler was Mrs. Schumann's baby, aged 18 months, and it received the beautiful Parisian doll direct from the Paris Exposition. Babies remarkable for many qualities were there, but as no prizes had been offered for their particular class, they were compelled to rest satisfied with the praises of the spectators.

The winners can secure the prizes at the headquarters of the Women's Building this afternoon after 1 o'clock.

Summons to Answer. Joseph Delsmar, who has a judgment against I. W. Baird, S. H. Friedlander and J. D. Wilcox, for $500 on a note, yesterday caused Friedlander to be summoned to appear before Judge Sears, to answer regarding his property subject to execution. Bernsten & Cohen, attorneys for Mr. Friedlander, filed objections to the affidavit on which the order requiring their client to appear is based, alleging that the court has no jurisdiction over it, because it is not stated that Mr. Friedlander has any particular property liable to execution. The case has been pending for several years, and Delsmar has been unable to collect any part of his claim. Mr. Friedlander has before been made to testify in a proceeding supplemental to execution concerning his property, and he explained that he was only a surety. The argument on the objection was set for this morning, R. C. Wright appears as attorney on the other side.

Crucial Court. Fay Severa, indicted for the murder of Emma Gaden, was arraigned in the Criminal Court yesterday, and at the request of her attorney, George C. Stout, was allowed until Monday to plead. James Warren, charged with the murder of William Kirk, was arraigned and was also granted until Monday to plead. He was represented by A. B. Clark as attorney.

Divorce Suit. Minerva Isom has sued John Isom, Jr., in the State Circuit Court, for a divorce, and she also asks to be restored to her maiden name, Meredith. The complaint states that they were married at Albany, Or., January 11, 1884, and that the defendant deserted the plaintiff March 30, 1889, and further, that he failed to provide for her. Isom is now in Alaska.

Political Questions

CAN YOU ANSWER THEM?

Who was the Democratic Candidate for Vice-President in 1897? Name the Candidates on either Ticket. Did McKinley receive the largest popular vote? How were the Electoral Vote distributed? How many Administrations have Passed? What were Platforms of the different Parties? Where were the different Conventions held? Names of all Presidents? When they were Born? When they Died? When they held Office? The Events of each Administration? Would you like to be a Candidate for the Declaration of Independence and its signature? Would you like to be a Member of Congress? Would you like to be a Senator? Would you like to be a Congressman? Would you like to be a Judge? Would you like to be a Lawyer? Would you like to be a Doctor? Would you like to be a Minister? Would you like to be a Priest? Would you like to be a Bishop? Would you like to be a Cardinal? Would you like to be a Pope?

WOULD YOU LIKE TO KNOW

Names of all Cabinet Officers and Date of Appointment? The appearance of each President from Portrait? The Events of each Administration? Would you like to be a Candidate for the Declaration of Independence and its signature? Would you like to be a Member of Congress? Would you like to be a Senator? Would you like to be a Congressman? Would you like to be a Judge? Would you like to be a Lawyer? Would you like to be a Doctor? Would you like to be a Minister? Would you like to be a Priest? Would you like to be a Bishop? Would you like to be a Cardinal? Would you like to be a Pope?

If you talk politics at all, disputes are sure to arise over questions of fact. Be prepared to answer questions by quoting facts and figures correctly by sending for—

History of Political Parties

Answers all of the above and numerous other questions. It contains all you need to know to enable you to talk and think intelligently on past and present happenings in the political fields. Special pages are devoted to a facsimile of "The Declaration of Independence" and pictures of the Presidents. A new map, showing growth of the United States, is one of its most instructive features. Size of book, 11x14 inches. Sent to any address for 25c. This book is not issued by any political party, but deals with things you want to know without regard to how you want to vote. Send orders to land next Monday. No cases have been set down for trial, but probably some motions, etc., will come before the court.

THE OREGONIAN

PORTLAND, OREGON

Cemetery Case Appealed. The City of Portland has appealed to the Supreme Court from the decision of Judge Frazer, that the ordinance prohibiting interment in the eastern part of Lone Fir Cemetery is void.

BOTH MEN CONFIDENT. Pugilists Who Meet Here Tomorrow Night Certain of Winning. The local sporting fraternity are more than worked up over the contest tomorrow evening between Tracy and Thompson. Tracy when seen yesterday, after his work, said: "I never felt better in all my life. I feel the same now as I did when I won the title." Thompson said: "I will retire from the ring, and I will assure you that I want to fight a little longer. I am well pleased with the Portland people I have received the finest kind of treatment, and I will give the people all that is coming to them Friday night."

Attempted Hold-Up on a Bridge. Thugs who were evidently seeking easy game attempted to rob a one-armed man last evening about 8 o'clock on the east approach to the bridge over the river. At the time the stranger was accompanied by a woman companion. She screamed, and the one-armed man resisted so vigorously that the thugs ran. Neither of the latter seemed armed with the terms of the grant. When this new road is built, Mr. Burrows says, it will tap a country rich in timber, farming and stock resources, and will add considerably to the population tributary to Portland.

ARITHMETIC AND FOOD. School Children Must Be Better Fed. A young girl in Newport, Ind., Miss Ethel Thornton, says no one has been able to tell her to speak of Grape-Nuts food than she. "I was in school, but in poor health, until mamma began to give me Grape-Nuts food. I began to improve at once, both mentally and physically, and I proved so in my work at school that I got 100 in arithmetic, and during that time I gained three or four pounds in weight, and am still gaining."

SAVED BY RUBBER SOLES. Portland Man Knocked Down by Electric Current. E. M. Phillips, an employe of the street-cleaning department, was knocked down by an electric shock on the Morrison-street bridge Monday night, and is now laying up for repairs at his home, 2937 Front street. He was in the act of shoveling rubbish into a cart when he stepped on a street-car track and was thrown heavily to the ground and it was several seconds before he regained consciousness. A trolley wire had broken a short distance from where he was working, and, falling across the track, set a powerful current in his direction. He wore rubber soles on his shoes, and to this trifling circumstance he attributes his escape from instant death.

NEW TODAY. Mortgage Loans. On improved city and farm property, at lowest current rates. Building loans, installment loans, Macomber & Merrill, 211 Worcester Bldg.

Foreclosed Properties. At bargain and on easy terms. W. H. FEAR, Chamber of Commerce.

MORTGAGE LOANS. On improved city and farm property. R. LIVINGSTONE, 234 State St.

BRICK FOR SALE. Any one wishing to buy brick will do well to see Cooke Bros., King st. up at 317-319, at our expense.

5%—MORTGAGE LOANS—5%. On approved Portland city real estate. Title Guarantee & Trust Co. Chamber of Commerce.

WHY DON'T YOU Buy a 6-hole Rollins steel range and a high closet? They are the best in the world, and are warranted 15 years. The price is as low as a cheap cook stove—only $27.50. I. Grout, the HomeFurnisher, 173-175 First St. N. W. course Tumbill.