He leaves four brothers and two sisters; Per-Mauzey, of Salem; Wallace Mauzey, Portland; Levy Mauzey, of Marshfield; Edward Mauzey, of Grant's Pass; Mrs. Kitty Gregory, of Walla Walla, and Mrs. Maggle Royal, of Montague, Cal.

Pat Casey, of Marshfield. Pat. Casey, well known in Marshfield, was found dead in his cabin at South Slough last week. The appearance of the remains indicated that death had occurred several days before. Dr. Horsfall, Coroner, was notified, but did not deem an inquest necessary, as everything pointed to the conclusion that death occurred from natural causes. Casey was a native of Ierland, but had lived in the United States for a long time, and was a pen-sioner of the Civil War.

The representation made in behalf of Morris is as follows: "We most respect-fully represent that the amount found by the jury to have been converted in this case amounted to $1565 54, but we believe and are of the opinion that there are grave doubts as to the guilt of the said Morris and that the monon with these Morris, and that the money was taken and converted by some other persons than the said Morris. We would further show that the said Morris has at all time borne a good reputation in the county for honesty and integrity, and believe that your action in granting this application for a pardon would merit the approbation of the general public." This petition contains the names of about 250 residents of Linn County, among whom were five of the nine men who were sureties on Morris' bond. There is also appended to the petition a recom mendation that the pardon be granted, signed by 10 jurymen, who say: "We make this application for the reason that from the evidence in this cause there is some doubt as to the defendant having converted the money, as found by the jury. We would further show that the defendant, Morris, has at all times borne a good reputation in Linn County, and while the evidence shows that the sum of $1565 54 was actually converted, we are of agreement of the parties, without a jury, and a judgment against the defendants for $3731 35 resulted. From this judgment the defendants appealed to the Supreme Court, and the case is now pending in that tribunal.

Statehouse Cannon Kent Bright. The two brass cannon formerly used by Battery A. at Portland, and now sta-by Battery A. at Portland, and now sta-tioned one on either side of the main en-trance to the Capitol, are kept as bright as they were when they protected brigade headquarters at Camp Geer, last July. The Capitol grounds gardener, S. W. Min-turn, gives the cannon a thorough polturn, gives the cannon a thorough pol-ishing every other day during fair weath-er, and every day when there is rain. The cannon make a great improvement to the appearance of the grounds, and their presence is frequently commented on by visitors. The cannon are useless for anything except arnamentation.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE

FOR OCTOBER CONTAINS

The Russia of To-Day

The first of Mr. Henry Norman's notable and timely series of articles is entitled "The Two Capitals," and describes St. Petersburg and Moscow, with an account of a visit to Tolstoy. It would be difficult to overestimate the importance of Mr. Norman's articles on Russia and their value at this time. They are the result of a trip of study and investigation made especially on behalf of SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE. As the author of an important book on the Far East, whose prophecies have been strikingly fulfilled, Mr. Norman stands in the position of proved authority, and accordingly his comments on the present conditions and probable future of Russia and their bearing on the Eastern question have a very special interest and weight. In writing these articles, Mr. Norman makes the closest application of his knowledge to current events, and some of the papers will deal directly with present Eastern conditions. The articles are profusely illustrated from photographs, largely made by the author.

Richard Harding Davis

concludes his articles on the Boer War with an account of the "Fall of Pretoria." Readers of his "Pretoria in War Time," in the August number, will anticipate the peculiar interest of the new article. The fact that Mr. Davis is the only cor-__ respondent of the first rank who has seen both sides of this war gives a very special value to these closing papers which bear their own evidence of impartiality and a perfectly clear exposition of RICHARD HARDING

writes of the "Sherman-Johnston Convention," a matter of which, as Sherman's trusted friend and lieutenant, he had the most intimate knowledge; and in his fine vindication of Sherman from what has been thought even by his strongest admirers to have been a serious mistake in his career, he has made a contribution of the greatest interest to history. This article will be read with the closest attention by those to whom the whole affair of Sherman's separate surrender-negotiations with Johnston has always been something of a puzzle.

Walter A. Wyckoff

in the October number will tell more of "The Arctic Highlanders," accompanying his article with many illustrations made from photographs. Readers will find in it, besides its capital pictures of the Esquimaux and their life, an admirable description of a typical walrus hunt.
