Official Announcement of the Population of the City.

Original Figures Scaled Down-Keen Disappointment to Citizens-Business Men Not Surprised.

SEATTLE'S CENSUS SCALED DOWN. But to What Extent Officials Will Not Disclose.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2-It is well known here that the original census returns of Seattle were scaled down, but to what extent the officials will not disclose. The reduction is, no doubt, the result of the investigation recently conducted by a special agent of the department, in tresponse to Tacoma's persistent reports of systematic "padding."

The census of Seattle, as announced to-day, confirms the prediction of certain census officials that Portland would beat it out, both in actual and relative gain, and it has done so beautifully. Except Los Angeles, Portland still holds and will Los Angeles, Portland still holds and which hold the record of percentage gain of all Pacific Coast cities, for Tacoma is not expected to show up as well as Seattle. The fact that Portland grew in size 94.95 per cent, and Seattle but 88.82, or from 42,837 in 1890 to 80,671 in 2500, will be a source of much humiliation to the Puget Sound city, which, through clever press agents, has been boomed throughout the country, and particularly here in the East, as the one growing city of the Pacific Coast.

Director Merriam has no comment to make on the Seattle returns other than he considers the rate of increase most flattering and far above the average, He attributes this to the increased shipping on Puget Sound and size to the gold rush, the latter perhaps doing more to build up Seattle than anything else. He will make ne communet upon the relative growth of Portland and Seattle, but he leaves the facts to speak for themselves. Other cenon the Scattle returns other than to say the gain had been very gratifying.

DISAPPOINTMENT IS KEEN. Citizens Had Counted on 93,000-Re-

count Had Little Effect. SEATTLE, Oct. 2.-Seattle's census figures, showing the city's population to be 80,671, which were given out by the Cen-sus Bureau at Washington City today. are a keen disappointment to her people generally, but business men who were in touch with the ceneus work express no great surprise. The figures will undoubtchance for which it has been waiting.
Secretary Thomas Prosch, of the Chamber of Commerce, said tonight: Of course, we are disappointed that the fig-ures are not larger, but we can stand it. We are big folks yet." That statement tells the story. The business men are dis-appointed, but not surprised. The belief has prevailed among the masses that the census figures would give Scattle a population of about $3,000. The reason for such belief is a little difficult to explain. While the census enumerators were at work, a few of the old ploneers stopped predicting a fine Fall and figured how much the city had grown In 10 years. They seemed to agree that from about 43,000 in 1890 the city had accumulated in 10 years about 50,000 new inhabitants. After that everybody said Senttle's population was about $3,000, Now comes the Census Bureau and lops off 13,000. The truth seems to be that the Seattle ploneer in his calculation gave Ballard, with its population of about 6000 and other suburban towns, with an ag-gregate population of 2000, to Sentile. The Census Bureau was not so Mberel. counted the people who were in Scattle, and allowed the surrounding towns not in

The census figures do not exactly agree with those of the new city directory just out, which gives the city's population as 93.285, including Ballard and other suburban towns, and $5,885 exclusive of these

There has been considerable talk that Special Census Agent Olmsted, who made the recount in certain districts, because Tacoma demanded it, had materially duced the original figures. The truth is that the recount caused Seattle a loss of about 250.

The house was crowded, and the address of Congressman Jones received close at-

He made a telling point against that South Bend stood more in danger of militarism and a dictatorship from its jone Town Marshal than from the sol-diers, as there were fewer soldlers to the dation than Town Marshals, He pictured in an eloquent manner the present prosperity, and compared it with the hard es under free trade and a Democratic Administration

He also exposed the hypocrisy of the Democratic opposition to trusts, as shown in the vigorous opposition of Democratic Congressmen to the proposed submission of an anti-trust amendment to the Con-stitution. The opposition lasted until a vote was taken, when they did not dare permit their names to be recorded as they auspices of the McKinley Club, at this place last night, was listened to attentive-ly by a large audience. He dealt principally with expansion and trusts, and his argument against the fallacies of the anti-imperialists was unanswerable. His speech put new life and enthusiasm in the people here, and many comments, all favorable, could be heard about the speech on the streets here today. Senator E. W. Haines, J. B. Eddy and T. H. Adams also made speeches. Music was furnished by the Hillsboro Brass Band and a male quartet of students of Pacific Technology. University.

For a Big Republican Rally. FOUND TO BE SWINE PLAGUE. Result of Investigations of Hog Malady at Corvallia College, CORVALLIS, Oct. 2.—At the instance of Dr. McLean. State Veterinardan, a hog maindy prevalent in Southern Oregon courties has been investigated at the bactariological department at the college, with the result that the disease is determined to be swine plague. A quantity of blood, forwarded by Dr. McLean and taken from one of the infected hogs, disclosed germs that were at once recognized as swine plague germs. A guinea pig was inoculated and it quick's died. Germs taken from its spleen were transmitted in very small portions to an other pig, and it lived but 24 hours. The symptoms and post-mortems confirmed the diagnosis, and the results have been forwarded to the State Veterinarian. Swine plague is not hog cholera. In the first the lungs are involved, and in the latter the bowels. The former is infectious, but much less so than is hog

Superintendent J. H. Ackerman today paid into the state treasury $2 2, the amount of fees collected by him for state papers issued as a result of the last examination. This money goes into the State Board of Examiners' fund, and is used to defray the expenses of the State Board of Examiners. The law providing this fund was passed in 1899, and went into effect in April of that year. Since that time there has been collected and paid into the fund $1645. Prior to the enactment of the law mentioned, it was the custom for the Superintendent of Public Instruction to retain as his own mency the fees collected for issuing state papers. Near the close of Superinterdent Irwin's term the other members of the State Board of Education, Governor Lord and Secretary of State Kincald, refused to sign state teachers' papers unless this money should be turned into the state treasury. The fees were then turned into the treasury, and at the time the present law went into effect the fees aggregated $10, which was turned into the examiners' fund, making the total receipts of that fund $2255 to date. There has been drawn from the fund $1634 82 for expenses of the

PINE BUILDING AT SHANIKO COM-PLETELY DESTROYED BY PIRE,

Loss Will Foot Up $5000, With $2700 Insurance-Stores in Structure Suffer Damage.

SHANIKO, Or., Oct. 2.—Pease & Mays' building was totally destroyed by fire between 9 and 10 o'clock this morning, and a heap of charred debris now marks the spot where the best business block in Eastern Oregen once stood. The building was foxilo feet, in three divisions. The north division was occupied by Pease & Mays, that adjoining by the Shaniko Drug Company and the third division was used as a varnish room by the painters. The immediate cause of the fife will never be known. William Henry, manager of the drug store, under which the flames were first seen, was out collecting at the time. The presumption is that a brisk fire was started in the stove in the early morning, it being rather chilly. the early morning, it being rather chilly, to warm the building, and that five dropped from the stove to the floor.

Even the ladies threw aside their jackets and worked heroically in getting the goods to a safe place. The drug store was so filled with smoke that nothing was saved but one showcase and a desk Fortunately, the building was isolated, and the fire could not spread beyond its limits. The central telephone station was in the drug store, so communication was in the drug store, so communication was temporarily interrupted. The wire is now patched, though, and service resumed. The cost of the building is not known here, but is estimated at $5500, and was insured for something like $2700. It was owned jointly by Pease & Mays, W. Lord and Mrs. Lord, all of The Dalles. It is understood they will immediately take steps to rebuild.

VANCOUVER CITY TAX LEVY. Total Rate for the Coming Year Will

Be Six Mills. VANCOUVER, Wash., Oct. 2.—At the regular meeting of the Vancouver City Council last evening the tax levy for the coming year was fixed at 6 mills. The levy is based upon the following estimates of the receipts and expenses for the year: Estimated expenses-Street fund, $1000; police fund, $1200; fire department, $1500; electric lighting, $800; officers' salaries, $800; elections, $60; interest on bonds, $4500; sinking fund, $1000; miscellaneous expenses, $300. Total, $11,160.

Estimated revenues—Assessor's valua-tion, $573 79; sale of liquor licenses, $3780; miscellaneous sources, $1000; esti-mated surplus, $1100. Total, $11,753 79. The tax levy is intended to cover only the items of the interest and sinking funds, divided as follows: Interest fund, 4% mills; sinking fund, 1% mills. No levy was made for the general fund, the esti-mate of the committee being that the revenues from liquor and other licenses and miscellaneous sources will be suffi-cient to cover all general expenses.

The financial reports of the City Treasurer and Clerk show the amount of cash on hand to be $2032 55. The principal items among the receipts are: Taxes, $3895 56; liquor licenses, $600; Justice Court fines, 2200; bleycle tags, $157. The disbursements show warrants drawn for the Main-street improvement amounting to $7841 54. The assets of the city are given as follows: Sinking fund, $7600; due for Main-street improvement, $590 52; cash on hand, $2031 55. Total, $15,632 07.

A. H. Black & Co. have started the Fall run of their fruit evaporator, and are turning off an excellent grade of evap-orated apples, says the Myrtle Point Enterprise. They will have several menths' run and will turn out a large quantity of fruit for shipment. The evaporator is in operation both day and night, and in a 24 hours' run turns off about 300 pounds and gives employment to 10 or 12 persons. W. H. Wilbur has sold his saw mill and entire property on Mussel Creek, in Curry County, to a San Francisco company. The new company is preparing to engage in lumbering extensively, and will spend a large amount of money in preparation, and a large force of men will be employed next year. A wharf is to be built at Mussel Creek, and a railroad will run from the wharf to the mill and logging camp. An immense amount of freight is being received at Port Orford for the company, and 300 tons of railroad iron is expected to arrive soon, which will be hauled down to the mill

Spokane, nominees, respectively, of the Populist and Democratic conventions for Senator from the Third district, have resigned. Coffeen, who is chairman of the Populist county central committee, was not adopted by the Democrats, along with the balance of the Populist Heker, and he refused to retire in favor of Nash. As Nash was equally determined not to retire in Coffeen's favor, it was a foregone conclusion that neither could win against J. W. Merritt, the Republican candidate. A compromise candidate will be named to fill the vacancy.
