THE SAME OLD STORY

Another Prominent Home Secured for One of Our Finest Babies.

One of the most beautiful club buildings in the country is the home of the Albany Club, which is now being completed. The new building was also occupied by the Ladies Musical Club of Albany...

It was first thought that a "just-as-good" kind of a piano would meet the requirements, and, accordingly, when a so-called "special bargain" was offered by a local Portland house, the committee bought it. But the piano had scarcely reached its destination before every one realized that nothing short of a strictly choice piano would do, and, accordingly, the above-mentioned fine instrument was secured, and the "just-as-good" piano was taken by Elfers Piano House in part payment for same. This old Sohier was returned to Portland, and is now for sale, and as we are offering it for a great deal less than it was originally sold for to the committee, it "must be a bargain."

When many years ago, Poor Richard said, "At a bargain you never get the very best," he might have had in mind the "great piano bargains" and "second-hand masses" that are constantly being offered in the piano business.

But all is not gold that glitters. It pays to get the very best, you never are satisfied with anything less. And that "best" is obtainable in Portland only at Elfers Piano House, the home of America's foremost and leading pianos, the Chickering, of Boston; the Weber, of New York; and the Kimball, of Chicago. Remember our address in the new Musto building, entrance 361 Washington street.

taking away the power of the courts to restrain by injunction the destruction of property and life by rioters and the stopping of running trains (a plank in the Chicago platform, reaffirmed this year)? It is insane to think of it. And yet we are told by Democrats that the same principles are in line with those of the immortal Lincoln! If Lincoln were alive today he would favor the gold standard, since the lowering of the standard to the silver basis would plunge the country into financial and industrial ruin, and since it would destroy confidence, internal and foreign, in the honor and integrity of the Nation. With confidence gone, all is gone, since trade, investment of capital, and industry are based almost entirely on it. He would have favored the retaining of the Philippines on the principle of National duty and honor, since having got control by lawful results of war, it would be cruel and inhuman to restore them to the merciless oppression of Spain, or to allow them to be gobbled up by other rapacious and oppressive powers, or, also, to be given up to the tyranny and oppression of corrupt and semi-barbarous local chiefs like Aguinaldo and his crowd. They are and for some time will be unfit for self-government and independence, and it would only have resulted in extortion by the chiefs and wars and massacres among the different tribes, ending, doubtless, at last, in their being gobbled up by one of the rapacious European powers. W. B. DAVIS.
