ANOTHER DEMOCRAT'S REASONS.

PORTLAND, Or., Oct. 18 .- (To the Editor.)-Feeling that it is necessary that every man should declare himself at this time as to his political views in the crisis which now agitates our country, I submit the following briefly expressed ideas as the reasons why I cannot support Mr. Bryan:

First-The possibilities for evil, if free coinage obtained at this time, are beyond the range of human power to imagine. If this is not possible, still the effort to show good faith in its promotion, which Mr. Bryan is bound to make, will transplant us into the conditions of four years ago.

Expansion to any clime or centry falling to our lot, in the chances of war or otherwise, where the happiness or progress of the inhabitants can be promoted by our institutions, is for our best interests and greatest possibilities. The history of all nations proves that when they cease to expand they begin to expire. If we are so ignorant and corrupt as to make imperialism possible, the greater the empire, the more scope liberty will have to sustain her champions. Anti-expansion has led the pseudo-Democratic party into the actual support-moral, if not otherwise-of the enemies of our country, in armed rebellion, where daily conflict occurs and the lives of our volunteer soldiers are lost in defense of the legal and unquestioned authority of our Government. It is unpatriotic and a damnable exhibition of treason to all Governmental authority; . it exhibits to the world a lack of patriotic unity necessary to sustain our pretensions of being a world-power at a time when most we require it; it embodies the elements of anarchy and revolution, and is an object-lesson for the lawless, and corrupting to the youth of our country. Its advocacy has branded Bryan as a hypocrite and charlatan, who, having approved the treaty ceding the Philippine Islands, for the alleged purpose of preventing bloodshed, has never, by resolution, demand or otherwise, requested his friends there to desist until the question is finally settled here. A political party has no right, as good citizens, to make such an issue under such circumstances, and its advocacy shows a chronic state of political dyspepsia, incapable of digesting either the good or bad acts of its opponents, and a morbid desire to tread the measure of the Tories during the Revolution, and the Federalists of 1812 and during the Mexican War.

Bryan's position today, for the first time, gives color to the claim of the Republicans, urged for a quarter of a century, that the Democratic party embraced all the elements of rebellion and anarchy, and only needed opportunity to show its colors. This condition has the effect of putting the Southern people in a false light and impeaching their honesty in the war between the states. The Southern people are expansionists at heart, and are opposed to free coinage, but are misled by demagogues of the pseudo-Democratic party North, who do it for the chance of the political preferment it may afford them. The same influence has for the same purpose persuaded the same party to adopt resolutions known as the pro-Boer proposition, thereby insuiting a friendly nation, a very large majority of whose subjects here have sustained the Democratic cause - resolutions which not only encouraged bloodshed without a possibility of resulting benefits to the misled burghers; resolutions directly contradictory to all precedent in our history, that we should not have any entangling alliances with foreign powers, such as the anti-expansion and pro-Boer policies of Mr. Bryan inevitably lead to.

We are asked to condemn all combinations of capital, without which our unparalleled progressive policy could not be maintained, as monopoly, and yet to give the unreserved strength of the allbinding arm of the Government to not only support, but to subsidize to the extent of at least 38 1-3 per cent of its inherent value, the silver bullion and silver mines of the country, under the theory of making it legal tender at the ratio of 16 to 1. The burden of the Bryan cry is rebellion against present conditions and desire to overthrow them. He offers to array interdependent classes against each other, encouraging dissatisfaction and unrest in all classes, notwithstanding we are in the foremost ranks of time in every respect. Advocacy of these ideas inevitably brings one to a condition of unrest and to be dissatisfied with everything. The real condition of the individual bears no relation to his imaginings nor the state of misery he 'has attained thereby. When a party can find no other principle or basis upon which to advocate its claim to preferment, I feel that it should be abandoned and should not have the support of any one who really appreciates the conditions it offers in prospect. For these reasons I believe it my duty, as it should be that of every good citizen, to at once put the stamp of disapproval upon the doctrines advocated and the theories advanced for Mr. Bryan's election. Having voted for Horace Greeley in 1872, and every Democratic nominee since that time, I take pride in saying that I cannot support Mr. Bryan in the coming election upon the platform and principles he advocates. New Record for 15-Mile Indoor Paced Cycle Race.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.-According to the referce, Johnny Nelson, of Chicago, de-feated Jimmy Michaels by default in their match motor-paced race at the Col-iseum tonight. The chairman of the Na-tional Cycling Association will have to render the final decision, as there is a controversy over the referee's verdict. The mee was for 15 miles, and the men had an agreement that if either should meet with an accident during the first mile the race should be started over again. Michaels' motor broke down just as he was finish-ing the first mile, and he pulled up thinking he was inside the safety limit. Nelson, who was leading when the accident happened, continued until stopped by the referee and told he had won, as Michaels refused to go on, claiming he had not passed the mile mark when misfortune overtook him. The men then decided that in order to give the spectators their money's worth they would give a 15-mile exhibition. Michaels won the race by three laps and broke all indoor paced records up to and including 15 miles. His time was 26:20. The former record was 27:04 1-5.

The comple-tion of the first battle-ships to which the system has been applied, and the trials to which they have been subjected, dem-onstrated only the mechanical practicability of the system of mounting. It has been recognized from the commence-ment of the discussion that there are grave disadvantages in this system of unting. There is nothing in the experience with the two vessels recently completed tending either to show how they may be removed or to determine the extent of their effect upon the vessels which this system is employed. The cision in the case of the recent vassels has been reached in practically the same way as the decision relative to the first vassels to which the system was applied, and is based upon the same preson of arguments pro and con, al-h the Navy now possesses the though means of determining practically, at any rate, a portion of the points at issue." iral Hichborn deals at some length with the question of sheathing, and says: "It is a practical impossibility to prevent such fouling that in a short time after the docking the speed is sensibly deducted, and after the lapse of a very few months her speed capabilities are cu down 25 per cent to nearly 50 per cent, except by providing her with a wood sheath and coppered bottom. The process is an old one. Its practicability and freedom from injurious effect upon the thip to which it is applied, even the element of safety which it adds, have been fully mstrated."

"Much of the prejudice against it," he adds, "Is born of incomplete information as to what is really involved, and is of me nature as that which opposed the introduction of steam navigation and steel ships. In speaking of the steel for naval vessels, it is pointed out that nearly 50,000,000 pounds of steel material has been inspected, passed and shipped dur-ing the year by the inspectors and the Bureau of Construction and Repair, and presenting an increase of more than 100 per cent in two years in the quantity of this material required. "The past year has brought to fruition the experimental work of covering a con-siderable period, and has demonstrated the practicability of the submarine boat. There can be little doubt that to the first nations in the field with the new type will accrue not only the advan-tages which will come from the possession of efficient vessels of this type, but additional advantage and saving in cost which will result from an early understanding of the new type and the modifications which its introduction will force in existing types."
