

DEBS ASKED TO QUIT

Friends Want Him to Withdraw in Favor of Bryan.

TO ADVANCE SOCIALIST CAUSE

Declare a Vote for Bryan Is the First Step Toward the Co-Operative Commonwealth.

BOSTON, Nov. 2.—The Globe tomorrow will print an open letter to Eugene V. Debs...

THE PROHIBITION TRAIN.

Candidate Woolley and His Party Invaded Michigan.

DETROIT, Nov. 2.—John G. Woolley, prohibition candidate for President, and party entered Michigan today for their second tour of the state...

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 2.—The prohibition special train arrived here at 7:15 tonight...

HANNA'S CHICAGO SPEECH.

Meetings More Orderly Than Those of the Night Before.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Senator Hanna addressed three meetings tonight, the largest one being at Western avenue and Bloomington roads...

IN LINE FOR NATIONAL HONOR.

President's Letter to New York Business Men.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The following letter was given out by Secretary Drake of the Business Men's Republican Sound-Money Association...

Farmers Paraded for Aid.

FORT WANEKA, Ind., Nov. 2.—Adlai E. Stevenson received today the greatest ovation ever given any candidate in this city...

GOOD ROADS MOVEMENT.

National Congress to Be Held in Chicago This Month.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Martin Dodge, director of the Good Roads Campaign and irrigation of the Lehigh Valley Company and the Department of Agriculture...

Death of an Oregonian in Alaska.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—J. B. Stewart, who arrived today from Dutch Harbor, Alaska, on the steamer Katik, reports that A. A. Bashor of Salem, Or., was drowned October 8 from the small Seattle schooner Bear Stewart...

Strikers Returned to Work.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 2.—The officials of the Lehigh Valley Company and the laborers employed by their Durawood and Prospect mines, who went out on strike yesterday, reached an amicable agreement today, and all the men returned to work.

ECZEMA; NO CURE NO PAY.

Your druggist will refund your money if PAZOZ will cure your Eczema, Itching, Swelling, Redness, Oozing, Cracking, Scaling, and all other skin diseases...

STATEMENT BY BRYAN

HE CALLS THE REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN A FAILURE.

The Democratic Candidate Spoke at Twelve Meetings in Chicago Yesterday.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Mr. Bryan tonight gave out the following statement in the form of an interview:

"The Republican campaign has been a failure. The full dinner pail argument has been repudiated by the workmen, and the Republican is compelled to confess that a large proportion of the labor vote will be cast for the Democratic ticket. Besides believing with the Democrats in the general doctrine of equal rights to all...

THE PRESIDENT—"STRANGE HOW SO MANY PEOPLE GET EXCITED OVER POLITICS"

Washington, Oct. 30.—No one has dropped me as will be especially true of Mr. Bryan, of North Carolina...

At the same time as chairman of the Populist Committee which nominated Bryan for President he was supposed to take some part in the campaign. He has not done so. He has appeared once with an interview, and that is all. No body knows where his headquarters are...

PEOPLING A CONTINENT.

How Russia Encourages Settlement of Her Eastern Territory.

There are no "bad lands" in the whole of Southern Siberia, and the rich, arable land extends hundreds of miles from the Caspian to the Ural mountains...

At Cuba.

WELLSVILLE, N. Y., Nov. 2.—The second stop of the Roosevelt train was at Wellsville, N. Y., Nov. 2. The train was made, the Governor said:

At Friendship.

The next stop was made at Friendship, where the Governor spoke briefly, saying:

Four New Cardinals.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—It is understood that at the next consistory to be held in Rome, probably this month, Mr. Doia Volpe, Margior Domo of the Vatican at Rome; Mr. Tripepi, the assistant secretary of state of the Church at Rome; Mr. Generi, assessor of the Holy Office in Southern Italy, will be made cardinals.

Militia to Protect a Negro.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 2.—Another company of Georgia militia was ordered from here tonight by Governor Chandler, with instructions to proceed to Jefferson, Jackson County, to protect the life of Gus Fellows, a negro on trial charged with an assault on Miss Dora Hood, a prominent woman of Eatonton, Ga.

Granted the Increase.

HAZZLETON, Pa., Nov. 2.—Curly Bros., striping contractors, today granted their men an increase of 10 per cent in wages.

Stops the Cough and Works Off the Cold.

Laxative Brown-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in half an hour.

THE PATERSON TRAGEDY

FOUR MURDERERS OF JENKINS BOSSCHETER INDICTED.

New York Police Investigating the Dragging of William Rice, the Millionaire.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The grand jury at Paterson, N. J., today handed up indictments against Walter C. McAlister, George J. Kerr, William A. Death and Andrew Campbell, who are charged with the murder of Jennie Bosscheter, who was dragged to death October 13. There were two indictments against each of the young men, one for murder and the other for rape, the first, it is said, also embracing the latter. Judge Barklow...

GREAT TOUR ENDED.

(Continued from First Page.)

Thus, if you will turn to the New York World of October 30, 1896, you will see that when an attempt was made to break up a meeting which he was addressing, Mr. Cookran said:

"Bryan and the crowd of lunatics and ruffians who follow him illustrate their platform, which stands for anarchy and riot."

"Personally I should not use the phraseology which Mr. Cookran is reported to have employed, but the thought was exact then and it is equally true now. The Kansas City platform and those who uphold it stand for the forces of disorder and of National dishonor, and have in this state for the forces of civic dishonesty as well, and when such is the case we have the right to appeal for the support of every true American. Our opponents throughout this campaign have appealed not only to class and sectional hatred, but have striven to pander to race prejudice. We draw no such distinctions. We care nothing whether a man is a banker or a farmer, a railroad man or a mechanic, a business man or a day laborer. We care nothing whether he was born here or born abroad. We care nothing for his creed. All we are concerned with is that he shall be a good citizen."

"During this campaign in different states I have been champion for the election of, or working on the stump with men who by birth of ancestry were some of them of the old American stock—English, Scotch, Irish, Scotch and Scandinavian blood, or like myself, of Holland origin, but we come before you not as Hollanders, Germans, Irishmen, Scotchmen, Scandinavians, native born, or foreign born. We stand before you as Americans, appealing to our fellow Americans."

"There are two people," said the Governor, in closing, "upon whom the foundations of this commonwealth rest—the citizen and the farmer. It is a question of contract, and we are not going to contract."

Early in the evening at Brand's Hall on North Clark street, Mr. Bryan addressed as many persons as could crowd into the building. At the second Republican meeting at the same place, a great crowd, appearing there after the Democratic gubernatorial candidates, Mr. Aschuler, had made a speech, he referred to a speech made there near the close of the campaign in 1896, and told his audience that he was glad that in coming before them at this time he was not so wearied as when he addressed them four years ago. In his speech here Mr. Bryan discussed the trusts and imperialism. Out at Oakley avenue and Twenty-second street, on the West Side, Mr. Bryan spoke in the open air to a vast assembly, which he discussed the trusts and the leading issues of the campaign. In a big tent at Spaulding and Madison avenues Mr. Bryan spoke briefly, devoting the most of his time to the trusts, but touching upon the trusts in response to queries from the audience. At Twenty-ninth and Halsted streets, near the stock yards, Mr. Bryan addressed a great crowd, which he discussed the trusts and imperialism. In a speech at Pulaski Hall, on South Ashland avenue, where many of the audience were voters of foreign birth, Mr. Bryan brought the question of a standing army prominently to the front, warning upon the burdens of taxation resulting from a big standing army. An incident of the evening at Thalia Hall, on the South Side, was the showing up of Mr. Bryan of a profusion of flowers. These were thrown upon the stage by ladies sitting in the boxes. It was probably the first time that Mr. Bryan had been so honored. Party-second and Halsted streets, where he found a big crowd from the stock yards waiting for him. He dwelt upon the trusts and spoke at some length of the conditions of the laboring class. It was 10 o'clock when Mr. Bryan finished his last speech of the night, calling a day of at hard work as he has done during the campaign. This meeting was in South Side Turner Hall, and was un-

THE PATERSON TRAGEDY

FOUR MURDERERS OF JENKINS BOSSCHETER INDICTED.

New York Police Investigating the Dragging of William Rice, the Millionaire.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The grand jury at Paterson, N. J., today handed up indictments against Walter C. McAlister, George J. Kerr, William A. Death and Andrew Campbell, who are charged with the murder of Jennie Bosscheter, who was dragged to death October 13. There were two indictments against each of the young men, one for murder and the other for rape, the first, it is said, also embracing the latter. Judge Barklow...

GREAT TOUR ENDED.

(Continued from First Page.)

Thus, if you will turn to the New York World of October 30, 1896, you will see that when an attempt was made to break up a meeting which he was addressing, Mr. Cookran said:

"Bryan and the crowd of lunatics and ruffians who follow him illustrate their platform, which stands for anarchy and riot."

"Personally I should not use the phraseology which Mr. Cookran is reported to have employed, but the thought was exact then and it is equally true now. The Kansas City platform and those who uphold it stand for the forces of disorder and of National dishonor, and have in this state for the forces of civic dishonesty as well, and when such is the case we have the right to appeal for the support of every true American. Our opponents throughout this campaign have appealed not only to class and sectional hatred, but have striven to pander to race prejudice. We draw no such distinctions. We care nothing whether a man is a banker or a farmer, a railroad man or a mechanic, a business man or a day laborer. We care nothing whether he was born here or born abroad. We care nothing for his creed. All we are concerned with is that he shall be a good citizen."

"During this campaign in different states I have been champion for the election of, or working on the stump with men who by birth of ancestry were some of them of the old American stock—English, Scotch, Irish, Scotch and Scandinavian blood, or like myself, of Holland origin, but we come before you not as Hollanders, Germans, Irishmen, Scotchmen, Scandinavians, native born, or foreign born. We stand before you as Americans, appealing to our fellow Americans."

"There are two people," said the Governor, in closing, "upon whom the foundations of this commonwealth rest—the citizen and the farmer. It is a question of contract, and we are not going to contract."

Early in the evening at Brand's Hall on North Clark street, Mr. Bryan addressed as many persons as could crowd into the building. At the second Republican meeting at the same place, a great crowd, appearing there after the Democratic gubernatorial candidates, Mr. Aschuler, had made a speech, he referred to a speech made there near the close of the campaign in 1896, and told his audience that he was glad that in coming before them at this time he was not so wearied as when he addressed them four years ago. In his speech here Mr. Bryan discussed the trusts and imperialism. Out at Oakley avenue and Twenty-second street, on the West Side, Mr. Bryan spoke in the open air to a vast assembly, which he discussed the trusts and the leading issues of the campaign. In a big tent at Spaulding and Madison avenues Mr. Bryan spoke briefly, devoting the most of his time to the trusts, but touching upon the trusts in response to queries from the audience. At Twenty-ninth and Halsted streets, near the stock yards, Mr. Bryan addressed a great crowd, which he discussed the trusts and imperialism. In a speech at Pulaski Hall, on South Ashland avenue, where many of the audience were voters of foreign birth, Mr. Bryan brought the question of a standing army prominently to the front, warning upon the burdens of taxation resulting from a big standing army. An incident of the evening at Thalia Hall, on the South Side, was the showing up of Mr. Bryan of a profusion of flowers. These were thrown upon the stage by ladies sitting in the boxes. It was probably the first time that Mr. Bryan had been so honored. Party-second and Halsted streets, where he found a big crowd from the stock yards waiting for him. He dwelt upon the trusts and spoke at some length of the conditions of the laboring class. It was 10 o'clock when Mr. Bryan finished his last speech of the night, calling a day of at hard work as he has done during the campaign. This meeting was in South Side Turner Hall, and was un-

THE PATERSON TRAGEDY

FOUR MURDERERS OF JENKINS BOSSCHETER INDICTED.

New York Police Investigating the Dragging of William Rice, the Millionaire.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The grand jury at Paterson, N. J., today handed up indictments against Walter C. McAlister, George J. Kerr, William A. Death and Andrew Campbell, who are charged with the murder of Jennie Bosscheter, who was dragged to death October 13. There were two indictments against each of the young men, one for murder and the other for rape, the first, it is said, also embracing the latter. Judge Barklow...

GREAT TOUR ENDED.

(Continued from First Page.)

Thus, if you will turn to the New York World of October 30, 1896, you will see that when an attempt was made to break up a meeting which he was addressing, Mr. Cookran said:

"Bryan and the crowd of lunatics and ruffians who follow him illustrate their platform, which stands for anarchy and riot."

"Personally I should not use the phraseology which Mr. Cookran is reported to have employed, but the thought was exact then and it is equally true now. The Kansas City platform and those who uphold it stand for the forces of disorder and of National dishonor, and have in this state for the forces of civic dishonesty as well, and when such is the case we have the right to appeal for the support of every true American. Our opponents throughout this campaign have appealed not only to class and sectional hatred, but have striven to pander to race prejudice. We draw no such distinctions. We care nothing whether a man is a banker or a farmer, a railroad man or a mechanic, a business man or a day laborer. We care nothing whether he was born here or born abroad. We care nothing for his creed. All we are concerned with is that he shall be a good citizen."

"During this campaign in different states I have been champion for the election of, or working on the stump with men who by birth of ancestry were some of them of the old American stock—English, Scotch, Irish, Scotch and Scandinavian blood, or like myself, of Holland origin, but we come before you not as Hollanders, Germans, Irishmen, Scotchmen, Scandinavians, native born, or foreign born. We stand before you as Americans, appealing to our fellow Americans."

"There are two people," said the Governor, in closing, "upon whom the foundations of this commonwealth rest—the citizen and the farmer. It is a question of contract, and we are not going to contract."

Early in the evening at Brand's Hall on North Clark street, Mr. Bryan addressed as many persons as could crowd into the building. At the second Republican meeting at the same place, a great crowd, appearing there after the Democratic gubernatorial candidates, Mr. Aschuler, had made a speech, he referred to a speech made there near the close of the campaign in 1896, and told his audience that he was glad that in coming before them at this time he was not so wearied as when he addressed them four years ago. In his speech here Mr. Bryan discussed the trusts and imperialism. Out at Oakley avenue and Twenty-second street, on the West Side, Mr. Bryan spoke in the open air to a vast assembly, which he discussed the trusts and the leading issues of the campaign. In a big tent at Spaulding and Madison avenues Mr. Bryan spoke briefly, devoting the most of his time to the trusts, but touching upon the trusts in response to queries from the audience. At Twenty-ninth and Halsted streets, near the stock yards, Mr. Bryan addressed a great crowd, which he discussed the trusts and imperialism. In a speech at Pulaski Hall, on South Ashland avenue, where many of the audience were voters of foreign birth, Mr. Bryan brought the question of a standing army prominently to the front, warning upon the burdens of taxation resulting from a big standing army. An incident of the evening at Thalia Hall, on the South Side, was the showing up of Mr. Bryan of a profusion of flowers. These were thrown upon the stage by ladies sitting in the boxes. It was probably the first time that Mr. Bryan had been so honored. Party-second and Halsted streets, where he found a big crowd from the stock yards waiting for him. He dwelt upon the trusts and spoke at some length of the conditions of the laboring class. It was 10 o'clock when Mr. Bryan finished his last speech of the night, calling a day of at hard work as he has done during the campaign. This meeting was in South Side Turner Hall, and was un-

THE PATERSON TRAGEDY

FOUR MURDERERS OF JENKINS BOSSCHETER INDICTED.

New York Police Investigating the Dragging of William Rice, the Millionaire.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The grand jury at Paterson, N. J., today handed up indictments against Walter C. McAlister, George J. Kerr, William A. Death and Andrew Campbell, who are charged with the murder of Jennie Bosscheter, who was dragged to death October 13. There were two indictments against each of the young men, one for murder and the other for rape, the first, it is said, also embracing the latter. Judge Barklow...

GREAT TOUR ENDED.

(Continued from First Page.)

Thus, if you will turn to the New York World of October 30, 1896, you will see that when an attempt was made to break up a meeting which he was addressing, Mr. Cookran said:

"Bryan and the crowd of lunatics and ruffians who follow him illustrate their platform, which stands for anarchy and riot."

"Personally I should not use the phraseology which Mr. Cookran is reported to have employed, but the thought was exact then and it is equally true now. The Kansas City platform and those who uphold it stand for the forces of disorder and of National dishonor, and have in this state for the forces of civic dishonesty as well, and when such is the case we have the right to appeal for the support of every true American. Our opponents throughout this campaign have appealed not only to class and sectional hatred, but have striven to pander to race prejudice. We draw no such distinctions. We care nothing whether a man is a banker or a farmer, a railroad man or a mechanic, a business man or a day laborer. We care nothing whether he was born here or born abroad. We care nothing for his creed. All we are concerned with is that he shall be a good citizen."

"During this campaign in different states I have been champion for the election of, or working on the stump with men who by birth of ancestry were some of them of the old American stock—English, Scotch, Irish, Scotch and Scandinavian blood, or like myself, of Holland origin, but we come before you not as Hollanders, Germans, Irishmen, Scotchmen, Scandinavians, native born, or foreign born. We stand before you as Americans, appealing to our fellow Americans."

"There are two people," said the Governor, in closing, "upon whom the foundations of this commonwealth rest—the citizen and the farmer. It is a question of contract, and we are not going to contract."

Early in the evening at Brand's Hall on North Clark street, Mr. Bryan addressed as many persons as could crowd into the building. At the second Republican meeting at the same place, a great crowd, appearing there after the Democratic gubernatorial candidates, Mr. Aschuler, had made a speech, he referred to a speech made there near the close of the campaign in 1896, and told his audience that he was glad that in coming before them at this time he was not so wearied as when he addressed them four years ago. In his speech here Mr. Bryan discussed the trusts and imperialism. Out at Oakley avenue and Twenty-second street, on the West Side, Mr. Bryan spoke in the open air to a vast assembly, which he discussed the trusts and the leading issues of the campaign. In a big tent at Spaulding and Madison avenues Mr. Bryan spoke briefly, devoting the most of his time to the trusts, but touching upon the trusts in response to queries from the audience. At Twenty-ninth and Halsted streets, near the stock yards, Mr. Bryan addressed a great crowd, which he discussed the trusts and imperialism. In a speech at Pulaski Hall, on South Ashland avenue, where many of the audience were voters of foreign birth, Mr. Bryan brought the question of a standing army prominently to the front, warning upon the burdens of taxation resulting from a big standing army. An incident of the evening at Thalia Hall, on the South Side, was the showing up of Mr. Bryan of a profusion of flowers. These were thrown upon the stage by ladies sitting in the boxes. It was probably the first time that Mr. Bryan had been so honored. Party-second and Halsted streets, where he found a big crowd from the stock yards waiting for him. He dwelt upon the trusts and spoke at some length of the conditions of the laboring class. It was 10 o'clock when Mr. Bryan finished his last speech of the night, calling a day of at hard work as he has done during the campaign. This meeting was in South Side Turner Hall, and was un-

GIGANTIC SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Located at Stockport, England, It Is the Largest in the World.

Woman's Home Companion.

On a high hill, in the midst of the most thickly populated portion of the City of Stockport, England, stands an immense four-story brick building, at once the pride of the town and the Mecca of Sunday-school pilgrims from every quarter of the globe. This is the world-renowned Stockport Sunday school, famous alike for its gigantic size and its remarkable history, extending over a period of 115 years. With a present enrollment of over 5000 and a total of 100,000 scholars, its walls, its achievements are without a parallel in the annals of Sunday-school effort.

HELD FOR EXAMINATION.

Embezzler Alford's Bail Was Fixed at $150,000.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—City Magistrate Flammer discharged Cornelius L. Alford, the defaulting note taker of the First National Bank, from custody today. The Magistrate set the amount of bail at $150,000. Alford had no jurisdiction in the case. Alford was rearrested by a United States Marshal and taken before United States Commissioner Shields. The Commissioner has a record in $100,000 bail for Alford on Wednesday next. Bail was not offered, and Alford was taken to jail.

Blow Open the Wrong Safe.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—A special to the Chronicle from Omaha, Neb., says that Spearman & Co.'s Bank at Springfield, Neb., was robbed last night by three daring burglars, who blew open the safe and made off with several hundred dollars' worth of freight and revenue stamps. There were two safes in the bank, one of which was used to contain the books and the other the money and jewelry. The burglars, by the way, made the mistake of blowing open the former. Had they guessed right their loot would have amounted to $50,000. The burglars escaped.

Illicit Oleo Manufacture.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Eight defendants who, under the corporate name of "The Fertile Valley Creamery Company," are said to have defrauded the Government of thousands of dollars in the illicit manufacture of oleomargarine, were held to the Federal Court by the grand jury today. Government agents have taken possession of raw material to the value of $55,000, which was discovered in the creamery company's plant.

Confessed to Arson.

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 2.—Hiram P. Erwin was today convicted of arson. The jury returned a verdict of guilty in the Penitentiary. Erwin confessed to having burned property on which there was $15,000 insurance, and claimed the owners had hired him to do so.

BRITISH ISLAND FOR SALE.

Unique Possession That Can Be Rented or Bought outright.

L. London Daily Mail.

W. L. Drinkwater Carey, the new owner of the Calf of Man, has arrived in London from America to enter up his little kingdom of 20 acres of covered in vegetation to call it a little island, although it is smaller than the Principality of Monaco and considerably smaller than the little island of Man from which it is separated by a narrow channel.

Mr. Carey's rights as owner transcend those of the ordinary landlord, for he is not a tenant of the "Lady of Man," Queen Victoria, and he can dispose of the minerals that may be beneath the surface without payment of royalty. This is not an unimportant point, as it is believed that a rich silver lode passes through the substratum of this little island. The new owner inherits the little domain on the death of his father and elder brother. He was born in the Isle of Man, and spent his first school days at King William's College, thirty years ago. His father, Mr. Carey, was a prominent landowner and resided chiefly in Chicago.

The Calf island is a very desirable possession. There is only one inhabited house, and that is a substantial building of 25,000 square feet, and surrounded by the whole island swarms with rabbits, and thousands are exported yearly. Hares are also in evidence, and the rock fishing is excellent. A little harbor has been cut out of the rocks for the accommodation of the small boats that occasionally visit the place. Mr. Carey says he is prepared either to sell or let the Calf island, and he thinks it is worth $200,000.

Chinese Officials Condemned.

PAO TING FU, Friday, Oct. 25.—The commission of inquiry into the outrages on missionaries here has sentenced to death the King of the Province, Judge Wang Hung On, the military commander; General Kiu and two other officials. German and French troops will garrison Pao Ting Fu for the winter. The preparations are being made for destroying the most venerable temple in the city.

Troops Occupy Tomb.

PARIS, Nov. 2.—A Havre agency dispatch from Pekin, dated November 1, says: The French troops arrived at Si

Chicago Record.

Nothing Tastes Good

And eating is simply perfunctory—done because it must be.

This is the common complaint of the dyspeptic.

If eating is painful, leaving much of the light meal provided, upon a dyspeptic, few would suffer from it long.

The only way to cure dyspepsia, which is difficult digestion, is by giving vigor and tone to the stomach and the whole digestive system. It is therefore cured positively and absolutely by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The testimonial of Frank Fay, 106 N. Street, South Boston, Mass., voluntarily given like thousands of others, should lead to a trial of this peculiar medicine. "My niece," he writes, "was a great sufferer from dyspepsia for six years. She tried many medicines in vain. She had no appetite and was troubled with sour stomach and headaches. After taking two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, she was well."

Hood's Sarsaparilla

promises to cure and keeps the promise. Accept no substitute for it.

When people began to change from Lard and "Cooking" butter for shortening and frying purposes, some of them had "misgivings."

Natural enough. Some complained that they didn't know what was in it. They know now it contains nothing but pure vegetable oil and a little beef suet.

WHITE COTTOLENE

is odorless, flavorless, neutral.

The new

WHITE COTTOLENE

is odorless,