

HIS CLOSING SPEECH

Roosevelt Wound Up the Campaign at Oyster Bay.

PREDICTS SUCCESS FOR HIS TICKET

Parade That He Reviewed in New York Saturday Shows That the Business Men are Aroused.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Governor Roosevelt wound up the Republican National campaign tonight by delivering an address at Oyster Bay, N. Y. Before one of the largest audiences in the country assembled at that place. Prior to the meeting there was a parade, led by five bands. When the Governor appeared he was greeted by loud and continued applause. He said, in part: "In this campaign I have not only appealed to all who have the honor and integrity of the country at heart, I have appealed to higher motives than partisanship; I appealed to honor. I have appealed to all, whether agreeing or disagreeing with me in politics, to stand by their country. I have appealed to the teachings of Jefferson and Jackson and of Lincoln. Mr. Jefferson was an expansionist and he was the expansionist over Nebraska without the consent of the Indian. The Indian has been succeeded by the Populist and he is governed without his consent. Mr. Croker says he is in politics for his party and he is justifying him, only quoting him. As for Jackson, he was for hard money, expansion and honor for the flag. If Mr. Croker were to walk over to Oyster Bay, Mr. Jackson would turn over in his grave with disgust. We must defeat Bryan and stamp out Bryanism. The Republican party stands today on a platform which compares the times today with those four years ago, when Mr. McKinley became President. Mr. Bryan said if McKinley were elected, there would be bad times. We believe there would be prosperity and there has been.

The triumph of silver would paralyze business and it would hurt more the laboring man and the poor than the rich. There has been greater prosperity in the last four years than ever before. The price of produce has increased 50 per cent; failures have decreased; there has been an increase in number and amounts; the deposits in the savings banks have increased, and all this, in spite of Mr. Bryan's prophecy. This cannot be called an accident or a return to old conditions, it is a return to old conditions. Tomorrow promises success. The great parade which we are to witness tonight shows that the business men are aroused. For four after-hour they marched in the rain to testify to their devotion to the cause of the Nation and the flag, and it augurs success.

CLOSE OF BRYAN'S CAMPAIGN.

He Wound It Up With Nine Speeches in Omaha.

OMAHA, Nov. 5.—Mr. Bryan tonight gave out the following statement: "The evidence is in the arguments have been made, and the case is now submitted to the jury. If the jury will accept the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution of the United States and the instructions of the court, there will be no doubt about the verdict. I hope that our people will not only accept the Declaration of Independence, but also accept the Constitution of the United States as they are. I have been informed that there is a plan to buy any purchasable voters with a sum contingent upon gains in the precinct, but I do not believe in such a thing. I believe in an accident or a return to old conditions. It was yet half an hour to dawn when the Democratic Presidential candidate began the last day. The first speech he commenced the first speech of the day before sunrise. Fifty or more persons accompanied him. The itinerary embraced Exeter, Fairmount, Harney, Minden, Holdrege, Wilcox, Blair, Hill, Hastings, Aurora, York and Seward, with a return to Lincoln and a speech there at 6 o'clock, and then a dash to Omaha. Mr. Bryan left Omaha at 8:15 o'clock tonight, and began his first speech of a series of nine in South Omaha at 8:30. This first speech was made in a small hall used as a Democratic headquarters, the hall was packed to the doors and filled with men, women and children, who received the candidate with loud acclaim and frequent applause. The second meeting was held in the opera house in South Omaha, and then the Presidential candidate addressed an immense number of people. After this open-air meeting Mr. Bryan was rushed to Omaha for two or three miles to the Omaha Hotel, where he received another cordial welcome. Another short drive brought him to Meix Hall, where he addressed a large audience composed of both Democrats and Republicans. He was presented with a bouquet of roses by a little Bohemian girl. The fifth place of meeting was in a tent at the camp of Eleventh street, near Central, and then he had the largest audience of the evening, and also the most enthusiastic. The sixth meeting of the night was held at Washington Hotel. There he spoke for only a few minutes. It was 11:30 o'clock when Mr. Bryan appeared at the Boyd Theater. He next spoke at the Carriage Theater. The last speech of the night and the most enthusiastic was before the Good Shepherd Fair in the Schutte Roof Garden, and it did not begin until almost 12:30. He concluded at 12:45 o'clock, and when he left the platform after 19 hours of consecutive work and an exceptionally long and arduous campaign his voice was still strong and clear and his physical condition first class.

GOING HOME TO VOTE.

Tens of Thousands of Oboholders Leave Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—All the trains leaving here today were crowded with voters going to their homes to cast their ballots tomorrow. From the Government Printing Office alone almost 1500 employees have gone, and the ratio is almost as heavy from the construction of the next census. All applications for leave of absence for this purpose, except where absolutely indispensable with the demands of the public service, have been granted. With the exception of Secretary of War Secretary Gage, all the Cabinet officers will vote at their homes. These two, with such guests as may be invited, will assemble at the White House tomorrow night to receive the election returns. They will be in direct telegraphic and telephonic communication with the President and with the National Republican Headquarters in Chicago and New York. Representative Loosen, who has charge of the Republican branch headquarters here, will receive the returns and keep tabs on the construction of the next census.

PARADE THAT HE REVIEWED IN NEW YORK SATURDAY SHOWS THAT THE BUSINESS MEN ARE AROUSED.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The pending Canadian elections are bound to have a most important bearing upon the future of the Dominion and promise an unusually large vote of the Canadian electorate. BOARD OF TRADE QUOTATIONS.

Illinois Court Decides They Are a Public Interest.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—In a decision rendered by Judge Vail in Circuit Court, here today, it is declared that the Chicago Board of Trade market quotations are a public interest and must be distributed without discrimination. The decision is in the case of the Chicago Board of Trade vs. the Central Grain & Stock Exchange, the board having asked the court to dissolve the temporary injunction restraining it from publishing its quotations from the defendant, alleging said defendant to be a 'buckaroo.' In ruling against the Board of Trade, Judge Vail made the injunction permanent and the board is preparing a bill of exceptions to be carried before the Appellate Court.

THE TIGER IS BEATEN

Reason Why He Can't Get Them if Bryan is Elected.

NEW YORK EVENING POST.

The speech of President Cowen, of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, in which he said that his company had given a contingent order for several thousand steel cars, which would be built if McKinley were elected, but otherwise not, was unfortunate, for the reason that it laid him open to a charge of attempting to coerce the employees of the road. If he had said at first what he says now, this impression would have been removed. He says now that the cars are to be paid for by a sale of some kind of securities, and that the bankers who are to furnish the money will not take the securities of a president-elect.
