Campaign in the State Closed Last Night.

Meeting Under Auspices of Repub-Benns Was Largest of Any Held -Hon. C. W. Fulton Spoke.

ABHLAND, Or., Nov. 5.- The McKinley and Roosevelt campaign in Jackson County wound up in a blaze of giory to-night. The city has been througed with visitors from other parts of the county and suburbs, who came to take past in the last grand rally of the campaigo. A torchlight procession, with mounted rough riders, was one of the prominent features of the display, and was wit-nessed by far the largest crowd that has ever assembled in Southern Oregon. After the parade a great political meeting took place in the Chautaugua Tabernacis, Senator Charles W. Fulton, of Clatsop County, who is a popular favor-ito here, delivering one of his brilliant addresses. The spacious building was unable to accommodate hundreds who sought admission, and these enjoyed themselves on the streets in witnessing the fireworks and parading the sidewalks hurrahing for McElnley and prosperity.

It is doubtful if a more eloquent, patriotic or convincing political address was ever before heard from a platform in ever before heard from a platform in this city than that delivered by Senator Pulton. Urged on by his large and enthu-stastic audience, the brilliant crater from Claisop covered the insues of the campaign and poured shot and shell into the camp of the Bryanttes, winning applause camp of the Bryanites, winning applicates at every point by his logical and practical reasoning, and provoking amusement and good humor with his occasional sallies of wit, holding the closest interest of his audience to the last. A mighty cheer followed his prediction that election day would see Oregon roll up a majority of 15,000 for McKinley and prosperity.

The Ashland hand furnished music during the evening from the headstone and ing the evening, from the platform, and added to the unusual en husiasm of the occasion. Mr. Fulton received the greatest ovation yet accorded a political speaker here during the present campaign, and the demonstration tonight augurs well for a hig majority in Ashland tomorrow for McKinley and Roose-

Democrats Failed to Do As Agreed. COTTAGE GROVE, Or., Nov. 5 .- Hon. R. G. Smith, of Grant's Pass, was accorded the largest audience here tonight of any speaker during this campaign. Many could not guin entrance. For an hour and a half he spoks on the issues of this campaign. He upheld the present Administration, the gold standard, and made plain the importance of retaining our various island possessions.

Mr. Smith was summoned here to meet R. M. Vestch in joint debate last Satur-day night, but Mr. Vestch would not debate with him. The Democratic committee then agreed to have a man here tonight, but no one appeared. Why they did not secure some one to discuss the assues with Mr. Smith is not known, but can be surmised that they did not have faith in their platform.

Sweeping Victory for Republicans, VANCOUVER, Wash., Nov. 5.—The Democrats closed the campaign in Clark County tonight with a big raily at the Opera-House. All the nominess on the ticket, including sanddates for Superior Judge and Join: Senator, made brief ad-The Republicans held meetings in four principal rural precincts. The situation in the county tonight, from all reports, strongly indicates a sweeping victory for the Republicans. Both parties have made polls of the county. The Re-publican chairman claims 300 for Mckin-ley, and the Democratic chairman figures Bryan's majority at 100. It is expected that there will be some acratching on Morrow County Campaign Closed. HEPPNER, Or., Nov. 5.-The Republi-can campaign in Morrow County was closed here tonight by a grand rally and ssion. The m one of the most enthusiastic ever held in this section. Ex-Senator John H. Mitchell delivered the address of the evening. He compared the present prosperous con-ditions of Marrow County sheepmen with heir Snaucial distress in 1895, with telling effect. On the money question he said, he considered the subject closed. Every act of the McKinley Administration was warmly praised. His remarks were well ceived, and were often punctured by ud and continued applicate.

Banner Meeting at Woodburn. WOODBURN, Nov. 5.—The banner Re-publican meeting of the campaign was held this evening. Farmers for miles around were in attendance. The theater afforded accommodations for unly about me-half of those was desired to attend The speakers were Hon, Rufus Mallory and C. H. Bell, of Portland, Mr. Mallory made a good, forceful argument on the several bases of the campaign, while Mr. Bell confined his remarks to the Philippine question. His remarks were more interesting by reason of the fact that be

All Rendy in Washington. SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. L-Both the Republican and Democratic state mittees announced tonight that all pre-liminary work for tomorrows election in this state has been completed. Both seem confident of success. The registration here is the heaviest in the history of King County. Every effort to get early returns has been made, but, owing to the heavy ballot, it is feared that the exact count will be delayed until late Wednes

General Williams at The Dalles. THE DALLES, Or., Nov. 5.—General George H. Williams closed the campaign here tonight with the most farcible political speech heard in The Dalles for many years, which was attentively listened to by a large and enthusiastic audience, who heartly applauded the many telling points and cheered the speaker to the exho at the close of the address. Hon. E. I. Bmith, of Hood River, persided and introduced General Williams

POREST GROVE, Nov. 5,-Vert's Hall was crowded to its doors tonight to hear the closing campaign speech of Gover-nor T. T. Geer, who described in a clear and logical manner the reasons why the votest should support McKinley tomorrow. No doubt his address will add strength to the Republican ticket in this vicinity The fillisboro brass band furnished the music for the occasion.

Closed the Bryan Campaign. MEDIFORD, Or., Nov. 5.—Hen. A. E. Sterens closed the Bryan campaign here toulght. He was proceeded by Judge W. S. Crowell, in a 20-minute speech. Both reiterated the Demogratic position on the iasues of the day, and were frequently

Reduced Wheat Aerenge.

OREGON CITY, Or., Nov. 5.—Farmers have not sown as much Fall wheat as usual, for the reason that the continued dry weather did not put the ground in fit condition for plowing, and the recent heavy rains have further interfered with the work. Many of the farmers in the vicinity of Molalia and Liberal are nowing clover on the grain stubble, with a view to enriching the soil by a change of

Much of the land in this section has been continuously planted in grain for many years without Summer fallowing or giving the ground a rest. Clover makes excellent hay, producing two crops a year, and its roots, when plowed under, tend to enrich the soil.

Washington Murder Arrested.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Nov. 5.-Sheriff Tucker has received a dispatch announcing the arrest of the murderer of W. W. Scott, the Kiona merchant, at LaGrande, Or. The man has been post-tively identified by two citizens of Kiona. Scott was shot through the heart at Prosser about a month ago by one of a gang of hobos whom be was trying to arrest. Since the murder, Sheriff Tucker has been indefaligable in pursuing the criminal. He says he will be able to show that he is one of the desperadoes who held up and robbed John Cleman and Fred Booker, of this city, on a freight train, between here and Ellensburg, last Spring.

Green-Goods Operator Convicted. ALBANY, Or., Nov. L-Word has just cen received here that J. R. Milby bas been sentenced to the penitentiary by the United States Court in Kentucky for a term of one year, on testimony recently given upon the trial of his case at Louis-ville. While Mr. Stites was Postmaster he received a green-goods letter from Milby, which he turned over to the postal authorities, resulting as stated.

Redy of Man Found in Columbia. ASTORIA, Nov. 5.—The body of a man was found by the Point Adams Lafe-Saving orew floating in the river near New Astoria this evening. The remains are supposed to be those of Harry Steindorff, of Napa, Cal., who fell overboard from the steamer Balley-Gatzert on Octo-ber 30. Coroner Pohl left this evening to take charge of the body.

VOICE OF THE STATE PRESS.

It does not sound well for Demo-Popu lists to accuse the Republican speakers of being untrothful, in the light of Bry-an's prophecies of 1826—Enterprise Chief-

He says that Hermann was out on official business while making tump speeches. So he played official in order to make the Government not only pay him his salary while campaigning, but his other expenses per-sonal expenses. The commissioner is a financier whom McKinley needs in the Treasury Department. It is hardly necessary for Hermann to be in Oregon two months to visit six land offices. But the people paid his expenses.-Portland Disis a returned volunteer. Both speakers.

Mr. Bryan discovers a new cause of campaign. At his first appearance in National politics he claimed the country was in danger of ruin from the tariff, and could be saved only by free-trade policy. After experiencing a thumping defeat on this issue, he discovered four years later this issue, he discovered four years later that the gold standard was the cause of all our woes, and relief could be had only from free silver. Beginning this campaign, he dropped both free frade and free silver and insisted upon imperialism as the paramount issue. Now he dodgen over to trusts—Baker City Herald.

LOWER COURT REVERSED. Supreme Court Decides Cases From

Lane County. SALEM, Or., Nov. & - The Supreme Court today handed down a decision in the action of Frederick Rostein, respondent, vs. Jacob R. Park, appellant. The case was appealed from Lane County, J. C. Fullerton, Judge. The indings of the lower court are reversed, Judge Moore rendering the decision.

"This is a suit to set aside a deed of the local state. It alleged in the composite.

real estate. It is alleged in the complaint that on March 5, 1897, plaintiff was the owner of certain land in Lane County. Oregon; that on said day the defendant demanded of her a deed to said premises, and upon refusal to comply therewith, he and his attorney induced respondent and bushed to real a stronger's office. husband to go to said attorney's office, where they falsely accused the woman of swindling defendant and of violating the criminal statutes. She expressed a desire to consult an attorney, but they rafused to permit her to do so, and de-manded that also immediately execute a deed, and again upon refusing to yield to the demand, defendant's attorney, who was then a Justice of the Peace, fraudulently pretending to write a oriminal information, informed the woman that unmediately arrested as a swindler, which threat caused her to sign said deed against her will. That the same was not read to her, and that she did not know the contents thereof, until she saw the same on record in said county; that she never acknowledged that she executed said deed freely or voluntarily."

"The cause was referred, and from the testimony taken and reported by the referee the court found, in effect, that the language used by defendant's attorney could have been, and probably was, con-struct by plaintiff as a threat that she would be prosecuted in a criminal action if she persisted in her refusal to execute said dwaf, which was decreed canceled, and defendant appealed."

The opinion of the Supreme Court says in part: "The evidence shows that on February 5, 1897, defendant was the owner of certain real property, described in the apinint, but, having agreed with L. Rostein, plaintiff's husband, to exchange said premises for land in Eldorado County, California, which was represented to be owned in fee, he and his wife executed a warranty deed for said land in Lene County, Or. The defendant, March 6, 1807, procured an abstract of the land in California, which showed the tract to be a part of the public domain. Rostein, December 18, 1885, secured a deed purperting to convey an undivided one-half interest in a placer claim located thereon, but that by failure to improve the premses, they were, on December 3, 1896, relocated as a placer claim by other parties, who performed the necessary assessment work to hold the claim for their use. Defendant informed Rostein of the condition of the title to said land, tendered him a quit-ciaim deed thereof, and demanded a deed of the premises which he conveyed for 11 to the land in California, replied that be its first and his wife would adjust the matter, children Later they signed the deed, accepted defendant's quit-claim deed to Rostein for the California lands.

After the deed was signed plaintiff was asked by a Notary Public if she acknowlodged that she executed the same freely and voluntarily, and replied 'yes.' 'The plaintiff and her husoand testified that the deed was never read to them, and that they did not know the contents thereof at the time they signed it. Their testimony in this respect was denied by several witnesses.

"Duress by threats of imprisonment must be such as to excite in the mind of the person who claims that his act was unlawfully superinduced thereby, a reasonable fear of immediate imprise Tested by this rule, we do not think the plaintiff's mind was influenced to such an extent by Wheeler's threat of immediate imprisonment as to deprive her of the free exercise of her will power, thereby compelling her, through fear, superin-duced by such threats, to execute the deed. True, if attorney pretended to be writing a criminal information, and stated that she would be arrested as soon as it was finished, and she knew he was a Juswas inished, and she snew he wa 66% tice of the Peace; yet the testimo not disclose that she was aware he was writing, which, if intended as an information against her, was not entitled in his court. The plaintiff having been advised not to make the deed, and informed by an atterney-at-law, whom she consulted on the subject, that she could not be arrested because of her refusal to do my think she arcecuted the deed. to do so, we think she executed the deed at the earnest solicitations of her hus-band, who, from the time he was informed that no title to the California lands passed by his deed, tried to persuade her to reconvey the Lane County land back to de-fendant, and it was in pursuance of such entreaty on her husband's part that she compiled with his request, and not in consequence of any threats made by Wheeler. These considerations compel us to reverse the decree and dismiss the
