Secretary Gage's Lecture at Columhin University Law School.

WARHINGTON, Nov. 16.-Secretary Gage tonight delivered an academic lecture before the Columbian University Law School, on the topic, "Some Further Thoughts on Banking and Currency." He said:

"Is any change in our currency system
"Is any change in our currency system at all probable or even possible no mat-ter how much to be desired? No immediate change is at all probable, but, look-ing forward to the period of your own business future, some change in our system seems to be insvitable. In the first place, in the absence of extraordinary expenditures for war, the present out-standing public debt ought to be largely reduced or wholly paid. As this eventu-ates, the new required form of security for bank note issues will be lacking, and modification in our present law will be recessary. Again, if I may express that direct opinion, it will come to be perceived as time passes that the Govern-ment is not and cannot be well prepared to deal with a large mass of foating debt payable on demand. The obligation to maintain parity between our nearly $500,000,000 of silver money and gold adds to the complications, and the lawmikers representing the people will be glad to ninish the present great responsibil-

FUTURE OF BANKING SYSTEM SENATOR DAVIS' CONDITION Only Slight Improvement Reported

by Physicians Last Night.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 15.-The new feature in the case of Senator Davis is the slight delirium on first awakening. This indicates the mental as well as physical strain under which the patient is suffering, and is one of the stages of the hidney trouble which is now the most serious difficulty with which the Senator has to contend. The immediate family is prepared for the worst outcome, al-though hopeful of a possible turn for the better. Mrs. Davis now someely leaves her husband's bedside, save for a few hours of sleep. Messages conveying hope for the Senator's speedy recovery have been received from Senator Hanna and Secretary of State Hay. At $:30 o'clock tonight the following bulletin was insued by Senator Davis physicians:

"The Senator has had a comfortable day and is resting easily. His temperature is 100 and pulse 110. An examination made tonight shows a slight improvement in the inflammation of the kidneys."

No Obstacles to Prevent Building of Nicaragua Canal.

sions Disposed Of and Border Misunderstandings Settled-Mininter Coren's Statement.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The Minister from Nicaragua, Senor Don Luis Corea, arrived in Washington this morning after an absence of four months in Nicaragua turing which time he conferred with President Zelaya and the members of the abinet concerning Nicaragua Canal affairs and other subjects of interest to the two countries. He says that by a happy combination of circumstances the way is now clear of private concessions and border misunderstandings, so that direct governmental consideration may be taken up. Senor Corea also brings word that he has just signed, at Mexico City, acting as Minister for Nicaragua, the first reaty between Mexico and Nicaragus for amity, commerce and navigation, cover-ing 14 articles, and firmly uniting the bonds between the two countries.

When seen at the Micaraguan legation today and asked as to Nicaragua Canal affairs, Mr. Corea said:

"I spent some time in conference with the President and members of the Cab-inet at Managua, and I am happy to say that President Zelaya and his associates, and, in fact, the whole country, are en-thusiastic over the future of the great waterway. They are awalting with interest the developments at Washington, and are hopeful and confident that Congress will pass the bill authorising the opening of negotiations with the courtries interested in the canal, and actual beginning of the important work of construction. In that connection, I have the necessary instructions to facilitate in every way the co-operation between the governments. It can be said generally that Nicaragua stands ready to do her full share in carrying forward this great project. Our President, Mr. Zeisya, is a very progressive man, and is enthusiastic in his promotion of all measures contributing to the heads? of all measures contributing to the benefit of his country and of general commerce and he is surrounded by strong and influ ential advisers, all inspired by the same progressive spirit. All of them see in the canal work the great development of Cen-tral America and a beautiful contribution to the world's progress, and they will do everything in their power and in the dig-nity of the republic to see that the work

When asked as to the nature of his instructions, Mr. Coron said it was inexpedient to discuss them in detail, but it could be said they were sufficient to meet con-ditions as they might arise in connection with the progress of the canal affairs in this country and co-operate in such new treaty relations as hight become desir-

July 24 there was celebrated the settlement of the boundary dispute, which has been for years the cause of misunderstanding. President Zelaya is anxious to sustain at any cost the peace of Cen-tral America, and, as far as I know, President Iglesias, of Costa Rica, is animated by the same purpose. I feel assured that peace cannot be interrupted between any of the Central American states, at least among these two, which have such mu-tual interests. This means much, not only for the canal, but for the permanent tranquillity of Central America."

Concerning the Eyre-Cragin canal concossion, Mr. Corea said the Nicaraguan Government had declared officially that this concession was nullified, in connec-tion with the provisions of the contract. The old concession, he said, had ceaseds to attract attention "So that," he added, in conclusion, "I am happy to say Nicaragua is free to negotiate with any one ready concerning the canal, and especially the Government of the United States."

Mr. Cores called at the State Department and paid his respects to Secretary Hay, in particular expressing his pleasure at the announcement that President Mc-Kinley had invited his Cabinet associates to remain with him for another four Daughter of the New York Banker Married Yesterday.

YORK, Nov. 15.-Miss Louise Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan, was married at 3:30 o'clock this atternoon in St. George's Church, Stuyvesant Square, to Herbert Livingston Satterlee, a lawyer of this city. The invitations for the ceremony numbered 2000, much beyond the seating capacity of the church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Rainsford, rector of St. George's Church. The service was chiefly choral. The musical programme was opened half an hour before the ceremony, with Meyerbeer's "Coronation March," and included the "Meornation March," nation March," and included the "Moorish Serenade," by Jones; Jensen's "Bridal Song," selections from "Mignon," the march from "Tannhauser," and selections from "Romeo and Juliet."

Evidence Contained in Ancient Records Uncarthed in Pekin.

MONTERET, Mex., Nov. 15.—The report that American officers have unearthed ancient records in Pekin showing that the Chinese discovered America, 150 years ago, and erected temples in Mexico, has aroused the greatest interest among the scientific men of Monterey and throughout this country. The Chinese temples alluded to are in the State of Sonora, on the Pacific Coast. The ruin of one of the temples was discovered near the town of Ures, in that state, about two years ago, One of the large stone tablets found in the ruins was covered with carved Chinese characters, which were partly deciphered by a learned Chinaman who visited the ruins at the request of the Mexican Government. This Chinaman made the assertion at the time that the ruins were those of a temple which had been erected many centuries ago by Chinese, but his statement was not received with credence.

BRITISH SHIP CROMARTYSHIRE.

The British ship Cromartyshire, which arrived in Portland harbor yesterday, under charter to Herr. Gifford & Co., about two years ago was the innocent cause of the greatest marine disaster of recent times. On July 4, 1894, while nearing the Newfoundland Coast on a voyage from Giasgow in ballast for New York, she was struck by the French liner La Bourgogna. The steamer sustained injuries from which she sank almost immediately, and 502 people out of about 700 on board lest their lives. The cowardly action of the crew of the French liner added a feature of horror to the wreck which is sediom chronicled in similar disasters. This feature was alluded to by the Associated Press dispatches at the time of the disaster in the following words:

'The last few minutes on board the La Bourgogne witnessed some of the most terrible scenes of horror and crushty that have blotted the history of a civilized race. Instead of the health disaster is a first line of the disaster of the property of a civilized race.

"The last few minutes on board the La Hourgogne witnessed some of the most terrible scenes of horror and growing has new to the history of a civilized race. Instead of the heroic discipline which so often has been the one bright feature of such awful moments, the crew of the steamer fought like demons for the two lifeboats and ratts, battering the helpiese passengers away from their only means of salvation, with the result that the strong overcame the weak, for the list of 163 saved contains the name of but one woman."

The Cromartyshire picked up about 100 people, and in a hally crippled condition was to wed into Halifax for repairs.

committee of Tammany Hall held a meeting, at which Richard Croker bade all the leaders good-bys, and started a movement to rid the city of vice. In a little speech the Tammany leader said he was going to Europe for health, not pleasure, and introduced Isidore Straus, president of the Educational Alilance, as a man who was acquainted with the condition of things on the East Side, adding:

'T hope you will give attentive hearing to his statements of the concitions of vice that exist there, and that after you the university for seven years. Several

"I hope you will give attentive hearing to his statements of the concitions of vice that exist there, and that after you have heard what he has to say you will use your every effort to occreet those evils, as far as lies in your power."

Mr. Straus said he had met Mr. Croker at dinner accidentally, and had talked with him for two hours over the condition on the East Side, and Mr. Croker had asked him to talk to the executive tion on the East Side, and Mr. Croker had asked him to talk to the executive committee of Tammany Hall. Then, addressing the committee, Mr. Straus told of what was needed on the East Side to suppress crime. He said that he, as a Democrat, had frequently had cast up to him the statement that Tammany Hall receives a greater part of its revenues from people in these evil conditions of the and no good can be accomplished. nim the statement that Tammany Hall receives a greater part of its revenues from people in these evil conditions of life, and no good can be accomplished until the power of Tammany Hall is destroyed. I hope that this entire committee will give its full strength towards helping him and his work. We should heartly indorse his remarks and aid him in the work of crushing out this awful crime. And right here I want to reiterate what I said three weeks ago to you, and that is that not one dollar comes into my possession from landlords of poolrooms and houses of ill fame, and if any of you gentlemen are collecting for any of these people, you had better get out of the organization. It has no use for you. You are a disgrace to it. The organization can't and won't stand for any such thing." The meeting broke up in confusion be-cause of the attitude of Coroner Fitz-patrick, the Tammany leader in the Fourteenth Assembly District, who denied that there were any disreputable houses in his district. He said that if there was vice there it was in teneme and could not be controlled. To this Mr. Croker excitedly replied that the Coroner did not know what could be done until some effort could be made.

FIGHT FOR AN ALLOWANCE Mrs. Crede's Case Against the Million-Dollar Estate.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 18 -- Mrs. Crede's fight for a family allowance of 155 from the $1,000,000 estate of the late N. C. Crede was continued in Judge Shaw's court today. Evidence was intro-duced tending to show that when the wife signed an agreement of separation and took $30,000 to leave home six months prior to Crede's death, in July, 1937, she was so excited that she hardly knew

The interests to been uttered by me. The interests to which the reporter meant to refer were interests in economic science, Upon being shown Dr. Jordan's state-ment, Dr. Ross dictated the following: "Dr. Jordan knows vastly more than I do as to Mrs. Stanford's motives, and whatever he says is conclusive as far as I am concerned. In my original statement, which was carefully prepared and is strictly correct. I said I have long been aware that my every appearance in pub-ils drew upon me the hostile mention of certain powerful persons and interests in San Francisco, and redoubled their ef-forts to be rid of ms. I stated this lest it should be supposed I did not realize the risks I ran. If, as Dr. Jordan says, it was not this pressure, but other mo-tives that influenced Mrs. Stanford, I am glad to know it. It is absolutely certain, however, that the freedom of speech is involved, not in my appearance, person-ality or character, but solely my non-partisan scientific utterances have been the root of Mrs. Stanford's distrust of me."

Supplementing his former utterances upon the subject of Professor Ross' dismissal, Dr. Howard today addressed his class in history upon the matter, and his address forms the most sensational statement that has yet been delivered in the Ross controversy. The entire hour of the class was given up to the discussion of class was given up to the discussion of "free speech." Dr. Howard arraigned the influences that brought the dismissal of the professor. He concluded his speech with this sensational utterance: "I do not bow down to Baint Market street. I do not doff my hat to the Six Companies; neither am I afraid of the Standard Oil."
