THE MORNING OREGONIAN, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1900.

There was a decrease in the American, visible yesterday, but as it still lingers above 60.000,000 bushels, not much strength could be extracted from that source. World's shipments were larger, and there was an increase in the quantilies on pass-age. In the local market there was not much doing. Exporters were inclined to reduce their bids, and some of them were quoting 53% cents as an outside figure, although others were still venturing 54 cents. Freights are fairly steady, but inactive, very little new business being taken on so long as the market is in its present unsatisfactory shape. Wheat-Walia Walia, 504954c; Valley, well cleaned up on poultry last week, and the outlook for prices is much more favorable during the coming week. The egg market has apparently paused in its decline, and is resting easy at 30 cents, although some dealers intimate that prices might be shaded on round lots. Other lines of produce remain steady at quo-

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Results for the Day Showed More Gains Than Losses.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.-The effect of the doubtful outlook in the money market was clear today in the small volume of busi-ness in stocks. The money market showed no sign of stringency, and no liquidation was precipitated. In fact the buying overbore the selling, and there are more net gains than losses as a result of the anticipated. Even in the American depart-ment, which has been active recently, activity is wanted. Dullness is hardly varied at all, except in the preferred stocks of Eric, which were in demand. Meney, Exchange, Etc.

THE METAL MARKETS.

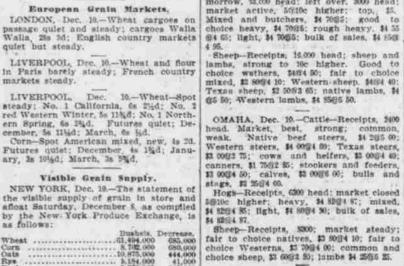

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.-The market for metals, as a whole, was small. The trad-ing was of a hand-to-mouth character, with the general undertone rather easy. Lake copper was dull and unchanged. Thn, though exhibiting a firm undertone, ruled dull, and was nominally quoted at the close at $27.69(25, while the London market remorted a rise of $1.56 choice the close at MT 60625, while the London market reported a rise of 21 5s, closing at 5122, and firm in tons. Spelter ruled quiet and about steady at old prices, de-spite a loss of 2s 5d to 215 lis abroad. Lead dtil, closing at 34 375, fron in Eng-land touched the lowest basis since April, 1899, scoring another loss of 2s 6d at Glas-gow to 698, and 1s 5d at Middlesboro to Ss 6d. Domestic fron markets, however, remain extremely quiet, without any ma-terial change, except a loss of 25 points in Bessemer pig fron at Pittaburg. FEVERISH COTTON MARKET.

Terrific Selling Movement and Variation of Fifty Points in Prices. riation of Fifty Points in Prices. NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—11 has been many months since fluctuations on the New York Cotton Exchange have reached 50 points and since speculation has equaled that recorded today. From open-ing to closing, the session was one of great interest. The market opened peace-ably enough, with prices 3 points higher to 5 points lower, easier in tone. A pause for bearings, and then a drop of some 10
