NEGROES CONVICTED OF VAGRANCE.— Seventeen colored denizens of the North End had a hearing yesterday before Municipal Judge Cameron, charged with wagrancy and being persons who have no visible means of support. Six prisoners had witnesses, who testified that the accused "worked every day." "At what trade?" was asked. "Dunno, sah," was the answer. One witness insisted that the policemen who had made the raid had only appeared in the North End at nights, and therefore could not have seen the accused working in the day time, "when all people worked." The Judge intimated that some people he knew worked their hardest at night, but he discharged the six prisoners, with a warning. Out of the remaining 11 prisoners, one was fined $5, and the other 10 were each sent to jail for a short term. Addressing the 10, the Judge said: "If during your in-carceration you can show that you really worked at a trade or occupation, or if you consent to leave town, your case may be

POLICEMEN TO SUE FOR SALARIES.— Chief of Police McLauchian said yester-Chief of Police McLauchian said yester-day that a petition had been prepared for signature by the members of the Police Department, authorising suit to be brought against the city to recover the salaries due them, for the months of Oc-tober and November. The amount in-volved is about $10,000. Speaking of the petition, the Chief said: "Only three per-sons have signed the petition so far. I have signed it, and two others. No pahave signed it, and two others. No patroiman, has signed it yet." "Have you a lawyer engaged?" was asked. The Chief repiled in the negative, but added that they would have, of course, to engage a lawyer to bring the case into court. The claims had been assigned to Police Serwent Moore its whom never the court. Police Sergeant Moore, in whose the action will be brought in the police-

SYMPHONY CONCRET.—Tomorrow evening at the Marquam Grand will be given the first of the series of concerts by the Portland Symphony Orchestra, assisted by Miss Mary Alverta Morse as solder. Miss Mary Alverta Morse, as soloist; Miss Morse possesses a well-trained, full and resonant mezzo soprano volce, and a and resonant meszo soprane voice, and a treat is in store for the patrons of the concert in her rendition of "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," from Saint Saens, "Samson and Deliah." The orchestral numbers have been carefully selected with a due regard for the light and sparkling as well as a touch of the serious. Altogether the programme is a very interesting one and merits the liberal patronage of lovers of music. The very moderate scale of prices places it within the means of the lightest purse to obtain a good seat.

WANTS TO INVEST HERE.-C. E. Worden, a Helena, Mont., mining man, who has recently sold his interests there, is looking over Portland with a view to investing in real estate. At the Perkins last evening, Mr. Worden said: "Portland stands high in Montans as a wealthy, conservative city, where investments can be made in real estate without risk. to-do miners and stockmen look forward to the time when they can retire and come to Portland to school their children and enjoy the lovely Summers and haimy Winters." ANTON SCHOTT'S LECTURE-RECITALS.— The programme for the sixth concert of the series, this evening, at the Armory of Bishop Scott Academy, will be composed entirely of the works of Schubert, the great song-writer. Some of his most beautiful songs, which are also the least known, will be introduced for the first time to a Portland audience, and as this is the only Schubert evening which Anton Schott intends to give this scalson, they are not likely to be heard again for some time to come. Herr Schott will be some time to come. Herr Schott will be are legath and Lucien Vannod.

Light Bags.—Duck hunters did not find sport so good as usual on Sunday. Owing to the moon being near the full, the ducks had been feeding at night, and when scared out of the lakes Sunday morning were in no hurry to come back. The bags made were generally light. A fine deer was seen over on the Columbia bottom. was seen over on the Columbia Bottom, which, it was supposed, had been chased on the Washington side of the Columbia and had swum across the river to escape its pursuers. PATCHING WASHINGTON STREET.—The aspealt pavement on Washington street is being patched up in good shape, notwithstanding the dump weather, which has heretofore been considered unfavorable for the work. The business portion of Washington street carries an enormous traffic, and holes are soon worn in the asphalt at the points where wagons are compelled to turn out of the car tracks.

The company has commenced the work of relaying the Mount Tabor track from Rosedale Station to the west end of the line, replacing the 20-pound rails with 60-pound rails. By the time this job is completed the 7-inch time this job is compassed the 7-inch girder rails, weighing & pounds to the yard, for the line from First and Burnside streets up Flanders street and down Seventh to the central railway station will have arrived, and the route will be graded so that tracklaying can be commenced at once.

LABORERS MORE PLENTIPUL -For the first time in two years there are more laboring men than jobs in Portland. The employment agencies explain this by say-ing that the scare of the Presidential campaign has not yet fully subsided, and the days are short and Winter closing in, very little new work is being carried on Last Fall several railroad and irrigation canal schemes were called off to await the result of the election. and, although the work will be resumed as soon as the weather permits, the pro-jectors are in no hurry to begin just now, A strong feeling of confidence is noticeable in business circles, and when once work does start up, the demand for men will exceed the supply.

BIG CHRISTMAS TRADE.-Holiday trading seems to have begun earlier than usual this year in Portland and most of the retail stores which handle goods that make acceptable gifts are employing that make acceptable gifts are employing extra help. A reporter who was detailed to interview business men on Morrison and Washington streets yesterday, found them all so busy that he had to talk to them while they were waiting on customers, or not at all. The holiday rush has by no means begun, however, as most people put off buying presents until Christmasweek has almost arrived.

To BUILD MORE RAFTS.-H. R. Robertson, of the Robertson Raft Company, is at the Portland. He says his company will proceed to construct rafts both at Stella and on Puget Sound, notwithstanding the attempt to legislate the business out of existence. The making of these rafts will employ quite a number of men for several months, and cause the distribution of many thousands of dollars on the Lower Columbia and on the Sound. The climate of Utah and Colorado is temperate the year round, and clear skies and sunlit days are as proverbial in Winter as in Summer. The mean annual temperature in Salt Lake City or Denver is about $5$ degrees, and the average annual precipitation 14.71 inches. With such inconsequential precipitation there can be little or no trouble from snow in the districts traversed by the Rio Grande Western Railway, and its immediate connections—the Colorado Midland or Denver & Rio Grande Railroads.
