LOCAL WRESTLER BEATEN

WILEY, OF NEW YORK, BEATS E. C. JOHNSON.

O'Connor Wins From De France—Lively and Exciting Matches at Multnomah Club.

Max Wiley, of New York, amateur champion wrestler of the United States in light weight, well known and middle weight, defeated Ed Johnson, of Portland, the middle-weight representative of Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club at the club gymnasium last night in two straight falls in catch-as-catch-can style. The opening bout was between Vic O'Connor and Alex De France for the light-weight championship of the club, and in this O'Connor was the victor in two bouts out of three.

About 500 enthusiastic spectators were present, and heartily applauded Wiley's clever work, not forgetting to cheer on the game Johnson. Wiley weighed 135 pounds, and Johnson 155. The champion is a short, stocky, muscular chap, while the local man is tall and of the long, muscular sort. By mutual agreement between the contestants before the match the struggle hold, the full nelson, was barred. From the outset Wiley was on the aggressive, getting Johnson to the mat in short order. Johnson was on the alert, and gave his opponent no openings, using his weight and length to such good advantage that all Wiley's maneuvers came to naught. For 30 minutes the struggle lasted, and at no time was either man in danger of being thrown. By the terms of the match, if neither man had been thrown in 30 minutes wrestling the referee should decide. Referee Smith accordingly gave the decision to Wiley for aggressive work throughout, though no fall had been won.

In the second bout Johnson tried all manner of means to get the smaller man to form a bridge but the New Yorker was too quick for his less experienced opponent, and repetition of the first bout. After about eight minutes of good work Wiley secured a halfrope and gradually bore Johnson's shoulders to the mat.

After the contest, the champion was profuse in his praise of the sturdy and ready work put up by Johnson and confidently stated that Multnomah has a coming champion in his class.

De France, in the preliminary match, was on the aggressive almost throughout. It was a fast go from the start. O'Connor was watchful, however, and after 10 minutes of wrestling, while both boys were on their feet, O'Connor got De France's arm in jeopardy, gave him a swinging cross-buttock over his shoulder and both De France's shoulders were on the mat, resulting in a first fall for O'Connor. De France avenged up matters in the second in 54 seconds as he secured a fall the first time O'Connor went to the mat. De France in the third bout was again on the aggressive. For eight minutes he had O'Connor on the mat, but the latter by a quick reversal of affairs rolled Alex over and won the match.

far, with the exception of McMillan, received any injury which will hinder play on Saturday. The punting will be attended to by Keegan and Downs. The latter in the Thanksgiving game distinguished himself in this department, and established an enviable record as a sure all-around player of the Joe Smith order.

In weight and size it is said that the two teams are very evenly matched. Both have had the advantage of experienced coaches, and while Salem has not played as many games this season yet the players have had more practice try-outs than the local eleven.

The visitors will be accompanied by a big band of enthusiastic rooters and friends, who will lend all the aid that lung power can furnish.

DEATH OF F. L. KEERNAN.

Well-Known Lawyer Succumbs to a Severe Illness.

Frederick Larkin Keenan, a Portland lawyer, died yesterday forenoon at his home in the Labbe building, at 10 o'clock, after a long illness. He had been home from the hospital for one month, and while there improved at intervals, but relapses always followed, and there was little hope of his recovery. Mr. Keenan's first sickness dates from last April, while at the seaside. After partial recovery he went to Nome on the first trip of the Elder, and while there he was taken sick. In August last he returned home very feeble, and went to the hospital, where he underwent two severe surgical operations, which seemed to give relief. He was able to leave the hospital a month ago and to go to his home.

Mr. Keenan was born in Illinois 34 years ago, and came to Oregon in 1871 with his parents, who first lived at Millwaukie and afterward in East Portland. He studied law under Colonel S. B. Harrington, was admitted to practice, and had been an active attorney for the past 19 years. While Judge Calkins was City Attorney Mr. Keenan was his chief deputy, and served with credit, handling many important cases. A wife and one daughter survive him. He was a member of Washington Lodge, No. 46, A. F. & A. M., Washington Chapter, No. 15, R. A. M., and Washington Council, No. 2, R. & S. M., and also of Multnomah Camp, No. 77, Woodmen of the World. The funeral will take place Sunday at 3 P. M. from St. David's Episcopal Church, East Morrison and East Twelfth streets, and will be under the auspices of the Masonic order. Lone Elm cemetery will be the place of interment.

TOMORROW'S FOOTBALL GAME

Contention Over Naming the Empire and the Referee.

There is looming up as a sort of curtain-raiser to the big game between Salem and Multnomah tomorrow a first-class row over the personnel of the officials who are to supervise the game.

About every local sportsman that can be named is accused by one side or the other of being in a dark and dangerous conspiracy to down somebody. Who the somebody is or what object he has in doing it isn't explained, but he is crossed off just the same. About the only thing that can be done is to select two rank outsiders or go to the other extreme and name the officials from among the players and coaches, as was the case in the Thanksgiving game.

The make-up of the Salemites is as yet a mystery. No roster has been given out, and no estimate as to a line-up can be made. There are quite a number of ex-collegians who have had college football experience living in the up-Valley towns within easy communication with Salem, and who might be pressed into service. Captain Pratt has given out that the Multnomah team will remain substantially as in the last contest. The team is in fine physical shape, and no one has so

WRITING UP PORTLAND.

Eastern Newspaper Men Say Good About This Commercial Center.

A party of traveling newspaper men from the far East are in town. They are representatives of the Great Eastern Newspaper League, and are traveling in their own private hotel car, which was bought outright from the Pullman Company for the purposes of the tour, which is to afford people of the East accurate information regarding industrial, commercial and financial conditions of the entire country west of the Mississippi. A. F. King, the general manager of the league, speaking of the work in hand, said:

"Our car has already covered on this tour a distance of about 25,000 miles, and west of the Rockies we have visited Seattle, Tacoma and other principal points in Washington, Idaho and Eastern Oregon. The whole tour is unprecedented in newspaper annals, and is a journalistic enterprise of a much greater magnitude than anything of an all similar nature ever attempted. I personally have crossed the continent twice in the private car since it began. The article to be written about Portland and published simultaneously, that is, on the same date, in the New York Sun, Philadelphia Times, Baltimore Herald and Boston Journal will tell what your city is and what opportunities exist here for Eastern emigrants, capital and trade.

The theme of the articles written by our correspondents for the four great newspapers, and they are among the greatest in the world, comprising the league, is the progress of material and social development in the section that to me seems destined to eventually contain the bulk of the wealth and population of the great American Republic. We came here to write about its trade and manufactures. We found it a great commercial center, a great field for manufacturing and a great port, and the more we see of it the more we realize that it is a great subject for the ablest pen. We intend to leave for San Francisco on Saturday next, but have been urged to remain longer and personally desire to do so. Every member of our party is very much pleased with this city. We have seen so many 'boom' towns that it is refreshing to visit such a rich, prosperous and substantial community. It looks to our eyes like a solid Eastern city, which has been imbued with all the energy, breadth and progressiveness of a typical Western town."

A WINTER ROUTE TO THE EAST.

The climate of Utah and Colorado is temperate the year round, and clear skies and sunlit days are as proverbial in Winter as in Summer. The mean annual temperature in Salt Lake City or Denver is about 55 degrees, and the average annual precipitation 14.7 inches. With such inconsequential precipitation there can be little or no trouble from snow in the districts traversed by the Rio Grande Western Railway, and its immediate connections—the Colorado Midland or Denver & Rio Grande Railroads.

In fact Winter adds but new grandeur and charm to the travel scenes, and infuses an element of variety and beauty to the unmeasured wonders of nature along the Great Salt Lake Route. Tickets at all points East may be obtained at 23 Washington street.
