WILLING NOW TO KEEP PEACE, SAYS EARL LL.

Foreign Troops in Pekin Are Prepared for the Winter-Von Ketteler's Assassin Executed. eign Ministers will be held as soon as Sir

Ernest Mason Satow, the British Minister, who is suffering from chilis and fever, shall have recovered sufficiently to be present, and a date and place for meeting the Chinese commissioners shall have been agreed upon. A representative of the Associated Press today had a personal interview with IA Hung Chang, who shows plainly physical evidence of his recent illness, but whose mind has not been affected by his sickness, and is as vigorous as ever. In the course of his conversation with the orrespondent, Earl Li said he should pre-willing to punish all those named by the powers by banishment to the farthest part of his dominions, on the northwest frontier, and their return, he declared, will be prohibited under penalty of death. His Majesty is anxious also to have the number of legation guards limited, and that other boundaries be specified; and he hopes the foreign armies will be recalled as early as possible in the Spring.

China will endeavor, said Earl Li, by every means in her power, to prove that she intends compliance with the demand contained in the note, and to show her desire to make the country safe and hab-itable for foreigners. He believes the powers will not insist upon the total destruction of the forts.

WINTER IN PERIN. Troops Well Prepared for the Cold

Segmon. PEKIN, Nov. 12.-Cold weather has fairly set in and the allied forces are begin-ning to feel the first touches of the rigor-ous North China Winter. A superb Aushould order a cessation of the frequent and north have been commandeered by in the American and Japanese sections. It will be quite possible now, he said, to maintain complete order in the province, with the assistance of a small less, two-wheeled concerns, drawn by number of Chinese troops; and he hopes the powers will agree to keep as at pres-has easily proved itself the superior of any system in use in China.

Over in the Temple of Agriculture, in the extreme southern portion of Pekin, where the American contingent is located, and now known officially as Camp Reilly, preparations for the Winter are now well under way. Cavalry stables are nearing completion. The camp is prepared for any weather, with well-banked tents and stoves, and the first of the cold weather finds the men very comfortable. The fearful wind and dust storms are the greatest source of discomfort, and when at their height, it is practically impossible to go out of doors. hes inches deep in this dry climate, is driven in blinding, suffcoating clouds, to which even the best of tents and closest of houses are not impervious. On the whole, the American troops though liv-ing under canvas, are as comfortable as can be expected in the service.

The coal supply is still a grave Camel teams are bringing in fuel from the western hills, but the quantity is not sufficient for the extended period of the course of his conversation with the correspondent, Earl Li said he should prefer to meet the Ministers and commissioners at his house, if such an arrangement were possible, on account of the condition of his health, but would not, in the circumstances, make suggestions. He says also that the Emperor is desirous of complying in all perticulars with the demands of the powers.

It is proposed to divide the shops and business places into three classes with a small graded taxation. The revenue thus derived and that arising from the Provost Marshal's fines will be used for the pay of native patrols and relief of the suffering poor. Cavalry and infantry patrols will be continued, but the scheme will not only relieve the soldiers of much arduous duty, but greatly aid in keeping order and suppressing optum and gambling dens. Fekin as a whole is orderly and quiet. The city is well patrolled and policed, and little rowdyism or lawlessness occurs. Every effort is being made to make it sanitary and the natives are fined if fifth or refus is allowed to accumulate on their pren The narrow alleys are daily spected in the American section, and are now clean and well swept.

Satisfaction in Russia. ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 1 .- The news that China has acceded to the demands of the powers is received joyfully in all cir-cles, official and unofficial, here. The which had steadily prophesied that probably find its tongue temorrow.

PBKIN, Jan. 1.—The advent of the new year and the new century was celebrated to discover whether the city had been attacked or whether it was a Boxer rising. General Chaffee held his reception in the morning, and Mr. Conger in the afternoon. A feature which caused considerable comment was a review of the British troops in honor of Queen Victoria, and of the Australian federation, to which all the nations were invited to send representatives. The French were conspicuous by their absence, not a Frenchman being present at the review.

TRADE OF EX-PRESIDENTS. Harrison's Solution of the Newspaper Problem.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 1.—Ex-President Harrison, speaking to the toast, "Hall Columbia," at the banquet on the dedication of the new Columbia Club,

"I estimate the governing faculty to be God's great gift to the Anglo-Saxon, and in the Constitution of the United States, with its division of powers, limitations upon the governing departments, and its sublime reservations in the interests of individual liberty. I see the highest achievement of that most rare faculty. "I have no argument to make here or anywhere against territorial expansion; but I do not as some do, look to expan-sion as the safest or most attractive avenue of national development. By the advantages ρf abundant and cheap coal advantages of advantant and cheep cost and iron, of an enormous surplus or food products and of invention and economy in production, we are leading by a nose the original and the greatest of colonising nations. Australia and New Zealand send of a better, cheaper product. The Cen-tral and South American states, assured of our purpose not only to respect but to defend their autonomy, and finding the peace or social order which a closer and larger commercial intercourse with the tions and its reservation of personal rights world will bring, offer to our commerce a field the full development of which will and to all people who owe allegiance to realize the eldorado. "The decapitation of the ex-president when the oath of office has been admin-latered to his successor will greatly vivify

a somewhat tiresome ceremony; and we may some time solve the newspaper prob-lem what to do with our ex-Presidents in that conclusive way. Until then I hope an ex-President may be permitted to live somewhere midway between the house of the gossip and the crypt of the mum-my. He will know, in an especial way, how to show the highest honor to the presidential office and the most courteous deference to the President on great ques tions, however, and especially on ques-tions of constitutional law you must give an ex-President his freedem or the ax-and it is too late to give me the sx.

"Any Democratic friends who may share our hospitality on this occasion will parson me for saying to any of them who has cast beguiling looks toward me that the Democratic party has never been less attractive than now. No plan of reorganization suggests itself to me except that suggested by a waggish lieutenant of my regiment to a captain whose platoons were inverted. He said: 'Captain, if I were in your place I would break ranks and have an orderly call the roll.'

"It has been recently said that our fathers organized a misshapen Nation, if these limitations and reservations apply to all lands that become a part of our to all lands that become a part of our public domain and to all people whose al-legiance we accept. Now, whatever the professors of esthetics may tell us about nations. Australia and New Zealand send beauty in the abstract, we know that in nature and in mechanics and in formative Great Britain cannot hold the trade of statecraft shape has chiefly to do with an her colonies against American offerings intended use. That which perfectly accomplishes the designed use is not misshapen. before we condemn our Constitution as misshapen if it carries its general lin the Government it organizes, we must assume that the men of 1776 and of 1787 contemplated the governing of lands and peoples with that absolutism against which with so much cost and care they had defended themselves. the question. But it is not my purpose to press upon you my views upon this great Constitutional question. Though many of you may hold another view, I do not doubt that the republican liberty to differ upon a constitutional question survives in the Columbia Club."

The Giscopini Comet.

LICK OBSERVATORY, Cal., Jan. 1-The comet recently discovered by Giovanni Giacopini at Nice, Italy, in the constellation of Thetis, has been observed here the past week by Mr. Altken, It is a faint object of the eleventh magnitude, and therefore requires a telescope of con-siderable size to observe it. Its time of nearest approach to the sun occurred December I, at a distance only 3 per-cent smaller than the earth's distance from the sun. The plane of its orbit makes an angle of il degrees with the elilptic, and intersects it in longitude 133 degrees. The present distance of the count from the earth is some $500,00 miles, and the distance is increasing. The brightness is decreasing, so that there is no chance that the object will be visible without a telescope.
