C. A. WHALE'S CONCERT-128 Sixts st., 311 Alder st. 5 P. M. PRAISES POSTOFFICE EMPLOYES.—POST-master Crossman is greatly pleased with the fine showing the postoffice business for the year makes, and the substantial increase it shows over last year's business. He is also more than pleased with the manner in which the business of the office in carried on in every department. office in carried on in every department, and especially with the manner in which the holiday business was handled. He says the business handled during the holidays was much larger than ever before, and it was handled expeditiously and in a most satisfactory manner. Mr. Crousman says the entire force displayed encerg, activity, willingness and efficiency worthy of recognition by the department. The mailing cierks handled a vast amount of exits matter and see everything dis-The mailing cierks handled a vast amount of extra matter and got everything dispatched on time. The general-delivery clerks had a tremendous amount of work thrown on them, but they did it quickly and did it well. The carriers packed out load after load as much as they could carry, but so careful were they that there have been no complaints of missing or fellowed rackages. "In fact," said Mr. or delayed packages. "In fact," said Mr.

BIDS FOR CREMATORIUM.—Bids will be opened this afternoon for the construc-tion of the crematerium which is to be rected on the east bank of the Willam receiving vaults, and in style of architecture will resemble an old mission church erected by the Spanish fathers in Call-fornia. It will be one story in height and constructed of brick, with red tile roof, the eaves projecting a distance of four feet all around. A columbarium for the reception of the wases of ashes will be erected separately, at a short distance from the main building. It was the orig-Inal intention to provide niches in the auditorium as receptacles for the ashes, but this has been changed. At the same time there is land enough in the tract. which consists of three acres, to permit of earth burial for the assess when de-stred. The cost of the main building will be between $16,000 and $20,000.

Partitions Analys in New York — Eugene Shelby, of Wells, Fargo & Co., received a dispatch yesterday from New York stating that the company had received IIS gray partridges for shipment to Fortland. The birds arrived in New York last Menday on the Pretoria, of the Hamburg-American line, and were keep there. York last Monday on the Pretoria, of the Hamburg-American line, and were kept there a few days to rest before starting them West. The original slip-ment was 200, and it will be seen that the loss has been heavy. The Pretoria was out 15 days during some of the storm-lest weather that his ever been experi-enced on the Atlantic, and the fact that no more than 87 of the birds died speaks well for their hardlness. It was feared well for their hardiness. It was feared that a much heavier percentage of loss would take place. The birds are expected to arrive next Tuesday evening or Wednesday morning. Local sportsmen are hoping that there will be no further loss before the birds can be liberated.

The saie of searces affecting the Northwest, as the press reports have kept people informed of the progress of legislation and the work of the Oregon delegation. He said he is pleased that the river and harbor bill carries $400.000 for the improvement of the mouth of the Columbia, with $1,500.000 in the Metropolity of the Metropol more to be available for contracts. The Senator declined to discuss the Senatortal situation, saying he had not time to look into it himself. He said he did not know how long he would be in the state, but added that should Oregon interests de-mand it, he would return to Washington without delay.

LAST HART HOME RENESTS.-The entertainments that have been held nightly at the Rambiery Cyclery for the benefit of the Baby Home will close this evening. New features have been added nightly, and this evening's entertainment will be the climax of the series. The friends of the institution are invited to call with donations, how ever small. Admission is free, though donations are expected from the visitors. This evening Frank Chamerlin, the expert rope-juggler; Ed J. halsden, the bloycle trick rider; Alfredo Garrado, the Hungarian planist; Madame Lucile d'Alberti, the dramatic seprano, will appear in the programme, while the dectric plane and the concertograph will be among the novel features. of old-it is so today.

The management of the Boston Lyrics has struck the chord which plays the sweetest music-success. It awaits Colonel Thompson and his great company in this city, as elsewhere.

Whatever eine happens, Phil Rogoway is certain of having a big audience for his play. "The Day of Atonement." which will be produced at the Marquam next Monday evening. The advance sale, which began yesterday, was large, and the author will have a lot of friends in front of him on the initial production of his drams. The following will occupy boxes: Mayor H. S. Rowe and family; Fred T. Merrill, Councilman Fourth Ward, and family; P. W. Mulkey, Councilman Fifth Ward, and family; City Treasurer Werlein and family; County Recorder S. C. Beach and family; Rabbi Stephen S. Wise and family.

Mr. Barrett was noncommitted on the subject of United States Senator, but said: "Oregon needs a big man intel lectually, and needs him badly. At the proper time I shall make known my preference, but do not deem it advisable to do so now. I have fully made up my mind, however, on the subject, and will act in accordance with my ideas of duty to the state. I look for a hard fight, but I don't think it will block legislation by any means. I know if it were left to me it wouldn't."

In riding from Granite to Sumpter, on their way to Portland, Mr. Barrett and party had quite an experience Wednesday. About two feet of snow covered the learned during her phenomenal run of 87 performances at the Shaftesbury Theater, London. "The Belle" might have continued indefiniately in London, so well was she liked by the British, but Manager George W. Lederer decided to bring the company back to America for another tri-imphal tour. The company this season is a notable one, with Miss Beuinh Dodge, who has store of good looks and ability. It is strange and interesting coincidence th Miss Dodge was a schoolmate of the now famous Edna May, whom she is succeed-ing in this role. It is stated that she bears a starting resemblance to Miss May, and there is great interest manifested in her performance. During her Metropolitan engagement in this part the critics waxed enthusiastic over her per-formance. Among the other members of critics waxed enthusiastic over her perdaments of the way of benefits and for charitable purposes. The society's Christic mass festival and banquet, given a few days ago, at Parsons Hall, was, as usual, a most brilliant affair, and attracted a gon, George Tollman. E. S. Tarr. Mae harge attendance.

Senator George W. McBride arrived from Washington yesterday and put up at the Imperial. When seen last night, he said there was nothing to say regarding mea.

The company number 6 in all, and the entire production that seen in London during "The Belle's" posperous run at the Shaftesbury Theater. The sale of seats will open this morning at 18 o'clock.

"A Turkish Bath."

Manager Jones has in the new "Turk-ish Bath" Company one of the best at-tractions he has provided the patrons of the Metropolitan this season, if, indeed, it does not prove to be the banner show of the year.

The company is owned and managed by F. M. Wade, who has succeas-fully piloted several worthy dramatic proactions during the past 19 years, which sufficient guarantee that the company is a capable one. The play has been rewritten, new music.

bright and catchy, has been added, ap-propriate scenery and attractive costumes among the features promised. It should prove a pleasing entertainment.
"A Turkish Bath" comes to the Metro-politan Theater for one solid week, com-mencing Sunday, January 6.

Whale's Concert Tonight.

Mr. Whale has prepared a rich musical feast for his patrons, at his spacious plano pariors, this evening, in the person of Professor Alfrado Gerrado, the Hungarian Paganini. These performances have created a sensation on both conti-nents. He will perform Raff's celebrated concerto and Paganini's "Carnival of Venice," Mme, Lucelle d'Alberti, the sweet sorrano, will also appear in solos, with violin obligato by Professor Gerrada. Other local talent will assist. These charming musicales are becoming very popular.

MATINEES TODAY,

Attractive Bills at Cordray's and Metropolitan.

At Cordray's, this afternoon, "A Stran ger in a Strange Land," the farce-come-dy which has been creating laughter all the week, will be the matines attraction. and will make its last appearance this evening.

"Colored Aristocracy," presented by a company of talented colored people, will be the bill at the Metropolitan, and as the clever songe and dances of the dusky comedians never fail to delight the children, there should be a crowded house. odies tonight.

AT THE FREDERICKSBURG.

John Pamplin is making a splendid hit in what is decidedly the cleverest jugging act ever seen at the Fredericksburg. Among the other popular attractions may be noted the wonderful lady baritone. Baroness Von Tline, and the operatic duet. tists Raiston and Keesting. McSorley and Whitney in Mr. McSorley's comedy sketch, entitled "The Mistit Gentlemen," assisted by Miss Emma Whitney, the well-known character actress, afford no little amusement to the audiences.

TIME TO STAKE A CLAIM SHOULD BE EXTENDED.

Locators Should Have Thirty Days-Precinct Assessors Favored in Grant County.

Representative George J. Barrett, of Granite, is at the Imperial with his wife. He has a goodly slice of Oregon to take care of in the next Legislature, as he is one of the three Representatives from the district comprising the Counties of A Great Trio of Opera-Singers.

The engagement of Signorina Estefania Coliamarini, the famous prima-donna contralto, Russo, the eminent tenor, and Alexandroni, the noted baritone, in connection of the connectio collamarini, the famous prima-dorma contrainto; Russo, the eminent tenor, and alsessandroni, the noted baritone, in connection with the "tout ensemble" of the Boston Lyric Opera Company, who open a week's engagement at Cordray's Sunday, marks an epoch in operatic history that stands alone. The joining of these three great operatic stars in the musical world by Colonel Thompson to his already excellent organization was certainly an achievement that puts in the shade anything hereofore attempted by the renowned impressario.

The cost must have been tremendous, the figures nightly—not weekly—going up to the four-figure mark. For the salary of Collamarini alone must run into the hundreds for each performance, while Russo and Alessandroni cut no small figure in the treasury statements on salary day, and there are $1 other artists to be looked after from this same bank account.

The world admires pluck, energy and the successful man. It will open its arms—yes, and pocketbook—to him who comes bravely to the front and raps proudly at the doors. It was so with the envallers of old—the so today.

The Casino Speciacle de Luxe.

"The Belle of New York," with its merry music, its pretty girls, gorgeous costumes and its clever comedians, now traveling bilthely about America, will come to the Marquam Grand Tuesday, Mednesday and Thursday nights. Luckily nobody was hurt, though the sleigh was too badly damaged to con-tinue the trip.

CONCERNING QUARANTINE.

City Laws Respecting Contagious Disenses Are Wenk.

PORTLAND, Jan. L-(To the Editor).-Physician have awakened to the fact that an epidemic of diphtheria exists on the East Side. I note they have taken the precaution to fumigate the Central school building, and yesterday examined all the children attending the school, the latter resulting in about six children being sent Twentieth and Stark streets, E. D., the pstient died, the house was fumigated and the quarantine raised: about two days after this the green fing was displayed from the next cottage situated about if feet away. This is not to be wondered at, as on more than one occasion I have seen the people living in these two cot-tages, during the existence of the dis-case in the first-mentioned cuttage, visiting each other and passing between the cotages as if no sickness existed. Not only that, but I saw a young girl leave the cottage in which existed the second case and enter a house about 300 feet further east on Stark street. There is now a fresh case in the second cottage and four new cases in a house about 200 feet away. I learned vesterday from a respon sible party who resides near the aforesaid cottages, that the families residing therein do not observe the quarantine laws. So long as this state of affairs exists, the disease will never be stamped out.

The City Board of Health say they cannot enforce the law as it would work a hardship on the afflicted families by pre-venting the head of the family earning bread and butter for those depending on him. Is the rest of the community to suffer so that the head of the family may go about his work? If the afflicted families are so slivated that the head of the family con-not afford to be idle, should not the city come to his assistance in the way of pro-viding for his wants? It may be possi-ble in some cases to quarantine a portion of a house, providing it is large enough by keeping the patient upstairs, also the mother or attending nurse, and arrange things so that they would not have to mix with the rest of the family. Quarantine laws are strictly enforced in other cities, why not in Portland? T. D. WALKER, 82 E. 27th St.

City Physician Zan when questioned as to the facts regarding the quarantine enforced in diphtheria cases, made the following statement: "I have already made a statement regarding the precautions taken in regard to the diphtheria cases in the East Side schools. As to enforcing the quarantine laws, I would say that I have taken the matter up with City Attorncy Long and we have found that the laws are very weak. In all cases I have advised and ordered the families to remain at home, but when it comes to enforcing the quarantine against the head of the house who supports the family, I have no authority. The laws are very weak and City Attorney Long is investigating the matter with a view to strengthening them in this respect. The outrantine laws are strictly enforced. The quarantine laws are strictly enforced but they are defective. The only thing I could do in cases where there have been violations is to have the people ar-rested and fined for violating the ordi-

IN THE SEVERAL COURTS.

Creditors of the East Side Railway Try to Intervene

Now that the proceedings connected with sale under foreclosure of the prop-erty of the East Side Railway Company and the transfer of the property to Morris & Whitehead, the purchasers, are about to be consummated, various persons who have claims against the company are en-deavoring to intervene in hope of secur-ing a portion at least of what they claim is due them. A few days ago, in the case of Morris & Whitehead vs. the East Side Railway Company, in the United States Court, an order was asked for, requiring the receiver to pay into the registry of the court all surplus earnings of the prop-erty, now in his hands, or which may come into his hands up to the time of his discharge. Charles F. Albee, who has a claim against the company on account of injuries received in an accident, filed objections to the order being granted. A hearing on Albee's objection was had in the United States Court yesterday, and Judge Bellinger overnied the objection.

George P. Lent has petitioned to be allowed to intervene in the case, in order that he may scatter money due him as that he may secure money due him as rent of land, on which the company built a roundhouse. The matter was set for hearing today. A Chinaman, who has a bill against the company for wood, also desires to intervene. It appears that the mortgage on the company's property cov-ered everything "In sight," and there is nothing for the other creditors.

William G. Oberteuffer filed a petition in the County Court yesterday in the mat-ter of the estate of S. E. Mulford, deceased, asking that Mrs. Saille E. Mul-ford, the administratrix, be required to file a report. He states that he is a credof the estate to the amount of $1825, and his claim was allowed, and says the last report filed covers the period ending December 3, 1898.

The final report of George W. Bates and Morton M. Spaulding, executors of the will of Nancy H. Bills, deceased, was filed, showing 1388 receipts and 1554 dis-bursements, and that the real property is valued at $28,350.

Court Notes

A motion for a new trial in the case of Seld Back, administrator, vs. The Em-ployers' Liability Company, was argued before Judge Bellinger in the United States Court yesterday, and taken under advisoment. The case was tried before Judge Bellinger and a jury only a few days ago, and the jury returned a verdict for plaintiff in a short time.

W. K. Fairbanks, having succeeded in restraining the Luckel, King & Cake Soap Company from infringing on his trade-mark, "Gold Dust," is now endeavoring to have Judge Bellinger refer the matter to a master, so that he can secure an accounting of the profits made by the illegal use of his trademark.
