RUSH 70 Pay Liczness.—There was a rush to pay licenses yesterday, and the City Treasurer and his assistants were City Treasurer and his assistants were kept busy taking in and receipting for ilcense fees, while the license clerk in the Auditor's office, with one and sometimes two assistants, was kept on the jump making out licenses and furnishing the parties taking them out with their numbers. License Officer McEachern and his assistants were rushing around town and notifying persons who had apparently forgotten that their licenses were due. Today is the last day of grace for pay-Today is the last day of grace for pay-ing licenses, and there will probably be a greater rush than ever. Persons going early will save themselves the annoyance of waiting, and those who do not pay today will find the license officer looking

MUSEUM IN EXPANDING.-L. L. Hawkins let no grass grow under his feet in tak-ing advantage of the permission granted by the Board of Public Works for him to place a portion of the City Museum in the big committee-room on the third floor of the City Hall. Yesterday he rolled as many show cases in there as the room could accommodate, and still a number of cases are left in the hall, and as Mr. Hawkins is asking for more cases, it is evident that the museum is expanding One of the janitars in the building should be promoted with a policeman's star, in order to maintain order in the halls when gangs of rude boys go up to examine the museum. A great deal of noise is often made by such boys.

No Double Assessment.—The Board of County Commissioners, sitting as a Board County Commissioners, sitting as a Board of Equalization, yesterday disallowed the petition of the Ainsworth Bank for a reduction of its assessment. The bank had been assessed on its stock, which, it was alieged included the bank building, and the building had also been assessed; hence, it was calmed that a double assessment had been made. It was found that the bank building did not pass into the hands of the bank corporation until after March L at which time the assessment. after March 1, at which time the assessment of the bank stock was made. The board could not see its way clear, under the circumstances, to allow that a double assessment had been made, and so denied

FINE MUSICAL COMEDY.

"The Belle of New York" Delights a Packed House.

"The Belle of New York," with its darming stage pictures, its brilliant cos-turnes, its many fine voices and its ever-recurring comedy, played to a packed house at the Marquam last night, and oved to be the most elaborate produc proved to be the most chapter produc-tion of its kind that has been seen in Portland for years. Not since Charles H. Hoyt saw fit to send his own com-panies to the Coast, and did not allow his plays to be murdered by the barnstormers who are playing them now, has a mu-sical comedy of such magnitude been seen in Portland, and the fact that one of the weaper houses of the season isld of the banner houses of the season isld no restraint on its enthusiasm proves that managers are not playing a losing game when they send good companies across the Rockies.

Although much of the music and many of the "turns" that form "The Belle of New York" have been given placement in Portland by companies who stole them in Portland by companies who stole them, their familiarity made them only the more welcome. There is, moreover, enough that is new to give a freshing flavor of novelty to the piay, the appearance of several tokes which are of the vintage of the current year making pardonable that time-honored pleasantry about picking up the right shell, and the other and war relating to the extraction other aged gag relating to the extraction of a diamond necklace from a lobster.

"The Belle of New York" is a mixture of comic opera and extravaganza. It is composed of music of the catchy, popular order, comedy that is dished up on the installment plan, but at very frequent in-tervals, specialties here and there, and a sories of stage pictures that are elabo rate almost to the point of dizziness. The introduction of a Salvation Army girl, who falls in love with the spendthrift son of a country millionaire, stands for the plot, and the scenery, music, cos-tumes and cemedians do the rest. The scenery is among the finest that has been brought here, the Peil street and the Narragnizati pier pictures being triumphs of the scene-painter's art.

The company is unexpectedly good. So many comedies that have the name of being funny float out West in the hands of companies that can offer no valid ex-cuse for wearing grease-paint that the frequenters of the Marquam feel that they are particularly [avored when people who can act stand before them to pre-zent a comedy. Edna May's role, that of Violet, the Salvation Army lass, is played by Beu'ah Dodge, who has a face which gives new meaning to the term "peach," and whose sweet clear voice fits her part exactly. Her Salvation some in the first net, and her "Purity Brights" march song in the second act, earned for her a storm of apto hear the reports of the officers, which showed that during the past year the verein made good progress in members and in finances. The following members were elected for the year 1901; John Wagner, president: Theodore Bergmann, vice-president: C. Emis, treasurer: George Harold, secretary; U. Zeltfuchs, financial secretary; H. Lemke, librarian: Dr. Otto Mesmann, trustee for three years. It was decided to hold in the near future a misquerade ball and a committee on try millionaire and president of the Antitry millionaire and president of the Antiarrangements was appointed to report Cigarette League. of the bits of the performance, and its gattre was not lost upon the audience. Joseph Kane as Karl von Pumpernick, the polite lunnic, took his part a little too seriously, but scored, nevertheless, Arthur Deagon as a mixed-aler, and Flo Perry as a Bowery belie, perhaps made the hit of the evening. Miss Perry's make, up and acrobatic dancing being repeatedly encored. James Leavy and William ly encored. James Leary and William Bentley as a "Puddn'head Wilson" team of macaroni noblemen, filled up a gap that might have yawned without them. sset & and created considerable amusem and created considerable amusement.

The dancing of La Belle Dazie in the last act was by far the mogt brilliant that has been seen in Portland, and is deserving of more than passing notice. It was not until the pirouetting feet had tripped for a longer space of time than one would believe possible that the audience was satisfied that they had seen snough of the dancer.

ALBINA TAKES ON A BOOM IN BUILDING.

George W. Bates Will Breet a Structure for a Department Store-Mentner's Custom Mill.

Albha is soon to have a new two-story, 96x100 department brick building and a two-story, 50x75 frame grist mill. The former will be built on the west side of Williams avenue, between Russell and Knott streets, just north of the Hill block, by George W. Bates, president of the Albha Bank, and the grist mill will stand on the south side of Russell street, between Williams and Rodney avenue. Mr. Bates never does anything by halves, and it is his intention to erect a modern buildit is his intention to erect a modern buildng, with iron piers, full 10-foot basement, state-glass wisdows, and arranged for a lepartment store, to be occupied by an Aibina firm on its completion. It is esti-mated that it will cost about $15,000. Pe-ter Lynch has secured the contract for doing the excavating for the basement and foundation, and he will commence work as soon as the weather will permit. The contract for the main structure has The contract for the main structure has not yet been given out, but contractors are figuring on the work, and the contract will be let by the time the excavating is finished, the intention being to rush construction. Mr. Bates has just completed a $19,000 improvement in Middie Albina, in the way of two modern double flats and two cottages, and shows his confidence in that part of Portland by starting a two-story brick block.

Mr. Mentner has his mill building started. Peter Lynch has a force of men and teams excavating for the foundation, and teams excavating for the foundation, and Russell street is well taken up with timbers for the frame. The building, exclusive of the machinery, will cost $000, and the machinery nearly as much, so that enterprise represents about $5000. The mill will do all kinds of grinding, and will be operated by an electric motor.

Besides these two enterprises, which are exceed for abling this Spring A. B. Man-ssured for Albina this Spring, A. B. Manley also contemplates the erection of a two-story brick on the corner of Williams avenue and Knoti street, alongside the proposed Bates building. He has 90x100 feet, and is figuring on covering it with a brick edifice. It will cost between $12,000 and $15,000.

The Albina Odd Fellows' Building Asso. The Albina Odd Fellows' Building Asso-ciation is discussing the advisability of covering its corner on Vancouver and Russell street, 90x100, with a two-story brick building this Spring. The associa-tion held a meeting Tuesday evening at the office of the secretary, and after con-sidering the building proposition, ad-journed to meet again, when more of the ockholders can be present and there can be a fuller expression. It is found that a number of the stockholders are b-vorable to putting up the building this year. The capital stock of the association is $10,000, and there are 500 shares. Indus-trial Lodge, I. O. O. F., of Albina, owns 100 shares, representing $2000, and the oth-er 400 shares are d'etributed among the embers and other business men. Such a building as will be required will cost be-tween $12,009 and $15,000. A stockholder said yesterday that money can be had now at a low rate of interest if the assoiation should conclude to build. The may ter will be thoroughly discussed at the next meeting. If the hall association and Mr. Manley put up their buildings, with the Bates and Mentner buildings assured. means nearly $50,000 in improvements

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

"At the White Horse Tavern." While "At the White Horse Tavern," day and Tuesday, does not come strongly heralded, it is questionable if any com-edy in the last decade has received warmer praise from critics in New York, Chicago and other large cities in which it has played. It has beautiful scenery and quaint character types, for the story is of the Tyrol, in the rose-enhowered inn presided over by a charming widow the tender passion running riot among the guests. Nor does Cupid overlook even the servants, for the head waiter is smitten and sighs for the smiles of his mistress. Laurelier without a break is said to the servants. Laughter without a break is said to greet the unraveling of the web which the blind god has wound round his victims,

Isham's Cetoroons.

Isham's Cetoroons will come to Cordray's Sunday and all next week with their musical comedy "King Rastus," which has been among the successes of the season. Their appearance will be something new in ministrelsy, as instead of the old-time hodgepodge of rag-time and buck dancing, a really funny farce comedy with a genuine plot will be presented. The company numbers some of the cleverest colored people on the stage, and the specialties are said to be all new and bright. It comes to Portland after an unusually big weeks business at the Third-Avenue theater, Seattle. Seattle.
