Bramp-Cancering Machine, - Posimester Crossman has at last succeeded in securing for the Portland Postoffice a stamp-canceting machine, which is competent for the requirements of the business, and fully meets the expectations of the mailing clerks, who pronounce it a "datay" and a regular "peach." It is operated by electricity, and concels the stamps on 38,600 letters or postal cards in an hour. It is known as the "Dolphin Flyer," and has been in operation for several days. It has been throughly tested and found to come up to all that had been promised for it. The machine feeds itself; all that is necessary for the attendant to do is to hunch up the let-STAMP-CANCELING MACHINE, - POSTINGS. feeds itself; all that is necessary for the attendant to do is to bunch up the letters with the address sides all one way, and to see that there are no diamond rings, such gird rs or infernal machines in them. It is not definitely known whether these birds, the evening grossboaks, are natives of this region or not. They have been are for E years at least, but many have an idea that they were not here always, and some say that Weiter Moffeet, machine to handle, and that once in a ditken of early days, brought a lot of them here on a vessel from Australia and remained on such occasions until negular order, and every one of them is all the grossbeaks now in the country.

The bear of this necessary for the them, is not definitely known whether amounts to aso, and is amounts but they go whiming through the machine in regular order, and every one of them is stamped. Among the bars of the cancelling stamp is a figure one to show that the office has but one such machine, and the letters D and C are piaced in the stagmp to designate "dropped" or "collected" letters. This machine is used to cancel stamps on all the letters received at the office for transmission, and the old machine is used for "back stamping"; that is, for stamping on letters for distribution here date of their arrival at the postoffice.

DUCKS FLEW HIGH.—The high water in the Columbia flooding many of the hunting grounds on Sauvie's Island and elseing grounds on Sauvic's Island and else-where along the river interfered seriously with the sport of the duck hunters Sun-day. A number of sportsmen did not go out at all, and those who went met with only moserate luck. At Deer Island a number of geese were shot and some ducks. Over on the Columbia Boatom the region round about on Sunday, and some of the shooters did very well. SUICIDE OF AN OLD-TIME PORTLANDER. -Many of the old-time sportsmen of this city, who overlooked a brief mention in the papers a few days ago of the suicide of H. G. Macdonald at Spokane, have en pained to learn that the unfortunate was their old-time friend and associate. Macdorald, formerly bookkeeper for the old house of Corbitt & Macieny. He was well known here as an ardent sportsman for many years in the good old days when ducks, geese and swan were plentiful, be-fore the despicable carp had been introduced and had destroyed all the wapatoes and other duck feed. He was a broad-shouldered, genial, big-hearted Scotchman,

The property will be advertised in detail Jn The Oregonian in a few days, and the time and place of the sale made known. The funds for the k per cent dividend to be declared shortly are practically in the hands of the receiver, and it is expected that the transfer of the sale was studio. pected that the proceeds of the "remaining assets" will enable the receiver to pay 10 per cent additional on dividends. TAKING THEIR DELIGHT.—Since the dog catcher has quit making the rounds, the inlicensed canines, which had been carefully housed all Fail, have been let loose, and they have big times barking at teams and wheelmen in all suburbs of the city. FOR LOSS OF SLEEP.

A dispute between Dr. Thomas Parker and A. F. Sidow regarding the payment of a bill for $55 for medical services will shortly be aired in Justice of the Pesce Vreeland's Court, and the defense is a novel one. Dr. Parker, according to the court record state that he professionally. court record, states that he professionally court record, states that he professionally attended Sidow, who is interested in a library syndicate, between the 1st and 7th day of March, 1900, and that the bill amounts to $35, and is still unpaid.

Sidow, by his lawyer, George S. Shepherd, has filed this unique defense: "That between March I and 7, 1900, while defendant was indisposed and confined to his bed, and poweriess to effectively protest, plaintiff made several visits to defendant.

time relating personal instances of excep-tional valor in indian fights, remarkable examples of cool during at critical mo-ments, and wonderful exhibitions of physical stamina and endurance, followed by long scientific dissertations on ring tactics, interspersed with practical dem-onstrations of how fighting fields are won, and during said demonstrations plaintiff pranced up and down the sick-chamber, driving his clenched hand, pro-pelled by a rigid shoulder, in dangerous proximity to defendant in exemplification of the soporific effect of the right

"That by reason of plaintiff's long-drawn tales, defendant became wearled and exhausted, and his sleep was broken and disturbed with wild and troubled dreams, and his illness was thereby pro-tracted and his nervous system excited, and defendant thereby suffered 339 worth of mental anguish and physical terment and has been damaged in the sum of $25.
"Therefore the defendant demands judgment against plaintiff in the sum of $25 and costs of this action."

"THE SORROWS OF SATAN" Dramatization of Miss Corelli's Book

at the Marquam. One cannot help wondering, when he reads Marie Corelli's "The Sorrows of Satan," how the devil could afford to spend somuch of his valuable time among a parcd of commonplace English people when the world was full of so much bigger game, but the fact that Miss Corelli chose CONDITION TOO CHOWDED.—Several dis-tribution cases and desks for the car-riers' room in the Postoffice, rendered to place him in that environment is re necessary by the increase in the number of carriers, have by order of Postmaster Croasman been manufactured here. They are made of quarter-sawed oak, and in sponsible for a widely read book, and a play which is really the best and ensies way to become acquainted with the au-thor's rather novel conception of his Supoint of finish and appearance are just a little ahead of the articles of the same kind made at the East and sent out by tanic majesty. The play was presented at the Marquam last night by a good com-pany, and to a good house, and, judging from its reception, it did not fail to make the department. They help further to crowd the room, and in connection with the crowded condition of every department of the office accentuate the demand for a very decided impression. It is, perhaps true that the atmosphere was not sufficiently lurid and redolent of brimstone to additions to the building to afford neces-sary space for the convenient transaction of business. Every one has had occasion to notice the miserably inadequate space convince the audience beyond a shadow of doubt that the Prince of Darkness was before them and ensnaring struggling mortals in his net, but in these days, whose greatest pleasure during the hunting season was to shoot as many ducks as the could carry every Sunday, lug them to town, pile them up on the floor of the cierk and three directory clerks, although town, pile them up on the floor of the Arion saloon, the favorite resort of hunters is to 20 years ago, and then to give them to his numerous friends. He went to Spokane a number of years ago, and the intruders should have separate rooms. The mailing-room is also so things did not go well with him there, and finally he reached a point where he did not desire to live any longer, and so put a pietol to his head and ended his troubles.

Few Thying to Evade License.—The licenses officer has had no trouble in his business so far this quarter, and licenses have been very promptly and cheerfully paid in by the majority of people required to take out licenses. Some of the few remaining persons who have not paid their licenses seem inclined to make trouble. A doctor put in an application for license in which he stated that his propied to be placed in the stall degree to lass, so the applicants was referred. There is no fild degree class, so the application was refused. The applicant was licenses for a reversal of the decision, or at exceeded this xeenses more than 5 cents.

The license was refused. The applicant was period for creature upon whom she has the devil, and, on being repulsed, takes poleon, to learn, in her death-scene, the class alleging that his receipts had not exceeded his xpenses more than 5 cents. There is no sid degree class, so the application was refused. The applicant was tiod that if he would state in his application that his gross receipts were less than 5 cents. But offered to pay the $1 fee for his licentee if it were granted under his application, which, of course, could not be done. The city officials, judging from the fact that the license fee is so triling, are of opinion that the object of putting in the irregular application was to cause trouble.

The Congress Construction Company, of Chicago, has the contract for the interior finishing of the building, and Mr. Earhart, of the company, arrived yesterday to start the work, which has to be com-pleted within 14 months. This contract includes the marble work, plastering and bardwood fittings, and will cost the Government $115,000.

The electric wiring contract was let to the Western Electric Works, of Portland, at $650, and must be completed within Bids for the plumbing have been adver-tised for, and it is thought will be let to Portland firm.

The heating, electric wiring, interior finishing and plumbing will probably pro-ceed all together, and as each contract will need quite a number of mechanics to fill within the given time, the new Custom-house will be the scene of a busy throng for several months. In about 18 months, or in July, 1992, the new Customhouse will be ready for its interior fur-nishings, and the officials of Uncle Sam will probably move in shortly thereafter. When the high board fence which surrounds the building is finally taken away, and the frame buildings used as construction offices are removed, this new Federal building will prove an ornament to that portion of the city. The cement sidewalks have long since been laid, and a green lawn ornaments the north and south ends of the block between the walks and the main walls.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

"Knobs o' Tennessee."

"Knobs o' Tennessee," which opens at the Marquam Grand Friday and Saturday nights with a bargain matinee Saturday, tells a stirring story of life among the moonshiners of the Tennessee foothills. This season the production is promised a be better than ever before and has owen embelished by new scenic settings ominted with admirable fidelity by Benlah om sketches by Hal Reid, the author

f the play.

The author's work is of that quick, nappy and sharp style which has given snappy and sharp style which has given Hal Redd s reputation as a word painter. The present company is remarkably efficient, including Miss Alice Marble, the original Ol' Mis' Preston, and such well-known players as Lem B. Parker, L. Mitchell, Brian Darley, Elmer Jerome, J. H. Lorenson, Frank Moynthan, George Fischell, Miss Minnie Parker, Miss Mabel Hall, Teddy and Chrystal Vizzard.

KEEPING TO THE FRONT.

The Fredericksburg Music Hall and Cafe is surpassing itself recently and is constantly furnishing such attractions as never fall to please and delight the audiences. This week dates the first appearance of Europe's greatest marvel the armiess wonder, Herr J. Huber. He will write for you, feed himself, play musical instruments, use joiner's tools of all kinds, lather himself, shave, comb his hair take a clearette, shuffle a pack of hair, take a cigarette, shuffle a pack of cards, play a game and open a bottle of wine. Not only this, but he is a lightning, armiess artist. He paints a beautiful picture in oil colors, holding the brush in his teeth. The wizards of motion, Gillen Brothers, appear in an act the greatest of its kind in existence.
The duet, "Miserere," from "Trovatore," is beautifully rendered by Signor De
