STATE LEVY SHOWS DECREASE

Extra Millage Puts the City in Good Financial Condition - Municipal Authorities Are Not Figuring on Increase in Expenses.

The total tax levy for all purposes in Portland this year may be a trifle more than that of last year, which was 8 mile, according to City Auditor Devlin, who was interviewed yesterday on the subject. The increase of 2 mills for city purposes will provide a fund sufficient to cover the expenses of the police and fire departments, as well as for lighting the city." he said. "There is a deficiency of $11,000 on the lighting fund of last year, but whether this will be made up to the company in 1901 Mr. Deviln could not say. "The Board of Public Works," he said, thinks the amount should be paid, as it is a moral obligation on the part of

The state levy this year is a trifle less than in 1900, and so is the special school tax, but the advance of 2 mills on the city tax and the addition of ½ mill for park purposes will more than offset this. The assessed valuation also is higher than last year, so the taxpayers of the city must make up their minds to pay out more money for taxes than they did in 1906. Taxes are not high, however, in Portland, as even the advance in assessment does not represent the full cash value of property, by any means. Every department of the municipal government is run on economical principles, and no expense is being incurred that can pos-expense is being incurred that can pos-sibly be avoided.

The exact total of all tax levies cannot be figured up for a while, as the county levy has not been made, nor has the new charter been framed into a law by the legislators at Salem. The county levy may be made this week.

The city authorities are not figuring The city authorities are not figuring on any increase in expenses this year, though the fire department will need some new horses, as well as a certain amount of new hose. Besides this, there are several elevated roadways which have to be kept up, at the expense of the city, as the abutting property is not valuable enough to stand all the expense. Bridges across Sullivan's Gulch, and over several ravines in South Portland, must be kept up from the public treasury, as these bridges are a nacessity to a very large neighborhood adjacent. They have not been kept up as they should be, during the past year, on account of lack of funds. Then there are a good many crosswalks on city property and sidewalks sur-rounding city parks that need attention, Aside from these necessities, no other ex-tra expense is contemplated for 1961. The street-cleaning department is running shorthanded, but whether its usefulness can be extended this year depends upon

The amount paid into the general fund for fines has averaged $4000 per month for the past five months, making some $30,000 in all. This has been used to help pay interest on bonds, which amounts to $136. interest on bonds, which amounts to $156,-600 a year. This police revenue, however, will decrease now, as the city has de-cided to suppress gambling. Chinese lot-teries and slot machines. Money derived from licenses has also been applied to the interest fund, and in this way delin-quency in payment has been staved off. "Keeving up the various county roads. of Multnomah is largely done at the ex-pense of the city, and fully $57,000 was laid out in this way last year. Besides, the city expended over $7000 on repairs of roadways and on crosswalks within its limits. Thus the street and road fund is a very large item of expense in the pub-

LONDON STOCK MARKET. to Queen's Death.

LONDON, Jan. IL-The stock exchange last week was under the shadow of the fatal news from Osborne. Dealings were on a small scale, and a dull tone prevalled in most departments. A more cheerful tone prevalled Thursday, but there were adverse influences of a depressing character, such as the prospect of further government borrowing, the like-lihood of reduced dividends and traffic returns in home railroad securities, and the prolongation of the war in South Africa. Nevertheless, the city was in-cilined to attach considerable importance to Emperor William's visit as an augury of peace, and there was an undoubted improvement in the monetary situation.

Americans, although wabbiling throughout the week, seem to have reached a condition of equilibrium, as no strong tendency either way was discovered, and fluctuations appeared to be merely the effect of realizations as the bulls and bears alternately took profits. Whet trading there was seemed to be purely pro-fessional, and the market closed strong

OREGON BILL FOR CHANGES IN PAS-SENGER AND FREIGHT RATES.

LEGISLATION

Former Shall Not Exceed 3 Cents a Mile, While Latter Shall Be Same to All Shippers.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 27.—At this session of the Legislature, as at every other, there are many bills aiming at the con-trol of railroad corporations.

The first bill of this sort to be intro-duced, was House bill No. 15, by Colvig, of Jackson County. According to the provisions of this bill, it is unlawful for of Jackson County. According to the provisions of this bill, it is unlawful for a railroad company to give freight rates to one person at less figure than is given to all. All such freight rates must be reasonable and shall not exceed the rate charged on January 1, 1855. All persons who pay their fare must receive equal treatment, provided that the railroads may provide separate accommodations for passengers, except that no discrimination shall be made on account of race or color.

Nor shall any railroad company or its officers charge or receive from any person or persons engaged as aforesaid, to fail, neglect or refuse, after requested to do so, to furnish to any shipper, within a reasonable time, such num-

MISREPRESENTATION OF THE NORTHWEST.

SECTION OF A MAP FROM LESLIE'S WEEKLY SHOWING THE "DISTRIBUTION" OF MINERALS IN OREGON, WASHINGTON, IDAHO, MONTANA AND WYOMING.

Legic's Weekly, New York is publishing a series of illustrated articles on the subject, "Why America Should Be Great." The sixth Leslie's Weekly, New lork, is publishing a series of linearized articles on the subject, "why America Should Be Great." The sixth paper is entitled, "The Varied and Immensely Valuable Mineral Deposits of the United States; Thoir Distribution and Utilization." A feature of the article is an outline map of the United States. In the space occupied by the states is printed the names of principal minerals found. Article and illustration are published over the signature of Dr. Edward D. Jones, a professor of the University of Wisconsin. Dr. Jones' knowledge of the mineral resources of the Northwest appears to be very much obfuncated. In Oregon he marks "iron" about where Gewego is located, and "nickel" down about Grant's Pass. In Washington "iron" is marked along the Olympic Range. and in the north-estern part of the state, near the British boundary. Idaho is completely overlooked. All the North-estern States have been endeavoring for years to interest capital in their mines, and it is aggravating, to say the least, for a publication of the standing of Leslie's Weekly to misrepresent them in the hour of success. Had Dr. Jones made a correct mineralogical map of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, he would have dotted all three states with indications of valuable deposits. Oregon produces gold, sliver, copper, lead, coal, iron, cobalt, quicksliver and other metals. Its output last year was $4,155,000, of which $3,770,000 was gold. Can it be possible that Dr. Jones has not beard of the Eastern Oregon gold beit, Bohemia, Blue River, Southern Oregon placers and quartz mines, Harney's borax deposits, or the coal fields of Coos Bay? Washington produces gold, silver, lead, copper and coal. Has Dr. Jones never heard of the great Republic gold camp, of the Monte Cristo district, in the northwestern part of the state, of St. Helen's district, of the coal measurement. ures of King, Pierce and Kittitas Counties? Mining is more extensively carried on in Idaho than in any of the Northwestern States. Its output last year was $16,011,290, of which $4,125,220 was gold, $6,248,610 of silver, $2,514,597 copper, and $3,122,863 lead. Has Dr. Jones never heard of Boise Basin, the great placer producer of olden times, of Cocur d'Alene, or of Buffalo Hump? Leelle's Weekly has done the Northwest a great injustice by misrepresenting its mineral resources, and should hasten to correct it.

Berlin, Jan. 27.—The news of the death of Queen Victoria affected the German bourse very slightly, although some realization selling was caused in consequence of the closing of the London stock market. The stagnation of the previous weeks continued. The only department showing any life last week was that of the domestic government funds. In this department, the growing abundance of money and the success of the Saxon loan, together with the increasing distrust in industrials and American securities.
