Each ship will be directed to cease firing immediately after the tail of the procession has passed her. After the procession has passed the Majestic, the forts and ships in Portland Harbor will commence firing minute guns, and continue firing until the Alberta is alongside the firing until the Alberta is alongside the wharf. PREPARATIONS AT COWES.

Royal Yacht Being Fitted for Transferring the Remains.

COWES, Isle of Wight, Jan. 30.—The construction of the mortuary chapel on the quarter deck of the royal yacht Alberta is proceeding apace. The most elaborate precautions are being taken to prevent any hitch in Friday's arrangements. A commany of the Oneen's Guard this A company of the Queen's Guard this morning again rehearsed the military movements in the narrow and tortuous streets, while the bearers experimented with a lead-weighted bler of the same weight as the royal coffin.

The Deputy Governor has ordered all public laces on the island to be closed from to 4 o'clock on Friday. Emperor William and the Duke of Connaught will sleep on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern Friday night, while King Edward, Queen Alexandra and other members of the royal family will be distributed on board the royal rachis Os-borne and Victoria and Albert, An official bulletin, issued today, says that the Duke of Cornwall and York, who is suffering from German measles, is pro-gressing satisfactorily. It has been finally decided that though the Duke of York's condition is not serious, he will be unable to attend the Queen's funeral.

The arrival of the warships is somewhat diverting interest from Osborne House. The explanade is lined with people and the numerous yachts in these waters give the Roads the aspect of racing week. don, to pass resolutions expressing sorrow at the death of Queen Victoria and congratulations on the accession of King Edward VII. There was a crowded attendance. Nearly all the Scottish Lords were present. Lord Rosebery, remarking that he would pass lightly over the congratulatory part of the programme, said His Majesty's speech at the Privy Council meeting sufficiently indicated the laws by which he intended his reign should be governed, thus promising to make his rule no less illustrious than that of his parent. Lord Rosebery then dwelt in eloquent terms on the life and death of Queen Victoria, saying that in the whole history of mankind no death had touched such a large number of people in the entire world. There was scarcely an intelligent individual in the civilized world but was profoundly moved. He wondered if her subjects realized how much they had lost and what an enormous weight the Queen had in the councils of the world.
It was not hrilliancy or genius which could supply the advantages she gave Great Britain, but her fund of knowledge, which was unequaled by any constitutional historian. It was no disparagement: which was unequaled by any constitu-tional historian. It was no disparagement of other Kings to say she was the chief of European sovereigns, and her influence in the councils of the nations was always used for peace, freedom and good gov-ernment. Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal seconded the resolutions.

No Official Recognition.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30 .- A special to the Herald from Ottawa, Ontario, says: The services to be held in the Church of England Cathedral Saturday, in memory of Queen Victoria, are not to be dignified by state recognition. This fact will not detract from the impressiveness of the service, the imposing character of the civic and military pageant or the sincerity of popular mourning, but that on the eve of such an occasion the government shall decide to withdraw official recognition of ceremonies intended to mark the nation's grief for the dead Queen is nevertheless regarded as surprising. The facts of the difference between the Governor-General and his advisers which has led to this result cannot be learned from official sources, but the trouble appears to have been caused by a determination on the part of the government not to recognize the cathedral services officially lest it be con-strued as acknowledging a "state" church

German Press More Friendly BERLIN, Jan. 30.—Apparently the Ger-man press is growing more friendly to-ward King Edward VII. The Kreuz Zeltung points out the new monarch's "great tung points out the new monarch's "great popularity and great knowledge of men." The Berliner Tageblatt, in the course of a long article, praises his courage and the "complete fearlessness" of assassination which he has displayed, adding that he understands the English character thoroughly and possesses reliable tact.

Duke of Orleans Will Attend. PARIS, Jan. 30.—The Duke of Orleans has decided to attend the funeral of Queen Victoria. He will arrive in Loudon Saturday, and Sunday will deposit a wreath upon the casket containing Her Majesty's remains, The Duke's decision is interesting, in view of his message of congratulation to the Paris artist who caricatured Queen Victoria in a most insulting manner, which resulted in the Duke being ostracised in Engiand.

Cheers for the Boers. CORK, Jan. 20.-The proclamation of King Edward VII as King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and Emperor of India, here today, had a mixed reception. There was much cheer-ing, but the crowd in the neighborhood of the Courthouse cheered for Mr. Kruger and General Dewet. The people generality, however, were good-humored.

They insuited Mr. Jameson's guests, and Mr. Jameson sent for the guard stationed at the legation. In the struggle an Italian was wounded. They were all arrested and turned over to the Italian authorities, who have requested an explanation.

The missionaries last night prepared final resolutions, which were presented to the British and United States Ministers today. The preamble sets forth the fact, "not sufficiently emphasized in the note," that the Chinese attacked everything representing progress; that there has been no adequate rebuke for the flagrant violation of treaties and that no indemnity is asked for the Christian Chinese, who suf-fered heavy losses. Finally, the missionaries say nothing has been inserted in the note safeguarding the infesionaries, and they earnestly request the Ministers to see that the former treaties protecting missionaries are reaffirmed; that the Gov ernment should be forced to allow Chithe missionaries should be allowed to live in the interior, own property and posses passports compelling their official accept-ance; that friendly intercourse between the missionaries and officials be encouraged, and that relief be found for the ng native Christians. The mi aries earnestly hope that Great Britain and the United States will take a leading part in the coming transformation of China, belping the rulers to enter lines of reform which alone can save the country.

BERLIN Jan. 30 .- Herr von Muchlburg. ing the debate upon the China bill in budget committee of the Reichstag day, referring to the resolution of Dr Lieber, the Centrist leader, demanding protection for missionaries, said the reso-lution clearly set forth the existing treaty regarding Chinese Christians, and that the Ministers at Pekin must decide individual cases and whether intervention is expedient. Up to the present, he added protection had been refused to Chines Christians. The budget committee finally adopted by a large majority Dr. Leiber's resolution, which calls upon the govern-ment to see that the treaty settling the Chinese question shall provide for the free exercise of the Christian religion, the latter being placed under the pro-tection of the signatory powers.

DEWET IN CAPE COLONY

BOER LEADER INVADES WITH A FAIRLY STRONG PORCE.

The British Are Making Prepara tions for a General Movement in the Near Future.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—It is reported un-officially, mays the Cape Town correspond-ent of the Dally Mail, that General Dewet has entered Cape Colony with a fairly strong force. The impatience felt in Eng-land at the slow progress of the operations is not warranted, as preparations are being made for a general movement shortly. King Edward has sent the fol-lowing dispatch to Lord Kitchener: "One of the Queen's last inquiries was after yourself and the gallant army under your

MUTINY ON ST. HELENA. West Indian Troops Ran Amuck, but

Were Suppressed. LONDON, Jan. 30.—The West Indian roops stationed at the Island of St. Helena, where General Cronje and a large number of Boers are held prisoners, mu-tinied January 2, raided the town, terrorized the inhabitants, injured many of them, defied their officers, and were only finally subdued when faced by the muz-zles of riffes. The censor suppressed the news, but the Associated Press has re-ceived the story by mail. The trouble be-gan with a row the night of January 1 be-tween some blueinckets and a party of tween some bluejackets and a party of West Indians. On the following night the West Indians broke out of barracks and raided the town with clubs and razors tied to sticks. They ran amuck, cutting and beating women, children and men indis-criminately, and attacked the Sallors' Rest, tearing out the doors and windows. All the efforts of the officers to suppress the mutineers were futile. When ordered to the camp they refused to obey, and threatened to dynamite the town. A strong naval force landed, the available troops were collected and the streets pa-raded and guarded all night long. At daybreak the troops were drawn up with loaded riftes in front of the place where the West Indians were barricaded. The latter were ordered to surrender, and were notified that if they did not do so they would be fired upon. The mutineers were finally cowed, and were taken to the camp, where they will remain under suard until a troughly arrives to remove. guard until a troopship arrives to remove

Remnins of the Composer Laid to Rest With Simple Ceremonies. MILAN, Jan. 30.—The funeral of Verdi was held today. All the authorities fol-owed the bler. The ceremony was simple, but most impressive, owing to the si-lent homage of the populace, who were present at the service in immense num-bers. The remains of Verdi were borne from his residence and placed in a modest funeral car, which, followed by a few intimate friends, proceeded to the church of St. Francis, the facade of which bore the inscription, 'Peace to the Soul of Giuseppe

England Living on Her Savings. LONDON, Jan. 30,-The Times, in ditorial dealing with an "important and erplexing question of true significance, the excess in value regularly exhibited by England's imports over her exports, secially looking to the fact that during the last three and a half years the United States has exported over £400,000,000 more merchandise, gold and silver than it im-

Considering that some three-fourths of the American excess exports have come to this country, it is very desirable to get accurate and definite statistics as to our invisible' exports."

CYCLE RACING RULES. Some Changes Will Be Made at the Annual Meeting. NEW YORK Jan. 30 .- At the annual meeting of the National Cycling Associa-tion to be held in this city next Tuesday, some important changes in the racing rules will be submitted for adoption. The introduction of motor pacing has made a change in the riding of paced middle dis-tance racers, and the old rules drawn up for use when the pacing machines were driven by muscle alone will not fit the new conditions. Elkes, McDuffee and Michael have made suggestions to the association and the chances are that several amendments will be made.

These riders, who are looked upon as being the best pace followers in the country, say that the rear man on the machi should be compelled to pedal right through the race, When he sits perfectly still, his sole idea being to shelter the pace follower from the wind, the general public is likely to belittle the real work being done by the pace follower. These men say that under the proposed change a good rider will be able to prove what he is made of, and that a second-rate man will appear at his true worth.

Several changes are also comtemplated in the rules governing sprint races for the National championship. It is the effort of the association and of the better class of riders to do away with team work in these races as far as possible.

If the new rule is adopted, there will be only two men left in the final for all championship sprints. Four men are to start in each heat, two to qualify. This plan will be followed up, using semi-finals until only two men are left. This will do away wit team work certainly in the final and the best men ought to win every COLLEGE ATHLETICS. Commendatory Tone of President Eliot's Report.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 20.—The appearance of the annual report of President Ediot, of Harvard University, last night, at once awakened interest in what comment he would make on collegiate athletics, in view of pleas for an im-provement in sport, in previous reports. Less space than usual is devoted to athletics and the general tone is commendatory. The president said, in part: "The Amercan colleges seem to be gradually learning ho wto conduct amateur sports in a reputable manner. Harvard University has had its full share of the difficul-ties during the past 30 years; but it has at last found a way to a satisfactory consti tution for a committee to regulate ath-lowed by the friends of the deceased, the local authorities and leading citizens barehead. A great crowd lined the route, and people climbed the trees to get a glimpse of the cortege. Harvard University. Thus the rules governing eligibility which were worked out by the Harvard committee have proved acceptable to the other institutions. The conferences on intercollegiate athletics opened 24 years ago at Providence, multisade a veerly report in the dence, published a yearly report in the early Summer of 1900, in which rules were formulated and recommended for adoption by all universities and colleges. These rules are substantially the same as the Harvard rules."

> THE CUP CHALLENGER. Framework Indicates Some Striking Departures.

GLASGOW, Jan. 20 .- In the framework of the America's cup challenger, already set up, are, the Associated Press learns, indications of some striking departures from conventional designing. The most noticeable of these is that the bulk of the yacht is thrown extraordinarily far forward. The timbers at present in po-sition suggest the framework of the old bluff-bowed type of yacht more than the modern racing yacht. This will be modi-fied when the frames to carry forward the over-hangs are in position. It is certrain the greatest weight will be forward of the mast. Every precaution is taken to prevent information about the cup challenger getting abroad.

Venezuelan Gunboat Goes to Head off the Supply Party-General Uprising Expected.

SAN JUAN DE PORTO RICO, Jan. 30 .-It is reported here that the Venezuelan gunboat Restaurador, formerly George Gould's yacht Atlanta, is on her way from Brooklyn with orders from President Cas-tro, to intercept in the Caribbean Sea, Senor Andrada's fillbustering expedition. Passengers on board the "Red D" line steamer Philadelphia, from La Guayra, January 25, which left for New York to-day, asserted that Caracas was in a state of suppressed excitement when the steamer left Venezuelan waters; that Presi-dent Castro's troops had defeated the in-surgents near Cuomana and that a comparatively unimportant mutiny among the troops in the barracks at Caracas had been quelled. They also reported that the Venezuelan Congress would meet Feb-ruary 20 to legalize the act of President Castro, who, since the expedition of Senor Andrade, has been a dictator, acting without electoral sanction. It was further gathered from the passengers that a gen eral uprising might take place about the time of the assembling of Congress, but that the Nationalist party, a promit organization in Venezuela, had offered services to Castro to maintain peace,
