MARQUAM GRAND - "The l'risoner CORDHAY'S THEATER-"The Country Girl."

TRIED TO RUN THE TOWN, - Charles Linnehan and John Kramer, of San Francisco, alighted from the train at the terminal depot yesterday and started to run things in Portland. At Fifth and Stark streets they encountered a China-man named Chung Shu, with an umman named chung Snu, with an on-brells, and according to Chung's story, they smashed his umbrella and smote him to the effusion of blood. Policeman Cole arrested the Californians, and they were taken before Municipal Judge Cameron, where Linnehan announced: "I ain't any lawyer, but I'll plead my own case." He accordingly cross-examined three wit-nesses and objected to nearly every ques-tion asked, until the Judge ultimately inquired: "Linnehan, what have you been drinking today?" "What all good people take-whisky," shouted Linnehan, Kramer admitted having taken selizer water. Linnehan's story was: "I have been a soldier in the Philippines and bled for country. As for the Chink, he tripped Kramer with his umbriella. When a man hits me, I hit back." Linnehan was fined $15 and Kramer $25. They could not pay the fines and the fines and went to jail. RARE MINERAL SPECIMENS.-Two handsome specimens of the rich ore from the mine of the Standard Gold & Silver Mining Company on Dixle Creek, seven miles north of Prairie City, were brought down from the mine yesterday by J. F. Batchelder. One of them was sent to the Na-tional Museum at Washington, D. C., and the other was presented to the Chamber Commerce exhibit. These specimens useny over $300 to the ton, about $100 in gold, a little silver, and the remainder cobait. This is the only mine on the Coast, if not the only one in the country, which is turning out straight cobait ore. Cobuit is a rare mineral. It is used in glauing pottery, and the oxide is used in making purple dyes and colors. A small specimen of the ore was sent to the National Museum some time ago, and a request came back for a larger piece of the same ere. Superintendent Dosch was much pleased to secure the handsome specimen presented to the exhibit in his and considers it one of the rurest of his mineral exhibits.

PLASTER EXHIBIT IN COURT.-Another instalment of the Mrs. Rice-Mrs. Bozarth case was heard yesterday before Munici-pal Judge Cameron, when Mrs. Rice defended herself from the charge of defac-ing Mrs. Bozarth's house. Deputy Dis-trict Attorney Spencer wrung the admis-sion from Mrs. Rice that she had called the other woman names, and then he asked: "You abused her, then, to the full extent of your vocabulary?" "My what?" gasped Mrs. Rice. The meaning of the word was then explained to her, and Mrs. Rice ultimately said that she did not have pny difficulty in selecting suitable phrases for the subject referred to Mrs. Bo-zarth brought a parcel into court containing plaster, which, she said, Mrs. Rice had knocked from the celling of her house. The Judge marked the plaster "Exhibit No. 1," and continued the case.

RECALLED NINE TIMES. - The Boston Symphony Orchestra gave two concerts in New York City last Spring, Mme. Sembrich, the great opera singer, was the solotst of one concert, Leonora Jackson the violinist, who is to appear at the Marthe vicilinist, who is to appear at the Mar-quam Monday, February 25, was the solo-ist of the other. The following press no-tice tells of her reception: Leonora-Jackson, the young American vicilinist, who made her first appearance here with the big Boston Symphony Orchestra last night in Carnegie Hall, was recalled nine times after playing Mendelesohn's Con-certo in E Minor. Miss Jackson won the audience as soon as she came on the lience as soon as she came on the stage. She has a peculiarly attractive manner, and this, added to her splendid equipment as a musician, established her in great favor .-- New York Press, Feb. 23,

He says the statement purelished to the effect that the Washougal was leaking is a mitake. The pump which has been on her dre sale was manched had become worn and rusty, and as she was jost starting 'or "no Francisco he decided to; it a new pump in board. The Washougal was to sa'l for San gran-cisco vesterday, with a cargo of lumber work will be resumed on the Gray's Harbor jetty, and the Washougal will be employed with the other barges of Hale & Kern in carrying rock from the quarry at Fisher's Landing to the jetty.

BUILDING TROLLET CARS.-At the Milwaukie shops of the Portland & Oregon City Railway Company work has been started on two passenger cars to be used on that line. The new cars will be about the same size as those in service, but will be provided with more powerful motors and will be able to make quicker time between Portland and Oregon City. An or-der for four more cars has been placed with a San Francisco firm. Measurements for these have been taken, and they will be built at once and sent to Portland. They will be provided with powerful motors also. With these six new passenger cars it will be possible to inaugurate the proposed 20-minute schedule. Work is also progressing on the 300-horsepower freight car.

WILL PROBABLY BE CURED. — Game Warden Quimby came down from Rose-burg last night, where he went to at-tend the trial of Lafe Engles, who was arrested with half a dozen deer horns in his possession, which he was taking to Roseburg to sell. He was tried before a Justice of the Peace and fined $100. Warden Quimby has been after Engles for a year, but never before could secure evidence sufficient to convict. Today's Council Meeting.-The meeting of the Common Council today will have a lot of routine business to transact, but outside of this there is not likely to be much of importance to be considered. The street committee, to which was referred the matter of vacating a number of streets in Sullivan's Guich, will probably submit a report. Action may be taken on an ordinance authorizing the cance of $16,000 of improvement bonds. There are several petitions in asking for the improvement of sections of East the improvement of sections of East Burnside street. It is desired that a short section be improved with vitrified brick. and that other sections be macadamized

WATCH AND MONEY GONE.-Patrick Collins, 60 years old, alighted from a train last night at the terminal depot and shortly afterward he gave a confused account Policeman Branch that two hackdrivers had held him up, near the depot-and had robbed him of his watch and a small sum of money. From a description Collins gave of his assailants, Branch ar-rested Bert Hoover and John Galvin, charged with larceny from the person,

LOOKING FOR HOMES.—The number of visitors calling at the Chamber of Com. merce exhibit duly of late is much targer than usual. Mr. Doseh says that there were not less than 100 callers Monday, and that 10 were there at one time, newcom-ers from many different states. They looked over the exhibit carefully and with much interest, and were much surprise much interest, and were much surprised with the showing of fruits, minerals, etc. Most of them were looking for homes and were here to settle. Some wanted to get into the fruitgrowing business, others desired to settle in lumbering and dairying sections. The latter were recommended to examine the coast countles, and others to try Southern Oregon. Many of the visitors went up the Willamette of the visitors went up the Willamette Valley on locators' tickets, furnished by the Southern Pacific Company. Some of the strangers spent several hours examin-ing the exhibit and evidently concluded that the products of Oregon were finer than anything they had expected to find EFFICIENT CATCH BASINS.-City Engin eer Chase had a force of 10 men and two teams at work for some time cleaning the gravel and debris brought down by the first great storm of the season, from the catch basins at the inlets to the great sewers in Tanner and Johnson Creeks. They had just completed their work and everything had been put in order when the storm of last Friday brought another mass of gravel, which completely filled the catch basins again, so the work of clean-ing them out has to be done over again. This is a matter of so little consequence compared to having all this gravel car-ried down into the sewer that it cuts no figure, and the taxpayers may congratulate themselves that the inlets to these large sewers are provided with such efficient catch basins. Freshets will bring down more or less gravel and debris every less than the property of t ery year for many years and to protect the sewers it will be necessary for these catch basins to be carefully maintained.

INCORPORATION .- Articles of incorpora tion were filed yesterday for the Congre-gation Nevah Zedeck Thalmud Thorah, by a committee consisting of M. Ostrow, Dr. N. Mosessohn, J. Bromberg, J. Ricen and P. F. Rogoway. The purpose is to unite the persons entitled to membership in the congregation so as to form a corporation empowered to own and hold property.

SEAMEN'S INSTITUTE.-The concert for the benefit of seamen in port to be given tonight will consist of selections by the Warren Mandolin and Guitar Club, vocal solos by Miss Alice Thayer, Miss Fayer Killingsworth and George Murion, rec-tations by Miss Bertha Matlock, Miss Hazel Brown and Miss Edna Wennerberg. BEGINNING today, February 20, the Port. land City & Oregon Railway Company, formerly the East Side Railway Company,

AARON BUSHWILER DEAD.

Resident of Portland for More Than 45 Years.

Aaron Bushwiler, the ploneer bookbinder of Portland, one of the founders of the Evening Telegram, and for many years Justice of the Peace of North Portland Precinct, died yesterday afternoon, at St. Vincent's Hospital. He had been a victim of asthma for more than 49 years, and suffered many deaths since he was first attacked. Still he kept on his feet, slept in a chair, because his malady would not allow him to lie flat, and was on the streets yesterday morning, though in hugh fever. He lived only a few hours after being taken to the Hospital. He was a bachelor, and left no relatives in this part of the country, so far as known. The funeral will take place from Holman's parlors tomorrow, at 10 A. M.

Professional Baseball League. An enthusiastic meeting of the promoters of the Portland professional baseball team was held last evening at the Commercial Club. It was definitely de-cided to enter a team in the Pacific Northwest League, and since the other teams of Spokane, Tacoma and Scattle are ready for organization, the league project is assured of being a go. The baseball men also decided to post the $500 deposit as a guarantee that the Portland team will to the league meeting in Tacoma, February 22, with the deposit. At this meet-ing, if the other teams mean business, the fficers will be elected, and all the machinery for the Summer season set in motion. The project has been up in the air for the last two weeks, but the promoters now feel confident that the proposed lengue will be a success.

The amounts paid the North Facino Lumber Company by the Port of Portiand since October 1, 1829, up to the present time, are as follows; For fuel, $1165.89; for lumber at different times, $168.63; for towage, $25. Of this last item $160 was paid the Port of Portland by McDowell & Co., and peld out again to the North Pacific Lumber Company. Yours respectfully, E. T. C. STEVENS, Clerk of the Board. PORTLAND, Or., Feb. 19, 1901.-To the Editor.)-The publication in Monday's Dregonian of Dr. Andrew Smith's letter o the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, containing erroneous statements and certain insinuations that are equally baseless, all tending to reflect upon my character, makes it proper that I should meet them with an emphatic denial, a brief statement of facts, and complete disproof of the assertions; which latter I lessly purchased of a certain member of the Commission. I not only propose to disprove every one of these charges, but Darmstadt, came to Portland about 1822 or 1823 from San Francisco, and was about 75 years old. He was the first book-binder, or among the first, to work in Portland. Afterward he was a clerk in the wholesale dry goods house of Alex. Mayer & Co. He then became a reporter for the Dally Advertiser, published by S. J. McCormick, late in the 70s. > On September 28, 1899, before I was a member of the executive committee, the following resolution was unanimously passed by the Board of the Port of Port-

Resolved. That it is the declared policy the board that until its further order it shall be the rule that the commission will endeavor to kees the harbor of Portland at a proper depth of water to within 50 feet of the docks' front, and will only go beyond that on the request and at the expense of the owner of each dock, such dredging to be done only at the convenience of this board.

The work of improving the harbor was considered so urgent that bids from private dredging companies were invited to do this work, but after consideration were rejected as being considered too high, and it was decided to operate the Commis-sion's dredge on the work as long as possible. The dredge worked in the har-bor seven months in all, four and one-half months being engaged in work on the East Side from the old dry dock site to the upper end of the O. R. & N. Com-pany's warehouses, and one and one-half months on the West Side directly opposite, from the southern line of the Eastern Lumber Company's property northward, and one month on the chan nel from the West Side to the East Side, property owners on both sides receiving frect benefit, the Northern Pacific Lumber Company among the rest.

Your editorial this morning auggests that it is well to "avoid the appearance of evil," and it was solely for that pur-pose, and because I foresaw that irresponsible and unacrupulous politicians would be certain to make capital by attempting to connect the fact of my membership of the Board of Portland Com-mission with Mr. Mackay's prominence in politics, and with the joint Interest of Mr. Mackay and myself in the North Pacific Lumber Company, that shortly before the dredge in the course of its operations reached the property. I made a formal request to the executive committee that any work done opposite said property should be charged to the North Pacific Lumber Company. This, although the same work had been done in front of the property of other owners without expense to them in the carrying out of the general scheme of harbor improve-ment, and for no other reason than to ment, and for no other reason than to "avoid the appearance of evil."

The North Pacific Lumber Company, therefore, paid $823 44, which was the full cost to the Port of Portland for work done in front of the North Pacific Lumber Company's property, and also in front of the Oregon Pottery Company's property to points 120 and 200 feet from the wharf line, as at that time laid down by the United States engineers, I may also add that in 1898, before I was even a member of the Commission, the North Pacific Lumber Company paid the sum Pacific Lumber Company paid the sum
