NEWS OF THE VETO

Brought Joy to the Ins and Sadness to the Outs.

MITCHELL - REPUBLICANS SORE

Democrats Disappointed at the Loss of the Political Machine and Some Talk of Having Bought a Gold Brick.

Governor Geer's veto of the charter turned Portland upside down, figura-tively speaking last night. It was unbounded joy to the hearts of the Republi-cans who carried the election of 1898 and now control the political machinery of the city. The Mitchell Republicans and the Democrats were broken-hearted. They had set their minds on the fat jobs in the police and fire departments, and con-fidently predicted that Governor Geer would not think of putting his veto be-tween them and their goal.

The city was in a state of expectancy from 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon until 8 o'clock. At 4 o'clock a report gained circulation that the Governor had vetoed the bill, and telephones, particularly those of The Oregonian, were kept hot with inquiries. Then followed the official announcement from Salem that the Governor would not pass on the bill until 8 o'clock, and the big town settled back for a long and auxious wait. The news that the veto had been signed was telephoned from Salem shortly before 8 o'clock, and immediately became the sole topic of discussion on the streets and in the clubs and hotel lobbles. The policemen and firemen who were not legislated out of of-fice were the recipients of the congratulations that are in all ages the lot of the victors, while the other fellows consoled themselves as best they could and grimly set their teeth for the contest of 1902. which, they declared, would give them everything worth having. The main center of discussion was the Commercial Club, where several hundred men of all shades of political opinion had gathered for a reception to Senator-elect Mitchell, Following are opinions of the veto gathered by Oregonian reporters last night:

REPUBLICANS REJOICE. Charter Denounced as a Corrupt Political Deal.

Corbett-I do not see but what the Governor has acted very properly in vetoing the charter, as it is practically the same charter, with very slight amend-ments, that we have now, except that it would simply carry out the bargain made with Mr. Mitchell by which he was to receive the Democratic votes for Sento receive the Democratic votes for Senator in exchange for the fire and police departments and city offices, by a corrupt bargain and sale of the Republican party of the city to the Democrats for that consideration. The Governor has already consideration. The Governor has already approved a bill whereby a commission has been appointed to draft a new charter. This will give plenty of time to carefully prepare a new charter by experienced men. It has been said that the charter vetoel by Governor Geer was prepared by the Taylorest Leave. prepared by the Taxpayers' League; but I am informed by prominent members of the league that it was not prepared by them, but by other interested parties. Governor Geer it seems to me could not have done otherwise under all the circumstances than he has done, and I am quite sure the people of Portland will confirm his action. They certainly are not in favor of turning over the police and fire departments, which are now ably conwith its provisions. By the time that the commission prepares the new charter, we shall have had the experience of the pres-ent one, and shall know wherein there are defects, if any. W can then carefully correct the same.

Mayor H. S. Rowe-I think Governor Geer used good judgment in vetoing the charter bill. The reasons be gives for his action are pertinent and sufficient, and fully justify his veto, which was the correct thing under the circumstances. When there is a commission to prepare a charter, what propriety would there be in putting in force temporarily a new char-ter, which would be certain to create a lot of litigation, upset the order of things, and cause confusion during all the time it would be in force. I believe that the people of Portland generally will decide that the reasons given by the Governor for his action are sound, and that he used his judgment for the best interests of the city.

Representative John McCraken-I suppose Governor Geer thought he was do ing the proper thing or he would not have vetoed the charter. I voted against the bill in the House.

O. F. Paxton-Governor Geer is right. The present charter is confessedly a good measure. The best evidence of this the fact that it was re-enacted in the bill which the Governor has vetoed even to the extent of cierical errors and mis-takes, except as to the naming of certain individuals to fill certain offices possessed of large political power. The present charter being satisfactory, there was no present necessity for a change. bill for the new charter was enrolled and passed in such a manner as to create grave doubt of its validity. Had the Governor approved the bill, and had the city attempted to do business under the new charter, a vast amount of embarand costly litigation would have i. The Legislature which recently adjourned passed a law creating a commission to frame a new charter for Port-land. As there is no fault to find with the present charter, Governor Geer did a wise thing in vetolag the bill, thus leav-ing the old charter in force until the ple of Portland have an opportunity to determine what, if any, changes shoul be made in their form of government.

City Engineer W. B. Chase-I consider the veto a very wise act, for the reason that this Legislature provided a commission to prepare and submit a charter for the people at the next election in June 1902. There was no emergency at this time, nor any defect in the present charter requiring any hasty action in charter making. The proposed new charter contained no economic features su-perior to the old, and indeed all of the defects of the old charter were to be perpetuated in the new one. The only changes were political ones, and were not conducive to any improvements in the business provisions of the charter, It seems, therefore, that the Governor acted wisely in vetoing this charter.

City Attorney J. M. Long-The veto of the new charter by the Governor was a of the firemen have had 10 or 15 years' experience, and to have turned these men out of office and put in new and incompetent men, we can't tell what the re-sult might have been. The same thing is true of the Police Department. The feature of the charter in regard to the appointment of a single commission was very bad. The duties of the two departments are entirely distinct. The Commissioners serve entirely without pay. A man experienced in the administration of the Fire Department might not be a

The two positions require different kinds of executive ability and experience along different lines. The tendency of modern municipal corporations is to concentrate power in the Mayor, so that the people can hold him responsible for the results. It is essential in securing a well-governed city that the power should not be divided or placed in the hands of people who oppose or are antagonistic to each other in the discharge of general public duties. The city has not been so econom-ically run for years as at the present time. The present charter concentrates power in the Mayor, and avoids the danger of sudden changes. A member of each commission and of the Board of Public Works go out of office at each election, and the city is saved from radical changes in the administration. This ical changes in the administration. This policy is followed by the best governed cities in the world. Another reason is that the general public did not desire a change in the Police and Fire Depart-ments. That is evidenced by the fact that very few people expected the Gov-ernor to sign the bill. It was a well-known fact that in both factions of the Republican party and the Democratic party, representative citizens believed it was not to the best interest of the city to have such radical changes made the charter. According to theory, Legislature lays out the work for the city to do." It is not wholly a local matter. Every citizen in the state is interested in the growth, development and prospects of Portland, and it is the duty and prer-ogative of the Governor to check all hasty, ill-considered and badly prepared legislation. Time will develop that Gov-ernor Geer's position on the veto of the charter will receive the marked approv-al of a large majority of the citizens of the state and the city of Portland.

Edward Ehrman-I am glad the Governor vetoed the new charter. This is a Republican city and it should not be turned over to the Democrats. The Po-lice and Fire Departments are perfectly satisfactory, and the positions of the men should not be taken away from them.

MITCHELL MEN DOWNCAST. They Declare That Governor Geer

Exceeded His Prerogative. United States Senator John H. Mitch. ell-I regret the veto, not only in behalf of the people of Multnomah County, but in behalf of Governor Geer.

United States District Attorney John H. Hall-In my judgment the veto was wholly unwarranted. A Republican county having elected a Citizens delegation to the Legislature to enact, among other laws, a new charter, and the charter having been ratified by a Legislature that was overwhelmingly Republican, Gover-nor Geer exceeded his prerogative in denying to the people of Portland the right of self-government.

Senator Franklin P. Mays-The veto is Senator Andrew C. Smith-The veto is a moral wrong, a political abuse, and an official outrage. It is an unwarranted interference with the right of local self-

Senator J. E. Hunt-I think Governor Geer has made a grave error, that he has offended 75 per cent of the people of Portland, and that the affront will be resented when the proper time comes, If the veto is based upon the ground that the charter was not read the third time by sections on its final passage, the Gov-ernor has exceeded his prerogative, as the record shows that it was read the third time. Even the Supreme Court has no right to go behind the record. There is no doubt that the charter would have been tested in the courts, and that the Supreme Court would have been called upon to decide its constitutionality. It seems to me that since we have a Supreme Court, questions coming within its province should be left entirely to it. I am speaking upon the presumption that the veto is based on the ground I have named for rurely no same man could veto the charter for any other reason. ducted by experienced men, to new and untried hands. The present charter has been in force a little less than two years, then single out the Portland charter, the Why Governor Geer should permit other most important of all, for his disapproval, pointing features of his administration up to this time.

> Charles H. Carey-The question of the charter was settled last June by a pronounced majority of the citizens of this city. No political consideration should have influenced the Governor in the matter. The Mulinomah delegation went to Salem for the purpose of making radical reforms in the municipality, the cutting out of useless offices and the reduction of high salaries, in accordance with the pledges made the people in the cam-paign. A weighty consideration, such as the unconstitutionality of the charter, would be the only reasonable excuse for

L. H. Tarpley, defeated for Represent-ative on the Citizens ticket last June-I don't know what to think about it. As am surprised that the Governor should veto a measure which pertained solely want of it. It's the first time in my life veto a measure which pertained solely to Portland. Our delegation was almost to Portland. Our delegation was almost unanimously in favor of it, and carried out the wishes of the people of Portland in getting it through the Legislature. The Governor all absolute sistance of the people of Portland in getting it through the Legislature. The Governor all absolute sistance of the people of Portland in getting it through the Legislature. The Governor did absolutely wrong in not permitting the bill to become a law. If there was any doubt of the constitution. ality of the charter that question should have been settled by the courts, and not by the Governor.

Ex-State Senator F. A. Bancroft-The veto is a great injustice. The charter was approved by almost the entire Multnomah County delegation. The Citizens delegation was elected last June by majorities which indicated that the people of Portland wanted a new charter. The sentiment of the people will reflect unfavor-ably upon Governor Geer.

Charles A. Burckhardt, leading candidate for clerk of the Police and Fire Commission-The charter was a local measure, and Governor Geer had no reasonable ground to interpose a vete. It was passed by a Legislature which was overwhelmingly Republican, and were the Legisla-ture in session, it would be passed over The veto will react on the the veto.

George H. Durham-Governor Geer should have respected the expressed wish Democrats have been sold a gold trick of the people of Portland. It was not becoming of him to pass upon the pro-priety of Legislative action. The people voted for a change last June, and it was gratitutous impertinence on the part of Governor Geer to Interfere with local

T. C. Powell, ex-Clerk of the County Court-It must have been a powerful in-fluence that induced Governor Geer to veto a charter which was indorsed by nearly the entire Multnomah delegation, and which received so large a vote in both houses of the Legislature as the

John W. Minto, who had been named for Chief of Police-I am surprised at the veto, for the reason that I thought that Governor Geer would keep his hands good thing from economical grounds. The Fire Department of the city is the best we have ever had in the city. Many of the charter which he considered unconstitutional or radically wrong, he The veto was no part of their doing. should not have vetoed it.

Samuel Connell, president of the Board

Charles A. Malarkey-It is my opinion petent to provide, and did provide in the charter. The veto continues the old regime in office, with a much more expensive government than that provided should be vetoed. It did differ materially from the vetoed. It did differ materially

W. F. ("Jack") Mathews, father of the charter-In my opinion the reasons given by the Governor are not sincere. If he gives as one of his grounds that he doubts the constitutionality of the charter, he is insincere, and in my opinion he had another motive, which I leave to the public

J. C. Moreland-Well, in the first place, if Governor Geer vetoed the charter on constitutional grounds, I don't think he is qualified as a constitutional lawyer to pass upon such questions. In the second slace. I think it was a mistake, politically, and every other way. In the June election the people voted squarely and decisively to do away with the present regime, and I believe their wishes should have been carried out. When a Legisla-regime in office, with a much more ex-pensive government than that provided in the charter which the Governor vetoed. It did differ materially from the present charter, and was far more acceptable for the reason that it corrected the shortcomings of the pres-

Representative D. M. Watson-So he vetoed it, eh? So Governor Geer is greater than the Legislature. Well, I thought Governor Geer had more political sense, more political sagacity. The Legislature that elected Mr. Mitchell passed the char-ter. That election has been approved by the people; so would the charter, if its merits were known. The charter was the issue in the election, and Governor Geer vetoed it. Well, he'll be so badly snowed under, he'll never be heard of again. Po-litical cowards, you know, are very bad things-very bad. Really, he must be making arrangements to go back on the farm. We'll fix him next round-up in 1902. He won't have a corporal's guard when he tive delegation like ours, elected on a comes before the convention for renom-platform submitted to the people, are ination. He has shown himself an awful practically unanimous on a charter, their weak man, and he should have been paid

DEATH OF GUY CATLIN.

WELL-KNOWN PORTLAND SONG WRITER PASSES AWAY IN NEW YORK.

News was received in Portland yesterday of the death in New York of Guy Catlin, who, under the pen name of Karl Kennett, wrote some of the most popular songs ever published, and who for many years made Portland his home. No particulars were given in the dispatch announcing his death, but, as he was in good health when his brother, W. W. Catlin, left New York for Portland, it is ident that he was seized with some sudden malady. He was 33 years old. During the six or more years which Mr. Catlin spent in Portland he made as many friends as he did acquaintances, and his opportunities for making acquaintances were large. It was after he had been here for several years that the song, "Just One Giri," of which he wrote both the words and the music, gave him a National reputation, and made his work eagerly sought for by the largest publishing houses in the country; but his success, which would have turned the head of many a man, never made the slightest difference in him, and during all the time he lived here he was chiefly distinguished by an exceedingly quiet demeanor a modesty that was almost shrinking. His habitually sunny disposition, his delightful fund of anecdote and the sincerity and warmth of his friendship will never be forgotten by those who knew him intimately, all of whom were deeply shocked and grieved at the news of his death. While he was most widely known as a song writer, he has written many notable verses which have never been set to music, and many of which have never been printed. A number of his Portland friends still treasure stanzas of his, and in the columns of The Oregonian are many delightfully humorous stories contributed by him.

Mr. Catlin left Portland last Spring, and after a brief vacation in Alaska vent to New York, where he was engaged in song writing at the time of his death. His success has never diminished, and some of his best work is now in the hands of his publishers.

will ought to prevail. When the Gov-ernor puts his fist in and vetoes the bill, believe he is interfering with municipal home rule. If the charter turned the city over to the Democrats, that is simply what the people voted to do. I believe the veto was a great mistake.

"GOLD BRICK AND GREEN GOODS." Some Democrats Think They Cut a Cold Deck.

the crowd at Pat Powers place tested the news uproarously and there was a mixture of good humor and disgust in the many expressions heard.

"We have received it in the jugular," one of the gang would remark, and then the others would yell. Pat Powers said: Whew!

Powers responded: "I guess that is right; if you want to know all about it, just ask 'Jack' Matthews."

Just ask Jack Matthews.
William Reidt made a spirited speech to the crowd. "The country is safe now," he said. "You remember what my position was all the time. The Democrats didn't elect him, and the Democrats and Mitchell Republicans will not elect him next time; wasn't that what I said? Didn't I have an inkling before the charter passed the Senate, that the Governor would veto it? You remember I told Bob Inman so right here, and he didn't Martin Ready-The only difference is would have vetoed it on Monday, if I had been on my side of the House.

Captain Stapleton-The mule left for Salem this morning with the gold bricks, Has the Chief returned?

Paddy Maher-He had the power to yeto it. If the people elect Senators and Representatives in Multnomah County and sent them up to make laws, the Governor should keep his hands off. The Edward Killfeather-I think the De mocracy got a bunch of green goods. Powers should call the county committee together and invite Judge Lynch, don't think Mitchell ever intended to deliver the goods. They buncoed us in good shape. I am sorry for the decent ntelligent Commissioners that were turned down. They would have shown that they could give Portland the best ad-ministration it ever had, but wouldn't it freeze you? Bryan was banqueted at Watson's, and so was John H. Mitchell, That's the hottest yet. Watson says he voted for Bryan, but we know for cer-tain he voted for John H. Mitchell. And we have got it where the chicken does. That is all I've got to say.

Representative George W. Holcomb What I should like to say would not look well in print. I am satisfied that the Mitchell Republicans kept faith with us.

Representative Frank A. Heitkemper, secretary of the delegation-I regret that of Trade-Governor Geer has killed him- the charter was vetoed, as it was a good measure. It had a number of economic features which would have saved large Charles A. Malarkey—It is my opinion that when the delegation from this country provided a charter for the city the Governor had no right to veto it, as no constitutional question was involved, and no question except local government for Commission was carefully selected, and would have a the city which the delegation opinion opinion of the commission was carefully selected, and would have a the city which the delegation opinion of the commission was carefully selected, and would have a the city opinion o good man for the Police Department. the city, which the delegation was com. would have given the city an

When the Gov- at least $25,000 for the damage the act has Mitchell Republicans and Mitchell Demonext time. But if we hadn't elected Mitch-The crowd at Pat Powers' place received | dropped away from him for one cause or ment officials should make the most of only loaned to 'em, and we'll fix 'em next year. I have no feeling in the matter,

Police-Isn't it terrible? Well, the Democrats have been handed a gold brick, and that's all there is to it. The charter was the issue of the election, and contained many admirable features, especially as to economy and retrenchment. And I want to say that it was poor politics for the Democrats to support Mitchell unless they were handed over the goods. They should not have allowed the delay of the measure, but should have insisted on its passage before the end of the session. Then if the Governor vetoed it, they could have insisted on the passage of the bill over the Governor's veto. As it is, we were handed out a gold brick. We opened the at 8 o'clock this evening, and package at 8 o'clock this evening, and to a street improvement where it should found that it was not genuine. I am not be decided that the material proposed done his futur political chances. The crats will sweep everything before them ell, where would we have been? And yet his chances were not worth 2 cents 10 minutes before he was elected. If his name had been presented three weeks before it was he would have had several more Democratic votes, as there were 10 pledged to him at first. Several of these another. Well, the police and fire departtheir temporary victory. Their places are

M. J. Clohessy, aspirant for Chief of saying this because of political aspiraions, but because the charter was de manded by the people at the last election.

Representative G. M. Orton-I was not greatly surprised at the veto. The delay led me to suppose that something was going wrene with the charter. So far as the grounds of the veto are concerned, I cannot see wherein the Governor had good grounds. At to its constitutionality, it was as constitutional as any we ever had My opinion is that there were political reasons for the veto, and that the chief of these was the appointment of two Demo-crats on the Police and Fire Commission. There is no doubt that the new commission was as good as the present, and it was not their intention to make any sweeping changes. It will be a great disappointment to many people to have the charter vetoed because it made reforms in the interests of economy and retrench-

Robert W. Mitchell-I approve the veto, It was a wise act.

The following declined to make any

Mitchell Republicans-D. M. Dunne, Colector of Internal Revenue, and member of Governor Geer's staff; Judge Raleigh Stott; General Owen Summers, except that he had won a $5 hat from Colonel Dave Dunne; A. H. Tanner, the Senator's law partner

erats-Representative J. J. Shipley; Senator R. D. Inman

POLICE AND FIREMEN.

Office-Holders Celebrate the Occasion and Hilarity Reigns. At police headquarters last night, the relief force of policemen was just leaving for duty, when the news was tele-phoned that the charter bill was ve-

"Hurrah," said the boys, and common congratulations followed. Faces that had not worn a smile for weeks suddenly showed cheerfulness, and every one had a broad grin.

"It's wonderful how a little thing like that makes you people happy," observed Municipal Judge Cameron, who was pres-

"It's a big thing for us. We won't have to hunt for new jobs," explained one policeman, and the others joined in the general chorus of assent. Chief Mc-Lauchian was not present at the time, but Captain Hoare was on hand to re-ceive congratulations. Nearly every min-ute the telephone rang, and Policemen Bulger and Barton were kept busy lis-tening to all the pleasant messages friends sent. Policemen on the beat wer stopped and congratulated, and altogether there was a time of mild hilarity About the happlest man in the fire de-partment last night was Chief Campbell. Up to about 8 o'clock the firemen gen-erally wore an air of gloom, although a few of the veterans who "had been there looked resigned. Then an Oregonian reporter telephoned Campbell the allowed by the court to flie reply brief, eventful news, and he drew a breath of The taking of testimony was concluded relief and said: "Good enough.

A good many relatives of the men were waiting at various fire stations to hear the news, and they wore beaming smiles. Bets were paid, and those knowing ones who lost were mildly chaffed. It is rumored that the new lease of life the firemen have received will have the effect of bringing about one or two wed dings which have been talked of.

PROVISIONS OF NEW CHARTER. Main Points of Differentiation in the Vetoed Bill. The changes made by the new charter, which will now not occur, were numer

The most important was the surrender of the fire and police departments to the Democrats.

A new water committee was named, to be comprised of W. B. Ayer, C. H. Carey, H. W. Scott, J. C. Ainsworth, C. H. Raffety, William M. Ladd, T. M. Richardson and C. A. Dolph. The sal-Richardson and C. A. Dolph. The sal-ary of the clerk and superintendent was reduced to $1890. The water commission provided for, to be appointed by the com-mittee in 1905, was done away with, and the City Treasurer was made treasurer of the funds instead of an independent treasurer appointed by the committee.

The clerk of the Chief of Police, Mualcipal Court. Fire Commissioners and ioners were legislated out

The Harbor-Master was placed in the hands of the new Commissioners in-stead of the Mayor and Council, and there were other minor changes of this

The salary of the Chief of Police was reduced from $200 to $150 per month and some salaries in the fire department were cut down.

The salary of the Municipal Judge was reduced to $1200 beginning next term, and the Mayor to $2000, to begin next term. The City Engineer was removed from his place on the Board of Public Works. The Police and Fire Commissioners were made elective two years hence, also the Beard of Public Works.

The city was given power to transfer moneys from the general to special funds in emergent cases, to license bicycles, and to collect licenses on various callings, vehicles, etc., "for the pur-pose of revenue." Certain licenses were pose of revenue." made payable into the street repair

Appeals were granted from convictions in the Municipal Court in misdemeand cases.

The street laws were amended to per

GOLD

Washing Powder

GOLD DUST does

most of the work that your muscle has to do when you try to get along without it.

SCRIBNER'S FOR MARCH

RICHARD HARDING DAVIS'S Illustrated Article on The East Coast of Africa

THE SETTLEMENT IN CHINA by T. F. Millard

MRS. GILBERT'S STAGE REMI NISCENCES

AMONG THE IMMI-GRANTS by Arthur Henry. Illustrated

RUSSIA OF TO-DAY De Witte and his Work by Henry Norman, M.P.

A NEW AMATEUR CRACKSMAN STORY by E. W. Hornung Illustrated by F. C. Yohn OTHER ARTICLES AND STORIES

PRICE 25 CENTS NOW READY

temporary repair was defined. These were the principal changes. There were a number of reductions in salaries to commence in July, 1902.

WANT BRIEFS SUBMITTED.

End of the Testimony in Firemen's Sult Against the City.

Briefs in the firemen's suits are to be submitted to Judges Sears, Frazer and George within 20 days, by the different attorneys engaged in the trial of the case, and 10 days' further time has been yesterday morning. O. F. Paxton, one of the plaintiffs' attorneys, suggested that the testimony be extended by the official reporter, stating that this would assist in the preparation of the briefs and shorten the oral argu-ments. After some discussion it was decided that the different attorneys arrange between themselves to have this done, City Attorney Long remarked that, ac cording to a decision of the Supreme Court of New York, published in The Oregonian, it was held that it was uncon stitutional to fix any stated salary. If the opinion was correctly given in the paper. It would dispose of this case, Attorney Gieason—According to that the Council could give you only $50 per month if they wanted to.

Mr. Long smiled, and Judge Sears said, "That would not apply to Oregon." Council Mr. Gleason-That was under their Con-

Continuing Mr. Gleason said: "I would like the cases disposed of as early as pos-sible. These men want their money. They have been waiting long enough for their like to hear a discussion on the law quesimplied contract. There is another question, Some of these men were supposed to be permanent men, and were never employed as permanent men, but allowed to go about as they pleased. I would like a full argument on that. Mr. Paxton-The charter is silent on

Mr. Gleason said they all stood on the requisition in the Montag case, except about a dozen plaintiffs whose names he read, who were not allowed enough. The city was bound by it. Also the men, (This requisition was for $17,000 and was drawn by the Pennoyer Board of Fire covered the back salaries, but the warrants were never drawn. Auditor Gambell refused to do so.)

City Attorney Long said he desired to file a copy of all requisitions covering the periods of this suit, and a statement of the appropriations to the Fire Department fund. There was a man working ommissioners as one of its last acts,

John Montag testified that after August 31, 1895, no contracts were made with the men to accept reduced salaries, be-cause attorneys told the Commissioners such contracts were not valid. No man was asked to sign a contract after that time. The men made demands right along for the amounts not paid, and finally a requisition was made. L. W. Maloney, F. J. Heitinger, H. Hyde, Joseph Harriman and A. Cherry testified

BUSINESS ITEMS.

If Baby Is Cutting Teeth, Be sure and use that old and well-tried remedy. Mrs. Winslow's Zoothing Syrup, for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the guns, ailays all pain, cures wind colic and diarrhoes.

Nobody can be too careful in avoiding "Grippe." Be prepared to shake it off. To do this, use Carter's Little Liver Pills regularly, One pill after each meal.

Judge Frazer-I think the court would like to hear a discussion on the law question; for instance, if there can be an im-

Maryland Club

Pure Rye Whiskey

It tastes old because it is old

CAHN, BELT & CO., Baltimore, Md.

FLECKENSTEIN MAYER CO., Sole Distributors Portland, Oregon

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, and has been made under his personal supervision for over 30 years. Allow no one to deceive you in this. Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments, and endanger the health of Children-Experience against Experiment.

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of

In Use For Over 30 Years.

"FOOL'S HASTE IS NAE SPEED." DON'T HURRY THE WORK UNLESS YOU USE

SAPOLIO