The West belongs to the cattlemen. They were the people who reclaimed the country from the Indians. Whoever heard of a sheepman being killed by Indians. Many of us who are in the cattle business have had our relatives killed by the Indians. I had a son killed by the Indians, but there were no sheepmen in the country at that time. Sheepmen are too slow to catch up with any danger. I am referring to those men who have their all invested in five dogs, a wagon and a few sheep. Those men have no respect for the rights of others. We in our country have no trouble with them, because there is a certain tax levied which keeps them out of the state. I have never myself had any trouble with sheepmen. I have avoided them when I could, and they are anyway too slow to associate with cattlemen.
