

IVEY WILL GO ON

President Will Appoint New Collector for Alaska.

OREGON MAN HAS RESIGNED

Unless Senators Simon and Mitchell Can Agree Upon New Incumbent, This State May Not Get the Appointment.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—It is intimated at the Treasury Department that a change is soon to be made in the collection of customs for Alaska. No intimation is given as to who will succeed Collector Ivey. The explanation is made that Mr. Ivey's resignation is at hand, subject to acceptance by the President at any time, and when it shall be accepted the President will be ready to name the new man. Up to this time Senator Mitchell has made no recommendation for the place, and the old-standing difference between Senators Simon and McBride operates against a Simon man securing the appointment. If Oregon is to get the appointment, her delegation will have to unite on a man without delay, and no further embarrass the President.

Collector Ivey was a lawyer in Portland prior to his appointment in 1897 as Collector of Customs of the District of Alaska. He stumped Oregon for McKinley in 1896, and was the only Oregon influence secured the Collectorship for him. His administration has been a stormy one, and several times his official head has been all but in the basket. In the Spring of 1898 he was instructed by the Treasury Department. It was predicted that he would return to Oregon a private citizen, but he made satisfactory explanations. He was given to him, and he went to Alaska with orders to enforce them. Late in 1899 or early in 1900 complaint was made to Washington that he was not conducting the office as he had been instructed, and his resignation was asked and tendered. The Oregon Senators began a fight for the appointment. Simon recommended Willis S. Dunway, of Portland, who was acceptable to Representative Moody. McBride made no recommendation, and it was understood that he had a candidate up his sleeve in the person of ex-Representative Ira S. Smith, of Polk county. Representative Tongue opposed Dunway, and kept his weather eye open for friends who have fat jobs under Ivey. Other Pacific Coast States put forward candidates, and President McKinley was in a quandary. He did not feel like giving a place which belonged to Oregon to another state, and yet the Oregon delegation could not agree upon a man who would be acceptable to all. Ivey, who was in Washington at the time, succeeded in patching up his troubles with the Treasury Department. He withdrew his resignation and went back to Sitka as Collector.

LEAGUE OF CITIZENS. Organized at Corvallis for Public Improvement.

CORVALLIS, Or., March 13.—Organization of a Citizens' League was perfected last night by the executive committee. President, B. W. Johnson, first vice-president, W. H. Curran, second vice-president, C. E. Woodson, secretary, and E. Allen, treasurer. The five officers also constitute the executive committee. The membership is 65. The object of the league is to promote the welfare of the community, to recommend measures that may seem beneficial, to plan and conduct the County and the improvement of public highways, to promote the establishment of new industries and to encourage immigration.

THE CITY COUNCIL, by unanimous vote, has ordered strict enforcement of the Sunday law against saloons. The action was taken after Officer Wells had made a speech, in which he stated that a certain saloon was open the preceding Sunday evening. During his remarks the officer read off a list of persons in the saloon when he visited it.

At a convention of Granges of Benton County the following delegates were elected to attend the State Grange: C. E. Banton, of Alsea, and Mrs. E. M. Hawley, of Dunsmuir. The alternates are W. Tom and Mrs. Tharp.

The convention adopted the following resolution: "Resolved, That it is the opinion of this convention that the by-laws of the State Grange should be so changed that each subordinate Grange shall have one delegate to the State Grange each year."

UNEASY AT CORNUCOPIA. People Apprehensive Last Mine May Be Closed Down.

BAKER CITY, March 13.—Some concern has been caused by news from the East that John E. Bonner's affairs would be put through bankruptcy proceedings. Under the management of Assignee Dwight, it was not doubted that the big Cornucopia mines would be continued, because of the fact that Mr. Dwight was in close touch with the owners. While the natural presumption is that any property on a self-sustaining basis would not be closed down, there are many considerations in the present case to cause more or less concern. For instance, the new receiver has not embroiled himself in meeting current obligations that had accrued for the past month's operation. It is the opinion of well-informed men that much uncertainty attends the operation of the mine until an adjustment has been made. No doubt exists that it is more than self-sustaining, although the large expense incident to installing the elaborate electric power plant and equipment may have caused to be left over unpaid bills. The mine has been running only a little more than a week, and has not had time to grind out values sufficient to pay for the improvements made last Fall and Winter. To close the mine down would have a depressing effect on the district, and everybody earnestly hopes that the receiver will continue operations.

CASE OF CHILD-BEATER. Defendant at Baker City Tried to Make Away With Victim.

BAKER CITY, March 13.—Another interesting chapter was added yesterday to a child-whipping case, now exciting this community. J. M. Melkko, the father, stole the boy from the home of C. H. Stuller, who was keeping him, and when caught by the officers, was making away with the lad, with the evident purpose of getting beyond the reach of the law. When District Attorney White learned of the attempt to steal the child, which, if successful, might remove damaging evidence against the father and stepmother, he asked that the boy be held under order of the court until the case was finally disposed of, and then that the boy be sent to the Home of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society.

Both the father and stepmother are under arrest, and have pleaded guilty to assault and battery. They will be sentenced this morning by Judge Eakin. The whip used to flog the 8-year-old boy is now in possession of District Attorney White. It is a typical rawhide riding whip, badly worn at the end. Since the evidence of such excessive punishment has come to light, many citizens advocate inflicting like or worse punishment upon the father. Prominent business men have been heard to say that they would gladly take part in such a chastisement.

INCORPORATION EFFECTED. Company Will Operate Astoria Street Railway.

ASTORIA, Or., March 13.—Articles of incorporation of the Astoria Electric Company were filed in the office of the County Clerk today. The incorporators are Samuel S. Gordon, Frank R. Stokes and Charles H. Page, and the capital stock is $200,000, divided into 2000 shares of $100 each. The principal office of the company is to be at Astoria. The company is authorized to own and operate street railway lines, power and lighting plants, as well as water works, mills, etc., for the prosecution of any kind of manufacturing business, including smelting and reduction of ores and minerals. This is the company that is to operate the Astoria street railway line, and it was for that particular purpose that the incorporation was made. Plans for extending the line both east and west have all been prepared, but before they can be finally approved they must be passed upon by Mr. Mitchell, Western manager for the General Electric Company, the owners of the road. Mr. Mitchell is expected to arrive at Astoria within the next few days.

A suit was filed in the Circuit Court today by the London & San Francisco Bank, of Portland, against T. H. Wycombe, to collect a promissory note for $500, with interest at 8 per cent, from January 25, 1899, and a promissory note for $150, with interest, from August 12, 1899, an over-draft of $45 40, and $250 in attorney's fees. The defendant resides in London, England, and is principal owner of the Columbia Oil & Guano Company. The plant recently erected by the company above Tongue Point has been attached as security for the claims.

The Goodyear Rubber Company, of Portland, is making inquiries here as to the whereabouts of J. H. Smith, one of its traveling salesmen, whom no word has been received since February 14. Mr. Smith came here on that day and went to South Bend, returning on February 18. He remained here until the evening of the 20th, when he was advised by friends good-bye, saying he was going to Portland on the steamer Hercules. He did not go on the steamer and no word has been received since that time. It is feared that he fell into the river and was drowned.

In the Circuit Court today a decree of divorce was granted in the case of B. S. Baekman vs. Jenney Baekman. The parties reside in Portland and were married in Oregon City in 1894.

PRUNES FOR CHICAGO. Carload Shipment Made by Willamette Association.

SALEM, Or., March 13.—The Willamette Valley Prune Association is today preparing a carload of Italian prunes for shipment to Chicago tomorrow. The prices received for the prunes are the highest that have been secured at any time since the crop was gathered last Fall. The exact figures are not given. The prunes, before being shipped, are thoroughly washed in scalding water, so as to brighten the skins and give them an attractive appearance. They are then packed in boxes bearing the association label, and will go on the Oregonian Willamette Valley product. The carload to go forward tomorrow is one of about 10 now stored in the association warehouse in this city.

H. S. Gile, manager of the association, is now in Chicago, attending to the marketing of the fruit in which he is interested. It is learned through letters written by him to the association, that the California fruit and give the Oregon prune the last chance. In one house, while Mr. Gile was present, three buyers came to look at the prunes. They were shown the California goods first and every effort was made to effect a sale. It was only upon request that the Oregon prunes were brought out, and in the instance a sale of the Oregon fruit was made.

It is also learned that the sale of Oregon fruit at the prices demanded has been greatly hindered by the sale at a lower price of Italian prunes produced in the Northwest. A sale having been made at a lower figure than the association demanded, it was therefore difficult to get a higher variety of fruit at a higher figure, even though the quality might be some better.

Fruit men have no fear now of damage from cold weather unless there shall be continued cold rains during the blossoming period.

CONTRACTS FOR BREWERY. Let at Baker City for New Plant, Which Will Also Make Ice.

BAKER CITY, March 13.—Contracts were let yesterday for construction of the new brewery to be erected here by Spokane capital. Plans and specifications are not given out, but the contractor is authorized by the statement that the building is to be a three-story brick. The annual capacity will be 10,000 barrels, and the cold-storage plant will have a capacity of 15 tons of ice. The new brewery, heretofore, has been cut from ponds in Winter and stored for Summer use. Lively competition in the sale of beer is expected. The builders announce that they will endeavor to reach all Eastern Oregon from this location, as it has been found impracticable to do so from Spokane, owing to freight rates. A rumor is in circulation that the concern will buy out the brewery at Sumpter. The Pacific Brewery Company, through its manager, Henry Hunt, states that it will remain in the field and endeavor to meet all competition, as in the past.

Ganong, H. L. Kelly, C. N. Greenman, George A. Harding and E. Mathias. The interment was in Mountain View cemetery.

PRICES WILL STAY UP

CATTLE WILL NEVER GO DOWN TO FORMER MARKET LEVEL.

Farmers Who Own Stock in Good Fortune, and Should Increase Their Herds.

SALEM, Or., March 13.—E. C. Cross, a wholesale and retail meat dealer of this city, says that prices of beef cattle are the highest they have ever been during his 15 years of experience in the meat business. Unable to purchase a sufficient number of cattle in this section of the country, he has been importing them from Idaho and Southern Oregon, paying therefor 5 cents per pound on foot. Mr. Cross has information of sales in the Klondike country at 45 cents per pound on foot, the purchase price, and the expenses of transportation to the railroad and thence to market. At this season of the year the stock sold for butchering is at a good price. The farmers who are considered, but little higher to the farmer than the prices that prevailed last Fall.

Mr. Cross sees in this condition of the market many things which the farmer may consider profitable. It is evident that the farmer who has raised cattle along with his wheat has something which he can sell at any time of the year at a good price. The farmer who has raised the temptation to sell his cows and heifer calves at the high prices that have prevailed in a position to build up his herd of cattle so as to have stock to sell with each successive season. The farmer who has not diversified, but has confined themselves to the raising of grain alone can now realize the mistake they have made.

Few Eastern Buyers. This is the first season in five years that Eastern buyers are all things considered, but little higher to the farmer than the prices that prevailed last Fall.

Mr. Cross sees in this condition of the market many things which the farmer may consider profitable. It is evident that the farmer who has raised cattle along with his wheat has something which he can sell at any time of the year at a good price. Ordered to San Francisco. WASHINGTON, March 13.—Captain Harry A. Littlefield, of Portland, recently appointed Assistant Surgeon, and ordered to San Francisco for assignment to duty at Manila.

SALARY WILL TEST IT. How Fish Commissioner Reed's Tenure Will Be Decided.

Fish Commissioner Reed thinks the first legal steps taken in the matter of his office will be when he applies for his monthly salary, April 1. Then, if he is refused payment, he will institute proceedings for the protection of his authority as existing Fish Commissioner will be tested.

As the matter now stands, Mr. Reed says yesterday, "the close season for salmon fishing, except by hook and line, extends throughout the year. The new law was rushed through the Legislature without due consideration, so no one knows what its real intent is."

The Governor, Secretary of State and State Treasurer are appointed Fish Commissioners, and Mr. Van Dusen, of Astoria, has been named as Fish Commissioner also, as the new law contains no repealing clause. I wanted Mr. Van Dusen to resign, but he has not received it, and he will immediately after commence to sign players.

WAS SUCCESSFUL MEETING

CONVENTION OF WOOLGROWERS AT THE DALLES.

Efficiency of Association Improved—Six Cents Per Head Adopted for Shearing.

THE DALLES, Or., March 13.—The meeting of the Oregon Woolgrowers' Association, which ended here last night, is regarded as the most satisfactory convention of that body yet held. The deliberations were such as greatly to improve and broaden the field of usefulness to the association. Several questions of much importance to sheepmen brought forth spirited and interesting discussions. Among them were a change in the constitution of the association, the matter of shoddy in wool goods, and the adjustment of shearing prices. Heretofore the official roll of the association has consisted of president, secretary and treasurer. This was changed by creating the office of vice-president, to which J. N. Williamson, of Prineville, was elected last year, and by combining the duties of secretary and treasurer into one office. The selection of Douglas Belts, of Pilot Rock, Umatilla County, for president, is looked upon as a particularly happy one. Mr. Belts is a prominent woolgrower of large experience in his section, and he will add the weight of superior judgment to the body, besides bringing many Umatilla woolgrowers into contact with the association.

An address of more than usual interest was delivered by George A. Young, concerning protection of woolgrowers from the present practices of manufacturers. Mr. Young displayed samples of Sea Island cotton and secured Australian wool for 12 cents, while Australian wool brings 6 cents, and that fabrics manufactured from an equal mixture of these is not distinguishable to the ordinary buyer, is a sad one for the woolgrower.

Pay for Shearing. Much discussion was indulged on the question of prices of shearing. The general opinion was that 6 cents per head should be adopted as the uniform price for this season. In view of the fact that the ordinary sheep-shearer averages 10 head per day 5 cents is regarded as sufficient compensation, when added to board and lodging. It was generally conceded that the present status of the wool market does not justify a higher price this season. After an agreement to further the formation of local associations throughout the state, through which the membership of the association may be enlarged, the meeting adjourned until September 19, when it will reassemble at Heppner.

Astoria Chamber of Commerce. ASTORIA, Or., March 13.—At the meeting of the Astoria Chamber of Commerce the following resolution was adopted by Secretary Fischler, of the Portland Chamber, was adopted: "Whereas, in view of the great improvement to the state of the development of the mineral resources, which are numerous and varied, and before be it Resolved, That the Portland Chamber of Commerce is in favor of a suitable bill for the establishment of a state mining bureau."

Lost His Leg. VANCOUVER, B. C., March 13.—A juvenile passenger on the eastbound train fell off the platform near Revelstok, B. C., and the leg was severed above his knee. At the next station a telegram was received by the conductor stating that a child had been found on the track a short distance from Revelstok, with both legs horribly mangled. Wilson found he had crawled a distance of 16 telegraph poles in an endeavor to reach aid.

Northwest Postoffice. WASHINGTON, March 13.—A postoffice has been established at Agate, Jackson County, Or., on the route from Toole to Eagle Butte. Jefferson F. Grigsby has been appointed Postmaster.
