Bottom Prices in Wool Have Been Reached-Wheat Market Is Strong.

absorbed at steady prices.

The bottom prices for wool have been reached at last, as is evinced by the growing unwillingness of holders to make conons, the greater activity of dealers, and indication that purchases for speculation are of considerable volume. Transac tions show a material gain at the leading markets, while shipments from Boston exceed those of preceding weeks. Efforts to secure even fractional advances in quotations, however, end negotiations. Manu-facturers are not inclined to accumulate stocks. The new clip moves very slowly, nsignors accompanying shipments with instructions not to sell at current figures. "It was not possible to maintain the small recovery late last week in raw cot-

BUSINESS IS ACTIVE.

Trade in Many Lines Breaks All Records-Future Is Bright. NEW YORK, March 29 .- Bradstreet's to-

"A rather cheerful tone is apparent in general trade, and the close of the first quarter of the year finds the business world contemplating a total trade for that period in many cases in excess of all preceding periods, while the future, with exceptions, is viewed with apparent confidence. The advance of the Spring season is, of course, partly responsible for the feeling above mentioned allowing, as it does, better opportunity for a wider range of operations than was possible in the Winter months. "First indications as to crop prospects and outlook are in the main favorable Bank clearings are showing steady gains over unprecedentedly large totals a year ago. Railway earnings testify to an immense volume of merchandise passing into consumption, and, as for some time past, and at advancing prices for fron and steel is regarded as a reliable in-dex of good general trade to come. Building is becoming more active, and promises this Spring to be the heaviest for many years past. Hence the lumber trades and all lines of builders' hardware note continued or growing activity. The demand in the latter line and in agric tural implements at the West is, in fact, most notable. Turn in Wool.

"As pointed out a week ago, there has been an apparent turn in the tide in the wool trade, even while some quotations are technically lower. A good volume of business has been done at the leading Eastern markets, and values, as a whole, are quite firm. Boston sales this week are estimated to amount to nearly 6,000,000 pounds, bought by two large mills, and the stacks of Montana wool have been well cleared up.

"The boot and shoe trade is in good con-Another gain in shipments is indicated this week, and the total is 6000 cases shead of this week last year, while the unfavorable balance for the season has been cut down. The situation in lenther is quite satisfactory, and stocks of sole leather are limited.

might be described as even approximating a "boom." Conditions have been gener-ally favorable, and sentiment favors a continuance of the buillsh movement, even though prices in many cases have reached a level which causes conservative interests to indulge in misgivings. At times the market shows the effect of being some what over-manipulated, but its intervals of duliness are of brief duration, and the upward movement is soon resumed. The announcement that about $20,000 in gold bars would be shipped to Europe this week produced on Wednesday a marked, although temporary halt in the bullish movement, while fears of war between Japan and Russia had an effect also. The gold-shipping transaction was a spe arrangement, and apparently has reference to the approaching German loan of 3,000,000,000 marks.

"The foreign exchange has been strong and advancing, and there is a decided upon the United States for a considerable amount of specie during the present below 3 per cent on call and at from 31/2 to 4 per cent on time. It is also noticed that lenders of money, as a rule, are less disposed to discriminate against industrial collaterals.

The success of the great steel deal, and the belief that the new United States Steel stocks will not only be a leading feature of th emarket from now on, but will develop an intrinsic value of a high order, seems to have removed from many minds the doubts which have heretofore operated against industrial stocks, even of the best class, in connection with speculative operations of loans.

Both are friends of Law-yer Albert T. Patrick, who is charged that the will was a forgery, having consuited handwriting experts. On his examination he ac-knowledged that Patrick had dictated the Rice will to him. By this will the Rice millions were left to Patrick. The first communication from Governor Dole related to the demand of the House that he asserted the research for House that he ascertain the reason for the absence of Land Commissioner J. F. His second communication was in regard to another demand from the House for all locuments of the Administrative Department from the time of annexation to United States to the present date. ernor Dole stated that in view of the relations of the executive to the superior authority of the United States since annexation, he could not comply with the demand of the resolution in its present sweeping form. The steamship Zealandia arrived this morning, eight days from Port Los Angeles, with 545 Porto Ricans aboard for service on the various sugar plantations. There were two deaths on the voyage. Another detachment numbering 850 pecple is expected. R. A. Macafie, of San Juan, who has been in charge of re-cruiting this help for service in the Hawallan Islands, is not very sangulae over the future possibilities of getting more of this character of labor to come here. He says that the demand for labor in Porto Rico is becoming greater every day, and in addition to the demand of the Hawaiian sugar interests for help, Cubs and Ecuador are offering inducements to the Porto Ricans to go to those countries. The great distance of Hawaii renders these other countries far more acceptable. Fifteen of the men who arrived here last week from Boston under agreement to work on the sugar plantations refused to fulfill their contracts when asked by the agents of the plantations to go to the places assigned them. The strikers said that they had intended to come here simply for the trip, as the sugar planters would pay their fare. None of the crowd has thus far succeeded in finding employment. A MEMORIAL MEETING.

Eulogies on Authors Who Died During the Year.

NEW YORK, March 30.-Each year it is customary for the Authors' Club to have upon some designated evening a memorial meeting for such members of the club as have died during the year preceding. Last night tribute was paid to the memories of Charley Dudley Warner, Stephen Crane, Professor Moses Colt Tyler and Former Postmaster-General William L.

Among the members present were E. C. Stedman, Richard H. Stoddard, ex-Minister Oscar S. Straus and George Haven Putnam; Mr. Putnam spoke of Moses Colt Tyler.

In his eulogy upon Charles Dudley Warner, Edward S. Van Zile said that the striking characteristic about his work is its peculiarly American spirit. An eulogy prepared by Ripley Hitchcock was read by Rossiter Johnson, the club's secretary. Its subject was Stephen Crane, It quoted from a letter written by Crane to Mr. Hitchcock in which the writer referred to New York as having muddled him. Its admiration had made him a Jib-

Wakefulness.

Badly nourished nerves are irritable and uneasy, so are nerves that are overworked and worn-out. The quiet and harmony of the nerve-centers are gone; and every effort either of mind or body increases the jarring and discord. They cannot rest because they are hungry; and the sleep that comes after a night of tossing, brings neither rest nor strength. Feed the nerves. Nourish and tone them up, and wakeful nights will be a thing of the past. Dr. MILES' NERVINE is the best remedy for wakefulness because it makes strong nerves.

"My nerves were badly affected and I had pains in my head, down my spine and in both sides. But worst of all I could not sleep. For many weeks I never slept before two or three o'clock in the morning. I took three bottles of Dr. Miles' Nervine and since then I sleep fine, have a good appetite and feel well all the time." C.
