Only $10 was paid on account, leaving a balance of $7.50. For the defense it was stated that the girl was sick at the de Parcq house for seven days; that she asked the defendants to provide nursing and medicine for her, and that they did so; that the medicine they bought was quinine capsules. Epsom salts and gripcure; and that such nursing was worth $1 per day, and that the medicine cost $5 conts. That figuring left the plaintiff just 5 cents in the defendants' debt, but the jury did not see it that way.

DATE OF TENNIS TOURNAMENT FIXED.-The dates for the Oregon state championship tennis tournament were set for July 24 to 27 at the last meeting of the board of directors of the Mulinoman Club. R. A. Leiter was elected chairman of the outdoor athletic committee, vice A. B. Mc-Alpin, resigned. Prominent players of California and the Pacific Northwest will be invited to attend the Oregon tournament, which will be held on the Multnomah Club courts. W. A. Goss, the state champion, who returned this week from a trip to the Puget Sound cities, reports that quite a number of the Northern players will come south for the tour-nament. Foulkes, the Victoria crack and champion of the Pacific Northwest, until defeated by Freeman, of Spokane, last Summer, is going to South Africa. This will leave the Victoria tournament in July open to the second-class players, unless Freeman, the new Northwest champion, decides to enter. A number of Portland players are contemplating competing in the Puget Sound tournament this season. SESSION LAWS, 1901.—The general laws enacted by the first blennial session of the Oregon Legislature will soon be ready for distribution. Through the courtesy of State Printer W. H. Leeds an advance copy of the book, needed for a special purpose, was received here yesterday. The book contains 502 pages of laws, resolu-tions and memorials, and 82 pages of index. Heretofore the laws of a session, heneral and special, have been printed in one volume, but this time the general laws are issued in one volume and the special laws in another, which will prob-ably be of about the same size. This segregation of the laws into two volumes will be found an improvement over the Sportsmen of this city have had warning and say they will not attempt to violate the law. If they do they are likely to be caught and any one caught violating the law will be vigorously prosecuted.

Tour or Inspection.-Local Forecast Official E. A. Beals returned yesterday from a two weeks' inspection trip in the interests of the Westher Bureau. He vis-ited Baker City, Walla Walla, Pendleton, Pocatello, and Lewiston. "This was my annual trip of inspection." said Mr. Beals, "and I found the work in all the stations going on in good shape. The trip also gave me an opportunity to familiar-ize myself with the topography of the Columbia River and Snake River basins, which will be valuable to me in making up my forecasts for Eastern Oregon, Washington and Idaho."

EXTEND ITS

BOARD OF TRADE MAY BECOME STATE ORGANIZATION.

Also Planning a Permanent Exhibit of Oregon's Varied Resources-Rooms in Union Depot.

The Portland Board of Trade is devising a plan to extend its organization through-out all the cities and towns of the state. Although the plan is not as yet matured. it is possible at this time to give a general outline of it. Briefly stated, it is designed to have sub-boards organized in the smaller cities and towns, and to have the board in this city the central body.

The organizers idea is to give each of the sub-boards delegate representation on the Portland board, which would hold regular meetings, say once a month. In this manner every community in the state would have an active interest in promot-ing the work of the board.

The primary object of the board would be to advertise Oregon's resources, promote immigration and encourage the es-tablishment of manufactories in the state, It would prepare and cause to be circulated printed matter embracing all these subjects. At present every commercial body in Portland is daily in receipt of let-ters asking for information about Oregon. These letters have to be answered, and this cannot be done satisfactorily without the aid of printed matter. The latter would save time, and, coming from an authoritative source, do infinitely more good than mere written letters. In connection with the board's plan it posed to establish and maintain a permanent exhibit of Oregon's resource in this city. This exhibit would includ mining, cereal, fruit, horticultural and all other products of the state. An effort is being made to secure a room in the Union Depot for the purposes of the ex-hibit. It is understood that all the roads running into Portland save one are will ng to give the use of the room, and the consent of this road will doubtiess be seonsent of this road will doubtiess be se-ured within a short time. The board inends to hire all the help necessary for he keeping up of the exhibit. The matter of forming sub-boards, together with that of establishing the ex-hibit, will be more thoroughly discussed at the next meeting of the Board of Di-FOUND BY THE WAYSIDE.—A man's sua pecture, which the initials "A. B. He was born in Canada, April 20, 1825, and came to Oregon in 1965, making his home in East Portland on East Washington street, corner East Tenth, owned several buildings. He lived on this corner up to about 10 years ago, when he moved to Sellwood where he lived till his death. Mr. Johnson was a bridge builder by profession and he constructed many of the high trestles on the West Side line of what is now part of the Southern Pacific Railway system. He also put up some buildings at Pendleton and in other portions of the state. For a time he was connected with the Southern Pacific car-He retired from active business shops. several years ago. streets, as has been the situation for many years, and it is the opinion of Mr. Nicholson and others that measures should be taken to preserve the streets. Mr. Nicholson said yesterday in speaking of the preservation of the streets, refer-ring specially to the East Side:

"I believe that measures should be tak-en at once to keep all the new streets in a constant state of repair, and also fix up the old ones, so they will carry their proportion of the travel. The trouble always has been that only a few streets have been improved and these were made to carry all the travel, and the consequence was they were quickly wern out. No attempt was made to keep them repaired, but they were allowed to de-teriorate until a new improvement and heavy expense were necessary, but now with the new conditions we shall have a great many streets and the burden will be distributed among them. These should all be kept in repair at all times. I have talked with City Engineer Chase, and he is in full accord with this view. The cost of keeping a street in constant repair is small if followed closely. Heretofore a street is completely worn out before anything is done. This is expensive business for the property-owners. Some provision should be made as soon as possible to keep the streets up. I am not in favor of plank for street improvements. There is too much waste and a well-graveled street is much better."

More Property Recovered. By a little strategy on the part of C. B. Bartel, of St. Paul's German Lutheran Church, East Twelfth and Clinton streets, a portion of the articles stolen from that church over a year ago have been re-covered, and others may be recovered. The silver communion set and the pas-tor's fine violin, the latter a present from his father in the old country, and some aprons were stoien. Little hope was entertained of ever getting any of these things back. Mr. Bartel went to the jall where J. C. Fabricious, the church globe thief is held, and asked him if he knew anything about the robbery of the Luth-eran Church, telling him where it is located. At first he would eay nothing. Mr. Bartel said he would befriend him if he would tell what he knew, but still he would not talk. Mr. Bartel went out and bought a pipe and some tobacco, and returning to the jall made the thief a present of them. The fellow broke down and said he robbed the church. He then gave information by which the aprons and the violin were recovered, but the communion set has not yet been found. It is not yet known whether it has been destroyed, but still hopes are entertained that it will be traced. Mr. Krause, the pastor, valued the violin very highly.

Will Install Willamette Fire Engine. In a few days the old Williamette engine will be installed at engine-house No. 7, East Third street, in place of the engine which has been in service there for a long time. The Willamette engine is an old timer, but has been thoroughly over-hauled and is in fine condition, and is a better engine than the one that has been in service at this house. A pit is being dug under the floor of the engine-house for the heater, and when this has been installed the Willamette will be put into service. The firemen had the Willamette out at their last drill on the Burkhard building, and are well pleased with the change, Enst Side Notes. John Pape is up from Long Beach on a visit on the East Side. He says that many improvements are under way. He will return Monday.

The Game Warden and deputies have been watching Johnson Creek closely the past week, as it has been reported that shing was in progress in that stream. Rev. J. J. Dalton, pastor of the First Cumberland Presbyterian Church, East Twelfth and Taylor streets, returned yesterday from McMinnville, where he had been assisting in a protracted meet-ing for the past two weeks,

A DAY ON THE COLUMBIA KIVER.

A visit to Portland is incomplete without devoting at least one day to the Co-lumbia River and its magnificent scenery. You can leave Portland at 9 A. M. any day on the O. R. & N. Co,'s palattal Portand-Chicago special train, lunch at The Dalles or in the dining-car, be back at 4:30 P. M., and have seen the most attractive portion of the Columbia, In making the trip by rall you obtain a near view of the many beautiful cascades, and as the track skirts the south bank of the river the stream and its north shore are onstantly in sight.

Should you desire a ride on a river steamer, take the O. R. & N. Co.'s train at 9 A. M. any day except Sunday, for Cascade Locks, spend a short time there, and then board the steamer as she passes through the locks en route to Portland. A more extensive river excursion can be had by leaving Ash-street dock, Portland (daily except Sunday), at 8 P. M. for Astoria, on the O. R. & N. Co.'s fast, electric-lighted steamer "Hassalo," arriv-ing at Astoria, 199 miles distant, about daylight; returning, leave Astoria at 7 A. M. (except Sunday), arriving at Portland about 5 P. M. All meals can be had on the steamer, and altogether the trip is most delightful, restful and comfort-

A WORD ABOUT WEBER PIANOS

"There are hundreds of pianoforte-makers in the United States," says the New York Tribune, "but not over four are undisputably in the front rank, and prominent among the four is the house of Weber. Aithough the founder, like the originators of the other leading houses, is no longer living, the great factory which he established still goes on, and the Weber warerooms contain today more exquisite examples of the piano-maker's art than were ever before shown by this renowned concern. The elder Weber was a genius in the realm of tone production, and it has been often said that the quality that Sradivarius bestowed upon the violin, Weber imparted to his pianoforte. His successors have strictly maintained the high standard of excellence established in the early days of the concern, and have perpetuated that wonderful tone quality for which the Weber plano has so long been distinguished. The artistic productions of the house this season merit especial comment."
