G. A. R. MONUMENT ASSURED,-A hand-G. A. R. Monument Assured.—A handsome bronze monument will be placed in the Grand Army of the Republic cemetery in a short time. The movement to get this monument was started only a short time ago among the G. A. R. posts of Portland, and it met with enthusiastic favor right from the start. The several posts, the George Wright, Sumner, Lincoin-Garfield and Ben Butler, undertook to raise among themselves enough money, so that with what the Cemetery Association contributed, there would be suffclent to get the monument. Architect D.
D. Neer, a member, made investigation cient to get the monument. Architect D.

D. Neer, a member, made investigation of aproportate monuments, and recommended that a bronze figure of an infantryman with his gun and equipment be selected. A rough drawing of the proposed monument was displayed at the Body Had Disappeared.—There was mild excitement in the police station yesterday when a telephone message was received stating that a woman's body had been discovered by three boys in a guich on the Canyon road. Then the three boys arrived, Fred Stipe, 144 North Eighteenth street, Edgar Roth, 251 Sixteenth street, and Wallace Going. 25 North Sixteenth street, and said they had seen the woman's body, and that she wore a red waist. Detective Cordano accompanied the boys to the guich, in the midst of a heavy rain, but could not find a body there. "If you boys are playing a first of April joke on the Police Department, you'll find yourselves in jall." he remarked, significantly, but the boys earnestly protested that they had seen the posed monument was displayed at the posts, and the membern expressed their approbation of the design. The cost of the monument with the concrete foundation will be a little less than $600. Yes, terday it was reported by a prominent member of Sumner post that the money had been raised and the monument or dered. With the concrete base the figure will stand about 17 feet high. In the G. A. R. cemetery a space was left on the south side in the high ground for a monument, and here the figure will stand. ment, and here the figure will stand, where it will be visible from all parts of the cemetery and the surrounding country. It will probably be received and erected before Memorial day.

WANTED AT ONCE: A NAME.—The State Wanted at Once. A Name Press Association is anxious that a name should be selected as soon as possible for the 1906 exposition. They are having their badges prepared for the National Editorial Association at Buffalo, which convenes June 19. On June 17 the Oregon Chair Association will hold its annual to the convenes of the convenience venes June 10. On June 17 the Origon.
State Association will hold its annual meeting, and also have what will be known as "Oregon Press day." On this occasion appropriate exercises will take place in the large auditorium at the Exposition building. Bands will play, banners will be flying, and thousands of people will be given a little ribbon badge bearing the name and date of the 1906 exposition on the Pacific Coast. In fact, the Oregon, Washington and Idaho deleexposition on the Facinic Colst. In fact, the Oregon, Washington and Idaho delegations, which leave here in special cars June 3, will begin advertising the Northwest from the time they leave the Union Depot at Portland until they reach the Atlantic Const and return to their homes. With a string band and a quartet they will stress praise of "God's own country". will sing praises of "God's own country" at every city, town and cattle-guard while en route. They say it will be time enough to "pass the hat" when they return, In discussing a name for the exposition, the editors say they are not particular, only editors say they are not particular, only let the historical or centennial feature predominate. They are not in favor of the word Oregon being used. The Washington and Idaho fraternity will lend every assistance in advertising the event on this Eastern trip.

New Building to be done in Portland this season, and every day new projects are coming to light. It is too early yet for the construction of brick buildings to be commenced, but there will be a number effected, more than is generally supposed at present. L. White is planning to build a brick block on the southwest corner of Fourth are Oak. Mr. Ladd, who owns property at Stark and Fifth streets, is abrick block on the southwest corner of Fourth served on the streets by men who claimed to have inside in-provement in old wooden buildings is go-ing on Washington street. The latest prick block there. Any amount of improvement in old wooden buildings is going on on Washington street. The latest is at Pourth and Washington, where Sig Werthelmer's cigar store and Pat Powers' saloon in the old Barrett residence were being torn out vertexed with the petitioners would not make public the names of those who had signed the petition. were being torn out yesterday. The Knight Shoe Company has taken out a permit to make improvements there to the value of $2000, which is more than the value of the old building. They will occupy the corner and the room next door now occupied by a candy store, and the candy store will move to the room now occupied by the shoe company. Collins' Landing, while Purser Ainsworth was assisting a passenger, Mrs. Jones, up the gang-plank, the wind blew so strongly that they were forced off the plank into the water. The depth was only about four feet, and they were soon rescued from their unpleasant position.

COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF COMING.—John E. Mayo, Assistant Adjutant for Oregon forthe G. A. R., has received notice from William Merritt, National secretary, that the Commander-in-Chief, Leo Rassieur, would visit the departments of the Northwest in June. He will first be in the Department of Idaho the 20th and 21st, and will be with the Washington Department the 24th and 25th. He will visit the Ore-gon department either the 25th, 27th or 25th. At this time the state encampment will be in gension at Forest Grove, and arrangements will be made so that he can be present one day. A general comcan be present one day. A general com-mittee of reception will be appointed. His coming at that time will add much in-terest to the state encampment. It has been a number of years since a command-er-in-chief attended a session of the grand encampment in this state. Immedi-ately following the close of the state enately following the close of the state encampment the annual reunion will be held at Forest Grove, and it may be the Com-mander-in-Chief can be induced to remain long enough to attend one day.

VISITORS WERE UNENLIGHTENED.-Strangers in Portland hotels who were obliged to keep within doors on account of the rain yesterday, were not favorably impressed with our climate, and they sat moodly, in the onese, gazing out upon the throng of umbrellas that was constantly passing. Few of the newcomers realized that it was the wettest day Portland had been visited with for a long time, and as it was April Fool's day, the old residents took little pains to inform old residents took little pains to inform them. On the contrary, the average Ore-gonian took delight in such expressions as, "O, this is nothing in Portland; this is just an Oregon mist; you haven't seen it rain here yet." In Seattle the residents greet the newcomer differenty on a wet day. ""All this rain?" they explaim. "Wall this you get to Portland." PRAISED PORTLAND'S HOSPITALITY.- mbers of the Chicago Commercial Club sched home last Wednesday. Next day the Chicago papers devoted much space to their enthusiastic praise of the country they traversed. Evidently they were impressed with the reception and banquet here, for they reported: "At Portland there was a fine trip by rail along the Columbia River to Multnomah Falls, and thence by boat back through the Wil-lamette to Portland. The third and last of the set banquets was held there, the presiding officer being George H. Williams, who was Attorney-General in the Cabinet of Fresident Grant. It was a finer feast, so report says, than either of the fine feasts that had preceded it."

INVESTED IN A SAW MILL.—J. Went-worth, of Bay City, Mich., and G. K. Wentworth, of Chicago, millionaire lum-bermen, have bought a third interest in the Portland Lumbering & Manufacturing Company. The purchasers have spent sev-eral weeks in Portland, and considered it a good town to invest in, as it is already the number metropolis of the Pacific Coast, and its timber interests are bound to increase in the future.

For Brownsville.-Rev. J. E. Snyder, who was had charge of the Third-Street Mission for two years, left yesterday for Brownsville, to resume his pastorate of the Presbyterian Church at that point. His successor has not been appointed for the mission yet, but Mrs. Abbee will preach to "her boys," as she calls them, WANTED - A GOOD TYPEWRITER AND stenographer; $35 to start with; references required. 535 Chamber of Commerce. An individual who doubtless thinks he is very funny caused the foregoing want "ad." to be inserted in yesterday morning's Oregonian. Yesterday was April fool's day, and the man who inserted the advertisement seized the opportunity to show just how big a fool he was. Messrs. Dan B. Murphy and Isaac Swett, attorneys, have their offices at 55 Chamber of Commerce, and they did not advertise for a stenographer. Consequently Mr. Swett was very much surprised yesterday morning when he came down to his office at 8 o'clock, to find about 11 young women waiting in the hall. He was dumfounded when they told him that they had braved the stormy weather An individual who doubtless thinks he that they had braved the stormy weather to answer his advertisement for a sten-ographer. When Mr. Swett assured them he did not want a stenographer, they pulled The Oregonian on him, and demanded to know what the advertisement

Then Mr. Swett was indignant, and when Mr. Murphy came down he was in-dignant, too. The joint wrath of the two lawyers increased during the forenoon when the status of the affair was ex-plained to them, while others went away expressing the opinion that Messrs. Murphy and Swett had "put up the job" themselves.

Had the smart man who inserted the

Had the smart man who inserted the advertisement seen one of the applicants, he might even have doubted his own smartness. Possibly the sight of suffering caused by the idiotic folly might have "swelled his head" even more than it is at present. The applicant in ques-tion was a frall and delicate girl. In company with her mother she left her home in blinding rain and wind in the morning, and spent several hours tramping through the wet and sloppy streets securing references before she presented herself at the offices of Murphy & Swett. Upon her arrival there she was ready to faint from exhaustion, and being in-formed that the advertisement was a hoax, she was almost heartbroken.

The advertisement "copy" which the smart man presented at the Oregonian business office Sunday evening is here-with produced. When the handwriting was shown to Mr. Swett yesterday he expressed the belief that he knew who the writer was. He will endeavor to ascer-tain definitely, and when the name is discovered, it will be published, just to let the people of Portland know what funny man in their midst gloats in the suffering of delicate women.

Another person with a preverted sense of humor was abroad Sunday, and, like the other fool, his idea of wit ran to-ward the inserting of bogus advertisements in newspapers. Another striking similarity in the tastes of these two fun-ny men is the fact that both sought to hold women up to ridicule. Following is the second effort to be witty: BARENSTECHER—To the wife of Charles Barenstecher, a son, weighing 10 pounds. At home Mondays, 8 P. M., northeast corner Fourth and Alder streets.

There was no son born in the Baren-stecher family. The only effect of the attempt at humor was to make Mrs. Barenstecher feel badly. Mental anguish and mortification on the part of a woman were the net products of this joker's efforts, with which his cruelty-loving nature is undoubtedly satisfied. An effort will also be made to discover his identity, and, if successful, he will no longer "blush unseen;" the 'people of
