WANT ANOTHER FIRE ENGINE-The Common Council will have several matters of importance to consider at their meeting today. The Fire Commissioners have asked for an additional appropriation of $8000 to provide a new steam en-gine. It is their intention to move one of the present engines down to the North End and place the new one-if they get it-in the business part of the city. The City Engineer has filed his survey and a plat of the proposed extension of East Burnside street through the Ladd farm to the east boundary of the city. Several etitions for the improvement of sections of East Burnside street have been consolidated in one for the improvement of that street from the bridge to East Four-teenth street by planking with yellow fir planks 4 by 12. Interested property-own-ers have filed a petition asking for the improvement of Main street from Chapman to King street, through the Gaston fract. Mr. Gaston is yet to be heard from, and no one has suggested opening Main street through the Kamm prop-

GERMAN-ENGLISH IN COURT.-The right to tie a cow to a neighbor's fence was argued in a case heard yesterday before Municipal Judge Cameron, when H. P. Crutcher, of Stephens' addition, accused his neighbor, Joseph Faust, with trespass-ing. Mrs. Belle G. Crutcher testified that on March 27, Faust entered her house without knocking, and demanded in an abusive manner, that she remove her cow from his fence. "I told him that I would have the cow moved as soon as my son came home," went on Mrs. Crutcher, "but he would not walt, and I staked the cow on land which I afterward found he had rented. I ordered him away, and he then threatened me." Faust testfiled, in part: "Bud, der gow vos at der fence und he vos mein vegetables eatin'. Der Crutcher beoples names haf me called und I not like dem, yet, whatefer. I dink I don't peing pefore da Shudge, enchoy, yes, no." The Judge listened to as much of the testimony as he could translate, and continued the case until today.

WILL GO BACK TO OLD KENTUCKY .-Judge Beilinger yesterday rendered a de-cision in the matter of J. B. Bowlin, on petition for his removal to Kentucky, to answer to an indictment charging him with forging affidavits to pension papers, ordering that the removal be made. Bow-lin's case was continued 13 times on one ground or another. The court in announcing his decision, said that there was some question about the legality of the indictment, but he did not feel that he could go into the merits of the case. Another court had decided that Bowlin should be removed and the comity between courts did not permit of his investigating the matter, and he would direct that the order of removal be made. Bowlin must now take his chances of being fricasseed or roasted and the people of his old Kentucky home will be happy. He was born in old Kentucky, whereas he was not Incky.

CARDINAL GROSSBEAR .- A cardinal gross beak, the common red bird of the South-ern States, has been around the city for several weeks. Its brilliant and beautiful plumage has attracted the attention of all who have seen it. It has been lingering around the Glisan block on Twentieth and Irving of late, and some say it has a mate, but this is not certain. The bird is not a native of this region and many are anxious to learn how it came here and what the chances are for more following it. It is suggested that it may have escaped from a cage, but so far no one has advertised for it to return. It is a sweet singer and reminds Southern people of their old home. It would be a good idea to import a dozen or two and urn them loose here.

Colonel Olcott is well known as soldier, author, lecturer, and as president-founder of the Theosophical Society. He will stay while in Portland at 261 Thirteenth street. and arrangements are now being made for him to deliver at least one lecture in this city.

THESPIANS FISHING.-Sportsmen who went trout fishing on Sunday have not re-ported their catches. Dr. Stolte went down to Deep Creek, near Knappton, and caught a lot of steelhead salmon and salmon trout. Manager Hellig, of the Marquam, had Dan Sully and his company down to Skamokawa for several days, but just how many salmon or other fish they caught has not come to

CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS.-All those interested in charitable work are earn-estly invited to attend the meeting tonight at the Unitarian Chapel, corner of Park and Yamhill streets, to consider the propriety of inviting the National Confer-

Good Ground for Complaint.—Residents along East Burnside street, east of East Twenty-second, complain that new telephone poles were set along the street some time ago and that the old poiss were around and left in a lop-sided condition, liable to fall or be blown down. They would be obliged to the company owning these poles if they would transfer their wires to the new poles and remove the old ones. It is mentioned as a further cause of complaint that aithough over 100 houses have been erected on East Burnside and adjoining streets during the past year, there is no street light east of East Twelfth street. These things will need attention as East Burnside is now to be planked from the bridge to the city boundary and a county road will be opened to connect with it, thus DRUNK AT CRIPPLES' ROOST .- WORD came to the police yesterday that five cripples were having a carousal in a disused shed on Front street near Everett, and when Policemen Roberts and Clinkenbeard arrived, they found all the guests intoxicated. Empty beer bottles lay on the ground and one of the hobos, who has lost both feet, invited everybody to drink to the policemen's health. Three other cripples use crutches, and the remaining one hobbles along with the aid of a cane. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TAKES STEPS FOR RECEPTION.

Presidential Party Will Be Invited by Mayor Rowe to Visit Mouth of the Columbia.

The trustees of the Chamber of Com-merce yesterday took the first active steps toward arranging for the reception of President McKinley when he shall visit Portland in May. The trustees passed a resolution asking the other three com-mercial bodies in the city to join with them in naming one member each of a committee, of which Mayor Rowe shall be the fifth member, to take at least temporary charge of the arrangements for the reception. The resolution further pro-vided that in case the five members shall see fit, they are empowered to name four additional members, who shall be repre-sentative citizens of Portland.

The other organizations whose co-opera-tion is sought by the Chamber are the Board of Trade, the Commercial Club, and the Manufacturers' Association, At long practice. Ellis, of this city, is of more than ordinary interest and importance. It is in Aguinaldo's handwriting, and is evidently a part of his first draft of a constitution. As its date, June 23, 1898, was seven days before the Americans landed at Cavite, and at a time when Aguinaldo was supposed to be on friendly terms with them and in accord with them against the Spanjards, it is significant of the real condition of affairs, the closing articles in reference to treason suggesting the purpose of the Filipinos upon the first opportunity to antagonize the Americans. NOT FOR THE CHILDREN'S HOME.-The Ladies' Relief Society would like the public to understand that they have put out no boxes asking for charity. A society conducted by a Mr. Tobey has displayed in many public places boxes labeled "For the Oregon Children's Home," and asking for donations. Generously-inclined people contribute under the erroneous belief that they are giving to the Childrens' Home in South Portland, maintained for so many years by the Ladies' Relief Society of Portland. Be it understood that these boxes labeled "Oregon Children's Home' are not put out by the Ladies' Relief Soclety, but by Mr. Tobey.

SEAMEN'S INSTITUTE.-A sacred concert will be given this evening at the Sea-men's Institute. A fine programme is being arranged. Among those taking part will be: Mrs. Albert C. Sheldon, Mrs. Amedee M. Smith, Mrs. W. McEwan, Miss Wilson, Harry W. Hogue and Dom J.

BUGENE, Or., April 1.-(To the Editor.) -In The Oregonian of today you say "How would it have turned out if Car-negle had paid his workmen for their labor in proportion to what they actually earned, charging the same time only a fair price to buyers of iron and steel? LAUGHED AS HE WAS FINED .- G. Stef- Would there now be $200,000,000 to be given away, and a $1,000,000,000 steel trust to follow up Carnegie's operations?" I am surprised that The Oregonian thus seemingly indoress the socialist idea of gathering of garbage. When asked what he had to say, he warbled: "He! Ha!"
"Have you ever been here before?" asked the Judge, severely. "Yes, I have; once, hal hal for the same thing." He was fined $7.50, and he paid the money, laughling. Two Jars Discharges.—F. Tukado and Y. Zai, who were arrested charged with buying silverware which they knew to be stolen, were discharged yesterday by Mulicipal Judge Cameron, on the ground.

It was the system that The Oregonian condemned. The Oregonian's whole censure was directed against the system. Protective tariff, which is protected robbery, made Carnegie's immense fortune. It has made great fortunes for others, of course, but none we know of so great as this. It was robbery of consumers of monopoly, and the laws will protect it.

Mayor Rowe yesterday received a let-ter from George B. Cortelyou, Secretary to the President, in reply to a telegram which the Mayor sent some time ago officially inviting the President to visit Portland. The letter of Secretary Cortelyou reads as follows:

"Executive Mansion. Washington March 28, 1901. My Dear Sir: Your favor of the 20. 1901. My Dear Sir: Your favor of the 2002 mst. has been received, and the cordial invitation which you extend to the President on behalf of your citi-zens is warmly appreciated. "The plans for the Western trip have not yet been fully arranged, and it is therefore impossible at present to send you a definite response. It is hoped, however, that the itinerary as finally decided upon will embrace the City of Portland, "Assuring you that I shall be glad to ear your wishes in mind, believe me, very truly yours, "GEORGE B. CORTELYOU,

"Secretary to the President, 'Hon, H. S. Rowe, Mayor, City of Portland, Oregon."
Immediately upon receipt of the letter

Mayor Rowe addressed a letter to the presidents of all the commercial bodies in in sending a telegram to the President, urging him to devote two days to Port-land, one day and a night to the city proper, and the second day to a trip to the mouth of the Columbia River. Mayo Rowe desires to send the telegram today, and if the presidents of the organizations have not sufficient time to join with him, he will send it himself.

"The trip down the Columbia," said the "The trip down the Columbia," said the Mayor yesterday, "would not only be a delightful one for the President and the members of his party, but their viewing it would be of incomparable advantage to Portland and the state. There are so many points of interest along the route that the trip could not help being an enjoyable one for those who would thus make it for the first, and perhaps for the last, time.

"My idea is either to wire the President himself and tree him to give the president himself and tree him to give the president himself and tree him to give the president himself.

"My idea is either to wire the President himself, and urge him to give us the two days, or to send the message to Senator Mitchell, and have him take it up with the president. Senator Mitchell would be in a position to set forth the desirability of the plan better than we could do in a necessarily brief telegram."

The Ohio Society has appointed Judge M. C. George to act for it in the reception to President McKinley on the ocfact that in most cases the foundation of such laws is the assumption that any use of the liquids which, if consumed to ex-tion to President McKinley on the oc-casion of his visit to this city. Hon, D. P. Thompson, the president of the soclety, was originally appointed, and the substitution is made on account of his expected absence from the city the time when the President will be here.

We have quite an accumulation of what might be termed odds and ends in high-grade pianos, a couple of sample pianos, severai pianos that have been left with us "on sale," and a couple of very costly instruments that have been rented to wealthy families who lived in Portland for only a limited time.

First on the list stands a very elegant, massive, hand-carved San Domingo mahogany-cased Decker & Bons' upright, the finest instrument that is made by this well-known firm. This piano was shipped here as a sample, along with three others. It is certainly a beautiful piano, and at the price it is now offered for sale-136-it should find a buyer before Easter. We have also a fancy walnut-cased Decker, for somewhat less money.

In addition to these we have also two fancy walnut-cased sample instruments, largest upright grand size, with all latest embellishments and improvements. Take either one for 215. They're worth 350 each. And we have still another, in fancy mahogany case, an instrument vastly superior to any medium-grade piano ever sold in Portland, that can be had, to close out quickly, for $185.

In slightly used planos we have a very choice upright, the old reliable Chickering. Boston make, cost $46 seven years ago. This piano cannot be told from new, and can now be secured for less than $400 on monthly payments.

We have also a superb little Weber, fancy mottled walnut case, property of a prominent Western newspaper man, who is compelled to sell it, and will make a big sacrifice in order to get the cash out of it.

If you are looking for a very good, thoroughly reliable fancy mahogany-cased upright piano, we have a Vose piano, that cost $400 $125 cash, or $200 at $10 a month, will bring this piano to your parior. You cannot tell it from new.

We have also a wery good Hardman piano, that cannot be told from new. It is the largest size, and in fancy walnut case, and the gentleman who owns this instrument is willing to sell it on easy payments, so long as he can get $200 out of it.

We have also a wery good Hardma that it was compelled to die of slow starvation.
