DEATH OF AN OREGON PIONEER OF 1855.

MRS. MARY A. BROWNIE.

MARY A. Brownie, who died at her home in the city of Portland, Oregon, on the 11th of this month, was one of the original pioneers who founded that city and is one of the few remaining of that pioneer generation. She was born in England in the year 1807 and came to the United States in 1835, settling in Ohio and then in Missouri, where she lived until 1845, when she came to Oregon and settled in the city of Portland.

Mrs. Brownie was a member of the first graduating class of the Portland High School and was one of the first women to be admitted to the Oregon bar. She was a member of the first board of education in the city of Portland and was a leader in the movement for the establishment of the Oregon State University.

She was a member of the Portland Female College and was one of the first women to be admitted to the Oregon State University.

Mrs. Brownie was a member of the first board of education in the city of Portland and was a leader in the movement for the establishment of the Oregon State University.

She was a member of the Portland Female College and was one of the first women to be admitted to the Oregon State University.

She was a member of the Portland Female College and was one of the first women to be admitted to the Oregon State University.

She was a member of the Portland Female College and was one of the first women to be admitted to the Oregon State University.

She was a member of the Portland Female College and was one of the first women to be admitted to the Oregon State University.

She was a member of the Portland Female College and was one of the first women to be admitted to the Oregon State University.

She was a member of the Portland Female College and was one of the first women to be admitted to the Oregon State University.

She was a member of the Portland Female College and was one of the first women to be admitted to the Oregon State University.

She was a member of the Portland Female College and was one of the first women to be admitted to the Oregon State University.