WESTERN EXPANSION.

Interest of the Atlantic Coast in Portland's Exposition. Boise (Idaho) Statesman. The Philadelphia Record speaks a good word for the proposed fair in Portland in celebration of the achievement of Lewis and Clark. It says: "Westward the course of centennial observance takes its way. After the St. Louis Exposition commemorating the Louisiana purchase, will come a Pacific Coast centennial occasion. In 1906 there will be an exposition at Portland, Or., to celebrate the triumphant ending of the exploring expedition of Lewis and Clark, who were sent out by President Jefferson to find out what was on the farther side of the Rocky Mountains and lay claim to the discovery. Since Joshua was sent by Moses on a somewhat similar adventure, history has furnished no more notable example of successful foresight. It will be a Pacific occasion, but it should not go unmentioned, unassisted or unattended on the part of the people of the Atlantic States."

When the fact is remembered that it was the westward march of energy and enterprise that made the greater Republic possible, every one will agree that there should be general participation in the celebration of the successful ending of the expedition of the famous explorers. Again, we are now expanding farther westward; our commerce is destined to dominate the broad Pacific and its tributary lands, and the exploit that was the forerunner of our securing a foothold on the shores of the great ocean deserves to be commemorated with especial enthusiasm as we reach out from that firm foothold to make ourselves the commercial masters of all that lies beyond the shadows of the

RECEPTION TO M'KINLEY

GENERAL FEATURES OF PROGRAMME PARTLY OUTLINED.

Presidential Party to Be Driven to All Points of Interest in Portland—Public Reception. The committee to arrange a programme for the reception of President McKinley and party when they visit Portland next month met yesterday morning in the rooms of the Commercial Club, and formulated a general outline of a reception programme, which will be submitted to an executive committee at its meeting tomorrow evening.

The programme though simple is designed to give the Presidential party the best possible impression of Portland as a city, and of the hospitality of Oregon people. The train bearing the President will reach Portland about 2:30 in the afternoon, and will be greeted by a Presidential salute of 21 guns. It will be met at the depot by an escort made up of the National Guard and local civic societies, including veterans of the Mexican and Civil Wars and the Oregon pioneers. It is the desire of the committee that as many as possible join the escort in vehicles, appropriately decorated with flowers.

This escort will accompany the Presidential party through the main business section of the town. It is proposed to take in Park and West Park streets, where the school children will be marched. It is desired that the children sing songs appropriate to the occasion. Following this, the intention is to drive the distinguished party over the city to notable points. By this time the dinner hour will have arrived, and a special luncheon has been arranged at the Hotel Portland between 7 and 9 o'clock. The plan then is to have a public reception in the court of the Portland Hotel, this reception will be neither exclusive nor formal. All will be invited. The next morning the President will be taken by steamer to Kalama, Wash., where a train for Puget Sound will meet him. It was originally desired to have him taken to the mouth of the Columbia by steamer, but this had to be abandoned. The committee feels, however, that the trip to Kalama by steamer will give the President a fair idea of the magnificence of the Columbia. This programme, of course, is subject to modification by the full committee, but it is probable that its main features at least will be retained.

EAST SIDE NEWS.

Multnomah Addition Considering the Cost of a Sewer. At the meeting of residents of Multnomah Addition, at the Mississippi-avenue engine-house, Saturday night, to consider the Beech-street sewer system, the committee appointed at a former meeting reported. Information gathered by the committee was to the effect that the average cost of the Sunnyside and the Holiday systems had been $28 and $14 per lot, respectively. From this it was assumed that the cost per lot in the Beech-street sewer district would not be much greater. Abrams & Knox will receive $1000 for right of way through their land. The consensus of opinion at the meeting seemed to be in favor of the sewer. Dr. Davis, a member of the committee, who has been opposing the sewer, says he is willing to wait the opening of the bids for constructing the sewer before taking further action.

Mount Tabor Mail Service.

Today the new mail service for Mount Tabor and Multnomah will go into effect. At Multnomah postoffice the mail will be received twice a day as at present, but it will be carried there on the electric cars, instead of by carrier, as heretofore. A mail lock box will be placed at the end of the Multnomah Railway, at the Base Line road, for the accommodation of the public. Mail may be posted in this box the same as at the postoffice. At the Mount Tabor office, on West avenue and the Base Line road, mail will be received three times a day, and delivered at Mount Tabor almost as good service as free delivery.

Enat Side Notes.

The cycle path built by the residents of Sellwood along the Willamette, between two performances was given in the latter city. The company will have a comparative rest from traveling this week, as it will remain in Portland until next Sunday, when it will leave to begin its annual extra-entertainment in San Francisco. As has been the experience in the past here on Neill opening nights, it is expected that the fashion and culture of the city will crowd the Marquam this evening to welcome Mr. Neill and his associates. "A Social Highwayman," which was dramatized by Mariette Stone originally for Mr. Richard Mansfield, and afterward played with tremendous success throughout the country by Joseph and E. M. Holland, will be the play given this evening at the Marquam. Mr. Neill will be seen in his famous characterization of Courtice Jaffray, a part in which he has appeared several hundred times. There has been three changes in the personnel of the Neill company since its last appearance here, but any one who has watched the career of Mr. Neill during the past half-dozen years will be fully assured that the organization will be fully as strong or stronger than it was, and that every Neill performance given will be fully up to the Neill standard.

SHOT FOR $500 A SIDE

CULLISON DEFEATS BOWLES IN THE LIVE-BIRD MATCH.

Stakes the Largest Ever Put Up in the Northwest—Winner Out-classed His Opponent. J. E. Cullison a well-known stock broker and sportsman, defeated Joseph R. Bowles, another crack Portland shot, in a live-bird contest yesterday afternoon, killing 57 out of 100 birds, while his opponent killed 38. The contest was for $200 a side, the largest stakes ever shot for in the Northwest; and was held on a flat one mile above Vancouver. The fact that the contest was to take place was kept quiet for several weeks, but the terms of the wager leaked out and the place of the shoot was tipped off to a large number of Portland sportsmen, about 300 of whom were present. Each man was allowed 100 live pigeons, the loser to pay the expense of procuring the birds, which amounted to about $100. The pigeons rose from five traps, the match being under the rules of the Interstate Association. Yesterday Cullison and Bowles were judges and A. E. King, referee. Both men killed their first bird and Cullison his second, Bowles missing. After this Cullison, steadily maintained his lead and Bowles was unable to get within a winning distance of his opponent. Out of the last 33 birds Cullison killed 23 straight. Out of 100, the total number shot, seven were, however, fell out of bounds and were not counted. The contest arose out of the rivalry between the two men which had its origin at the championship shoot recently held by Harry Beal, at which both men scored 88. The outcome is eagerly watched by sportsmen in all the principal cities as far East as Spokane. While the scores were not high, they were exceptionally good, as the shooting was made very difficult by a strong wind and the birds were better waded than in the Northwest. Cullison shot in good form and made all clean kills, plainly outclassing his opponent. Bowles is capable of doing much better work, but yesterday was evidently off. Both men used their second bag during the entire shoot, but in most cases for safety only. Everything passed off pleasantly. Mr. Bowles congratulated the winner at the conclusion of the match.

PORTLAND GIRL WINS AT GOLF.

Miss King Carried Off Honors in Tacoma Tournament.

Miss King, of Portland, carried off the honors at the Tacoma golf tournament that closed Saturday. She won the women's open competition, and also the women's driving contest, making the longest as well as the best average drives. Her play was a surprise even to her friends all through the match, and her steadiness and fine control of the club, and her success in the driving contest, made her the first match to the last she had to meet a scratch player in each play. Beginning with the holder of the Tacoma Club women's record, Mrs. Loomis (49), following with Miss King, who was in the contest with Miss Drake, of Victoria, she faced the best players in the tournament. The closest match was with Mrs. Langley, Miss King winning standing 33 to 34, Miss King winning three holes, Mrs. Langley two, and four being tied, and in no case was there more than one stroke between the players on any hole.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

James Neill in "A Social Highwayman" at the Marquam Tonight.

Mr. James Neill, and his company arrived in Portland yesterday from Tacoma. In the hurried trip across the continent two performances were given in the latter city. The company will have a comparative rest from traveling this week, as it will remain in Portland until next Sunday, when it will leave to begin its annual extra-entertainment in San Francisco. As has been the experience in the past here on Neill opening nights, it is expected that the fashion and culture of the city will crowd the Marquam this evening to welcome Mr. Neill and his associates. "A Social Highwayman," which was dramatized by Mariette Stone originally for Mr. Richard Mansfield, and afterward played with tremendous success throughout the country by Joseph and E. M. A DAY ON THE COLUMBIA RIVER.

A visit to Portland is incomplete without devoting at least one day to the Columbia River and its magnificent scenery. You can leave Portland at 9 A. M. any day on the city car and in the afternoon catch the Portland-Chicago special train, lunch at the Dalles or in the dining-car, be back at 4:30 P. M., and have seen the most attractive portion of the Columbia. In making the trip by rail you obtain a view of the many beautiful cascades, the train coming to a standstill for a few moments at Multnomah Falls, and as the train strikes the river caucation over the river the stream and its north shore are constantly in sight. Should you desire a ride on a river steamer, take the O. R. & N. Co's train at 9 A. M. any day except Sunday, for Cascade Locks, spend a short time there, and then board the steamer as she passes through the locks en route to Portland. A more extensive river caucation can be had by leaving Ash-street dock, Portland (daily except Sunday), at 9 P. M. for Astoria, or the O. R. & N. Co's fast, electric-lighted steamer "Hassalo," arriving at Astoria 100 miles distant, about daylight; returning, leave Astoria at 1 A. M. (except Sunday), arriving at Portland about 5 P. M. All meals can be had on the steamer, and altogether the trip is most delightful, restful and comfortable. Particulars of Willamette River trip can also be had upon application at the O. R. & N. Co's city ticket office, Third and Washington. Telephone 712.

CATHEDRAL CLASS.

The fourth in the 1901 series of lectures of the cathedral class will give Tuesday evening in the First Presbyterian Church at 8:15 P. M. by Rev. J. R. Wilson, D. D., principal of Portland Academy. His theme is "Views in Attica and Argolis." Dr. Wilson has recently returned from a tour of the Orient, and many of the slides to be used tomorrow evening have been made from views taken by the speaker himself. This lecture will no doubt be of peculiar interest, owing not only to the fact that Dr. Wilson has so recently been over the ground about which he speaks, but also to his intense interest in Greek literature and history. The doors will not be open till 7:30 P. M., and the lecture will begin promptly at 8:15 P. M. Never fail to cure sick headache, often the very first dose. This is what is said by all who try Carter's Liver Pills.

NEW CONVERSATION ROOM.

The Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph Company has just opened a handsomely fitted long-distance and local conversation-room in the new Falling block, 250 Washington street, from which transient people or others may hold confidential conversation by telephone with any point on the Pacific Coast covered by its system. Telephone bills may be paid at this down-town office. Nazareth has now its telegraph office, where an Armenian operator, in ordinary European dress, keeps the office in community in touch with the great world.

English female setter Sylbia, owned by J. W. Gillett, winner of second novice and third open prizes in 1900 bench show at Portland. Will be exhibited in the coming bench show in Portland. Bred in Portland by James Blanchard; out of Loda II, by Diplomat.

SETTING SUN.

The people of the East are interested almost if not altogether as much as those of the Pacific Coast, and they will no doubt show that interest by active support and participation in the coming exhibition.

TRIED TO MURDER FAMILY

DEMENTED MAN ATTACKS WIFE AND DAUGHTER.

Gashes His Throat and Calmly Smokes a Cigar While on the Way to Jail.

Because his wife would not live with him again, C. F. Moore, a painter, tried to end her life and that of his daughter, but failed, and then cut his throat with a razor on Grand avenue near East Salmon street, last night. He was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital. He is expected to recover. Moore has been living apart from his wife and daughter for about three months on account of his peculiar behavior and unhappy domestic relations. Mrs. Moore recently told him that she thought his mind was affected, and that it would not be safe to live with him any longer. The neighbors agreed with her, as the only way to prevent disturbance between Moore and his family. Yesterday Moore brooded over fancied domestic wrongs, and began to drink. After supper he suddenly appeared at the Grand-avenue house, Mrs. Moore and daughter live, and demanded to see them. Once inside the house, Moore drew a razor and ran at his daughter, but she managed to escape by running. Mrs. Moore's fingers were cut and bleeding, and she was in a hysterical condition. The policemen telephoned for the patrol wagon, and in the interval Moore calmly insisted on lighting and smoking a cigar, in spite of the wounds in his throat. When he arrived in the patrol wagon at the police station he was still smoking the cigar, and he said, in a clear voice: "I won't tell my name or do anything. I don't give a — I want to die, anyway."

"My wife can tell about our troubles if she wants to," growled Moore on the way to the hospital. "Do you feel weaker now?" asked the patrol driver, anxiously. "No," said Moore, "I'm a gritty sort of fellow, ain't I?" and he became self-complacent. "The wound was found to be a serious one, but probably is not fatal."

AN EIGHT-DAY PIANO SALE.

The Wiley E.
