The Pianola.
 The Pianola occupies a unique position. It has undertaken that which past ages have pronounced impossible, and has made it practicable. It has followed principles which have been followed by the greatest upholders of the old theories. It makes piano-playing possible for those who literally do not know one note from another; yet it has been accorded a popularity among the musically cultured which is unprecedented in the history of music. Come and hear it for yourself.

MAY NOT BE DUNHAM.
 San Jose People Do Not Identify the Suspect.

SAN JOSE, Cal., May 1.—Sheriff Langford and Deputy Sheriff Bache have arrived here from Wichita, Kan., bringing with them a man who was said to be James C. Dunham, the man wanted by people who knew him intimately came to the jail and positively asserted that the prisoner is not the long-sought-for murderer, Deputy Sheriff Macdonald, who yesterday was positive that the man was Dunham, is today equally positive that his first opinion was erroneous. Many residents of Campbell came in, and none identified the prisoner as the man wanted. The prisoner says that he did not make a confession in Kansas, and that he is not the murderer.

The crime for which Dunham has been hunted was most atrocious. The night of May 2, 1896, Dunham strangled his wife as she lay in bed. Then he brained Minnie Shearer, a servant, with an ax, and almost killed Mrs. McGilney, Mrs. Dunham's foster-mother. Colonel McGilney, James K. Wells, Mrs. Dunham's brother, and Robert Briscoe were shot as they returned at midnight from a meeting near San Jose. Dunham then added a horse and escaped to the hills. No trace of him was ever found, and though 20 men have been arrested on suspicion in various parts of the country, the man who is the first to answer the description of the murderer. The suspect says his name is Charles F. Crill; that he was born in Rome, N. Y., in 1860.

PUEBLO, Colo., May 1.—Charles F. Crill was formerly an advertising solicitor in Pueblo, and left here for Cripple Creek about five years ago. He was married while here to Miss Schreiber.

ROAD TO ST. JOHNS

O. R. & N. Co. Ready to Begin Work at Once.

OPENS BIG FACTORY DISTRICT

Hand of Northern Pacific Railroad Seen in the Price Asked for Right of Way Across Mock's Bottom.

The Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company will build an extension to St. Johns as soon as it can get the right of way. Surveys have been made, the line has been located, and the company is anxious to begin work at once. Application was made to the County Court yesterday for permission to build on Bradford street in St. Johns. This being a street in an unincorporated town, is under the jurisdiction of the County Court. County Surveyor John A. Hurlburt was directed to investigate and report.

That the O. R. & N. realizes the value of the Peninsula as a manufacturing field is shown by the following statement which President Mohler made to an Oregon reporter yesterday:

"Yes, the Navigation Company is endeavoring to acquire right-of-way for the extension of the St. John's line, for the purpose of affording locations to industries likely to seek Portland, especially of a manufacturing character, where suitable ground can be obtained at reasonable prices."
 "Portland's ultimate strength will lie in her being able to manufacture a large per cent of what she sells—this is what will make a solid and permanent commercial center."
 "Other than this, notwithstanding the large outlay required, the Navigation Company has no other interest."

It is not unlikely that the O. R. & N.'s move on St. Johns will precipitate a big move on the Northern Pacific. This company's project in the Washington Oregon—seems to be on the ground floor at Mock's bottom, through which the O. R. & N.'s purpose in extending its line to St. Johns is to make accessible to transcontinental railroad transportation a large area on the Peninsula suitable to manufacturing. Among the big enterprises mentioned in connection with the Peninsula are a $1,000,000 smelter, a sugar refinery and flouring and malting mills. The company is interested in having these plants located close to its terminal as its railway and steamship lines tap the sources of the raw material and have access to the distributing markets. In addition to this, if the East Side gets the new drydock, St. Johns will stand a good show of being the leading industrial center.

The route which the O. R. & N. has surveyed to St. Johns passes from south to north through what is known as Mock's bottom, a tract of 370 acres lying to the east of Swan Island. Water was sold to Russell & Blyth for $50,000 on April 6, the general impression was that the O. R. & N. was the real purchaser. The sale was taken as the indication of a very important movement in which the O. R. & N. was thought to be a hand. It was believed that the plan would include the purchase of a large portion of the low-lying land for docks for shipping. Slips for vessels can easily be located in places where there is ample room. Switches and tracks can be run into every slip.

Asks $10,000 for Right of Way.

It is now clear that Mock's bottom was not bought for the O. R. & N., and that he has completely refused to pay for it. Mr. Russell and Mr. Blyth authorized a statement to that effect when seen at their office yesterday. They declined to say how much they were asked for what use it is to be made of. It neither would they discuss the negotiations which the O. R. & N. has had with them relative to securing the right of way through the bottom. It was learned from another source that Russell & Blyth ask $10,000 for the right-of-way privilege; that the O. R. & N. has refused to pay that amount, and that the negotiations are practically off. The only course now open to the O. R. & N. Co. is condemnation proceedings against Russell & Blyth. Mr. Russell and Mr. Blyth were told that this would probably be the next step. Mr. Blyth said the firm is not worrying; that it is immediately ready to take other railroads besides the O. R. & N.

It is apparent that Russell & Blyth get their stiffening from some understanding or agreement with the Washington & Oregon, which is building from Kalama to Portland, crossing the Columbia River at Vancouver on a bridge which will cost $1,850,000. This is really a Northern Pacific enterprise, though reports have it that the Great Northern and the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy have interested themselves in the enterprise made by the Washington & Oregon for entry into Portland begins at Fowler avenue, at the northern boundary of the city on the East Side. It follows Fowler avenue until it comes to the high ridge overlooking Mock's bottom, where a tunnel is made to reach the bottom. From the bottom the survey diverges. One strikes westward and contemplates a bridge across the Willamette, with piers resting about the center of Swan Island. If this route is adopted, the Washington & Oregon will connect with the Northern Pacific's present road to Puget Sound and thus have access to the Union Depot.

CHURCH IN PHILIPPINES.

Archbishop Ireland Confers on the Question With Root.
 NEW YORK, May 1.—Evidence that the Philippine trouble is rapidly drawing to a close is being furnished by the Philippine archbishop, who is found in the fact that Archbishop Ireland has been in Washington for two or three days, and has held several conferences with Secretary Root. From the beginning of the negotiations looking to a settlement of the church question, Archbishop Ireland has been the representative in this country of the Vatican. The negotiations have succeeded in keeping himself from the public view in his present visit to Washington, and this circumstance adds to the belief that the archbishop has come to confer with the authorities regarding the treatment to be accorded to the millions of church property of which the friars have been dispossessed by the insurgents.

In the last month Judge Taft has sent to Secretary Root many confidential communications on this subject. It is presumed that the archbishop has been carefully so that he may assist the Taft Commission in formulating a policy to be pursued toward the church interests. Archbishop Ireland also is supposed to be prepared to deal finally with the question for the church, and it is therefore thought that he had Secretary Root on soon after his arrival in Manila. His views and interests involved. Their decision will probably be communicated at an early date to Judge Taft for his guidance.

American Beer in the Orient.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 1.—Several months ago the Government inspectors dispatched an agent to Manila with 38,000 bottles of beer. The Government inspectors examined the beer, commended its quality, and it was immediately sold for cash. In addition, contracts were signed by C. Heintz & Co., of Manila, for 500 barrels of beer per month for a period of four years, and with N. Conant & Co., contracting agent for a large Chinese concern, for 100 barrels a month for two years. Both firms previously imported beer, but which it is claimed does not keep well in the tropical climate. The largest contract secured was with the Russian Government's purchasing agent at Port Arthur, who contracted on behalf of the Russian Government for 100 barrels a month. The local concern now has under consideration a plan to establish a branch brewery at Manila with a capacity of 50,000 barrels a year.

Volunteers Mustered Out.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—The Twenty-eighth Infantry was mustered out today at the Presidio. The Thirty-fifth will be mustered out tomorrow.

Counterfeiters' Plant Captured.

BUTTE, Mont., May 1.—The arrest a few days ago of William Dougherty and John Mulligan for passing counterfeit $10 gold pieces has led to the capture of a complete outfit for making spurious coin. The movements of both men were traced and they were taken by the Sheriff to a cabin on the Northern Pacific five miles this side of Pipestone Springs. Today, Chief of Police Lavelle and Detective Murphy went to the cabin and there found one of the most complete plants for making bogus money ever seen in these parts. Jim Webber, the man in charge of the cabin, was arrested. The police say he had served a term in the Idaho penitentiary for the same offense.

OFFICERS OF THE PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION.

PRESIDENT JOHN McKINLEY

DIRECTOR-GENERAL W. BUCHANAN

It went to Vicksburg, teeming with its memories of 30 years ago, thence east to Jackson, the capital of Mississippi, and from there down into the land of the magnolia and the orange to this romantic city near the mouth of the Mississippi, with its traditions of French and Spanish rule.

The outpourings of the people to see the Presidential train along the route today were larger than on the two previous days and the demonstrations at Vicksburg and Jackson, the two principal stations, were very striking. At some of the stations the crowds actually impeded the passage of the train and the engineer was obliged to slow down to avoid running over enthusiastic people. As the sun was lowering, the train crossed the bayous with their tangles of moss-covered cypress and live oak, and skirting Lake Borgne, the Presidential party reached New Orleans.

This is the first time New Orleans has ever had a visit from a Chief Magistrate of the Nation and it was a royal reception. The city delegation in Congress, the city, McKinley and the ladies of the Louisiana delegation. While the Mayor and his party were greeted by Governor Heard, Mayor Capdeville, Senators McEnery and Foster, the American delegation in Congress, the city, McKinley and the ladies of the Louisiana delegation. The New Orleans Banquet.

The President and his Cabinet, with the outpouring of the party, were given an elaborate banquet at the hotel in the evening. About 300 of the prominent men of New Orleans were present and the banquet is said to have exceeded in every respect anything of a similar character attempted heretofore in this city. Senator McEnery presided. Governor Heard, Mayor Capdeville and the President responded to toasts. It was 10:30 when the President rose to speak. He said:

"Mr. Governor, Mr. Mayor and Gentlemen: I cannot find time or speech to express the profound appreciation which I feel for the warmth of your welcome and for the gracious words spoken in your behalf by the Governor of your commonwealth and acknowledged the pleasure of my journeying through the South, leaving Washington last Monday morning. I have received in every stage through which I have passed, in every city and village, town and hamlet, a genuine greeting from all the people, and tonight I have the crowning consummation of a welcome from the representative people of the Crescent City.

"The Governor has well said that we will always have differences. Men who think for themselves will always have convictions upon public questions, and these convictions cannot always be the same. The difference of opinion is granted, and freely granted, among American freemen, and fully exercised by the American people. I was wondering, while the Governor was talking, what really were our differences. My eyes turned toward Judge Blanchard, and I recalled that he did not differ about river and harbor improvements, and that we were in favor of every just and reasonable extension for the improvement of the commerce of the Mississippi River. When I heard the Governor tell what I knew so well, and had witnessed so many times to feel, how the people of Louisiana rallied around the Stars and Stripes, and were earnestly urging for an opportunity to go to Cuba to fight the battles for an oppressed people, I could not but think that there were no differences between us in the war with Spain. And tonight, I remembered—it is only a memory—how the citizens of Louisiana gathered about the table of the ways and means committee when I had the honor of presiding over that committee, assuming me that they must have protection on sugar and rice. And then I reflected that there was no difference between us about protection—certainly none

GATES WERE OPENED

First Day of the Pan-American Exposition.

RAIN KEPT THE CROWDS AWAY

Formal Dedication Ceremony Postponed Until May 20—Efforts Being Made to Get Exhibits in Place.

BUFFALO, May 1.—The beautiful electrical display tonight was the culminating event of the opening day of the Pan-American Exposition. The attendance this morning was small, owing to the weather, which kept many away from near-by towns. Later in the day, when the sun broke through the gray clouds, the crowd began to assume the proportions of an exposition throng, and tonight thousands passed through the turnstiles. The gates were opened this morning without ceremony, the opening day ceremonies having been postponed until May 20, when they will be combined with dedication day exercises. The change in the appearance of the buildings and grounds this morning bore ample evidence of their efforts. Storm and the incidence of their efforts. Storm and the incidence of their efforts.
