CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Amusements Tonight. CORDRAY'S THEATER-Florence Roberts and Alexar Stock Company. Matinee, "Sapho." Evening, "Nell Gwynn."

COMPLAINED TO WRONG OFFICE.—An "indignant citizen" writes to The Oregonian to complain that bicyclists still continue to ride on the sidewalks in violation of the law. He states that last evening as he was coming down town he met three of these lawbreakers riding abreast and that one of them shouted at him to clear the way. This trio must have struck an extra wide piece of sidewalk and were enjoying the luxury. Just what "Indignant Citizen" expects to accomplish by sending his complaint to The Oregonian is not known. "We have troubles of our own." and he cannot expect The Oresonant of the Government officials occurred to the Government of the case is not known. "We have troubles of our own," and he cannot expect The Ore-gonian to cause the arrest of the law-breakers he speaks of. If he had caused ing are complaining because Postmaster their arrest and secured their punishment it might have done something toward checking the practice of riding on the sidewalks, but until some of these violators of the law are arrested and punished they wil probably keep on violating the law. In the meantime, the small minority of persons who do not ride bicycles will do well to take to the streets where the walking is pretty sood now.

ALL MONEY PAID IN.—The last dollar of the amount of the assessment of damages connected with the opening and extending of Seventh street into North Seventh was paid into the City Treasury yesterday. This insures the opening and ex-tending of the street, which has been un-dertaken a number of times before un-successfully. The next thing in order will be for property-owners to petition for the improvement of the street, which it is their intention to do, and nothing short of the very best kind of an improvement will suit them. Whether the late decision of United States Judge Bellinger pronouncing the present manner of assessing the cost of street improvements invalid will prevent the improvement of this street for the present or not remains to DENATE ON PHILIPPINE OCCUPATION,— The Portland High School and Willamette University teams will hold a debate at the High School Agembly Hall at 8 o'clock tonight. Five judges will decide the merits of the argument.

Nor STREET SIGN PROMOTERS.—In yesterday's issue of The Oregonian, under the heading, "Three Kinds of Nuisances," this statement was made: "It is learned that Messrs. Wilson & Nicholas, insurance agents of this city, are the promoters of the street advertising scheme." FOR LABOR CONVENTION

City Attorney J. M. Long appeared be fore the Federated Trades Assembly last right and recommended that steps be taken to secure the convention of the right and recommended that steps be taken to secure the convention of the American Federation of Labor, the Na-tional body with which the Federated Trades is affiliated, for Portland in 1905, at the time of hte Lewis and Clark Centen-nial. No formal action was taken by the assembly but the suggestion seemed to meet with general approval, and Mr. Long's remarks were applauded. The as-sembly by unanimous vote indorsed the sembly by unanimous vote indorsed the 1906 fair. In opening his remarks, Mr. Long complimented organized labor for its activity in behalf of the carnival held last Fail, and pointed ou: how, as a result of the harmonious relations existing between the carnival management and the assembly, an organized labor clause had been in-corporated in all the contracts for the carnival, and how it had been lived up to He also stated that the same policy would be pursued by the 1995 fair management. Continuing, Mr. Long pointed out that the securing of the convention of the American Pederation of Labor for Port-land would be not only a good thing for the city itself, but would attundate activity in labor chicles. He stated that the exposition management would probably secure lower rates than have ever been granted by the railroads to the Pacific Northwest, which could be taken advantage of by the delegates to the convention He stated that he had already consulted with members of the Musicians' Union with a view to securing their National convention here in 1905.

At a well-attended meeting of the Sellwood Sub-Board of Trade last night President Donaugh reported that a stove foundry is seeking a location at Sellwood, J. M. Nickum donated his large building J. M. Nickum donated his large building at Willisburg, worth about $1000, for the use of the foundry, and the Wills heirs donated two acres on the Southern Pacific line. Mr. Donaugh suggested that a bonus be raised, and on motion the following committee was appointed to circulate a subscription paper: J. M. Nickum, W. E. Wills, Harry Upham, J. Miller, L. H. Andrews and D. M. Donaugh. It was announced also that the Portland Woolen Mills Commany has examined lands titles. Mills Company has examined lands, titles and water rights with a view to locating on the site donated by Richard Scott, President Donaugh said he had no doubt that Sellwood would get the milis. At the meeting of the Montavilla Sub-Board of Trade last night the committee on sidetrack reported that it had com-municated with Superintendent O'Brien, of the O, R, & N. Co., who indorsed the project, provided a strip of land 100 feet wide and 1500 feet long be donated for sta tion purposes alongside of the company's right of way. It now remains for Monta-villa to raise the land subsidy required, and the committee was given further time. On extension of East Burnside street the committee reported that Port-land is extending the street to the city limits, and that a petition for the further extension from the city limits eastward to Davidson avenue will be presented to the County Court May 15. Montavilla will try get a road that will give direct conne tion with East Burnside street when the extension is completed. FLURRY IN FOTATOES.

Portland Dealers Anxious to Ship to San Francisco.

There was a flurry in the potato market yesterday because a frost in the Sacramento Valley has given the potato plants there a set back so that the arrival of new potatoes in the San Francisco market will be delayed two or three weeks. Dealers fried to get a big lot of potatoes of to San Francisco on the steamship Elder Thursday night, but she had room for only 2000 sacks, and left 3000 sacks on the wharf. The next steamer will take away wharf. The next steamer will take away 5000 or 6000 sacks and they may or may not find a profitable market. Potatoes are getting scarce here, and dealers are buying up lots of five sacks coming in on river ing up tots of the eachs coming in our vest stammers, and larger lots when offered. A lot of 1000 sacks from Eastern Oregon has arrived and more may come from that section if prices keep up. Dealers are paying $1 to $1 10 per sack, but buying potatoes now "is all speculation," as one dealer remarked yesterday. Californials of the company of the comp nia's extremity is Oregon's opportunity, but if St. Paul potato men could get rates reduced from 90 cents to 60 cents and could send say 200 carloads through to California, they would force the price down. If nothing of this kind happens, Dr. E C BROWN ETE AND EAR DINEARES
