FONTELLAS WIN AGAIN

BATTLED VICTORY FROM OREGON CITY IN A GOOD GAME.

Jolly Good Fellows Played Fast Ball and Kept the Score a Tie for Seven Innings.

Five hundred fans saw the Fontellas baseball nine roll up a score of 15 to 8 on the Jolly Good Fellows of Oregon City in the second game of the series of the Pacific Amateur League. Up to the seventh inning the score was a tie, and both nines were playing rattling good ball. The Jolly Good Fellows carried their faces around wreathed in smiles as they thought of the prospect of carrying back the scalp of the red-dusted Fontellas on their belts. They had visions of being met at the train by the home team, and the prospect of a triumph procession forming, with the victorious nine marching proudly behind and receiving the acclaim of a grateful populace. When they woke up, the Fontellas were tearing around the bases as fast as firemen running to a fire. And before they had fully recovered from the trance, the Fontellas had a lead of one run.

There was one man on the Oregon City team who deserved a serenade, even if his team did lose in a lightning striking finish. He was Church, the first baseman. In the fifth inning he was the first man up to the plate, and the score was 4 to 1 in favor of Oregon City. He saw a high ball come whirling through the air, twisting and whirling like the flight of a projectile. He stepped up to it like a man, and swung the bat on it with all the force of his 150 pounds.

Away that ball sailed. "Snap it," yelled a rooster. "Bring that ball back; it's not fair to kill a ball like that."

But the ball sailed on. All the players stopped to look at it. Right Fielder Oliver saw it leap over a right field fence, and almost carry with it the small boys stalling a view of the game. Vainly he wished for a pair of stilts 20 feet long. Church had sprinted to first before the resonant sound of his bat's crack and the cheers of the bleachers at the first ball sent over the fence on the new ground, had died out. Then, when he saw what he had done, his nerve failed. He ceased his headlong flight, and modestly walked around the bases, pausing at the home plate to doff his cap, while receiving an ovation from all the roosters in the grandstand.

After this lucky drive the crowd kept their eyes on Church whenever he came to the bat. "Another home run, Church," the bleachers would call out. But one day was enough for Mr. Church. On the seventh he was slow to start, and in the eighth the small boys said "Oh, when the deep, base lines of Empire Rankin came floating up to the stand—One strike, two strikes, three strikes, and out"—when Church fanned the wind the last time he came up.

The first inning opened with a goose-egg score for both teams, and the fans on the bleachers heard a sigh of relief. The Oregon City boys were going to put up a good game. In the second Clark crossed the plate for the first run of the game on a combination of errors by the Fontella pitcher and catcher. When the Fontellas were shut out in their time at the bat things began to get interesting. In the third Black singled, reached second on an error, and came home on an error of catcher.

Laviet got a scratch two-bagger and scored on the scratch hits of Kelly and Church. Kelly scored on the error of

REVENUE STAMPS REDEEMED

What Owners Must Do to Get Money Back for Imprints.

Unused documentary and proprietary stamps for which the owners will have no use when the revised internal revenue laws go into effect, July 1, may be redeemed; but in all cases there will be deducted the percentage, if any, allowed the purchaser. Applications for the redemption of such stamps should be made to the Collector of Internal Revenue from whom the same were bought, and he will supply the applicant with a blank form and the necessary instructions relative to the preparation of the claims. Claims for the redemption of adhesive documentary and proprietary stamps, if bought of a collector, must contain his certificate as to the date of sale to claimant and the certificate of the collector as to the date of sale to the dealer must be furnished. Stamps that are not in the same condition as when issued will not be redeemed unless the condition is satisfactorily accounted for. Documentary and proprietary stamps can be redeemed only when presented in quantities of 25 or more face value, and no claims for the redemption of or allowance for such stamps can be allowed unless presented within two years after the purchase of said stamps from the Government. All claims for the redemption of stamps imprinted on checks, drafts and other instruments will be forwarded by the collector of the district in which the order for the imprinting was made to the Washington office. If the claimant resides in a district other than that in which said order was purchased, his claim should be prepared and deposited with the collector of the district in which he resides. STEPHENS TEAM WON.

Defeated Vancouver in Amateur League Series 10 to 1.

VANCOUVER Wash., May 12.—The Vancouver baseball team lost its first game in the Pacific Amateur League series to Stephens' Addition by the decisive score of 10 to 1. Both teams were in good form, and played good ball. Up to the beginning of the fourth inning neither side had scored, but during the fourth the Portlands found Snodgrass' curves for six runs. After this the Vancouverians played an indifferent game and allowed the visitors to pile up four more runs during the fifth and sixth innings. The batteries were Siebals and Slavin for Portland; Snodgrass, McDermott and Harrison for Vancouver. Umpire, Joe Stutt. The same teams will play in Portland next Sunday. Fifteen hundred people witnessed the game.

Busy Sunday at the O. R. & N. Wharf

When the California Steamer is Taking Cargo.

A visit to the O. R. & N. docks on Sunday, when the California steamer is in port, will convince any one that the strenuous life of the men and longshoremen the commandment, "Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy," cuts but a small figure. It will also give one a faint idea of the number and variety of articles grown or manufactured in Oregon which are exported to California. A man who strayed down on the dock yesterday found a score or more of roustabouts rushing frantically about and trucking all sorts of stuff on board the Geo. W. Elder, under the direction of a rather portly man, dressed in a suit of blue and white, who has been bossing things around that dock for a score of years. When expostulated with for working men on Sunday, he said his men have no more idea about Sunday than a hog has about a holiday, and are no more fitted for going to the good place than the bad place is for a powder-house.

HAY COMPRESSING PLANT.

Portland Firm Contracts to Supply the Government.

The new hay compressing establishment of Albers & Schneider, on the river front, just below Alaska dock, is not entirely completed, but four hay compressors are on board the steamer, and are being worked at full capacity. The building, which is a long, narrow structure, is being worked by the contractors for the building, and a corresponding number of men are employed. When asked in what shape the building was, he pointed out a pile of 300 sacks of them, and pulled one out of a hole in a sack. It was a short block of wood turned of a size to fit the bunch of hay, and having a hole bored through the center. These are used in making the rolls of paper so common on counters nowadays as wrapping paper. The roll is supported by the rolls run through the holes in the center of the "bung." Near by were rows of casks of linseed oil, barrels of tallow, sacks of potatoes, piles of flour of different brands, all going to California. There were also several tons of fresh roll butter in boxes.

Woolgrowers Should Sell.

Pendleton East Oregonian.

Wool is now moving in Eastern Oregon. Sales are being recorded from day to day, at prices ranging from 7 to 15c a pound, according as the wool is heavy or light with grease and dirt. This selling movement is forced by the presence of a large portion of the 1900 clip and the throwing on the market of all the 1901 clip. Growers are compelled either to sell at "going" prices, or to hold in the face of a very poor prospect for improvement.

This seasonable selling will redound to the benefit of the woolgrower and to the section of country in which he lives. In the long run the grower loses nothing from this selling at the normal market price of the season. But on the other hand, the merchant and business public generally are immensely benefited. They are enabled to secure the wool at a price which is lower than that which would be obtained if the wool were held until the market was glutted with it. Producers stop to figure up the situation when tempted to speculate by holding for higher prices. He commonly refuses to do so, and the result is that the wool is sold at a price which is lower than that which would be obtained if the wool were held until the market was glutted with it.

TENNIS HANDICAP SLOW

TOURNAMENT THUS FAR DEVOID OF GOOD PLAYING.

Goss and Lewis Doing Well in the Doubles—Content Between Wickersham Brothers.

With the exception of the team work of Goss and Lewis, which is admirable, the Multnomah handicap tennis tournament thus far has not brought out particularly good playing on the part of any one. This is accounted for by the fact that the weather has not permitted consistent practice. The ignorance of the playing rules shown by the individual contestants is wholly inexcusable. There is hardly a man on the courts who serves as provided by the rules. This particular rule is as follows: "The server shall stand in both feet behind; i. e., farther from the net than the back line. It is not a fault if one of the server's feet does not touch the ground at the moment at which the service is delivered. He shall place both feet on the ground immediately before serving, and shall not take a running or walking start."

The most interesting single match of the tournament thus far was that between Lloyd and Brandt Wickersham Saturday. Both played from scratch. The match attracted a large crowd, not so much because of the closeness of the score but because the players, and it has been an open question since that season as to whether the superior play of Brandt won the match, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2. Of the 156 points played, Brandt won 83 and Lloyd 73. Lloyd understands the points of the game much better than Brandt, but has not the endurance or persistence of his younger brother.

Lumgar, receiving 15-4, defeated H. Lee, receiving 15-3. In Lewis' scratch, won from Lelter, receive 2-6, 6-2, 6-3, in a match characterized by its slowness and lack of spirit. Neither displayed the skill to be expected from men ranked in the second class.

STEAMSHIP LINE SOLD.

Addition Makes the Hamburg-American the Largest in the World.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Following the announcement of the visit to this city of Director-General Albert Ballin, the Hamburg-American Steamship Company, announcement is made that the Hamburg-American has acquired the Atlas Steamship Line, which for the past 30 years has been operated between Jamaica, Hayti and Central America. The Atlas line was formerly owned by an English corporation, but under the Hamburg-American flag it will fly the German flag. This addition to its service makes the Hamburg-American line the largest in the world, the entire tonnage being 300,000, which is divided among 120 vessels, sailing in 20 different services. By its acquisition of this line it has gained seven steamers of an average tonnage of 300 tons.

DAIRY MEETINGS.

Campaign of Education Among Willamette Valley Farmers.

The Southern Pacific Company has made another move in the interest of the dairy industry of the Willamette Valley. It has secured for a short time the services of C. L. Smith, an expert dairyman, from Minnesota, formerly of the State Institute, Dairy Inspector of that state, who will deliver a series of lectures to the farmers in Western Oregon on the subject of dairying and distilling and farming. Mr. Smith took an important part in the development of the dairy industry in Minnesota from the time when, 15 years ago, the first farmstead was established in that region. He was a pioneer in the dairy industry of that state, and was recently induced to come to Oregon and take up the same line of work here. He is at his best when discussing the cause which led to the remarkable growth of this particular branch of agriculture in Minnesota, where Freeborn County is today considered the model creamery county in the Middle West.

Another Comparison With Lincoln.

Dalles Chronicle.

President McKinley, successor to George Washington, has kept 60,000 soldiers in the Philippines for nearly three years to force the "consent" of those whom he would govern—Eugene Guard, and President Lincoln, a still greater successor of the immortal George, kept over 500,000 soldiers in the South for over four years to force the "consent" of those whom he would govern, and the survivors of the men thus forced and their political heirs-at-law now worship the memory of Abraham Lincoln and honor him for his coercion of some of the greatest men that ever lived.

THE BEST? YES.

The Portland-Chicago special train of the O. R. & N., leaving daily at 9 A. M., is an exhibition every day in the year, and beats any other train to Chicago a whole day. It is a train of comfort and appliances to be found anywhere, and just think of the saving of time. Go down to the station any day it is convenient and visit our "Best" class. We are always prepared for company. If you want to go East via St. Paul or "Spokane Flyer," leaving Portland daily at 6 P. M. in your train on account of quickest time and first-class service. The Atlantic Express is well up in the procession when compared with trains on other lines. It leaves at 9 P. M. This galaxy of great trains cannot be beaten. Ticket office, Third and Washington.

Profits of Good Fleeces.

Hopner Gazette.

Morrow County sheepmen are alive to the fact that the modern mutton sheep must also be a wool producer. Future profits supply come largely from sheep grown primarily for wool. It is essential, then, that a mutton sheep have a good fleece as well as a good carcass. This combination is both practicable and obtainable. It is no longer regarded as necessary to grow one sheep for a fleece, another for a carcass, and another for a lamb. The intelligent stockman commences with a good fleece, and the best mutton sheep are producing as profitable fleeces as those kept exclusively for wool, and their lambs are decidedly superior.
