ARMY SCHEME ADOPTED

BRODRICK'S PLAN APPROVED BY THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Government Leader Balfour Wound Up the Debate—Report of the Government Commission.

LONDON, May 16.—In winding up the debate on the Army Bill in the House of Commons today, Mr. Balfour, the Government leader, denied that there was any large body of opinion hostile to the scheme of Mr. Brodrick, the Secretary of State for War.

The amendment of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal leader, in which he said the proposition largely increased the existing burdens without adding substantially to the military strength of Great Britain, was rejected by a vote of 227 to 211.

Mr. Brodrick's scheme was then adopted by a vote of 306 to 183. In the course of his speech, Mr. Balfour said that the Government was not at all moment towards the end of 1899 there were in Great Britain only 300,000 rounds of small arms ammunition, with no reserve of artillery ammunition.

Mr. Brodrick's scheme was then adopted by a vote of 306 to 183. In the course of his speech, Mr. Balfour said that the Government was not at all moment towards the end of 1899 there were in Great Britain only 300,000 rounds of small arms ammunition, with no reserve of artillery ammunition.
